The latter when caused so much trouble in amendments by the City Act and Town and Village Act has now turned up in the Municipal District Act.

Under the amendment, the minister can require an MD council to distribute to all taxpayers information on government grants and their effect on overall taxation if a council fails to comply. Its grants can be withheld. Opposition leaders claim the Lesser municipalities to distribute propaganda for the government.

More than 125 bills have been introduced so far, and the current session of the Legislature is rocketing its final stages. Prorogation was expected sometime this week, although there still is much work to be done before gruelling night sittings are in prospect.

Among other important legislation introduced last week were three bills providing for increases of 15 per cent in provincial members' allowances, widows' pensions and disabled persons' pensions. The increases are in line with increases in federal pensions.

A bill introduced by Health Minister W. C. Dixon would empower the government to institute a new hospital plan, covering every resident of the province, with the cost to be shared by the province, the municipality and the patient.

Details of the plan are left to the government, but it would be designed to fit in with the proposed federal-provincial plan whenever that goes into effect.

Jehovah's Witnesses Write To Bulganin For Release Of Slaves

A hearing that Soviet officials may perhaps be found fighting, artificially against God", a strongly worded letter of protest from officials of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, legal governing body of Jehovah's Witnesses, has been sent to Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin of the USSR.

Mr Bowlin, presiding minister of the Ashmont congregation, in announcing the contents of the letter, cited the wholesale arrests and mass movements of Jehovah's Witnesses to slave labor camps in Siberia.

For many years now," Mr Lasche quoted him in her report, "Jehovah's Witnesses within the Soviet Union have endured great tribulation and heavy persecution. They have constituted communities and deportation from removing their own ministers for the purpose of registering their religious organization according to the statutes in force, but on each occasion they have been refused and ordered or being allowed to register their Christian organization they have had ministers in the delegations arrested."

The letter was written to accompany a composite petition that had been adopted over a period of nine months by a total of 482,388 of Jehovah's Witnesses meeting in 190 assemblies throughout the world. It called attention to the 7,000 Jehovah's Witnesses known to be in slave camps in the Soviet Union, and requesting their release, proposed that a delegation be permitted to proceed from th Society's headquarters in Brooklyn, N.Y., to Moscow to fully acquaint the Soviet Government with the true aims and purposes of Jehovah's Witnesses.

"We have acted in good faith," Mr Lasche said, following the petition's adoption at each assembly, copies were sent ... delivered mail directly to Moscow, and a copy for the Russian Embassy in each country was delivered in person. Most of the ambassadors would not see us," Mr Lasche reported, "but we were able to talk to some Soviet diplomatic officials. To date, the Soviet Government has completely ignored us."

"Furthermore, when a copy was offered to the emissaries, many of the Russian Officials refused to accept it, not even wanting to touch it, as if it were dynamite. Others insisted that many lies had been circulated about Russia and openly scoffed at the mention of the name of Jehovah God and claimed that the law of Russia was higher than the law of God, and that that it had to be obeyed in Russia."

In spite of all these distressing results, Mr Lasche assured Premier Bulganin that Jehovah's Witnesses still stand ready to send their delegation to Moscow for the discussions proposed in the petition.

Maybe their hearts will be hardened against us just as Pharaoh's was many centuries ago when Moses was sent to Egypt to set and the freedom of Jehovah's chosen people so that they could worship Him without interference." Mr. Lasche said.

But even if the Communists continue to arrest our ministers, as they are doing in the U.S.S.R., and most of the Satellite countries, Jehovah's Witnesses must ...and will, with the help of Jehovah God—continue to live the Christian lives and worship the Most High."

Asserting their purpose was to inform the world of the bitter Christian persecution that still rages behind the Iron Curtain, Mr Lasche revealed, "A full report is being published in the April 15th issue of The Watch Tower, official magazine of Jehovah's Witnesses. This issue will have a stepped-up world circulation of 10 million copies in 45 different languages, which is three times normal circulation. Plans are being made by the Ashmont congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses to call at every home in Ashmont, St. Paul and Elk Point with this significant report."

IN MEMORIAM

C'est avec regret que nous apprenons la mort subite de M. Thomas Fygan, survenue le 22 mars dernier à l'âge de 57 ans et cinq mois.

Né à St Maurice de Champlain il allait encore jeune demeurer à Trois Rivières où il poursuivit de brillantes études à l'Académie de la Salle Sous la direction des Frères des Ecoles Chrétiennes. Il y prend un goût prononcé pour une carrière commerciale ... l'appel d'aller rejoindre l'un de ses oncles établi à Edmonton. Il arrive en terre à St. Paul, Alberta. Ses parents devenus veuf allaient prendre une retraite bien méritée en un village en remontant à sa fondeur un foyer bien-aimé il ne donna tout entier à la tache d'adresse les dernières années de sa vie qu'il appellait souvent "jours et nuances".

Après avoir formé les jours à ses frères, deux autres tâches se présentaient, demandaient encore consentement. Il consentit. Il convertit la Père Fournier il disait les règlements des Caisses Populaires et prêtait les fondements de celle de St. Paul qu'il dirigea de ses quatre mandats. Ceci restera le plus beau monument de sa trop courte vie Chacun de rappellera sans doute sa bonne humeur qui les accueillait, sa courtoisie qui le rendait si populaire que tous l'appelait "Mon oncle Thomas." Après trois ans de douloureuse agonie il laissait déposer les armes car la maladie qui le rongeait depuis quelques années le condamnait de nouveau ... Il chercha des souffrances soufferances accrues en entier et se sacrifiera ... en silence et sans se plaindre ... pour l'assistance à la messe et communion fréquente Quand la fin se présenta il était prêt. Il fit de la famille il pouvait une toute sainte répéter avec Louis Veuillot:

J'ai cru, je vois.

Ses funérailles eurent lieu à St. Jacques le 25 mars. Le cortège fut conduit par ses frères Joseph de St. Paul et Romire de Maillerville fut bénédictin d'Arthur Fontaine et de nombreux neveux et nièces de Beaumont, St. Paul et Edmonton. Le Révérend Père Michaud chantait le service avec diacre et sous-diacre pendant qu'à l'orgue on poussait des chants se faisait entendre dire dans le plus pur gregorien. Le R. Père Lacasse prêcha le dernière bénédiction au cimetière de St. Joachim.

Les porteurs étaient. Paul et André Pontaine, André Prigon, Marcel Cadieux, Blake Wachalik, tout neveux du défunt

La famille se fait un devoir de remercier tous ceux qui ont offert sympathies, messe et fleurs. Et en particulier les Révérend Pères Oblats.

Men Who Make Alberta

THE DOCTOR

Since the beginning of time, sickness has been the greatest enemy of man . . . and, in no other field, has more success been attained than in the struggle to combat disease. A constant, never-ending battle has and is being waged by an army of men whose life has been dedicated to the job of healing their fellow men. Diseases that only a few years ago were horrible destroyers of human life are today only minor causes for concern. Diseases which annually take many lives, are today being brought under control by the man who answer the call of the sick or suffering, anytime, anywhere, in all types of weather.

Unfortunately, as disease is gradually brought under control, man is finding new ways to destroy himself . . . on the highways . . . in industrial and home accidents, and at periodic and ever more destructive wars.

So the battle to relieve suffering, to prevent death, to cure the crippled and to teach the maimed to lead a useful life, never ends. Today in Alberta, just as in pioneer times, we turn when tragedy strikes towards the man who by his training and understanding can ease our pain and make us well again. The man whose life is dedicated to the service of others.

SHUT AND YOUR GRAIN

A few years ago, smuts were a growing factor in normal crop production. Losses ranged from 40% to 75%. Today, the incidence of smuts has been very greatly reduced through the use of efficient seed dressings. However, in 1956, the Lind Research Testing Service showed 35% of the wheat, 71% of the oats and 80% the barley samples examined carried some smut spores. It is obvious that if the use of seed dressings were decreased a rapid return to the same this year ...

Two Towns Have Fraud Charges For Illegal Use Of Telephone Book

LETTER QUOTED

The letter reads in part:

"Whether there have been previous issues (of the Vegreville directory) or not I cannot say. Nor do I know whether your club has the thought in mind to publish a 1957-58 issue. If you have, we must respectfully draw your attention to the fact that our directory is copyrighted, and, ... we shall be forced to take legal action against any person who may publish this directory or its present form.

"Even if the information is obtained as a result of a personal canvass and not copied from our telephone directory, the telephone numbers are and must remain the property of this department."

The letter says there is no question as to our legal right in this matter and refers to a...ilar action against the Lloydminster group when an order to cease publication was ignored.

Attached was a letter to the Lloydminster group, signed by J. D. Hart as solicitor for the attorney-general's department.

LAW QUOTED

The letter to Lloydminster refers to section 5 of the Telephone and Towgage Act, 1942, which reads: "The contents of telephone directories, and information shall not be reproduced or published in any form whatever without written consent of the Alberta Government Telephones

"If we do not receive a satisfactory undertaking within the next ten days we will have to consider taking whatever steps proceedings, as may be justified," the letter said. If the undertaking is received we shall not require you to pack up the issues which have been published and distributed."

The Lloydminster group represented a delay to cause a deferential answer from the minister. The deputation was in Edmonton March 19 and the threat of action was dropped after the group promised not to publish the telephone numbers again.

Who's Who You Want It.
If you're really a fisherman at heart (and you don't let a few degrees of cold and feet of ice stop you) while Winter, summer, spring and fall) you're out after the catch. From Mrs Marshall of the Edmonton Service, Alberta Department of Agriculture come handy hints on freezing your "catch" from winter fishing.
As soon as you get your fish, advises Mrs Macdonald, keep them as cool as possible until ... are ready to freeze it. After ... have chilled it, make and ... ove the head and tail. To freeze small fish whole, trim fins and tail. Large fish can be cut into steaks or fillets. To reduce leakage when thawed, large types of fish may be dipped 30 seconds in chilled brine (¼ cup salt to 1 quart of water). Fatty fish such as salmon mackerel, trout, whitefish and catfish should not be salted. Wrap in moisture proof material (cellophane and aluminum foil) ... with two layers of ... paper or package in carton or polyethylene bags. RCAF Station Cold Lake Celebrates Third Anniversary, Marshall Visits

COLD LAKE—RCAF Station Cold Lake, perched on the edge of the wilderness of northern Alberta, some 180 air miles north of Edmonton, traces its phenomenal growth from an advance party of 56 air force personnel in April 1954 to its present population of more than 5,000.

Air Vice-Marshal M. M. Hendrick, Air Member for Technical Services for the RCAF, visited the station on the occasion of its third anniversary.

Air Vice-Marshal Hendrick flew in from Ottawa in a Yukon transport and was greeted by Group Captain R. G. Sneyd, AFC, the Commanding officer of RCAF Station Cold Lake, and a 56-man Guard of Honor. His two-day visit was taken up with the inspection of the modern technical facilities of the advanced station.

At a formal mess dinner in his honor at the officer's mess, the head of the RCAF technical branch discussed the tremendous technical advances that were being made in Canadian aviation and the RCAF.

WORLD FAMOUS

Conceived during the uncertain post war days as a defence and training base, the present establishment far exceeds even the wildest of original plans, until now it is world famous for its role in the RCAF and for its ultra modern design and giant size.

When postwar developments in aircraft and weapons outgrew all existing weapons ranges in Canada, steps were taken in 1950 to find a sparsely populated area for a weapons testing and training range. Defence department officials conducted surveys and travelled across Canada till they discovered a 5,000-square mile tract of muskeg and timberland straddling the Alberta Bank wan border at Primrose Lake some 20 miles north of Cold Lake.

Range ranges location was decided upon the next step was to build a base from which operat using the range could operate. Finally in the summer of 1951 department of transport engineers discovered the site which is now RCAF station Cold Lake.

Construction began in April, 1953, when a semi-complete bridge across the Beaver River was completed and a rail line built to the station site from Beaver Station (Lagoi!) in order to move in construction material.

READY BY SPRING

Thousands of tons of material moved to the site and by the spring of 1954 the main runway and two hangers were ready and the station was officially turned over to the RCAF.

Since the official opening Cold Lake has never stopped growing. The base site from its origin as a swampy muskeg has become the home of 1,500 people housed in 600 modern houses and barracks blocks. Six giant hangers border the sprawling runways where the armada of sleek CF-100 all weather fighters is never silent as they streak back and forth between their base and the rocket range.

Day and night experiments in new rocket and guided missile projects are carried on behind the sealed doors of one of the massive hangers.

Wives and families of air force personel live in their own miniature city well away from the flight line This "city" has its own modern shopping centre, theatre, swimming pool, bowling alley, community centre, drug store and a school filled to overflowing with the 700 air force children on the station.

Of the 300 houses planned for the station, 600 are now complete with the rest to be built this summer Two new 19 room schools are under construction and due for completion next year. The neighboring towns of Grand Centre and Cold Lake are filled with the families of airmen writing the completion of new housing.

Moving Less In 1957

Freight car loadings are down from last year. Figures for the first seven March loadings totaled 1,843 down 4.3% from a year earlier. This means drop in first quarter of the year came to 2,000 freight cars so far this year grain, coal, crude petroleum, sulphur, lumber But still showing year-to-year increases were pulpwood and newsprint.

House Buying Time is Now

There's no time like the present to buy a new home, says Vincent Kent in The Financial Post

He quotes these factors.

Supply of completed and unsold houses in most cities is now at the seasonal peak Therefore, your choice of homes is wider than at any other time of the year.

Supply of houses financed under the old 6½% NHA mortgage rate is diminishing fast When the 5½ per cent. rate goes into effect it will be limited to houses financed at a higher rate

Total cost of a house (the sum of land, labor and materials) isn't likely to come down this year it may go up.

Prices of older homes have dropped in some centres, and some down payments have been reduced with no change in total price Pattern varies widely across country, however

You don't have to drive 55 in a 30-zone an hour zone If conditions are dangerous, speed is dangerous, cautions the Canadian Highway Safety Conference

Tinted glasses, worn at night while driving cut down the driver's ability to see danger ahead.

Cancer Society Once Again Makes An Appeal To Every Albertan

A call to join forces against mankind's greatest enemy is being sounded throughout Alberta this week as the Canadian Cancer Society's annual educational and fund-raising Crusade gets underway The month-long drive has an objective of $260,000.00 with which the Society will carry on its three-fold programme of Research, Education and Welfare

The provision of funds to carry on scientific research into the causes of, and cures for this dread disease is the Society's main function. The Society itself time and time over spends laboratories. From the funds raised during the Cancer Crusade, grants are made to the National Cancer Institute of Canada, which is the professional body charged with the responsibility of conducting and co-ordinating cancer research throughout Canada. Last year the Institute sponsored six basic research projects at the University of Alberta

The centre of cancer research in Alberta is the Dr. John F. McEachern Cancer Research Laboratory located in Edmonton. Last year 41 projects were underway involving equipment and techniques as modern as the "atomage" itself The Society contributed $27,000.00 towards the maintenance costs of this laboratory. Advances although seemingly slow are being made. One all-out research attack is going on against cancer—it is only a matter of time.

While research will ultimately provide the answer—a cure for cancer—lives are being saved today by the Society's public education programme People are going to their doctors for prompt treatment Statistics estimate that 8,000 fellow Canadians every year owed from the disease last year, but the sad fact is another 8,000 might have been saved if they

Watchman and RCMP Foil Co-op Robbery

Two Involved In Break-In Get Three Years In Penitentiary

Quick action by night watchman Albert Dion at the Co-op ? and fast response by RCMP of the St. Paul detachment, foiled an attempted robbery in the store, Wednesday morning when two Edmonton burglars were apprehended and afterwards sentenced to three years in Prince Albert Penitentiary.

Albert Dion is a native of Alberta resident in the Lac La Biche district. He has been employed as night watchman at the Co-op store for a number of months. Dion was making his rounds of the premises at about 4 o'clock when he noticed a window leading from the basement to the back of the store was broken. He immediately called the RCMP police detachment at St. Paul. Constable Ross Stevens arrived they put the two men in the flight and were able to locate John Mitchell who had retreated to the basement and locked himself in. Entrance was forced and the suspected burglar was handed away to jail.

Believing that more than one man was involved in the robbery the RCMP called the manager, Hans Hansson to the store and conducted a thorough search of the entire building for confederates. Wally Clark and Hans Horb aided keeping a watch on all exits.

On the verge of giving up 2 hours later, Cpl. Mike Hoy and Const. Ross Stevens spotted shoes protruding from behind a lumber stack in the dry goods department, where they found Stanley Vassilenko attempting to conceal himself. Vassilenko pleaded guilty and was quickly fined $50 and 3 years in Prince Albert Penitentiary.

Evidence presented by Constable Ross Hunting disclosed that the two burglars had entered the premises by way of a skylight down into the basement, the window at the back of the building. Shingles were pushed off the roof, a piece of sheet iron removed.

The burglars made their way to the lumber shop and attacked the cash register, inflicting damage of about $50.00 in the machine when they pried it open, but found no money. All coin was deposited safely into the large vault.

Further damage was done to the storeroom when the police were forced to break it open.

Investigation on both men revealed lasting records. Mitchell had just been released from the British Columbia Penitentiary last November, serving 3 and a half years for breaking and entry, retaining stolen property, auto theft, assault with intent to escape and kidnapping, running consecutively.

Vasilko's file listed auto theft, burglary and armed robbery, having removed from years in Port Saskatchewan from where he was released in May, 1954.

Questioned on how they had entered town the men admitted they had hitch hiked across from Two Hills that afternoon. They were apparently in funds and not unusually unemployed.

Small, weighing about 120 lbs. 63 year old Mr Albert Dion, reported that this is the second time he has been involved in an attempted burglary at the Co-op store. The first time the burglars were detected trying to make entry through the back door and were frightened away when the police were called. Mr Dion said this time he heard Mitchell and Vasilko when they were trying to break open the till. From his adjacent bedroom

Mr Adolphe Pigeon, an old pioneer of St Paul passed away April 11 at the age of 71 years.

Mr Pigeon will best be remembered as a settler in spite of the first dragoons in this town and one who did a lot of moving, having changed the location of many buildings in his moving encyclopedia.

He had not been in very good health the last few years, but despite of that kept up a cheerful personality, and until his last hospital confinement was still very active.

He is survived by 6 sons and 3 daughters, Cyprian of New Westminster, Arthur of Lac La Biche, Fernand of St. Paul, Charles of Vancouver, Edmund of Calmar, Mrs. Clarence Bergeron of New Westminster, Mrs Henrietta Bailey of Edmonton, 12 grandchildren, 1 brother and 1 sister, August Pigeon and Mrs Marie Millet both of Montreal.

Funeral services were held on Monday, April 15, at 10:00 a.m. at the R. C. Cathedral. Fr. J. J. Tardif officiated and interment was made in the church cemetery.

Now It's Cancer Month

Cancer month follows Red Cross month and the two combined along with all the other donations solicited place quite a strain on the pocket book.

But, these things are necessary and as the ladies of St. Paul go out canvassing for funds we would like you to remember them generously . . . and give whatever you can.

A call to join forces against mankind's cruelest enemy is being sounded throughout Alberta this week as the Canadian Cancer Society's annual educational and fund-raising campaign gets underway. The month-long drive has as its objective the knowledge which shows the society will carry on its Directed-Programme of Research, Education, Welfare.

The minimum of funds to carry on scientific research into the cause of, and cures for the dread disease is the society's main function. The society itself does not own nor operate laboratories. From the funds raised during the Cancer Crusade grants are made to the National Cancer Institute of Canada, which is the professional body charged with the responsibility of evaluating and co-ordinating cancer research throughout Canada. Last year the Institute sponsored six basic research projects at the University of Alberta.

The money of the cancer research in Alberta in the Dr. John S. McEachern Cancer Research Laboratory located in Edmonton. Last year 61 projects were underway involving equipment and techniques as much as the 'atomic age' itself. The society contributed $22,000.00 towards the maintenance costs of this lab. Advancements in chemotherapy also are being made. An effective cancer attack is going on against cancer of the breast as well as cancer of the lung, the latter being caused in many cases by cigarette smoking.

While research will ultimately provide the answers to cancer, the answers are now being saved today by the Society's public education programme. People are going to their doctors for prompt treatment. Authoritative estimates that 5,000 fellow Canadians were saved from the disease last year, but the fact is another 3000 might have been saved if they had seen their doctors in time. Officials of the Society point out that the best form of cancer insurance is a knowledge of the seven danger signals which are: lump, sore, change in bowel habit, change in bladder habit, unusual bleeding or discharge, indigestion or difficulty in swallowing, change in wart or mole. Any of these signals should be reported to a doctor at once.

Without funds to attack the fatal menace against this killer Last year Dominion contributions to the Society were $200,000 or less than two cents per person. During April which is Cancer Control Month everyone has the opportunity of fighting back at cancer with a check-up and a cheque.

What About Directions?

Last week we had a visit from an Edmonton Business Man, who had to leave soon to St. Paul. Before leaving he was to make enquiries at the office of the Alberta Motor Association, to find out the best route to take.

We suppose it's some slur in the office, but whoever took on the duties was not very well informed about matters in this country. The gentleman was told the best and only route to St. Paul was through Vermilion.

Judging from the road reports we sometimes hear coming from the AMA—about directions and conditions we are familiar with, we find many discrepancies and this type of mis-direction quite common. We often wonder what happens to some of the tourists they may direct during the fall season . . . perhaps they are more acquainted with the main highways.

In any event, it would be wise for officials of the AMA who have the responsibility of road direction to study the reports of rural roads, or even make the odd trip on the country to find out what is what and the shortest distance between two points.

Boom Still On Or Decreasing?

What is happening to the Boom? Previous evidences is on conducting it may be safe to take a cautious view.

Some of Ottawa's responsible economists claim that the boom passed its peak last year. They say we are down on a downhill road from now without realizing it.

We can find others who say the boom may be flashing off a little, but it's only a badly needed moderating of a breakneck pace. Yet others tell fear that the summer may bring almost as great pressure as 1956.

Right now, in fact, you can get no clear or unanimous guidance from the economic experts here.

Spring is near, and the present economic signs may then be resolved more clearly.

Cost Of Living Remains Level

Cost of living is holding steady, reports The Financial Post. Canada's consumer price index registered 120.3 between January and March (1949 100) unchanged from the month before and fairly level since November. Lower prices for some food items offset price increases in rent, clothing, household operations and "other" commodities including auto repairs. Living costs estimated to be 3.5% higher than a year ago.

What's on the Air

Behind The Election

Behind the superficial excitements of the building, the election campaign is always a fundamental Canadian problem which goes very deep, says the Ottawa editor of The Financial Post.

The serious leaders of every party know that it means far more to future good government than any of the things in party politics.

The [illegible] able to take much account of the planning party planning every party organization has such a vested interest in success.

But when the temporary excitement is over the genetic election will be there in the air and it gives to one problem.

The problem is Fragmentation.

In this Billion year of our nation and nation [illegible] countries, particularly the three-or four-party system. Is the representation of Canadian views together [illegible] another with other. The [illegible] Conservatives will be all [illegible]

[illegible] Government resulting from five-party election, a system of politics dominated by horse-trading between regional representatives.

Role Of Opposition

CCF member for Winnipeg North Centre, Mr. Stanley Knowles, in recent address before Empire Club of Toronto, has some sound and timely things to say concerning "The Role of the Opposition in Parliament". Observes Mr Knowles, "It is the Opposition's right to object, to duty, when ever it feels strongly about any matter of public policy to criticize and attack the Government for all it is worth. . . It is its right to keep Parliament in session months on end if in doing what its members believe to be their duty it chooses to do so."

Following passage from Mr Knowles address touches upon theme of this matter

One of the essential features of democracy is the right of the people, on the basis of universal suffrage and by secret ballot to determine who shall form, from time to time the government of the country. But I suggest that you could have universal suffrage, the secret ballot and a government which has the choice of the majority of the people, and still not have full political democracy.

"Democracy is not real unless the force of public opinion is brought to bear not only on the choice of a government once every four or five years, but on the legislative process month in and month out, day in and day out, during the time between elections.

With such views few will quarrel. It is unfortunate, however, that because his remarks were addressed to a non-partisan audience, Mr. Knowles was unable to indicate how the degree of [illegible] now prevailing in Canada [illegible] parliamentary system [illegible] satisfactorily explained.

REPORT FROM THE ALBERTA LEGISLATURE

By KEN MASON

Edmonton—The 1957 session of Alberta Legislature came to a fighting finish last week with fireworks and drama the major issues up to the end.

Despite a last minute attack by the opposition some $60,000 Albertans will be receiving their $25 cheques before the end of June.

And while the same period allowed was called upon to clear liabilities to pinpoint whether this province will have enough hire and other new types of taxing establishments prohibited under existing laws.

The session was prorogued after eight hard weeks during which members sat 41 days and today through 16 special night sittings that Justice Clinton J. Ford gave Royal Assent to a total of 113 bills.

Other major pieces of legislation included the establishment of a new hospital plan to pay all Albertans and 15-per-cent increase in mother's allowances, widows' pensions and disabled persons' benefits.

The controversial oil and gas royalty dividend scheme was the biggest single issue, consuming the more hours of debate than any other. But Social Credit Fabian handily defeated two non-confidence motions arising from the $11,000,000 give-away program.

Opposition members fought the dividend plan right down to the wire, making their final attack on the last day of the session by moving a "hoist" during third reading.

Their effort was a futile one to kill the bill, and they knew it. The Social Credit-ers sat back and let Liberal Hugh John Macdonald of Calgary introduce the motion and attack the plan. They didn't even bother to reply before calling a vote and crushing the motion.

The question now is how the dividend scheme will be accepted by the public. Opposition spokesmen have claimed all along that the public will agree it is a waste of money, but privately some of them fear Social Credit may have purchased its way into power for a long time to come.

It was the liquor issue which slowed down the session during the final stages with members sitting until almost midnight on the three days before prorogation day.

Debate developed on almost every clause of the voluminous bill containing amendments to the Liquor Act under the government's banner as the right-man House Liquor committee. There were no major changes but, among other things, it is now legal to drink in your own back yard, and liquor permits are no longer necessary.

However, the major thing is the forthcoming plebiscite, and events which led up to it were the most dramatic of the session. Many members on both sides of the house were disappointed that the liquor committee had not ruled for any relaxation in the liquor laws.

It came to a head with a vote of 28 to 27—the narrowest of the session—to pass a private resolution directing the Legislative body to call the plebiscite. Party lines were ignored through all debates and votes on liquor.

Premier Manning, while he personally voted against any measures which might lead to easing of the laws, gave his supporters the green light to speak and vote as they pleased, and between both sides of the House there were enough "wets" to pass the plebiscite resolution.

The wets are confident that Alberta will vote for new types of outlets subject, of course, to local option.

Alberta's new hospital plan will cost an estimated $2 million a year. It also will permit Alberta to join in the proposed federal-provincial hospital scheme, but if that isn't available by January of 1958 Alberta is prepared to go it alone.

The increases in provincial pensions are in line with boosts in federal old age pensions, blind pensions and others which are financed jointly by the province and Ottawa.

Provincial supplementary allowances are not increased, but Premier Manning has promised a full review at the coming year of the entire welfare program.

The Legislature will have 65 members instead of 61 after the next election. Some redistribution introduced this year. Edmonton will have two more members, Calgary will have one more, and the Peace River riding will be split, creating the new riding of Dunvegan.

A record budget of $263,669,-870 was introduced and passed following two weeks of debate during which the first dividend non-confidence motion was defeated.

A major bill makes capital loans up to $7,500 available to young farmers to help them buy farmland. However, the program depends on co-operation of municipalities which must set up farm purchase boards to administer loans from the $ million revolving fund.

Other major items included:

Public Lands Act changes permitting homesteaders to purchase land outside their residence municipality.

A $ million revolving fund to help rural telephone expansion.

Abolition of the motor vehicle inspection and safety sticker program.

Doubling of minimum amounts of car insurance requirements for financial responsibility under the pink card system.

Amendments to the Labor Act providing equal pay for women for same work.

Legislation to increase school construction loan interest rates to about 3½ per cent, the same rate charged by the new municipal financing corporation.

A salary increase of $2,000 for Provincial Planning Board of $1,000 for cabinet ministers, and a new $15 daily expense allowance for MLA's.

Marketing board amendments to permit the government to define a registered producer and pave the way for possible introduction of an egg marketing board this year.

Legislation to provide an equitable assessment of income for new government grant formula and introduction of a provincial sales tax.

The Homemakes

by
ELSIE KUSKAN B. H. E.

Last week a study Letter was sent at Brooks to three Home Economists and myself at the Prairie Food tasting panel in the Horticultural Station. The first day we arrived at the station in the morning for discussing for...

...prepared for judging the different foods. Once the girl from the station opened the frozen foods numbered them and then we judged them for appearance first and color. Once the foods were judged for the flavor state they were at, reasons for the same length of time and was tested and again for their appearance, taste and odor and taste. The foods judged there were vegetables green beans, broad beans, lima beans, corn, peas, pumpkin, rhubarbs and many more. The only fruit judged was rhubarb. The foods used for this panel are the different varieties of fruits and vegetables grown at the Horticultural Station. There foods are picked at the right stages and then frozen, being very careful in blanching and quick freezing. These same varieties are stored for three years by different judges after each time, the best are picked by averaging the scores. From such long experimentation the best varieties for freezing are picked out and a leaflet distributed to anyone desiring one. This leaflet is called Vegetables Varieties Suitable for Freezing. If you are planning to do any freezing try to obtain a leaflet to know the variety best suited for freezing. Write phone or drop in to the office for this leaflet. I am sure it is worthwhile having if it is worthwhile freezing foods.

Station Carrying On Experiment To Determine Best Food For Pigs

An item from the geographical study of the Peace River area seems to find value than some others: At the Beaverlodge Experimental Farm, Assistant Horticulturalist B. D. Owen is working on this problem. It will be some time before he has all the answers but the B vitamin content of barley and its effect on sterile reproduction and growth have been his immediate concern.

Concentrating on the essential B-complex vitamins riboflavin, nicotinic acid, pantothenic acid and vitamin B 12, his evidence to date points to borderline riboflavin deficiency. Although B 12 is included in the group, we are not trying to test for this vitamin. Mr. Owen advises. The inadequacy of vitamin B12 in all vegetable rations is recognized, but it must be present to utilize fully the other vitamins under

Recently, the experimental committee two groups of hand sows. One group is fed a ration of barley from the dry weighed only of the regions, supplemented with soybean meal, minerals and vitamins A and D. The other group is fed a similar ration, with the essential B-complex vitamins added. Analyses of the sows' milk are made for the four B vitamins and response of the young pigs is observed.

The monotone and content of the barley proved sufficiently high and milk levels of this vitamin have been unaffected by treatment. There has been a marked increase in the riboflavin content of the milk from sows fed the supplementary ration but only a very slight increase in the pantothenic acid content. The B12 has also been increased but by no means to the extent that one might expect with a basal ration devoid of this vitamin.

As far as nourishment of the unborn pigs is concerned the basal ration is adequate. There is no difference in birth weight of the pigs, number of stillbirths or livability of pigs from feeding the B-complex vitamins. During the first few weeks after birth, however a difference is apparent. There is a considerably greater rate of growth of pigs farrowed from the vitamin-fed group of sows.

These experiments says Mr. Owen, are designed primarily to provide fundamental information regarding the B vitamin content of the grain and grass. However, from the more practical point of view, the studies constitute one more piece of evidence for the need well balanced rations. Riboflavin deficiency in the pigs is unlikely to be now a serious problem if properly constituted supplements are used.

Test For Perfect Acoustics Is Carried Out By Many Experts

Final evaluation of acoustical properties in Alberta's two multi-million dollar Jubilee Auditoriums will take place Monday morning April 8 with a three-hour test concert in the Northern Alberta Jubilee Auditorium in Edmonton. The concert is scheduled to begin at 9 a.m. Approximately 2,000 persons will participate.

A massed symphonic orchestra of 100 pieces and a 100 voice choral ensemble will be a panel of eleven leading experts in the field of sound and music, the local acoustical advisory committee of eight, 150 professional musicians and music critics and 1,000 concert goers and students at the auditoriums.

Experts in the sound and music field are Dr. Vern O. Knudsen, Professor of Physics, Dean of the Graduate Division, Vice-Chancellor, University of California, Los Angeles, California; Dr. Lee L. Beranek, Professor of Communication Engineering, Technical Director of the Acoustical Laboratory Massachusetts Institute of Technology, U.S.A.; Dr. Cyril M. Harris, Director, Acoustics Laboratory, Associate Professor of Electrical Engineering, Columbia University in the City of New York; Dr. M. Bettinger, Engineering Products Division, Hollywood Film Broadcasting Recording, Radio Corporation of America, Los Angeles, California; Dr. Arnold M. Small, Chief, Reliability, Human Factors and Acoustics, Convair, San Diego, California; Dr. T. D. Northwood, Building Physics Section, Division of Building Research, National Research Council, Ottawa; Dr. Arnold Walter, Professor, Royal College of Music, Toronto; Dr. H. Le Caine, Radio and Engineering Division, National Research Council, Ottawa; Dr. Leslie Bell, Leslie Bell Sergeant, Toronto; H. Eberhard Thomas, Toronto; G. A. Waddington, Davenport, Moore Division, CBC, Toronto.

During the four months both auditoriums have undergone rigorous seven-day tests to assure acoustical perfection from an objective standpoint. These tests will continue even after the test concert—the entire heating and cooling program will probably continue for four or five months. For example, rental of the Royal Festival Hall in London, England, was carried out over nearly three years inherently though, this ultimate judgment must be with the audiences themselves under actual performance conditions and that is the reason for staging the test concert. Because the two auditoriums are identical in every respect, no test concert is deemed necessary at Calgary.

Audience for this test concert was carefully selected to bring about the most accurate and competent judgment. In view of the nature of the tests, approximately one-third musicians and musicians are of the greatest importance. For the test concert, a handsome colloquium of these experts is to be held where suggestions for accomplishing better hearing may be forthcoming.

Another [illegible] of the auditoria will [illegible] potential [illegible] with [illegible] in mind, [illegible] and related fields. The group will be asked to answer carefully observing the test concert [illegible] questionnaires. The last and largest group will be [illegible] listening persons who regularly attend concerts. They too will be required to answer a questionnaire, but one less complex than that of the professionals.

Between each phase of construction and adjustment are still in progress at the auditorium [illegible] the building will be allowed following the concert experts gathered [illegible] for the experts.

Income Payments To Government

Latest statistics show that a total of 3,250,000 Canadians will file income tax returns this year a record for this country. reports Stan Weekly staff writer Lloyd Leonhart in a message from Ottawa By April 30th, deadline, an estimate $2,000,000-000-dollar half of the federal budget will be collected or owing from taxpayers of all ages, from all walks of life in every town, city and village in Canada.

This fantastic sum may dismay the average citizen-yet the massing of funds takes place smoothly and quietly with comparatively few hitches

The income tax department says Leonhart, whose article appears in this week's issue of The Star Weekly, is one department which spurns spurns publicity, either because income tax is disagreeable to start with or because the whole routine began as a temporary measure in 1917 But it is fairly certain that the temporary has lapsed into the permanent and most of us have come to regard taxes as a as a necessary evil-although we can take some small consolation in the fact that Canadians pay less in income tax than their counterparts in the United States, England, Australia or New Zealand

The Star Weekly article describes the complex, and efficient workings of the department that assesses and collects our taxes and tells exactly when, where and how a person can legally claim part of his income exempt from taxation

Wireworms And Your Crop

Wireworms can be found in all kinds of Alberta crops, even in grain-growing land in Western Canada. They affect crop damage by destroying seed and seedlings. Between 1946 and 1955, the development of seed drawings, wireworms caused an annual average loss of more than $650.00 per half section farm, with the total annual loss in the Prairie Provinces totalling $50,808,000.00. On some individual farms crop losses ranged from 75 to 100%.

Dry Years—Wireworms are more destructive during dry years. Above normal moisture levels of the past few years have reduced the amount of damage. However, wireworms are increasing downward and wet present conditions point to a heavier wireworm infestation in 1957.

Fields likely to be subjected to wireworm damage are difficult to define, but wheat is more susceptible than oats or barley. Crops following summerfallow or grass are more likely to suffer severe damage than are crops on stubble.

Control—Seed dressing containing Lindane, Aldrex or Heptachlor will provide positive protection at a cost of less than 20c per acre. These materials used at the rate of one ounce applied to the seed from one acre will destroy 70 to 85% of the wireworms and protect about 100% provided of the crop in addition a single treatment will protect subsequent crops for three to five years.

Seed Treatments — Wireworm seed dressings may be purchased as dual treatments which contain Mercury or other fungicides for the prevention of disease to seed and seedlings.

The use of seed treating chemicals for wireworms, smuts and other seed borne diseases is a sound, low-cost investment in crop protection. This information sponsored by Canadian Agricultural Chemicals Association.

The vote by secret ballot was first used in a national election in Canada in 1878.

Wax On Floors Will Save Money

Let the wax take the wear and the appearance job of replacing your linoleum can be postponed for years. That is the conclusion of experts who say that when a polish film covering, properly waxed, will last from six to ten times as long as linoleum that has removed only scrubbing. Thorough cleaning was done the scrubbing owners the floor more than foot traffic.

Use a hard, self-polishing wax for linoleum, says Johnson's Consumer Service, applying two coats and allowing the first to dry for two hours before applying the second. Occasionally the floor should be washed with mild soap and water, and you should make sure the water doesn't seep through the seams Thorough rinsing and drying are important.

About twice a year a concentrated floor cleaner should be used to remove any remaining wax or dirt and provide a fresh base for a new wax application.

Bill Skakun Elected President Junior Chamber Commerce

LOUIS LETOURNEAU RETIRES AFTER TWO YEARS OF DEDICATED WORK

Mr. William (Bill) Skakun popular and active community worker and a four-year member was elected president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce to carry on duties of his predecessor, Mr. Louis Letourneau who retired after two years of devoted service to the young men's organization and the town of St. Paul.

In accepting the honor of President, Mr. Skakun commended Mr. Letourneau for his impressive work and went on record with a vote of thanks for the past president.

Mr. Skakun expressed the idea that the Junior Chamber of Commerce was rendering exemplary public service in St. Paul and that it was the duty of all young men to take pride and serve in an organization which helped the community and trained its young men to leadership.

Mr. Letourneau in reviewing the year's activities, mentioned projects the Jaycees had pursued successfully including the July 1st Baseball Tournament, assistance to the Golf Course and also instrumental in bringing of alive, a Caf Rondeo, acclaimed by the Traffic Safety Inspector as one of the better ones in the province, co-operation with the local Red Cross in a very successful blood donor clinic, a provincial Rodeo for one year, Christmas lighting contest.

"A high tribute to the St. Paul Jaycees and Mr. Letourneau, is the esteem and respect it holds from the citizens of St. Paul. Jaycees are looked upon as a capable, willing to work organization and five up to that reputation by filling in many requests (Continued on page 12)

The St. Paul Municipal Seed Cleaning Plant, located on the western approaches of the town, marks another step in the progress of St. Paul farmers. 4th Annual Bull Sale, St. Paul On May 30th

Yes indeed, this is "Cow Country", and we congratulate our local breeders, Messrs. Thompson, Sutton and Beizil for bringing back here—where they belong—the banners and the trophies and the money.

Your achievements at the Calgary and Edmonton Sales are the kind of things that put St. Paul on the map.

This, however is only one, though the brightest, side of the picture since the St Paul M.D. with its 30,000 head of cattle is on a par—so far as numbers are concerned—with Pincher Creek or Cremona or Wainwright.

Amongst those heads—we have as we just said—some very best and others that need some improvement.

To accomodate the latter, the Agricultural Society sponsors a Purebred Sale of Cattle (mostly Bulls) to be held on Thursday, May the 30th, 1957, on the Fair Grounds in St Paul.

May I extend a very special invitation to all those very best want to renew their "blood lines".

May I also remind the breeders of their responsibility in gilting for their own individuals

From the figures quoted above it is evident that between 200 to 250 bulls are needed every year in the M.D.

The continued success of both breeders and purchasers depend on a continued "Fair Deal" in the Auction Ring.

Given those conditions we may all look forward to a successful Cattle Sale

See you there.

SEED PLANT EXECUTIVES EXAMINE CLEANED GRAIN

A handful of weed-free seed is being examined by two executives of the St. Paul Municipal Seed Cleaning Plant, after it has been processed through a "Crippen" cleaning machine. Above, plant manager Mr. Ewald Herzberg is inspecting the seed along with Mr. Conrad Peters, Chairman of the Board of Directors, who operated a lot of time to construction, planning and supervision. Mr. Arnaud, Landmark's President of the Association and also has helpful support in the project.

St. Paul Seed Plant Most Modern In Alta.

Built Through Co-operative Effort of Farmers and Town

The St Paul Seed Plant, which began operating early in April, is the most modern plant in Alberta and without a doubt in all of Canada. Although it is smaller in design and construction to other plants built in Alberta during the past few years it has been suggested by the Department of Economic Affairs that its local boards

The Plant, situated on the western outskirts of St. Paul on Highway 28, is commencing to in construction to a grain elevator.

It's eighteen bins have a total capacity of approximately 18,000 bushels of grain with six other bins to accomodate screenings. The storing capacity of the plant enables farmers to haul all their grain over a period of time and have it cleaned in one run and then have it stored in a bin to enable him to haul it home when convenient without the necessity of extra velocities. When large quantities are being cleaned

The cleaning equipment consists of two large machines, a Superior indent cleaner which is a cylinder machine. It separates smaller grains from larger by mobile differences in length. Its operation small grain and seeds lodge in the thousands of indented pockets in the cylinder and are lifted into an adjustable trough which carries them to the screening top. As grain passing through that machine is subjected to suction which removes dust, chaff, grain and other matter. The clean grain passes on to the second machine, a Crippen screen cleaner, where it is subjected to screening and wind blast to complete the cleaning process.

One of the main features of this plant is that there is no possibility of mixing or of one farmer getting weed seeds from the previous lot. All bins are metal lined which prevents any lodging of grain or bins and all spouting is made of metal which eliminates any possibility of material remaining once a lot of grain has passed through.

All elevators are specially designed to control fumes and are self cleaning As an added precaution, there are four elevators one for handling uncleaned grain, two for clean grain and one for screenings. The screenings which are carried out by the screening elevator are conveyed to the screening bins which are outside of the plant proper and are never allowed to enter the plant.

Two Killed and Four Hospitalized In Easter Weekend Holiday On Dusty Farm Road Near Brosseau

The Easter week-end holiday ended tragically for two farmers of the Brosseau district who were killed instantly when their car collided head on with an oncoming truck on a dusty side road one mile from

Harry Tarchuk, 36-year old resident of Beverlynne and George Michalyk, 38 years old, of Brosseau, both farmers were reported to have died on the terrible impact of the two cars which left both vehicles completely demolished.

Driver of the death car, Murray Saunders suffered serious injury to his back and pelvis. Taken to Two Hills hospital he was later moved to Edmonton for special surgery and at time of writing was still on the critical list. All three men were riding in the front seat of the 1956 Chevrolet.

Occupants of the other car, a 1951 Oldsmobile, going east, were James Bellaire, driver and owner, of Beaver Crossing spending the Easter week-end with his brother Richard Bellaire of Duvernay who was a passenger being on George Sparks of Brosseau when the accident happened.

All suffered multiple cuts and injuries including several fractures and were hospitalized in Two Hills Hospital where they are said to be recovering satisfactorily.

The accident happened at about 9:30 p.m. on Sunday evening. The force of the impact was so terrific that steering column of both cars were rammed through the front end as were wheels ripped and the vehicles were crumpled like pancakes.

St. Paul and Two Hills RCMP who investigated the accident said that an inquest will be held at a later date, pending the recovery of Saunders.

Tarchuk was a native of the Brosseau district. He was single and operated a farm. Michalyk, who was born in Glendon, also was single and farmed at Beaverlynne.

Richard Bellaire and Saunders are both also employees of Brosseau Bros. Ltd.

New Seed Cleaning Plant

In other pages of this newspaper we are centering attention and publicity on the opening of the new Municipal Seed Cleaning Plant in St. Paul.

We are very happy to introduce and present some of the capacity of this new plant—what led to its construction, who built it and how it will serve and improve the farming conditions in this district.

The St. Paul Seed Cleaning Plant was built primarily, and naturally, to clean seed. By having a plant close by, available to do their cleaning, farmers will have no excuse to seed impure grain and should make use of the facilities as much as possible. Results will accrue in better crops, brighter and more money to the farmers and St. Paul.

Construction of the plant is outside of the community spirit which backed it. It took co-operation, of the farmers to organize the movement, co-operation of both farmers and town business men who bought $15,000 worth of shares to network the total sum of financial assistance from the Municipality of St. Paul and the Provincial Government.

All it needs now for success is patronage by the farmers who built it to make its operations profitable. We now have a seed cleaning plant . . . let's use it.

Marketing Boards

Legislation was passed at both the provincial and federal houses last week legislating the setting up and operation of marketing boards for farm products.

Local cries of protest and the outrage of dire results arises from certain quarters. Critics claim that farmers are going to their individual freedom and that consumers will pay dearly as a result of higher prices for [illegible]

But what the critics fail to mention is that the free market for certain commodities has become so unreliable that collective action on the part of farmers seems to be the only alternative.

For example, the price of eggs often varies by as much as 10¢ per/ml a matter of months. Yet the cost of producing those eggs and their value to the consumer [illegible]

No sound and economic business can be built on returns so unstable. Yet the critics of board marketing expect the farmer to do so.

Through marketing boards farm people are not asking for government grants or subsidies but they do hope through their own self-help efforts to bring a degree of stability to highly unstable markets.

Why Have Tariffs?

Canada's farm machinery industry is able to compete against United States exporters without tariff protection. This is the conclusion drawn as a result of a study made by a Toronto management firm for the Gordon Royal Commission on Canada's Economic Prospects. If farm machinery manufacturers are not in need of tariffs, many people would like to know why other industries need the protection now afforded them.

Officials Gone Nuts!

A little matter was drawn to our attention last week that seems to call for a little comment. According to our information the Rotary Club has been advised that in issuing its local directory it must not quote telephone numbers. This would seem to be a ridiculous attitude on the part of telephone officials. Probably they are technically, legally, correct enough, for those telephone directories are copyrighted. But from a practical standpoint the officials look a little silly.

Those local directories such as are issued by the Rotary Club do not interfere in the slightest with the advertising revenue derived from the telephone directories.

Anyway unless specially interested who wants to look up these ads in the yellow pages in the unwieldy telephone directory

It is true that the Rotary Club's local directory used telephone numbers freely It is much more convenient to have a local directory them to battle with an inch and a half of official directory.

Anyway who do those telephone directories belong to? True the Government owns the equipment but when it leases that equipment to a telephone subscriber and alots him a certain number, we contend that that number belongs to the subscriber and continues to belong to him so long as he pays the rental and other charges thereon. However, the edict has gone forth and we suppose there is no use making about it. But it is silly just the same.

We can write about this without prejudice since we are not interested in printing the local directory Don't want the job at any price

—Vegreville Observer

Labor Shortage Less

Labor experts here expect this summer's shortages of workers to be less widespread than they were last year

The 1957 employment outlook, they say, will be more spotty than the remarkably even spread of 1956 and 1955.

But this doesn't mean that you'll be able to get the labor you need.

The available workers will not necessarily be in the right places; nor will they have the right skills.

In some skilled occupations—probably in most—the labor pressure will be just as tight as last year

In some it may be worse

Watch Those Grass Fires

The spring cleaning season is on hand. With it comes the sprucing up of our backyards and this of course leads to burning of garbage and dry grass.

Last year the fire department was kept busy answering calls of fires which got out of control, either through neglect or miscalculation. Some contain in the town could be exercised, and as always, the fire truck is at the disposal of anyone who contemplates a fire which might give trouble Just call the fire chief for a stand-by when you feel the need.

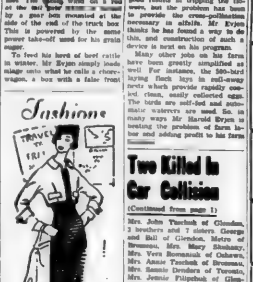
Ingenuity Pays Off In Labor Saving Devices On The Farm

The ingenuity of farmers is well known. Dollarton Finan. it seem to the writer found on the Howard Eyden farm in the Stony Plain district Mr Eyden has made an inventive mind pay off in time and money saving [illegible]

Putting up one bunday silage is a time consuming job on the Eyden farm, advises R C Bowling, District Agriculturist at Stony Plain. Each year, on acres of alfalfa and brome go into a large pit silo. Mr. Eyden uses a forage harvester with a cutting bar, and blows the grass material into his truck. Back at the silo, the truck is unloaded in a matter of seconds, and the driver never leaves the cab.

How does he do it? Well, Mr Eyden has a false front put on the truck box which is pulled to the back of the box by two steel cables. The floor of the front can be at the rear [illegible] in unison by a gear box mounted at the side of the end of the truck box This is powered by the same power take-off used for his grain auger.

To feed his herd of beef cattle in winter, Mr Eyden simply loads silage into what he calls a feeder wagon, a box with a false front



Lightweight steel and duraw combine for a fabric that travels well. The result is a suit that looks good in many places in this style. Here, a gray suit in white stripes, by a Montreal designer, has a fitted jacket and is lined in gray. It can be worn in the city, but is slightly cooped and easy to put under a coat and wear in a car.

U.S. To Be More Active In Past

Iraq, Iran, Turkey and Pakistan as well as UK, are slightly embarrassing about US Government's declination to broaden participation in England Pact's charter line of defence against possible Soviet aggression in Middle East. Washington's action should also serve to demonstrate to Egypt and Syria that basic differences between Britain and US in Middle East have been reconciled and that both great powers are united in determination to halt Soviet Union in expanding its sphere of influence in this strategically important area.

It is merry commentary on irresponsibility of British socialism that Labor party's foreign affairs spokesman, Aneurin Bevan, should have said in New Delhi that US membership of Baghdad Pact military committee will be to make Middle East "a football or the chief powers," and that British Labor party is "not enthusiastic" about this development.

What Mr Bevan and other socialists apparently ignore is that but for the Baghdad Pact [illegible] are that most of Middle East would already have fallen under sinister sphere of influence of USSR.

St. Paul Seed Plant Most Modern In Alta.

lowed back in the plant for any reason

Although the plant is so designed to prevent any mixing as an added precaution, all bins and machines are meticulously cleaned with a large industrial vacuum cleaner after each lot of grain is cleaned

In addition to cleaning seed, the plant is also equipped to treat seed for disease control. A Cahlene seed treater with a capacity of 600 bushels an hour is installed in a special treating room where all grain can be treated safely and economically. A special pneumatic duct is used which is hugely effective and does not dust as readily making it less hazardous in handling the grain. This is a very important feature as mercuric dusts are toxic to man and special precautions must be taken to prevent breathing of mercuric dusts.

The capacity of the plant is 1000 bushels per day if operated on a 24 hour basis. However, business has not been so brisk as it might be and since opening the plant has averaged 1000 bushels per day.

It is anticipated that the plant will operate all year round. During the summer months and early fall the plant will clean seed for the following spring as well as clean commercial grain. Most plants which have been operating for a number of years clean large quantities of commercial grain, which in many cases their grain plant is unwilling to do. The elevators to enable them to sell it at a better grade and to retain the screenings for feed.

Facilities are also available for cleaning and marking of registered and certified seed. Registered seed growers will have an opportunity to clean, mark and store their grain at the plant during certain specified periods.

This modern plant will, without a doubt, help to increase the quality of the crops grown in this district.

The game of basketball was invented by Dr. James Naismith a native of Almonte, Ontario, and was first played at Montreal's McGill University.

DUMPING TRUCK LOAD OF SEED

Built much in the line of grain elevators, the St. Paul Seed Cleaning plant delivers in one respect, when it comes to unloading or unloading grain. Instead of the expensive hydraulic lift raising main and floor, trucks are backed by a motor, the rear wheels drive onto a narrow V shaped platform which holds the wheels securely while overhead cables, powered by electricity slowly lift the front end. A truck compression system permits trucks to go forward or backwards, depending on size, for unloading directly over the floor bin, nearly. On this picture, Mr. Bill Vlaskyk of Ashmont watches his truck take to the air.

Seed Cleaning is Protection

The first and foremost reason why every grain grower in Western Canada should practise seed treatment can be stated in three words: "Protection Against Disease."

Treatment Needed

The results of seed grain surveys conducted in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta in recent years show that a large proportion of the seed-grain sown each year in the Prairie Provinces is contaminated with disease-producing organisms, or is damaged by weathering or threshing, in sufficient amount to make seed treatment necessary and profitable. Proper treatment of such seed can be expected to (1) increase field stands, (2) enhance seedling vigour, and (3) improve yield and quality. Unless you are sure your 1957 seed is sound, free of disease, and high germinating—treat it. It should be emphasized here that no small grain crop responds so well to seed treatment as does flax.

Disease Carriers

Seeds are disease carriers. The germs responsible for various surface-borne smuts of cereals, and the seedling blights and seed rots of wheat, oats, barley and flax originate from the seed. These diseases can be easily, effectively and cheaply controlled by applying suitable chemicals to the surface of the seed. Besides, proper seed treatment protects the seed against certain destructive soil-borne diseases.

Suggested Treatments

Chemical compounds containing mercury are generally recognized as the best advertised seed treatments for cereals and flax. Such chemicals as Agrox C, Corona, Leytosan and Panogen are recommended. Formaldehyde and Copper Sulphate are not recommended seed-grain treatments as they injure germination and provide no protection to the seed in the soil. Approved dust-type seed treatments (Arasan, Ceresan M and others) should be used where wireworms, as well as smut and other diseases are to be controlled.

Before treatment seed should be thoroughly cleaned. No matter what chemical is used, nor by what method it is applied, it is essential that every kernel be adequately coated with the chemical. For best results, where of the St. Paul farmers in realizing the need for a Seed Cleaning Plant and their determination to push it to reality is a sure sign that the progress of this town and district is not lagging.

The construction of this new service and industry in St. Paul is an example of what co-operation can do. We urge all farmers to take full advantage of its benefits . . . keep their crops clean for economic advantage to the district.

Group From Saskatchewan Visits Plant

A group of farmers from Cut-nate Saskatchewan, motored to St. Paul to inspect the St Paul Seed Plant. This group, a number of these Provincial Board which is contemplating building a plant, has visited several plants in Saskatchewan and Alberta and on learning the St. Paul's plant was the most modern in Alberta, they decided that perhaps they could use it as their prototype.

They appear to be very much impressed with the plant after being shown through it by Mr. J. Hewetamp the plant manager. Following the plant tour Mr. G Poitras, Association Vice-President outlined to them the manner in which association was formed and steps taken to arrange for the building and operation of the plant.

The spokesman of the group stated that there were very few seed plants in Saskatchewan as yet, but there was a great deal of interest amongst the farmers and government officials in such plants after hearing of the excellent results produced by Alberta's numerous seed plants.

True Value Of Seed Cleaning

Does it make sense to plan rotations, or summer fallow on valuable land to clean out weeds and then contaminate the fields again by sowing dirty seed?

Many do just that . . . Why? Everyone would like clean seed. What is the reason? The expense and the bother of having the seed cleaned.

The surest way is to GROW a seed plot where extra care and cleaning assures a supply of clean seed

Failing this, the problem is to clean what you have.

The local cleaner is NOT equipped to handle your seed properly It is better not to clean at all. than to put your grain through an improperly equipped public cleaner

But, as the St. Paul M.D. don't have to worry any more

Thanks to the co-operation of Farmers, Municipal and Provincial Governments, we have a "Clean Seed Center" of the very highest standard.

Use its facilities to clean, buy or sell.

Mangel Chevrette, D.A.

TESTING NEW CLEANING MACHINERY

Mr. Dan Pereira, Field Supervisor for the Municipality of St. Paul, heads down to inspect grain as it goes through a Superior Indent Cleaner. This machine which has rotary drums composed of cavities of the machine in the background, carries out part of the complicated cleaning process. Grain is stored in steel-lined bins to which no bad weeds will adhere and is conveyed into the cleaning machines by a combination of belt and work of chutes. There is one small bin for the weeds which are elevated out of the plant and cannot return unless carried in again. The whole system is foolproof. Plant manager Harold Shewchuk looks on with Ben Church, an employee of the plant.

Congratulations

to

ST. PAUL SEED CLEANING PLANT

FOR BRINGING TO ST. PAUL A NEW FARMING SERVICE TO IMPROVE AND INCREASE THE DISTRICTS' GRAIN YIELD.

Your utility company is another community asset which takes an active part in contributing to and supporting beneficial community interests. It stands ready to provide good service at all times.

Five Factors Have To Be Taken Into Consideration When Planning To Put In The Yearly Crop

There are five main factors by which one judges good seed, they are purity, germination, weed content, variety and presence of seed borne diseases.

A sample of seed should be separated into pure seed, other crop seed, weed seeds and inert matter Of these four only pure seed has any value—the more you get of the other three the more you are paying for pure seed. No one should consider paying any grain for seed unless it is at least 97 percent pure

Germination is very important No seed should be sown unless the germination is 90 percent or better

Good seed should be free, or nearly so, of weed seeds Any crop sown which have a weed content only tends to increase the farmers problems and cost of production The cleanest seed is always the cheapest seed

Varieties are chosen on the basis of suitability of the crop for the district in which it is grown Only those varieties which have proven to be suitable for the area should be grown for best results To ensure that seed is true to variety it is wise to begin with registered or certified seed

Seed Borne diseases effect crops to a great degree and the results are reflected in the yields All seed should be treated with mercuric dusts to ensure that diseases will be eliminated Your crop can be as good as the plant but anything less than the best seed is a poor investment and as such produces poor profits.

Craftsmen Builds Seed Plant

The men who had the opportunity to work on the construction together with the persons who watched the construction of the plant had the privilege of witnessing a master craftsman at work.

Mr Ed Anderson who built this and the other 18 plants in Alberta is, without a doubt, one of the best builders in the province The fact that his services are sought in all parts of the province proves this out His motto, which he lives up to in every way is to build the best building at the least possible cost in the shortest possible time is probably the reason for the excellent work he does and for the enviable reputation he enjoys

Mr Gerard Pereira, who was Supervisor of Construction, working on behalf of the Board of Directors stated that he had never seen a crew work with such speed and dedication as did Mr Anderson and his men. Mr Pereira is quite convinced that the Association did definitely obtain the best building at the least possible cost in the shortest possible time and flax should be treated at least 24 hrs before sowing Oats and barley, on the other hand, should be treated at least a week before planting All seed-treatment chemicals should be considered as poisonous and handled, with caution Read and follow carefully the label directions and precautions of the manufacturer. Do not feed treated grain to livestock And don't forget heavy penalties are attached to the delivery of treated grain at a country elevator.

Treatment For Seed Grains

New Chart Available

For more detailed information on seed treatment consult your Agricultural Representative, University, or nearest Laboratory of Plant Pathology (Winnipeg, Saskatoon, Edmonton). Free copies of our new "Seed Treatment Chart for Wheat, Oats, Barley and Flax" may be obtained from local Agents of any of the Line Elevator Companies listed below.

Seed treatment is safe and certain protection for your seed. It is the most inexpensive form of crop insurance you can buy. Plant only sound, clean, treated seed in 1957.

PROGRESSIVE CONSERVATIVES LAUNCH CAMPAIGN

In London, Ont., Leslie Frost, premier of Ontario, gave the signal for the start of the Progressive Conservative bid for federal power in the June election when he spoke at PC rally. Frost, centre, delivered a broadside at the Ottawa Liberals, claiming they were unworthy with the province in their division of taxes. John Diefenbaker, right, leader of the federal party, attacked the Liberals on the issue of high taxation. Left is McGillivray Pearn.

Drama Festival To Feature Top Professional Entertainment

In addition to the festival itself, other acts called events will include three-day Theatre Conference, two lone hold during festival week, and a session for directors of competing plays during a two-day period immediately following the festival.

Chairman of the 1957 Final Festival committee is Mrs. Mary H. Mooney, daughter of Alberta's [illegible]-premier Hon. [illegible] Brownlee. Co-chairman is Dennis K. Yeaman and Mrs. Enid Campbell, Stirling, Alberta, is Theatre Conference chairman.

Festival adjudicator will be Robert Speight, of London, England. Conducting the Theatre Conference will be Rene Cloutier, formerly of Bedsill, Shefford and now resident in Canada, and Norris Houghton of New York, whose background includes experience as a scenic designer, author, director, producer and lecturer in drama at Princeton, Harvard and Columbia Universities.

The Dominion Drama Festival had its origin in 1932 when Lord Bessborough, then governor-general of Canada, presided over a meeting of drama representatives invited from across Canada. This meeting resulted in the inauguration of the Dominion Drama Festival.

The first final festival was held in the Ottawa Little Theatre in April, 1933, and except for the war years 1940-46 the festivals have been an annual event growing steadily in scope and national significance. The final festival has been presented in such theatres as Ottawa, three times in London, and once each in Winnipeg, Toronto, Calgary, Saint John, Victoria, Hamilton, Regina, and Sherbrooke, P.Q.

Originally only one-act or short plays were entered in the festival, but shortly after the war it became necessary to invite only full-length plays to the finals, although short productions still are included in some of the regional competitions.

Highway Deaths Take Heavy Toll On Canadian Lives Every Year

Since the first of this year, highway accidents have snuffed out the lives of 59 persons in Alberta. This grim fact is revealed in a summary of accidents from January 1st to March 31st, compiled from official reports received by the Alberta Safety Council. Here is the tragic record:

Deaths	59	75
Injured	1,397	1,301
Accidents	3,376	4,214

Death still rides the highways, despite the fervent appeals of safety groups and stricter law enforcement. During the month of March, 13 persons were killed in highway and street accidents, which was a reduction of two from a year ago. Fatal points reported by the RCMP and the City of Edmonton were responsible for more than one third of the 1,323 motor vehicle accidents reported in March in the province. Calgary accounted for 396. The total for the first three months was greater for property damage only. Many accidents occurred in passing the previous year. By March, out of the month's total of 384 Edmonton had 91 and Calgary 41.

Safety officials are hoping that the alarming accident trend will be checked by forthcoming safety campaigns in Edmonton, there will be a Child Safety Campaign from May 20 to June 15. A summer Safety campaign also will be launched on a province-wide scale by the Alberta Safety Council. Early in June, a provincial government highway safety conference will be held. Various localities in Alberta also have campaign plans in hand to promote safety on the roads and highways in an intensive way this year.

Companion cropping is especially valuable in a small garden where so much of necessity the vegetable area is limited.

This practice has been followed for years by farmers who grow potatoes in the same rows in which they grew corn. The bean and potato will be tended by the home gardener to obtain two vegetables from the same piece of land, doubling the garden's productivity.

Companion cropping of vegetables is also very common with flowers. Sweet alyssum and pansies may be grown between asters and petunias. This is a variation of companion cropping early peas are sometimes grown with fairly late plantings of sweet corn. Small shade or the growing corn may give the peas in the hot August days of their growth is likely to be beneficial.

Companion cropping is not new. It is as old as time. The early farmers and gardeners of the other group is large enough to require all the space.

Sections adjacent to root crops have produced two, four or more apart. The distance depends on the vegetables to be planted between long-season root crops. Radishes, lettuce and similar quick-maturing crops can be grown between beets, carrots and parsnips. This is a variation of companion cropping early peas are sometimes grown with fairly late plantings of sweet corn. Small shade or the growing corn may give the peas in the hot August days of their growth is likely to be beneficial.

Still Has Instinct

Even the highly developed modern hen retains something of her primitive instinct and shows a preference for spring over fall in the matter of laying. Under the theory of "supply and demand" the convenience in the supply of eggs has created wide fluctuations in prices. These present a wonderful opportunity for the food producers but work hardship on the producer.

Egg production is a year to record breakers. The annual crop, regardless of when it comes, must pay the year's operating costs. It is no cheaper for the farmer to raise eggs in the spring than in the fall. On the other hand, the food value of an egg is the same year round. The consumer gets equal value in May and September. Why, then, should the price fluctuate so widely? There is obviously indifference to the producers' interest and possibly deliberate manipulation under the present marketing arrangement. It is small wonder the egg producers are demanding a marketing board to correct the situation.

Member Of Toastmasters' Finishes Twelve-Speech Course, Monday

Last Monday, the Toastmasters' Club listened to the first of it's members to deliver his twelfth and last speech in the basic curriculum. The twelve speeches however were just part of his training. Every meeting he was called on for a two minute impromptu speech, at every odd meeting he had to evaluate someone else's speech; he had to serve occasionally as table topic master, as grammarian, as parliamentarian, as chairman of the different committees and eventually as president and general chairman of the club.

Yet, he was not presented with a diploma, nor any other token of his achievement. So it should be; his achievements were all measured against any set standards, for in speaking there are no set standards.

The ability to speak is a talent that no two people have received an equal share of; we will all have to answer on how well we developed it. and no one will be excused on the pretext that he received so little of it that it was not worth while. If you will not make an effort, in adjusting the ability to speak should be withdrawn from you, or maybe it would if it were not that you became dumb, you would be more a burden on society than you are now with possibly a squeaky or harsh or loud or brilliant voice, or a speech that is impregnated with irritating mannerisms is there not enough unhappiness in the world without having your voice add a little more salt to its cuts.

Necessarily the more people you have to speak to, the more your obligations to improve your speech, but even if you had to speak to only one person for the rest of your life, don't you think that is reason enough.

I repeat, there are no degrees in Toastmasters. Your evaluators are just ordinary people who are not trying to make a flawless lecturer out of you; all they wish is to rid you of your bad faults speaking habits and help plane them with good ones so you will become interesting and pleasing to listen to.

Join Toastmasters' and speak a little more happiness.

Two-Day Rodeo For St. Paul May 30, June 1

Marcel Belzil Named Stampede Manager

The St Paul Agricultural Society committee of a two-day western rodeo on May 31 and June 1st have appointed Mr Marcel Belzil manager in charge of organization

Mr. Belzil, who was in Edmonton this week is no part of the Rodeo of Champions, said that new corrals and chutes are well under construction and everything is running very smoothly.

The two-day rodeo is being promoted by that well known Alberta westerner, Mr Harry Said who supplies his own stock The high spirited, wild bronco quality of this stock can be well vouched for according to Edmonton Rodeo reports this week, classing the Vold stock as the toughest in the corrals Several of his steers were completely unmanageable by the cowboys and the calves tricky to rope

A feature event is the Steakmore bull riding contest. The fiercest bred os rodeo circuits those almost wild and untamed animals always give the cowboys a tough run for their money and provide the thrills and elation the crowd is looking for

Most of the cowboys participating in the contests are top riders belonging to the CPA However, any local cowboy can enter by making an application to Marcel Belzil

It's only a month away but time to make plans for the big St Paul Rodeo, May 31 and June 1st

SCOOP SHOVEL BRIGADE IN ACTION

During intermission when the sisters of John Shkrhel's home was being refilled from the water system. St. Paul volunteer firemen kept the fire in check by shovelling water from pools and ditches in the area. On the far left at the doorway standing by for relief work is Jules Casavecchia; Phil Germain, Vianney Joly and Ray Pahlkeski are hard at it. When the cistern was sufficiently refilled, a small gas pump completed with mounted hose, served the house from then on.

Farm Home Has Close Brush With Fire Disaster

All that stood between control and destruction by fire of the John Shkrhel's farm home three miles east of St Paul was a small one-cylinder gas engine pumper hastily tapped to the cistern of the house.

When the fire broke out at about 2 in the afternoon, Saturday, the St. Paul Volunteer Fire Department was notified. Unable to allow the fire truck out because of underwriter's restrictions and council orders, Mr. Phil Germain, the fire chief, conceived the idea of the pump as an alternative, on the faint recollection that the house contained a cistern or water could be pumped from nonexistent spring run off.

Before the equipment and a few firemen arrived, Mr. Shkrhel and a few neighbors were making a desperate and hopeless attempt to pour water through a second floor window with a small leaky garden hose, fighting a losing battle.

The pumper with an improvised nozzle built substantial pressure very effective against the fire After about a 2000 gallons had been expended the cistern ran dry and fire again threatened to get the best of the day while three hours from the water system was turned into the tank The Shkrhel home is located on the Island Lake-St. Paul pipeline and fortunate to have a supply of water

While waiting for water, firemen continued to battle the upstairs fire with pails, scooping water with shovels from the floor and managed to keep it checked sufficiently until more water was available

In the meantime, Don Guthrie rushed back to town and filled one of his big BA gas trucks with 1000 gallons of water just in case; but the supply was not required.

Considerable water damage was inflicted on the house and the two upstair rooms. One was used for storage of old clothes where the fire is believed to have started for no apparent cause.

On the farm at the time was fourteen year old Pauline who fleeted the fire while she was feeding the chickens and gave alarm to the neighbor Dennis Lord, who was outside playing Mr and Mrs Shkrhel and the family were in St. Paul doing some Saturday afternoon shopping.

Four years ago Mr. Shkrhel suffered the loss of a garage through fire The house was partially insured, but the loss would nevertheless been tremendous for the family

Pratch Passes Swimming Course

Mr Raymond Pratch, 18 years old, of St. Paul and Lake St. Vincent graduated from a Red Cross Water Safety and Swimming course at the YMCA Edmonton last week

Raymond, who several years ago suffered the loss of his right arm was chosen a candidate for the instruction after a week's screening. The course, which included six hours a day of swimming, plus room instructions on all phases of rescue and instructing techniques

With the background of this training, Raymond is now fully qualified to instruct and will take on the courses at the lake this year. He also received a bronze medallion filling in the necessary prerequisites for official lifeguard duties anywhere in Alberta Only about half the class qualified in this category

Instructions were given by Mr A. G. Gilmet, Divisional Director of swimming and water safety. He feels that Raymond's handicap is no impediment to his ability to swim and that the boy is an above average swimmer inspite of it.

Mr. Paul Stepa of Elk Point was chosen president; Pete Yewchun, Elk Point, Secretary-Treasurer and Harvey Johnson of Derwent, Vice-President. Ronnie Bedard was at the helm last year with Bill Skakun as Vice President.

To date St Paul, Elk Point and Derwent have signified interest in the league. Two Hills has presumably dropped out in preference for application into the Gas Line League with Viking, Vegreville and Wainwright.

The St Paul Boars now are in possession of the Conroy Trophy and champs of the 1956 season.

J. P. St. Laurent Visits St. Paul

Says Western-Eastern Unity Needed For Strong Gov't

Guest of honor at an unofficial reception held in the K C Hall Tuesday evening, Mr. Jean Paul St. Laurent, son of the Prime Minister of Canada, informally met a large number of St. Paul residents. Following along the footsteps of his congenial father who visited St Paul in 1953, the member from Timiscouata expressed his desire to strengthen bonds of friendship and understanding between the east and the west

Mr. St. Laurent said that his western tour was one primarily intended to present contact with the residents of the west in order to better understand their problems, to connect national unity which will build a strong Canada and keep her as she is today and maintain her growing prestige in North American and abroad.

Mr. St. Laurent said the west could help itself tremendously in Federal Politics by having more liberal representatives from the western provinces of British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan to co-operate with the government in power

Although Alberta as an individual is prospering on the crest of an industrial boom through her oil wealth, Mr. St. Laurent said that without outside financial help received through a firm national program by the Federal Government, promoting national and Provincial welfare with sound investment and encouragement to foreign investment, it would have been impossible for the province to do it alone

Defending himself on statements made concerning "cracked pot" Social Creditors in the west, Mr St Laurent charged Vancouver and Edmonton daily press had misinterpreted his meaning. The liberals were not ridiculing the Social Credit electorate and the voters, but were in contradiction with some of the queer monetary policies brought out by certain segments of Social Credit, especially in Quebec and Canada where The Union of Electeurs' one-time affiliated with the National Social Credit party were advancing theories that were out of this world and not practical under our economic system and would harm international relations and trade with other countries. Such ideas as suppression of the press, monetary policies and change of the bank act could only be advantaged by demented persons and not the voters of Alberta or the west

Mr. St. Laurent forecasted Social Credit to the east would not get much support in the forthcoming election on June 10 and also expressed the opinion Ellenda would see a gain in the number of Liberal MP's when the next summer open. He hoped for at least this representative instead of four and predicted more.

Speaking on behalf of Mr. J M Dechene, candidate in the Federal Constituency of Athabasca, Mr. St. Laurent expressed full confidence in him on the part of himself and his father who held him in high esteem. As chairman of the caucus he has done an exceptional job and devoted himself consciencously to the needs of his constituents

Swimming Achievement

This week we are pleased to have the honor of congratulating a young man who has proved himself, inspite of a serious handicap.

Young eighteen-year old Raymond Prairie of Lake St. Vincent Beach, passed with honors a swimming safety course recently, and to further recognition by winning a bronze medallion, qualifying him as a full-fledged lifesaver. This stout hold the final score this season.

Interested not part of the Red Cross Safety Swimming courses held at Lake St. Vincent for one week, Raymond was picked as a likely prospect for an instructor Handicapped by the loss of his right arm as a pre explosion accident, almost a year ago, Raymond nevertheless displayed extraordinary ability in the water, and although barred to convert to a style of his own, was able to substitute and adapt a method when it came to a race. His grace and daring from a diving board is equal to the best and he can emulate a Jack Knife dive with facility.

The achievement of young Prairie should be an example to many of our idle and indolent youth to perk up and spend some of their summer spare time at useful recreation.

Now that we have a qualified swimming instructor in St. Paul, the town has seen to organize swimming courses and water safety for our young people. Perhaps during the summer of takers in this common pursuits of ours. It is deplorable to find that less than five percent of the adult population can swim, as well as very few young persons. Swimming courses are for children, but years old and even earlier is a practical time to start instructors which are quickly an easily absorbed.

The course will again be held Cox pool under the sponsorship of the Red Cross Safety swimming campaign, but this should be carried on for the entire summer season.

The local Red Cross might undertake the project, along with the help of other organizations this summer. It would be a commendable effort.

Swimming is a pleasing sport and one that might well mean the difference between life and death in an emergency.

FARM FIRE PROTECTION

During last Saturday's farm fire at John Bina's, a number of visitors to the blaze could be easily identified with proper fire fighting equipment, as heard rumblings and grumblings in the crowd that it was a shame the St Paul Fire Truck could not be brought out on the scene.

And again if the place had burnt down, a letter feeling against the St. Paul Fire Brigade would have prevailed. We also felt the same glow of sympathy for the bereavement some and the owners filled with helplessness as of the moment at the possibility of losing their life's savings.

But the fact that one of the situation here at St. Paul is that an adequate fire protection system is not in effect. It has been mentioned often in the columns of this newspaper. The St Paul Fire Truck cannot leave the town limits on the recommendation of the Alberta Fire Commissioners and the underwriters of Canada. Insurance rates in town are based on a well-trained fire department with the truck standing by and insurance companies might be reluctant on a loan property burning down while the truck is out of town.

This rules us perhaps not considered a different situation exists and the few thousand dollar results in three bark, rebuild that might mean the difference in continuing a place. The next fellow free rates may would benefit, if the truck can be called out on occasion to help out. Insurance and be paid, outstanding a land [illegible] agreement.

Safety Conference Details Why Accidents Happen On Our Roads

OTTAWA—A small truck has a flat on asphalt highway stretch and the driver pulls off to the right to fix it—but not all the way off. The truck's tail end sticks into the lane. A car driver crashes it, kills the driver and suffering the fatal injuries. Truck and car are practically demolished. The damage estimated in thousands of dollars. Police in this case blame both drivers—the victim for not putting his truck completely off the pavement and the other for failing to see the parked truck.

Relating this incident, an official of the Canadian Highway Safety Council pointed to the primary factor that was—and usually is—negligence. He added that in the last five years, W. H. Easton of Hamilton, Ont., CHSC treasurer, should the law have been allowed to reach a conclusion that set off a fatal chain of circumstances. Tires can't repair road-maimed items—and they're not the only ones that know when they need repairs or replacements and only the owner can make those thing count. There are numerous other hazards, besides tires, that can cause accidents, such as a steering apparatus, exhaust, windshield wipers, horn, rear-view mirror and others, each Mr. Easton added.

"Not to be sure, can repair the faults mentioned, you could subscribe to another. The most obvious accidents are the ones that result from negligence with a motor vehicle. Any automobile driver that exhibits faulty judgment or carelessness in the operation of his car is a menace to other users of the highway. The Cantata entitled "The Glories of Easter" was expertly performed under the able direction of their leader, Mrs. Cranford, and with the skillful and symphonic support from Mrs. Beauchman, their accompanist. The solos and duets and quartet parts were extremely well done by individual members.

The event was in the nature of a special visit which became a part of the W.M.S. organization. However, it was felt that it was well worth while, especially by the appreciation that has been voiced since Sunday.

The party travelled in eight cars which were made available for them and the drivers by the members of the Patricia congregation.

Lunch was served after the service by the ladies of the church.

MAKES A HABIT OF MAR-DEATH

In his 10 years of life, Jimmy Son of Hamilton, Ont., has been rescued from drowning twice, run into a concrete mixer, was almost buried alive and fell out of a fast-moving car, bouncing 30 feet, but escaping unhurt. His latest close contact with disaster was falling into the Hamilton canal. His rescuer, W. Edmonstone, revived the boy with artificial respiration and, on regaining consciousness, the first question Jimmy asked was: "Where are my rubber boots? He lost them in the canal.

Blindness Up

Despite ad vances in medical science, the number of blind is increasing. The sightless population of the United States is now estimated at 324,000, up more than 25,000 over the previous year. The last census showed over 13,000 blind in Canada, an increase of more than 2,000 or 20% in 10 years. And there is little immediate hope of reversing trend because blindness is becoming an affliction mostly associated with old age.

About half of all blindness on the continent occurs in 10% of the population, the oldest group. And because people are living longer now, blindness and other disabilities associated with the age, are increasing.

Much, however, can be done to prevent blindness if full attention is made of existing methods. Advantage and treatment. Most cataracts can be treated surgically and glaucoma can be treated medical if discovers is made early enough.

You can die when a big, hard-throwing head light blinds, angers and confuses an approaching motorist. The Canadian High Way Safety Conference warns Check Your Car, Check Accidents, in May.

Pupils Enter Essay Contest On Subject Of Farm Fire Prevention

Through the length and breadth of Alberta, there is a ranging organization to combat the fire devastation of farms. This ballet took the lives of 18 persons last year, including five children.

An estimated 20,000 school pupils have been enrolled in the drive to save lives of the Province's farm and event residents.

Those youngsters are in grades 5, 6, 7 and 8 in rural schools, in addition to others who are in local correspondence schools, courses are taught in Indian residential schools. They have just completed those Farm Fire Safety essays in a competition sponsored for the tenth year by the Alberta Safety Council.

Each teacher is to select the two best essays and forward these to the superintendent who in turn sends his selections to the Alberta Safety Council. Final judging will be completed in Edmonton May 22nd.

For the boy or girl writing the best essay in the school division, county, correspondence school or Indian School, there will be a specially designed lapel pin. The school room will receive a handsome wall plaque.

In addition to the school division prizes, there are three provincial awards. The first prize is $50.00, second and third prizes $25.00 each. Those winners and their teachers will be given a one day all expense trip to Edmonton to attend a luncheon on June 17th at the MacDonald Hotel when Lieutenant-Governor J. J. Bowlen will present the provincial awards.

Farm fire safety emphasized in posters distributed to schools in Alberta rural areas. Last year, the farm property loss from fires was estimated at $700,000.

During the last 10 years, 200 residents of Alberta have died in fires while the damage to farm homes, buildings and livestock totalled $4,500,000.

Eight of the most common causes of farm fires are overheated or defective flues and chimneys; defective and worn heaters, stoves and pipes, electricity, overloaded outlets, improper home and poor wiring, poor smoking habits and the careless use of matches; hot ashes, sparks and open fires, spontaneous combustion of hay and lightning striking farm buildings.

The Homemakers

By ELSIE KUBIAK B. H. E.

Having spent two days at the Annual Alberta Home Economics Convention, it seems only right to come back to the regular routine with a few new suggestions, new methods and news in sewing.

One of the talks we heard was on pastry making. Here is a brief discussion of it.

The art of making pastry is one which is mastered by every homemaker. To many it is a knack they have acquired with practice. Achieving tenderness, flaking and good flavor is another and then some.

The tender quality in pastry results from having small pieces of fat in the dough, whereas a flacky pastry must have larger pieces so they turn the layers of pastry and the dough. It would seem then, that to be tender rather than flacky, the use of the fat particles should vary.

What about the kind of flour? All purpose flour will give a less tender but more flacky product than will pastry flours. The proportion of fat to flour should not be less than one to three, that is, for each cup of flour use one-third cup of fat. Do not overwork salt to avoid a fat taste. There is no set rule regarding the amount of water to use as this will vary with the kind of fat, kind of flour and temperature of the ingredients. Increasing the proportion of water increases the tendency to develop a tough or brittle texture pastry. Adding the water by means of a salt shaker is a good idea. Once the moisture sticks together remove it from the mixing bowl and place on a slightly floured board. Up to 6 squeezes are allowed before rolling it out. Rolling toughens pastry and lessens proportion unnecessary flour into the pastry. A short resting period during and after rolling is suggested. This lessens the amount of shrinkage.

The correct temperature is the final important point. Fruit pies require a temperature of 450 degrees for 10 minutes to set the crust and to prevent a soggy undercrust. For pie shells, 425-450 degrees has been proved to be

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

By G. S. MALLOCH, Director, Research Department, Canada Grains Council, Winnipeg

From time to time reports have appeared indicating that the control of wild oats through the application of chemicals may be imminent. It is true that considerable progress has been made in this direction but at present Canada Department of Agriculture, referee has suggested, chemical control of wild oats in grain crops at the present time is not yet practical or feasible and cultural control methods are the only recommended methods for wild oat control in grain growing areas.

So far the most encouraging results have been obtained in the control of wild oats in flax with the chemical CDAA (Randox), although results elsewhere are not considered very satisfactory. This chemical is to be tested out further in Western Canada the year when 100 farms, mainly on flax but also to a limited extent on barley.

One of the most hopeful developments in connection with the ultimate control of wild oats is the fact that the large companies who actually carry out the chemicals used have now realized the potentialities of a chemical that would control Western Canada's worst weed, and are sparing no effort in finding a solution to the problem.

We do know that there are chemicals which, without any question, are selective for wild oats in both flax and barley. To a great extent, it is not a question of the chemical working well but rather a matter of the proper methods of incorporation—which is something that still has to be studied carefully. Thus, although much of the work is still in the experimental stage, there is distinct hope that control of wild oats by chemicals in grain crops will come before too long. There is some time to the privilege, however, inevitable to suggest just when this may be.

The Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations has agreed to set up a special committee to deal with world grain problems such as surplus disposal and governmental policies.

SOCIAL CREDIT SEEKS SUPPORT IN EASTERN CANADA

Out to convert Eastern Canada to the Social Credit gospel are Premier Ernest C. Manning of Alberta, left, federal leader Solon Low, centre, and Premier Bennett of British Columbia. Through their party's strength is mostly in the west, the three Social Credit leaders say they are confident that the June elections will give the party a national boost. If so, it will throw control to its favor with any other party.

Grandparents Face Problem Of Quarters

In spite of Canada's booming prosperity, the problem of what to do with her old people is anything but booming more acute, reports Marion Boyes in the current issue of The Star Weekly Magazine.

Health and financial insurance during the past half-century have resulted in a greater number of people than ever before surviving the dangers of childhood and middle age to reach ages of 70 and over. At the same time, the trend is for small and even apartment family homes, with no room for the inclusion of grandparents or other elderly relatives. Homebuilding has also changed drastically, making it more difficult than ever before for two women of different generations to get along together under the same roof. In addition, it has become more and more difficult for the man with ordinary ability to remain at his job past the age of 65, or to get a new one after 65.

There are, in Canada [illegible] people over 65, and this part of our population has more than doubled during the past 23 years.

The situation is a little more difficult in Canada than in many other countries where the presence of aging relatives in a household is usually regarded as an asset to a grandmother to prevent it, or to let the mother can leave her children and go out to work. A grandfather can do many chores around the home. In Canada we have no tradition, either as families or as a nation, that will help us to cope with our growing population of grandparents.

Frank Largo To Compete In Finals Of Search For Talent Show

Caroline Christopherson of Thorsby, western singing fourth Bernard Johnson of Barrhead, guitar and vocal.

Addressing the audience, Mayor Haverkiak said the program was "a great show". Representing district students competed to create local interest and establish a goal. Admission funds serve a useful purpose, he added, more than $250,000 was raised for crippled children in Northern Alberta. Some 400 children have been aided by the show, and $140,000 has already been spent.

CFRN and the Associated Canadian Travellers have completed "a wonderful and worthwhile welfare service", said the mayor. Extending a welcome to audience members who attended from points outside the city, he stated every contestant was a winner in presenting "an interesting and enjoyable show."

WORTHY VENTURE

The program can be regarded as a "special and significant event" because through it young people are given necessary practical aid, he added.

Most contestants reported they had little formal training. The Poems of Red Deer sang and danced to "Dark Town Strutters Ball," while Mia Christopherson offered "Wanted." Roland Johnston accompanied himself on the guitar while rendering "Train of Love" and "I'm Ready If You're Willing."

Mr. Johnson was selected by the judges to appear in the May 11 program along with Jean and Marcelle Plamondon of Drayton Valley, guitar and accordian with the western favorites "Go away With Me" and "You've My Every Dream." Midge Bennett of Westaskiwin, a pianist who gave a finished performance of the andante from "La Boheme" with only one hand, Roy Adolph of Stony Plain, vocalist for "Dan O'Neil and Don't Forbid Me".

HARRIS PROGRAM

Dennis Pearson of Onoway offered "Let's Dance the Polka" with an accordian, while Brian of Duhits of Pineeka provided the complete gymnastic and stunt act the appropriate partners to win both cheers and laughter in Elvis Presley imitations of "Tutti Frutti" and "Blue Moon." Sylvia Sedgewray of Smoky Lake rendered a outstanding vocal solo of "The Holy City" to qualify for the finals, and Garry Lerman of Wildwood delivered trumpet versions of "Twelfth Street Rag" and "Bugle Blues" in a strong rhythm.

Although three summers did not compete for prizes, the Schultz sisters of Amisk appeared in encore offerings to qualify for the May 11 program. After giving piercing Kay Starr a vocal offering of "Cheri Cheri Lips," Marlene Schultz played "Bush House in Hong Kong" and "Chopin's Waltz in E Minor."

Talent scouts from the Edmonton Exhibition Association attended the program to select students for an audition and a chance to appear at the grandstand show this summer. G. K. Bell, chairman of the program studies board for the ACT, received a $1,000 cheque from the Red Deer ACT.

Forecast Weather

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE—Indians in town to sell squirrel skins and other furs, were asked what the summer will be like. Their reply was laughter and a request to please mind their own business.

The Indians forecast a long, hot summer. Some rain, but not as much as is usual here. Fair crops, fair hay, an abundant crop of wild berries, good fishing and good hunting for big game next fall. No snow from May 1 to October 15.

Asked how they predict the weather one elderly woman said she had been taught by her grandmother, who in turn had learned the weather signs from her grandmother, that she would not say what the signs are, adding with a grin, "Maybe people laugh if I tell them how we look for".

When told they had been almost 100 percent right with the weather the last two winters, the Indians showed no surprise

A fresh accident set Barbara Patrick, Fraser of Ottawa in hospital with a cut chin and broken jaw. Flashed from a commanding car she was suspended from a telephone pole cross arm 20 feet above the ground. She fell between the wires. Escaped just with bruises and no injuries in the drop.

To The People Constituency Of Battle River-Camrose

The date of the Federal election has been announced during the forthcoming weeks the people of Canada must give their vote on the election of a government.

There are a number of issues which will be debated during the election campaign. We of the Progressive Conservative party believe that the most important issue of all is the preservation of the parliamentary system of government which is in danger now. Grain marketing, inflation, freight rates, rising cost of production, falling farm prices—none of these problems can be solved while the government party has an overwhelming majority and the opposition is divided into several weak parties.

We are proud to be able to point out that, of the parties which have been in Her Majesty's Loyal Opposition only our party has continued to elect members from all regions of Canada and from both language groups in Canada.

We believe that in John Diefenbaker we have a leader outstanding for his ability and experience to b r country's great prime minister. His emphasis upon the rights of the individual and upon the need for a solution to the problems faced by Canadian agriculture had won recognition from all before he was elected leader of the party he supported.

We believe that in Clif Smallwood we have a candidate well qualified to become our representative in the House of Commons. A farmer by occupation, he brings to his task a knowledge of agricultural problems gained by years of practical experience.

During the next few weeks we shall do all we can to place the Progressive Conservative platform before you means of public meetings, advertisements in the press, messages by radio.

We invite your comments, criticism, and co-operation.

The Executive, Battle River-Camrose Progressive-Conservative Association
Alex Monaghan, President

Premier Steel Expands Factory

EDMONTON April 30th—Alberta's continued industrial growth was emphasized with the announcement by Premier Steel Mills Ltd. of the completion of a substantial addition to their mill just east of Edmonton.

Premier Steel Mills poured its first ingot from strap in November 1955. At that time Premier had an annual ingot production capacity of 25,000 tons

Included in its new expansion is a second 15 ton Pacific-Tagliaferri electric furnace. These two large furnaces are charged with scrap by a 15-ton overhead crane which handles all scrap with a powerful electro-magnet. With these facilities, Premier Steel Mills have increased their ingot capacity to 50,000 tons per year, over double the original 1955 figure.

The expanded ingot production has enabled Premier Steel Mills to produce a full range of angle and flat bars from the small structural range, to the structural sizes. Plate rounds and concrete reinforcing bars of the full range produced by Premier play an important part in our housing construction industry. In June of this year Premier Steel will be producing grinding rods and forged grinding balls for use in the mining industry to the north and west of Edmonton.

From its origin in 1955 with a floor area of 30,000 square feet and employing 70 people, Premier Steel Mills has in two years established a key basic industry in Alberta, and now has a floor area of 100,000 square feet and a payroll of over 300 people.

Know Your Air Force

Air Force Day across Canada has become a national event at which millions of Canadians throughout the country take a day to visit their nearest Base in their districts and see what Canadian Air Force is doing to defend the nation and its boundaries.

Nineteen fifty-seven is the third year of official operation for RCAF Station Cold Lake, also holding its third Air Force Day. Air Force Day is primarily sponsored to educate the citizens of Canada on the operation of this very important service in the defence forces of this country. It is ever growing in magnitude as more of the modern developments in guided missile warfare which requires a highly technical electronic control system to handle offensive and defensive weapons.

Two new squadrons added this year to Cold Lake on Saturday, June 8th to keep up with developments of the past year, are an interceptor, 421 Air Division.

In the weeks between now and Air Force Day, we have prepared a series of articles on various phases of Air Force activities and will publish them to give readers a better understanding of just what we with the idea of increasing them so that they will feel it a duty to attend Air Force Day on June 8th, and realize the important role air defence and training, much of it is done right close to us at Cold Lake, is doing for Canada.

RCAF YEAR-END BUILDUP FOR 1956

As 1956 ended the RCAF reviewed a year marked by intense activity and by satisfying progress towards a larger and better equipped air force.

In general strength and equipment came into services in operational assembly during the year, adding to the service's operational efficiency. Work continued on the Mid-Canada Early Warning Line, being built along the 55th parallel, and the year's end saw it brought to a state of near completion.

Work also continued on two new outstanding aircraft destined for RCAF future service: the CF-105 supersonic interceptor being developed by Avro Aircraft and the CF-107, low level reconnaissance craft being built by Canadair.

Personnel strength rose slightly during the year to an estimated total of 51,000 for the last day of 1956.

ADC GETS NEW PLANES

Air Defence Command, responsible for home air defence and which controls the Canad-air-based interceptor squadrons, the early-warning stations and the Ground Observer Corps, took over large numbers of the Mach 2 CF-104 all-weather jet interceptor during the year. Its elements stood ready on a 24-hour-a-day basis throughout the year ready to detect and attack any aggressor aircraft and carried out numerous operational exercises aimed at improving its already top operational capability.

Planned increases to ADC's operational strength were announced during 1956. In June, Air Marshal Ralph Cleaney announced plans to form three additional CF-100 squadrons, to take their places with the then existing home-based squadrons of this type.

The Ground Observer Corps continued to carry out its vital task as an integral part of the air defence system. Organized to detect and report low-flying aircraft and to supplement information provided by the early-warning stations, the Corps at the end of 1956 had more than 30,000 civilian volunteer members manning approximately 5,000 observation posts throughout Canada.

Three important changes during the year in the Auxiliary squadrons controlled by ADC No. 401 Squadron Winnipeg, and 402 Squadron, Calgary, both previously fighter units, were converted to light transport squadrons and equipped with Expeditor twin-engine transports. In their new role they are controlled by Training Command.

Six other Auxiliary squadrons, located at Montreal, Toronto and Vancouver, retained their fighter role and were provided with Sabre jets. Three Squadrons remained under ADC.

PROTECT YOUR CHILDREN

With two schools in St. Paul, one at each end of our highway approaches, the problem of speed control for the protection of our children is a grave concern to the law enforcement authorities

The town council, very well aware of the situation and further encouraged by numerous complaints which have been coming in, has given very generous instructions to the RCMP who patrol and police our town to make a specific effort to keep down watch in both the school zones, especially at noon when the traffic is the most intense.

Strangely enough, the cautions applies more to the residents then and the town people of St. Paul, many of them who have children of their own and should be doubly cautious about careless driving in school zones and in town.

It is an accepted fact by those who keep the statistics that keep us informed with numerous problems on their hands are the most forgetful and will jump behind the wheel of a car, exceeding the speed limit without knowing it and without realization.

However, in face of the grave need for the protection of school children, young and minor the RCMP have advised us that they will keep a close check on the zone soon—you probably have noticed them patrolling the past few weeks.

The police are not looking for convictions. Their main concern is the prevention of accidents—serious ones that may easily take the life of your own children. They use all the discretion within their powers and within the concepts of the law to warn motorists, rather than fine them.

The problem of safety is as much your responsibility as theirs and it is only with the co-operation of all in town that we will remain accident free.

When you drive home, especially during the noon hours, make a special effort to control yourself . . . and again remember the child's life you save may be that of your own son or daughter.

A Code For Living In Modern Times

Oshawie, Alberta,
May 7th 1957

Editor
St. Paul Journal
St. Paul, Alberta

Dear Sir:

Having received some propositions recently personally in answer to my expressed beliefs, I feel that a further series of facts is in order for consideration.

Long ago in historical times there were two classes of people in the world. Those who believed in God and those who believed in nothing. Those soldiers who were awakened in cold were in fear of a giant named Goliath in the valley that God the Lord He picked five smooth stones in a brooks stone and with his sling in hand went forward to meet him. He aimed at the giant's one spot and he knew him and he killed him. Then he hit him with the rest of the stone and slew him. Then taking his own sword, he cut off his head.

Then we read the story that we are told of the giant of life—our enemies with us. Why do you not believe at all if you do not believe in God or in His Christ?

As I see it there are two roles to play in life—to the poor and the sick, the needy and the afflicted by degrees. Christ has given the first truth as a drug on the economic and unlawful living that of all in such a little capitalistic and a very socialistic I would say. The non-time capitalists and socialists cannot make it by saying go and get them and They have in which plans to get more than their share of our labor and treasure and no trouble.

Thus, although contrary to each other they are the enemy of money, and from there the enemy—God Surprised?

It has been said many times and rightly so that money is the root of all evil. Money can only be the medium whereby we exchange the work that we do. It cannot possibly represent evil but evil can and does use it to multiply itself. If evil can nullify good work it calls itself successful. Countryside, if money is used properly it gives greater glory to God and well being to man.

Therefore, if money is not the root of evil, there must be another root or other roots. It leads to me that riches and luxuries are the real roots of evil. If we do not want to be unreasonable in all that we do it is therefor very easy to fall for luxury and indulgence.

We would all prefer higher standards of living for ourselves and our children. But we have carved out these standards of living by the sweat of our brow and with NATO and the Canadian Indo-China Truce Commission.

Throughout the year the build-up of 10 Communications Flights, Rockcliffe, Ottawa in support of the Mid-Canada Line construction. The southern portion of the line extends over terrain so rugged that without helicopter support its building would have been unbelievably time consuming and costly. Construction is to NATO.

Initial flying training, done on Chipmunk aircraft, was continued during 1956, and this resulted in formation of a new unit, the Primary Flying Training School, at RCAF Station Centralia. Cut Another Training Command station, at Macdonald, Man., changed its role during the year. Formerly a pilot navigations training centre, Macdonald took over the roll of an advanced Air Force station for Harvard Squadrons of Maritime Air Command also had a busy year. Aircrews, flew Neptune B and New Brown 8 and carried out antisubmarine patrols, exercises. Part-time their skills in various phases of anti-submarine warfare and convoy protection. Flying Night and Day Leaders, Maritime Air Command carried out intensive training.

ACT LOGS 37 -1 YEAR

One of its busiest years on record is logged by Air Transport Command, which carried approximately 44,000 passengers and supplied more than 30 million pounds of cargo.

No. 412 (Transport) Squadron in addition to its regular three-a-week trans-Atlantic flights in support of the Air Division in Europe, and its numerous scheduled domestic flights, continued to airlift in support of the

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear brother Nick Hrushka who passed away May 8th, 1951.

He broke no one a last farewell
He said goodbye to none
The Heavenly gates were open wide
And a voice said 'Come'
The flowers were placed upon his grave
Then wither and decay
But in our hearts here who lies beneath
Will never fade away
Sadly missed by his loving sister Ann and family

Instead of one stone at the Goliath there should remain lost [illegible] and many of each our boys within the Church upon the world.

Men Who Make Alberta

THE TRUCK DRIVER

Many fields of endeavour have been more glamorized, none are any more important than that of the man who provide the transportation necessary to our prosperity. This is true of any section of the civilized world, but nowhere is the truth more apparent than in Alberta.

Distances are great in this far-reaching land, the population is spread over a huge area, and the economy of each area is dependent on all others. One of the most important links between the various centres of population and the widely scattered farms are the highways and the men who make the long hauls on the big trucks. With our dependence on national and international trade, the trucker is called upon to bear a large portion of the transportation load for the land entering Alberta as well.

You all too frequently, the trucker comes in for undeserved abuse . . . his driving ability behind the wheel of a huge highway transport is sometimes criticized by people who show no particular talent when driving small passenger cars.

The truth is that collectively, the truckers' record for both safety and courtesy is second to none on our highways today. He drives a vehicle that is harder to handle than anything on the road, day and night, in all types of weather. His employers and customers stand for no incompetence. Their capital and their goods are in his hands. He just has to be good, and his record proves that he is. With the trucker, driving is a profession, not a pastime or a means of personal transportation . . . and like any professional he knows his job . . . the basic issue of keeping the wheels of Alberta industry turning and its population supplied with its needs.

ST. BERNARD DOGS SHOT AFTER 75 SHEEP KILLED

Seventy-six sheep belonging to Alfred McKinnon, were killed before he was able to shoot three St. Bernard dogs that terrified the sheep for an entire night. He would not destroy both the dogs in the darkness but at daylight he managed to dispose of them. Three of the surviving sheep lie in the ground in Vaughan township, Ont., are shown above with his daughters, Joan, Mary and Anne. Owner of the dead dogs, Lee Gardner, said they were always docile.

Facts Concerning Eligible Voters In Federal Election, June 10th

The last barrier to conscientious objectors voting in a federal election has been removed. Some 3,000 Doukhobors in British Columbia will be able to cast their first federal ballots in the June 10 election.

At the last election in 1953, they were the only group denied the franchise under a legal provision covering persons claiming exemption from military service as conscientious objectors. Since then, the B.C. electoral law has been changed to allow them to vote in provincial elections. The federal franchise was automatically extended also.

EXTEND VOTING RIGHTS

That was the latest step in a steady widening of voting rights since confederation.

Now the franchise is denied by law only to these person chief electoral officer Nelson Castongay, election returning officers, federally-appointed judges, prison inmates, mental patients, certain southern noted by election candidates, persons found guilty of "corrupt or illegal" election practices, and Indians on federal reservations with some exception.

Returning officers can cast a deciding vote in the case of a tie.

Apart from these groups, some Canadians are excluded from voting by circumstances. They are the residents of Keewatin and Franklin districts of the Northwest Territories, which contain about one-third of the territories' 19,200 persons.

Those are the only parts of Canada without Commons representation Mackenzie district, most populous part of the territories, returns one Commons member. Keewatin is northwest of Hudson Bay and Franklin embraces the archipelago.

However, servicemen stationed throughout Canada will be able to vote at service polls.

Generally, the rule on eligibility of a voter is that he or she must be a Canadian citizen or other British subject—that includes immigrants from Europe—21 years old, living in day and residents in Canada for the year immediately preceding election day.

QUALIFICATION WAIVED

In addition, the age qualification is waived for member of the regular forces or those who have served in the forces at any time since September, 1950.

Before the 1953 election, the federal franchise was extended by Parliament for the first time and applied, in practice, to Eskimos in the Mackenzie district, Quebec, Ungava and the Labrador part of which have Commons representation.

At the same time the Canada Elections Act was changed to provide certain exceptions to the rule denying the vote to Indians on reservations who are technically government wards.

Now, all Indian was veterans and their wives have the vote, and do Indians who have been in the armed forces, at any time since September, 1950, and reservation Indians who waive income tax exemption on income earned on the reserve. The common votes have been signed before the federal agent issued announcing the election.

Indians not living on reservations, of course have the vote just like other Canadians.

There are voting restrictions for persons working on provincial or federal public works outside their home constituencies. To vote in the district where the work is located, they must have been there 30 days before issuance of the election writ. This also applies to their wives and dependents.

One special voting provision which applies in wartime is not now effective. By law, any prisoner-of-war can have a proxy vote exercised by his next-of-kin

Medical Science On Threshold Of New Field

Medical science has reached the point where a new definition of death" is required, reports George Marsh in an outstanding medical article appearing in this week's issue of The Star Weekly.

Many tells of a case cited by Cleveland physicians at a hospital technician who collapsed and slumped over dead while examining X-ray plates. Pleming attendants called doctors, one of whom took out a pocket knife, opened up the technicians chest and managed his heart back to action. The patient then wheeled into the operating room where surgeons worked for more than two hours. He recovered.

Other amazing cases are also fully described in the report and give a pointed indication that medical science is on the threshold of a whole new realm of discovery—the results of which will mean a longer, healthier life-span for all.

Garden-Graph

By DEAN HALLIDAY

While it is always interesting to grow some of the novel annuals, and flowers, some need not be overlooked.

Among the new are several marigolds. They shown in the accompanying illustration, named Dainty Marietta. It is a dwarf French single. It is a compact plant, grows less than six inches high. The flowers are of two tones in golden brown and clear yellow with dark eye zone. They are yellow in color and carry some dark shades of maroon. The plants are profuse bloomers. It is an extremely early strain of the Boonet Giant type. The flowers range from four to five inches in diameter. They are usually double and tightly packed with petals. The flowers vary from yellow to golden tones and shades of orange.

Groups of yellow or orange marigolds with blue salvia used as a neat and lovely color array in the borders.

The dependable blue variety of salvia called Farinacea or Blue Bedder, is not so popular in home gardens as it should be. It blooms until killed by frost. The blossoms are borne on slender, graceful spikes, as shown in the Garden-Graph. And are a soft lavender-blue.

Salvia's grow best in full sun, but will do reasonably well in partial shade. They are not fussy about the kind of soil they grow in, and the seeds germinate quickly.

But all home gardeners know that salvia can be used both summer and winter. It has its place in the garden in summer, but can also be dried and used in "posey" bouquets for winter decoration indoors.

Western Rodeo In St. Paul On May 31, June 1

The Directors of the St Paul Agricultural Society Board, desperately trying to raise money to meet debentures sold against the Exhibition grounds and new stock, have decided this year to bring in some new attraction in the hopes that the people of the town and district will help them meet their commitments by advertising that big event all the while having themselves the best time of the year.

It's a real western event — a rodeo such as has never been seen in St Paul A professional event. It is promoted by Harry Vold who supplies his own stock. The stock — cattle steers, bucking horses, fierce brahma bulls — is specially breeded for stampede action and reared wildly Horses are fed oats, they say, to keep in a frisky mood, and many other little tricks are used From now until rodeo time we will publish a series of articles of "behind the scenes activities" before and during the show.

A tremendous amount of expense, work and planning will go into the rodeo you will see at St Paul on May 31 and June 1st.

The major cost of producing a rodeo are the prize money, advertising budget rodeo stock, the specialty acts, and maintenance of rodeo grounds and arena

Chances are that everyone responsible for the rodeo is planning every detail of the show months in advance First of all, a stock contractor (Harry Vold) or producer must be engaged to supply the rodeo stock There are several competent stock contractors in the business today, and contracts are usually decided on competitive bids Your committee has given considerable thought to the selection of a contractor and has been careful to choose one whose stock will satisfy fit the particular needs of this rodeo Stock contractors usually work for a guaranteed price although they sometimes agree on a percentage of the gate receipts or perhaps a small guarantee Vold is on a percentage and guarantee in case of rain is the price for stock feed and transportation.

Contract performers or specialty acts are paid on a flat rate basis. This group includes the announcer and the people who provide the colorful entertainment between contest events. Much thought is given to their selection in order that you may see the tops in the profession and also that you may have the opportunity to see something new and different every year In some instances the stock contractor books the acts himself, with the approval of the committee and includes the cost in his contract with the committee Mr Vold in St Paul's case has accepted the duties of announcer at no extra charge to save the Society money

The rodeo judges, who score the riding contests, are also paid a guaranteed rate for their services. In the same category and working in close conjunction with the judges are the timers who hold the stop watches for all the timed events

One of the most exacting jobs at the rodeo is that of the arena secretary The secretary records all the entries of the various events, keeps the pay books, insures prize money to winners and records all stock drawn for each contestant Much of the secretary's work is done in the small hours of the night long after the rodeo fans are in bed

The local committee's job is to arrange and coordinate all these operations and create a fast, and smooth-running rodeo for your entertainment It is a difficult task with little reward except the fine appreciation.

Marvel Belzil has been appointed head of the rodeo committee, Mr Marc Hamelan is in charge of the big western parade to open the show on May 31st at about twelve noon. Mr Rudolphe Leclerc is President of the St Paul Agricultural Society is also devoting time along with George Hoveltmann, a jack-of-all-trades who so far has started construction of the new corrals at the Exhibition grounds

TO CROSS CANADA ON MOTOR SCOOTER

In Canada for less than a year, Shirley Cosbert and Pat Fitzgerald are determined to see as much of the country as they can—and as cheaply as they can. They're setting out from Toronto on one tiny motor scooter and their destination is Vancouver, with a stopover to see the Calgary Stampede. They'll work wherever they find jobs and don't particularly care when the trip is finished. They both hail from London, Eng., but did not meet until they came to Canada.

Safety Council Advises Farmers Concerning Farm Machinery Safety

After being dormant for months the farm tractor has again ushered the Alberta accident records.

The resumption of spring work on the farms has again brought warnings of the death dealing power of the tractor unless it is safely and carefully operated.

Several deaths already have been recorded this year in different parts of the province.

Last year there were 16 deaths caused by tractor in Alberta, compared with 22 the previous year. No doubt the Farm Safety Week proclaimed by the provincial government last year had a beneficial effect on promoting farm safety.

The deaths last year through tractor operations included four children. In addition, there were four deaths from trucks, all the victims being children under seven years.

An analysis of the tractor deaths last year as compiled by the Alberta Safety Council shows four were due to the machine overturning on a highway. Six others were due to the machine side-tipping on a field and one was due to backfipping. There were four deaths in which the victims were run into by tractors and another was due to the tractor being struck by a truck.

Deaths last year from combines numbered three, while three others were ascribed to power equipment.

The Alberta Safety Council plans to again stress this year as the factors in safety for tractor operators. It also plans to undertake truck driving demonstrations in the New Year's era in extending an intensified safety campaign so that regular instructors and Expert operators can show the causes of tractor driving accidents how to avoid these hazards.

A Farm Safety Week is planned during July. During that month there will be truck driving competitions at various fairs and exhibitions all these efforts on a combined scale are expected to bring about further reduction in tractor accidents. Personal physical injuries to Alberta residents.

Packing at the time of accident is essential to obtain maximum results. This statement was made following tests made at the Lacombe experimental farm.

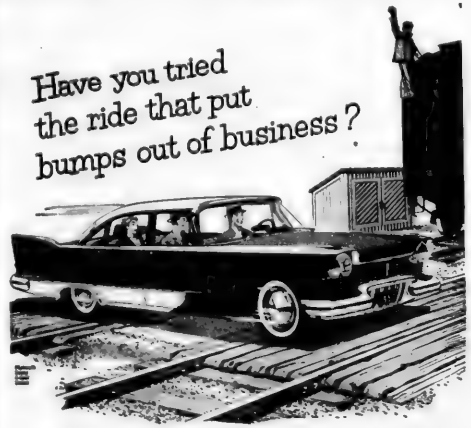
Have you tried the ride that put bumps out of business?



Even if you can only spare a few minutes out of a busy day, take a demonstration ride in a new Plymouth with Torsion-Aire suspension

It's downright wonderful . . . what a difference it makes when you get out of the ordinary and into a new kind of Plymouth with Torsion-Aire suspension.

Just take a beautiful Plymouth a few miles down one of those old bumpety-bump side roads and you'll see what we mean. It is an entirely new ride experience, because of Plymouth's remarkable Torsion-Aire suspension. It's like cruising along on a thick, velvety carpet.

And your turning and braking feel entirely different, too. For Plymouth's Torsion-Aire suspension keeps it from "leaning over" when you round a corner . . . and keeps the nose of the car from "diving" when you stop.

But why not get the rest of the story while you're flashing along in the lowest, slickest Plymouth ever built? You'll love it—every bit of it.

Just dial for a demonstration in a new Roll-Power Plymouth!

How about tomorrow? Phone us, and we'll bring a fresh, fruity new Plymouth to your door. Try its new V-8 or 6 Thrift Power GO . . . Push-button Torsion-Flite automatic drive . . . Total-Contact brakes . . . and all its other exciting advances!

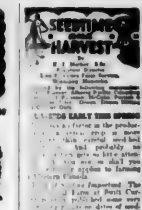
SEEDING TO HARVEST



CREDIT FOR FARMERS
EARLY SEED SPRING
Mild And Dreary Weather, England
In England and Wales, the weather during March was exceptionally mild and rather dull. Rain fell frequently in most areas and falls were above normal in Wales and south-western areas of England. Autumn sown grain is generally strong and healthy but loss of color due to waterlogging is reported from many areas. Spring cultivations were held up by the wet weather with good progress being made on the lighter soils, but most of the heavier land being too wet to work. It is though that this year's cultivations are later forward than usual for this time of year.

Fashions

Here is a neat little dirndl dress. It's the type that showed our plenty of activity in the season ahead. The fabric is a silk and cotton blend with a touch of white to enliven the basic brown. The neckline is highlighted by four tiers of ruffles, and the fitted bodice is held in front by a buckle and back by a tie belt in white with 2 buckles.

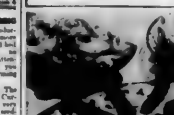
ARTISTRY IN THE KITCHEN



Everyone is getting in the act today, turning into an artist from president, grandmothers and nurses into. The cook gets her share when the dessert is prepared. Here's how Bakers restaurant owner, 37, about 23 minutes 1 or 2 servings.

DECORATE SOUP FOR SPRING

Decorate your soup with Spring greetings appropriate to the season, either cream of asparagus or green pea soup lend itself to this art. For decoration, boil hen eggs, remove shells, cut in half and lay a daisy on each. Use slices of ripe radish or cucumber for petals and green tops of spring onions for stems. Happily, these also fit the bill for attractive salads.

MAKE BUTTER AND POTATOES SHAPELY

Perfect partners in the soup kettle are frozen oyster stew and potato soup. So suitable for Lent. Make a can of each soup into a pan, pour in 1½ cups milk. Add 2 cups peas or whole kernel corn and 2 cups cooked vegetables. Heat and stir to blend. Oh, what a bonanza of a chowder. Ladle into bowls and pass grated cheese.
Makes 3 or 4 servings.

To The People Of The Federal Constituency Of Battle River-Camrose

Many points of view concerning national development will be brought to your attention during the election campaign. This is a very large subject and space does not permit a thorough analysis of Progressive-Conservative thinking on it. A book could easily be written on the subject but a few comments will have to suffice at this time.

"Agriculture and its welfare is the basic cornerstone in the Progressive Conservative national development policy". John Diefenbaker stated not long ago. By that he meant that we are remaining his audience that there are many things that have to be considered. Mining, manufacturing, shipping, transportation, forestry, conservation, fisheries, land reclamation are only a few of the things which must be taken into consideration for any policies of the nation.

Conservatives believe that it is not enough simply to ship away the iron ore, pipe out the natural gas and oil, cut down and haul away the trees. A country which is content with that type of development chains away a part of its birthright with every ton of ore, with every cubic foot of natural gas, and with every tree. There are two reasons for this. First, of course the benefits of the natural resources can be exhausted. Second, a people who simply ships away its natural resources does to develop the many skills which can be put to practical use in a modern industrial world. Every one realizes that the unskilled century because of the skill with which it is used. It is people who use it knows where the raw ore came from. Pittsburgh is a famous name in the heavy industry of the United States. The great open-pit mines that supply the mills are comparatively unknown. Ores can be bought. Skills must be developed.

We of the Conservative party believe that every effort should be made to encourage Canadians to develop their natural resources here at home, to develop their skills along many lines and to market the finished products so that our nation will reap the opportunities for future generations to come.

A Progressive-Conservative government will do all possible to put this line of thought into action. A vote for Child Bradford will help to elect that government.

Yours for a Greater Canada,
Progressive-Conservative Association.

Mrs. Raymond Reierson Details Job Of North Commission To Determine Development Possibility

It is my hope that the whole field including communications, transportation, mineral wealth, power, timber and others, will be thoroughly explored by the Northern Development Commission. How R Reierson provincial industries and labor who last told the Northern Development Conference in Edmonton lately.

The speech from the throne of the 1957 session of the legislature made provisions for the setting up of the commission in order to give a comprehensive study to the development of the north for the period

Although the pers aimed for the commission have not been adopted at their duties made apostle, Mr Reierson said he felt the plans passed by the Northern Development Conference were "a good start" as a guide He stated that qualified personnel should be appointed for the commission, on the basis of a report from the commission who, depend on their for development.

LABOR BALANCE

As an indication of what he said can take place in a very short time he outlined economic progress in Alberta over the past decade. Alberta's incomes in manufacturing alone have increased in the proximity of agriculture. In 1945 there were two plants in Alberta manufactured products derive from agriculture and in Canada's Prairies.

The past 10 years there has set in a balancing effect between the labor force employed in Agriculture and that engaged in other sectors of the province's economy.

Mr Reierson pointed out that in the period 1946-1956 agricultural markets for 20,000,000 has been increased in the north of Alberta. Simultaneously the number of employees from all over this country from the east and Europe has come to Alberta is a land of opportunity for land.

INVESTMENTS UP

"With a population which represents seven per cent of that of all Canada, the province has secured 13 per cent of the capital investments in the country," he said.

Mr Reierson mentioned the progress that the oil industry has made in Alberta. However, he pointed out that more than ever before, the province has the trained people which are necessary for development.

Mr Reierson considered Alberta a sound choice" as a base from which to develop the North Country because of its rich economic position.

Capital, opportunity and people are the necessary ingredients for development, he referred to aspirations, and expectations for Canada's Prairies.

Culture and Arts Appreciated

All the talk and controversy about a lack of culture in Canada has lost the federal Government to appoint a cultural commission and in the provincial field the Department of Economics has not lost sight of the need and is doing its part to promote and encourage the arts from both a participating and spectators view.

Part of the Provincial government's plan in fostering culture was soon displayed in St. Paul last week with the presentation of "Maytime In Alberta".

The good attendance (it was not a record, but more than organized) indicated that even in small towns there is a huge segment of the population interested in good music, acting, arts and crafts. Attendance the first evening for the University Chorus was the lowest but when the word got around next day, how enjoyable the entire evening had turned out, an increase was registered at the band performance the next night, and on the third day following again the pattern more people saw the drama production.

Putting a show like "Maytime In Alberta" on the road requires meticulous planning and co-operation. Much of the organization work and the credit for its presentation is about 15 North Eastern Alberta Towns goes to Mr Walter Kasza, Co-ordinator of Cultural Activities, Department of Economic Affairs.

It was he who contacted the St. Paul Musical Society, last November and the rest of St. Paul was interested After it was agreed there was a flood of correspondence between Mr Kasza and Mr Laurent Richard, President of the Association, to co-ordinate all the details.

Mr Richard with the devoted help of his committees, handled hall arrangements, booked after the ballooting of over forty quartets each night and once to their comfort. The home owners of St. Paul more than cooperated with the accomodations in their homes and the ladies in taking care of the meals.

Mr Hanson, stage director, with the help of Harry Krylyshyn, a talented [illegible] decorated the stage in the school very appropriately with golden jubilee colors of yellow and green, suitable for the occasion.

Mr Kasza as Co-ordinator of the Cultural Activities Branch, was responsible for planning the opening week of the Jubilee Auditorium in Edmonton, while at the same time organizing "Maytime In Alberta" he also knows an apparent difference in the rate of gain or in the amount of grain required per 100 pound gain. Four type bags are booked to obtain poorer grades on self-feeders but good steak chewer up equally well on either method. Properly constructed self feeders result in the saving of much labor.

Whoot supplies in the four principal exporting countries—United States, Canada, Argentina and Australia—are slightly smaller than at the same date a year ago. As at April 1 they stood at 1,200,000,000 bushels, around 100,000,000 less than a year earlier.

Band and Mr Gordon Peacock, head of the Drama Division, University of Alberta, along with Mr Frank Bechtel, director of the play presented here

Those of you who enjoyed "Maytime In Alberta" and would like a repeat performance next year, might show appreciation by expressing your views to the Hon. A. R. Patrick, Minister of Economic Affairs under whose jurisdiction culture in Alberta is administered.

WHODUNIT?

We always welcome suggestions and even complaints. They are the basis upon which we endeavor to shape, improve our style of publication and adjust our policies to meet the demands of the majority. We pride ourselves of being broad minded, objective and open to constructive criticism.

However we cannot recognize comments sent by anonymous persons, who to further disguise their identity cut out the name of the editor and his address out of the printed text of the paper and pasted it to an envelope for mailing. (Must be a rebuked man.)

Anyone who has not the fortitude and the conviction of his own ideas to come out openly, discuss a controversial matter intelligently and rationally, does not deserve any recognition whatsoever

GOOD RECORD YEAR

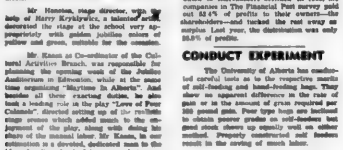
Now that it has all been added up, Canadian business can look back on 1956 as another record year, says Wednesday's issue of The Financial Post.

A special survey of reports of 255 corporations which publish reports shows that net profits after taxes were 21.1% higher than in 1955. A Dominion Bureau of Statistics compilation shows a gain for all corporations of 13.9%.

Shareholders shared in the higher profits, too, as 1956 dividend payments increased by 9% over 1955. But once again the proportion of corporate earnings distributed to shareholders declined. In 1955, the companies in The Financial Post survey paid out 52.4% of profits to their owners—the shareholders—and tucked the rest away as surplus. Last year, the distribution was only 50.8% of profits.

CONDUCT EXPERIMENT

The University of Alberta has conducted careful tests as to the respective merits of self-feeding and hand-feeding hogs. They show no apparent difference in the rate of gain or in the amount of grain required per 100 pound gain. Four type bags are booked to obtain poorer grades on self-feeders but good steak chewer up equally well on either method. Properly constructed self feeders result in the saving of much labor.



Toastmasters' Are Ready And Willing To Improve Your Speech

Not so long ago I attended a step a to join your local Toastmasters' Club. Also one might ask, "How can Toastmasters' help me overcome my one and difficult situation?" Well my friend, Toastmastership will give you basic training in surmounting all three of the above mentioned in public speaking.

The impromptu speech section, especially, enables the participant to think while he is on his feet. A most outstanding gain is enthusiastic self-improvement because will, with relatively little effort, become evident. Gain confidence as a speaker, and attains the ability to organize his thoughts while speaking to an audience.

Another outstanding feature which can be gained from Toastmastery is the ability to adjust on any point of view and yet not cause any hardness among the members of the group. In the very beginning of toastmaster his course aware that good fellowship and proper parliamentary procedures are present in both the entire meeting.

Remember, you can't go wrong by joining Toastmasters' Gonels and new members are heartily welcomed by this club.

In conclusion, I would like to point out a slight change in the agenda for next week. Due to the fact that many from St. Paul will be holidaying, including toastmastery, it was decided on Monday, May 13, 1957 that the next Toastmasters' meeting be held on Tuesday, May 21, 1957. It is also of importance to note that September Club No. 1812 will be adjourned for the summer at the next meeting. Hoping to meet you at the Lewis Hotel guest room on Tuesday, May 21, at 7:00 p.m.

Why Not Think While Working

Mamed Cherwaite — B.S.

You may think this out of order when we are all busy preparing for seeding and the good seed. Yet, many are the hours one could actively use his mind, while riding the tractor for examples, and answer for himself such questions as:

To farm or not to farm?

Why do I farm anyway?

What are the needs, my own and those of my home that I want to satisfy?

Why is it that I am not my happier?

In other words, what is the particular problems that troubles me today?

Do not try to answer that questions by saying "I want more money"—We all do and always will—

Go deeper and define clearly each one for himself, what his most pressing need is—and then find ways and means of covering the situation. Answering the question "what's the matter with my farming problem" by "I want more money" would be as meaningless as it would be for a doctor to answer "What's the matter with me" "You are most certainly sick" How different it is from a diagnosis like "You have jaundice". In the first instance you were left in suspense as whereas you certainly know what to do in the second.

To make a reliable diagnosis you must know all the facts.

Some of those facts are not under your control, such as variation in low kind of investors in rain or Some are under somebody else's control such as market rules and regulations. Some are beyond any control such as weather—epidemics, etc.

To find the best solution to any problem, you should weigh all the alternatives.

Suppose that your problem is higher income, what might be your alternatives:

Better paying crops
More or better livestock
Land
Higher yields
More land per man

Howe, Minister of Trade and Commerce announced that the Government has approved initial prices to be paid by the Canadian Wheat Board on the basic grades of wheat, oats and barley for the crop year beginning August 1, 1957. These initial prices are as follows:

Check Against Election Cheating At The Polls

OTTAWA (CP) — Don't let some general election day, if you aren't allowed to put your ballot in the ballot box yourself.

The election officials at the polling booth is supposed to do that! It is one of a series of safeguards designed to ensure secrecy and prevent manipulation of ballot box stuffing.

Chief Election Officer Nelson Castonguay, the man mainly responsible for the smooth running of the June 10th election, said in an interview that at nearly every polling booth in past elections an argument has cropped up over a voter's desire to put his own ballot in the box.

OFFICIAL CHECK

Under law he is another person—usually the Liberal candidate—entitled to be present at the counting of votes, but not at federal elections in Canada.

The deputy returning officer in charge of the polling booth is required by law to take the marked, folded ballot and make sure it is the same one he issued before the elector went into the voting compartment. Then he puts it in the box.

The voter can—and should—stay to see that the ballot goes into the box.

The procedure is tied in with the form of the ballot—a form which has been perfected over the years to prevent cheating.

Th ballot is made up of three parts a stub and a counterfoil, each of which bear matching numbers, and the ballot proper [illegible]. Each ballot has to be initialled on the back by the poll's deputy returning officer.

When the elector comes in to vote, the officer hands him a ballot with counterfoil attached. After the ballot is marked, the officer checks his initials and makes sure the counterfoil number tallies with that on the stub. Then he tears off the counterfoil, discards it, and puts the ballot in the box.

TO PREVENT PEEKING

The ballot is folded twice before it is handed to the voter, who re-folds it after marking his X. The folds are designed so that the X is in the middle, to prevent peeking.

Since the numbered stubs and counterfoils are removed before the ballot goes into the box there should be nothing to associate the ballot with any individual voter when the box is opened later for counting.

There are other precautions against misuse of the ballot.

Each candidate can have two scrutineers at the polling booth. They can double-check on the handling of ballots. They can challenge any potential voter and make him prove his identity or take an oath that he is entitled to vote.

Another check is that in each constituency the returning officer and his deputies must be able [illegible] after a vote for all the [illegible] votes cast, how many spoiled and how many left over.

There is another discouragement against inspection on the Canada Elections Act. Fines up to $2,000 or two years in jail are laid down for "corrupt election practices".

A new chemical detergent has been developed which, manufacturers say, makes it possible for an oil tanker to switch very quickly to a cargo of grain or edible oil.

(Stayner, Ont., is to have an airport, or, to be more accurate, an unused airport is coming to life. Citizens are giving support to the project to set up a flying school and air service, which is to [illegible] May 18. First woman student will be Carol Dunn, left, [illegible] Mrs. Bill Connaghi.

Scout Executive Spring Meet

At the May 1st meeting of the Boys' Valley District Council, final arrangements were made for the Baden Powell Anniversary Rally to be held on Moose Lake, north of Easterne on Sunday and Monday, May 19 and 20.

A highlight of the meeting was the presenting of a Charter to the Second Bonnyville Troop. The presentation was made by Rev Seward, president of the District Council, to Mr J Radish, president of the Bonnyville Group Committee.

This was President Seward's last meeting as he is leaving the district. This will be a great loss to the Council. Although new to scouting, when he accepted the presidency of the council, his enthusiasm and enthusiastic leadership has resulted in putting the organization well on the way towards being the efficient co-ordinating body it should be for municipalities in this area.

To replace Rev Seward for the remainder of the year, Jerry Bilciuk was elected.

The budget for the coming year was brought up. Since it is usually dealt with at the fall annual meeting, it was decided to have copies of the budget better made and sent to every group for their consideration.

The next meeting was set for September 25th.

The last few years May days have brought us a world of green in one sudden sweep. This transformation was the culmination of summer's coming for which everyone had been waiting.

The rhubarb patch should be coming into its own to provide many a meal treat. Rhubarb pie as a springtime dessert favorite

Rhubarb Pie

4 cups washed cut rhubarb
2 eggs separated
1½ cups sugar
2 T quick cooking tapioca
Juice and rind of one orange pastry shell—unbaked
½ cup sugar for meringue

Combine pulp, sugar, tapioca orange juice and rind and mix with shell and bake 15 minutes at 450 degrees. Reduce the heat to 375 and continue baking for 25-30 minutes. Remove from oven and cover with meringue. Bake at 300 until well browned

A few ways to vary the top of pies are

Nut Crust—Add ¼ cup finely chopped nuts to the pastry To the filling add half tsp cinnamon and 1 T lemon juice

French Top—Sprinkle on a mixture containing made from 2 TBS flour, ½ butter and ¼ cup brown sugar

Some pie pointers—If pie crust is tough, it should be emended by using less much flour rolling too much or over mixing If it is brittle the answer may be too much water or too little shortening. If the pie crust crumbles that indicates too little water or too much of the fat too finely If the undercrust in a fruit pie is soggy, there are several ways to trying to correct it

1 Begin baking at 450, 10 minutes later reduce to 375 to finish baking This allows fast cooking of the crust so that less moisture is absorbed

2 Baking tart pies low on the oven so that there is a rapid concentration of heat at the bottom could be of value in obtaining a dry crust

3 Brushing egg white over the uncooked shell and allowing it to set before putting in the filling is another favored solution

Facilities Better In Boy's Camp

Increasing popularity of camping as a summer activity for boys has resulted this year in an urgent request by the leaders of the YMCA Camp Kwasatchan for early enrolment by Northern Alberta youths The camp, a non profit organization located on Lake Waterton, has now facilities equal to many top flight eastern commercial camps

Three two week camp periods have been arranged. The first June 30 July 13 and July 21 and are for boys 8th years of age and over. Boys from this area have opportunity to attend the camp for a week starting August 4 at their prep camp Dads can enjoy camping with their boys the year for a week-end August 23

Improved kitchen facilities and schedule of even greater water activities are among things in the camp this year Canoeing and sailing activities will expand with provision of new boats, and expert instructors will be on hand for those activities as they are for swimming and all phases of camp craft A resident nurse in a fully equipped infirmary is on hand at all times

Details of the camp, designed for boys from northern Alberta, may be obtained by writing for literature to Camp Kwasatchan, 10020-102A Avenue, Edmonton, Alberta.

Supermarket Showmanship War Costs Billions Every Year To Entice Shoppers In More Purchases

Free TV sets, refrigerators and convertibles, an airplane for $6 a pound—these are examples of generosity used in a war being waged for Canada's annual $15 billion grocery bill.

Lotteries and Dominion are the titans among the 1000-odd chain food stores involved in the "dollar-dollar showmanship battle" reported on by Robert Webb in the May issue of Liberty magazine. But Quebec's Steinberg's, A & P Stores, Western Canada's Safeway, Red and White Stores, and independent Grocery Alliance all "trump their cash registers clanging with a new slice of your food dollar."

Supermarkets make roughly 2 cents on every dollar taken in, says Webb, and such story carefully arranges its 4,000 to 5,000 odd items to lure and tempt its prime players, the customer In some markets, for instance, the chrome rail of the refrigerated meat case is warmed just enough so you can rest your arms on it in comfort. "Behavior tests," explains Webb, "pay off for the grocer who spread bakery pan and convince yourself the rich smell for $0.39 in a counter investment that the manufacturers for 45 cents. Steaks and chops are often overlaid with green leaves or plastic ruffles, because green creates an after-image of red in the eye and makes the meat look redder and more appetizing.

The average customer makes seven unplanned, impulsed purchases for every three planned purchases a study of shopping habits has shown. For example which you're handing down at the dairy case for eggs, your eyes come level with rollaphane-wrapped imported fine cheese, which you can't resist sliding into your basket. The most amazing fact about supermarkets, says the Liberty article, is the most obvious: a complete lack of salesman You sell yourself.

Coal Industry To Fight Back Against Invading Gas Resources

The coal industry in eastern Canada is not going to take the invasion of natural gas into its big market area lying down, reports The Financial Po.

Saddle Bronc Riding, Wild Steer Wrestling, Feature Attractions At St. Paul Rodeo

Although we know that most of you who will be attending the big St Paul Rodeo on Friday, May 31st and Saturday June 1st are quite familiar with a modern rodeo while a few just to refresh your memory we are publishing below some descriptions and the schedule of certain events

SADDLE BRONC RIDING
A cowboy who boasts he "had never been throwed" demanded of you who will be attending the big St Paul Rodeo on Friday, May 31st and Saturday June 1st are quite familiar with a modern rodeo while a few just to refresh your memory we are publishing below some descriptions and the schedule of certain events

SADDLE BRONC RIDING
A cowboy who boasts he "had never been thrown" demanded of a horse that "had never been rode". But, that surely would be a big order to fill because of the new rivalry between bronc busters and the outlaw bucking horses of the rodeo.

This is one of the most popular events of the arena for fast action. When a top rider connects with a top bucking horse, something at least is bound to happen—and it happens in ten seconds. Either the rider takes his pevvy or the horse becomes victor in a ten-second game.

How a tall and wooly cow puncher attain becomes dapper largely on the rodeo stock and this is especially true on the saddle bronc riding events.

All the advantages of this contest is with the horse because any of the following offenses disqualifies the rider losing a starting, beginning with the foot against horse's shoulder, losing touched off, changing hands on the rein, wrapping rein around hand, pulling leather failing to spur horse on shoulder first two out of three, pulling, and not being ready to ride when called or hitting the horse with hands or hat

The judges deal mounts for the riders and it is a toss-up whether the rider will get one of the top buckers. At any rate he must ride the horse that is drawn for him.

The horse will be saddled and cinched under the direction of the arena director. If saddles are not cinched tight enough and horse off the rider will be given another chance on the same horse.

Riding must be accomplished with plain halter and one rein, with no hitch or wraps around the hand. No rope is allowed on the rein or stirrups. Rider must leave starting place with both feet in the stirrups and he must spur the horse out of the chute.

Needless to say safety by last but not by no means the least for it means a zero for him in the point column.

CALF ROPING
The calf roping event is one of the most highly competitive in the rodeo, and there is big money at stake as the cowboys and their horses team up to see which can rope and tie a bawling calf in the shortest time.

Man and horse are rivals in the arena, riding events, but they are teamed together in the roping contest, and a good roping horse is the pride and joy of the cowboy.

The contest begins when the calf crosses the starting line in front of the chutes. Then the cowboy and horse rush in pursuit, the horse keeping as close as possible on the heels of the calf, which often runs in a zig-zag course.

A lariat comes to life as the rope twirls at the end and then let it fly toward the racing calf. A loose noose falls over the neck of the animal and the roper begins to dismount even before his horse comes to a stop. The rope tightens and the good roping horse—a skilled keep it taut as the rope runs to the calf. The next procedure for the roper is to throw the animal to the ground and tie three legs securely in a fashion accepted by the judges, who make examination to see that a good job of tieing has been done.

Should the calf be thrown when the roper gets to it he must let the animal up and then throw it by sheer strength.

The roper is required to use two loops, and if he should fail to catch his calf on the second try he must retire from the arena with "no time". In the opinion of the judges, any roper failing to make an honest effort with loops will be disqualified in all events for the remainder of the rodeo.

Calf roping as a contest sprang from the actual range work of roping calves for branding during round-ups. It is one of the most scenic of all the sports, requiring real speed agility and superior horsemanship.

WILD BRONC RIDING
The rodeo fan should not confuse the rodeo type of bareback riding with what they will see in the rodeo arena. This is a basic jarring event for the rider, and the wild horse doesn't give a care what a rough time the cowboy endures in keeping his seat.

The horse may run, buck, rear up on his hind legs He uses all the tricks at his command to get rid of the rider While all this goes on the rider is bound by the rules of the game and the judges are on the alert to see that the cowboy does not violate the edicts in trying to stay aboard the crowhop devil of the mount Most of the cowboys have a certain arm, to be sure, but one is purely amateur beginner in the bareback horse riding contest.

Under the rules, the bareback rider is allowed to use only one arm in his attempt to keep two legs around his twisting, jarring, bucking mount. The free arm he wears in the air to prove to the judges that he is playing the game according to the rules, which are entirely different from those that govern the saddle bronc riding contest.

The fellow who matches his wits against a bareback horse is forced to depend mostly on his grip and sense of balance—he is not even allowed to use all the equipment given him by nature

The horse is surcingled in the chute, where he is first mounted. The first jump out, the man must spur the horse in the shoulder—and from then on he must keep his feet in motion until the ride is completed.

Wild horse riding is the original sin of the west, the traditional battle between man and beast both in frontier days, when the two were yours where you found them, if you

I rode them, and saddles were rare and costly

You should enjoy the event more and understand it better until the rider and his

CAN FISH FROM THEIR DOORSTEP

A most happy fella is Douglas Webster who has a trout stream flowing under his house in Hastings Mills Lac. Whenever he's sets a fish dinner, he just steps outside his home, selects a nice plump trout and lifters in his line. Needless to say, his friends are almost as numerous as the trout. Here Mary Cochrane and her son, Lon, try their luck.

To the tune of 24-1 they eliminated the local Ardmore entry in the first game, and went into the semi-finals and came out on top to defeat Cold Lake RCAF Sweepers 11-5 and bring home the trophy and $125.00 first prize money.

The St. Paul Baseball Club, under the coaching of Gerth Roberts, have been playing strictly local talent which so far has proved and itself very good, winning five out of six games played this season.

Roberts has taken over the second duties alternating with Jack Anderson. Catching duties are being filled by Marcel and Buck Joly, both showing very good form.

Federal Building is Planned For St. Paul

The Federal Department of Public Works plans to erect an up-to-date building in the town of St Paul, Alberta to provide additional accomodation required by the Post Office Department. Alterations are also planned for the present structure to accomodate staffs of the local offices of the Departments of Veterans Affairs and Citizenship and Immigration.

The new addition will be a one-storey building with full basement and will be approximately 16 feet by 71 feet in size. It will be of frame construction with the exterior walls of concrete block and brick facing to match the existing building. The Extension will have a flat roof covered with felt and gravel.

The window frames will be of aluminum and double hung. The interior heating will be altered and increased in capacity to provide automatically controlled hot water heating to the new building.

The new section for the Post Office Department will have an extended accessible, increased area in the public lobby and a larger sight-line to accommodate the increasing needs of the people of St. Paul and district.

Plans and specifications for the work were prepared by the architectural staff of the Design Construction Branch of the Department of Public Works. The Department has called for tenders and a contract will be awarded so construction can be started during the coming summer.

Twenty Students Graduate At Exercises In St. Paul Schools

Valedictorians were given by [illegible] Langlois for the boys and Miss Louise Chamberlain, editor of Sarsnet, on behalf of the girls.

Mr Claude Langlois with brown eyes twinkling as he held that education does not finish at school and that success in life is possible, but difficult to achieve, he thanked the teachers for their good wishes and devotion during the twelve years spent in school.

Miss Champagne, who along with her school chum had been looking to graduation, declared that they were leaving the happiest days of their life behind them She said the "land of 'No' will rock alternately on high seas of disappointment, happiness, independence and sometimes insecurity She, however, that the world holds boundless opportunities reserved in the future for those who are willing to accept the challenge of the [illegible] and thanked the teaching staff for its [illegible] during school days.

Foisy Boy Of Sixteen and Vilna Man Are Victims Of Collision and Upset

ONE KILLED, FOUR ESCAPE OUT OF THIS CAR

One of seven Albertans to die over the holiday week-end was Eugene Robinson of Foisy who was killed instantly when this late model 1956 Ford, skidded out of control, 4 miles east of St. Paul on highway 28. Four other passengers escaped with minor injuries. Cause of the death car at the time of the accident were John Sarnchuk, Paul Sawychuk, Edna Sarnchuk and Bernard Sarnchuk.

Holiday week-end accidents shocked residents of St. Paul, Foisy and Vilna when two men lost their lives on local highways and seven others involved, miraculously escaped serious injuries in a two-car collision and an upset.

Dead are Eugene Robinson, 24, of Vilna and Salesman of Foisy.

Mrs. Mae Tornes Foisy.

The disaster watched the death toll which was recorded on the long Easter Week-end at Dovercourt when Margy Tanas of Dovercourt and George McGinlyn of Edmonton were killed in a two-car collision on a dusty country side road.

The car in which Eugene Foisy died was driven by Miss Joan Harmatiuk Four miles west of St. Paul on highway 28, it went into a skid on a shoulder of loose gravel in the middle of the road A study of the tracks indicating the car reversed in the right, was pulled left and right again while travelling a distance of about 32 yards. Four miles west on its side, skidded for eight yards, then turned over on its top, sliding for another 30 yards before coming to a rest on the left side of the road at a 45 degree angle facing the direction of the four wheels up in the air. 71 yards from where it went off the road it struck a power pole where it was flat, but it is believed the tubeless tire of the late model 1956 car was pulled off when the car twisted in the skid. The top of the 6-door sedan was sunk to the level of the main body of the car Eugene Robinson, 24, was killed instantly when he was thrown out on the right hand side of the car. Other passengers in the "suicide seat" apparently were cushioned by the weight of the roof of the car which it collapsed during the skid He was flung out onto the road when the door was jarred open by the concussion of the roll. He died instantly of head injuries

Paul Sawychuk of Edmonton escaped one of the most serious accident positions in the front seat of the passenger diary as well as Miss Edna Sarnchuk and Fortunat Sarnchuk occupying the back seat. All were admitted to hospital for shock and bruises. They were released the next day.

The accident occurred about a quarter of a mile east of Fraran Beaudin's farm, at about 6:00 p.m Sunday evening

RCMP from the St. Paul detachment are in charge of investigations Dr F B. Brosseau, St Paul Coroner said an inquest will be called for Wm Tchaikka attended the injured at the scene of the accident

TWO CAR COLLISION

Steve Korolak, driver of a car carrying five other passengers, met his death 1 mile east of Vilna intersection on highway 28 in a two-car collision on Saturday, May 18, six days later in the Vilna hospital.

Mr. Tanchyn who owns his own farm in the Bury district and who was injured in the accident was reported to be resting [illegible] Mrs. Tanchyn also of Edmonton, Reginald Sopchuk also of Edmonton, Reginald Sopchuk also of Edmonton, Reginald Sopchuk

Caution To Pedestrians

A few weeks ago we cautioned car drivers to exercise more care as the beginning of the holiday exercises in the school areas at which time cars are decidedly in the afternoon.

This request was made at the request of Town authorities in the Police who, in their unbiased safety attitude, and hope I keep mine in unless as much as possible.

It is natural and easy to understand who the onus of responsibility in car accidents is primarily placed on the operator of a car or truck because he has control and also because he generally has the greater experience in driving and knowledge of the various operational controls, but today we are addressing a few words to kiddies who are responsible, nevertheless, against a moving vehicle.

For the past two weeks we have kept a close watch on the behaviour of the children at both the Separate and Public schools and the children have been a credit to their parents and teachers. Not only have they been more careful in crossing streets, but they have been more courteous and considerate of others. But once in a while we have noticed a child who seems to forget his manners and his safety training.

Just yesterday, in a small town such as St. Paul, to impose orderliness again on an outgoing through the afternoon hour, but instead this is very normal. The hazard of the walking or disabled student, however, should not have to exist. Children who are passing the many attractions that dot our town and business area should see confirming to traffic control and rather than "run" before crossing. The driver usually gets a second warning when a child who was driving within reasonable limits and could hardly be blamed or charged with negligence. Pedestrians crossing streets at the middle of a block, or stepping from behind cars or other objects, or moving at a dangerous rate of speed, deserve no sympathy when accidents occur. Motorists in the main are careful and cautious, but they cannot be expected to be infallible. Let's all resolve to play it safe for our sake and that of others on the roadway.

WHEAT EXPORTS DOWN

Exports of wheat from Canada so far this year have fallen behind the level of a year ago in the nine months period. August 1 to June 30 exports of wheat and wheat flour totalled 182 million bushels compared with 193.2 in the same 9 months last year.

Keeper's get off to a good start in the current marketing year mainly because of a very large crop. New shipments have fallen off badly, partly due to prospects of a bumper European crop but also to competition from the United States where the various give-away programme While Canadian exports have fallen, farmers' stocks of a year ago shipments out of the United States are now up very substantially. Total stocks of that country in the 1956-57 marketing year are now expected to reach 875 million. This compares with 360 million in 1955-56. That Canadian exports will be down this year while those of the United States may be up by about 60 percent.

DEATH ON THE HIGHWAYS

The number of holiday week-end fatalities which have hit St. Paul and the district have made everyone in town very grateful that no Hearing of a fatality from motorists so far away passes is somewhat like reading a murder mystery. Each week has no close relative bearing But disaster at home is much more appalling and has a great tendency to steer down the population at least temporarily although it should remain as a grim reminder forever.

We have been very unfortunate, and comparatively a standard to the number of others of those who have been fatal victims, because of the manner it it should come lasting lessons which may many of us alive to-day.

Frankly, we are not on the score of the disaster west of town and the sight never to be wiped from the memory of those unfortunate victims first hand, gruesome results of a car collision, and spills, perhaps they could understand more clearly why enforcement authorities have a tendency to be severely against speed offenders. They are very familiar with the disastrous results although it may be one or two out of a number of accident drivers It takes one single manslaughter. Five minutes ago he was alive, healthy and happy of internal injuries suffered during the accident.

Let's all resolve to play it safe for our sake and that of others on the roadway

While in hospital he was able to relate his dilemma of the accident. On arriving at the farm, he made a few rounds of the field, but soon found himself stuck in a low soft spot. Trying to extricate the tractor, he had a log under the rear wheels for traction to complicate matters. Realizing everything to no avail, he was resigned to wait for a tractor to pass by. Fortunately, a neighbour came along and borrowed a pencil from the driver to use to send a message to his family.

New Service On CNR Line

SASKATOON May —The Canadian National Railways hopes to have its new Railway service in operation between Regina and Saskatoon sometime in July, Donald Gordon chairman and president of the railway said here last Friday.

Mr Gordon, who was guest speaker at the University of Saskatchewan Alumni Association convocation banquet in the Bessborough Hotel said the CNR also was planning to extend the run of the Railiner from Saskatoon to Prince Albert and North Battleford.

We have been promised delivery of the new self-propelled units by the end of June and, after a few test runs over the route to familiarize crews, we will introduce the new service. It will operate on a faster and more convenient schedule than the service now being provided by steam powered trains". Mr Gordon said. "The actual starting date of this service depends entirely on receipt of the new equipment, he confirmed.

In addition, a CNR Railiner service on a daily except Sunday schedule will be provided between Saskatoon and Regina for the handling of express, mail, baggage and LCL freight only

Brahma Bull Riding One Of The Feature Attractions Of St. Paul Rodeo On May 31st, June 1st

For all western minded fans part of St Paul and district and also anyone looking for an exciting thrill, you want to be at the St. Paul Rodeo on May 31 and June 1st where as a special attraction the promoters, St. Paul Agricultural Society have contracted Sherry Veld to let loose his famous Brahma Bulls in the Arena These Critters are renowned as the toughest thing on the hoof and the hardest to ride, their fair say cowboy to straddle. They have been reared and bred especially for their viciousness and unwillingness to become association Make sure you have a ringside seat around the big corral for this part of the show.

BRAHMA BULL RIDING

This event is by far the most dangerous individual contest in the rodeo, because Brahma bulls are wild and vicious. They are more like jungle beasts than domesticated animals. These bulls are the quickest of action of any creature that is on the world, and their tremendous power gives them a terrific potential unapproached by human. The Brahma bull is quick to turn and a fallen cowpuncher in an effort to gore out the life of his tormentor Bull riding is not a game of money, began no more than twenty years ago It had been a major event for years, because a less turbulent type of steer form the range herds had to be used When rodeo promoters introduced the vengeful Brahma from the arid, grass marshes of the gulf coast country, rassaulers and thrills necessary and the sport was given major rating Seldom will you hear of a rider the original name, steer riding

As in some contests, the bull rider must have one hand free at all times, and the other holding a rope without knots or hitches

The rider is on his own from the second he sails into the arena. The chances of injury are great when bulls become their lives depend upon knowing the habits and temperments of the animals They know that the best way to get rid of a rider is by throwing him and they try to time their unseating to fall so that they will be racing in a straight line, leaving the fallen man far behind.

There are bucking horse experts who can ride almost any horse, but there are many Brahma bulls that few men can ride for more than a few seconds under rodeo rules.

And the clowns out there in the arena during this event are also. They aren't half wild" as the cowhands say All they have to do is draw the attention of the maddened beast while the rider beats a hasty retreat for the fence. It is up to the real thriller of the rodeo arena

CLOWNS ARE IMPORTANT

No rodeo is complete without the colorful antics of performers and specialty acts appearing in the arena between contest events.

These people have spent months or years perfecting their appearing themselves and their animals for appearances in the rodeo arena. Their elaborate wardrobes and purebred livestock represents a surprising large investment.

Watch the rodeo clowns closely They job is two-fold—to entertain the audience with comic antics and to protect the contestant in the arena The bull riding event brings out the best in the good clowns. He must be alert to protect the contestant by diverting the bull's attention toward himself The bullfighting clown has the rather challenging

Canada's Contribution To NATO Includes Training Of Airmen For Many Different Countries

To most Canadian Air Force Day has become a familiar national event. By holding open house at many stations across the country the RCAF is attempting to focus attention on aviation in general with particular emphasis on the progress being made in this Canada's modern jet-age Air Force. The event also provides the public to see the RCAF at close range.

In this district, an invitation is tendered by Group Captain C. F. Sword, Commanding Officer of the Cold Lake Base to visit the Station on June 8th. The experience of the past two years has provided valuable information and data to the officers of Cold Lake on what the public wants for entertainment and everything is being done to make the day as pleasant as possible. Entry to the base can be gained early to avoid traffic congestion, special midway attractions will be featured all day and in the evening guest artists from New York are starring on stage. Dining facilities and other conveniences are being taken into consideration.

Air Force Day at Cold Lake June 8th will be one of the biggest days in the guest of your Air Force at its expense—admission free.

Outstanding educational program [illegible] RCAF as are pointed out this week as starvation [illegible] NATO contribution and how it is operated.

THE AIR FORCE AND NATO

Nowhere has the true spirit of NATO been more fully illustrated during the last five years than at RCAF flying training establishments where Canadian aircrew trainees have learned their profession side by side with young men wearing the uniforms of 16 other NATO countries.

The RCAF's aircrew training program dates back to the end of 1939, when the first intakes of aircrew from other NATO countries arrived in Canada. Since then more than 6,000 aircrew men of one of [illegible] have been trained as pilots and navigators by the RCAF as one of Canada's contributions to Mass. The training has been given to aircrew from the UK, Norway, Denmark, the Netherlands, Belgium, France, Portugal, Italy, Greece and Turkey. All training costs have been absorbed by Canada.

The NATO aircrew training plan was designed to assist other NATO countries to build the initial build-up of their air forces. The progress has served this purpose for the majority of the 16 countries involved, and during 1957 there will be a reduction in the number of trainees arriving in Canada from the UK, France, Belgium, Portugal, Italy, Greece and Turkey. Training will continue to be given on a reduced basis to aircrew from Norway, Denmark and the Netherlands.

Under new arrangements, training is to begin during 1957 for 260 pilots from West Germany. While not a part of the NATO training scheme as such, the training given the German pilots will follow the pattern as that given other NATO trainees. Certain out of pocket expenses are being paid by Germany and the build-up of German trainees in Canada will be phased in with the reduction in the number of trainees from other NATO countries, thus providing an increase in the overall load upon RCAF training facilities.

The NATO trainees fit into the Royal Canadian Air Force's own aircrew training program along with the RCAF flight cadets. Any training course may include a wide variety of students, each adds to the potential value of the plan, since the training given the training period with the RCAF proves to the NATO fliers with their first opportunity to become acquainted with the standards and customs from the other NATO countries.

The NATO student's spent more time in Canada than the RCAF officer cadets. [illegible] where they receive a thorough indoctrination in every aspect of Canadian and RCAF customs and are given a thorough [illegible] the training [illegible] Duties [illegible] politics [illegible] are [illegible] to [illegible] with all aspects of Canadian life. Many enjoyable Canadian families and organizations take the time to entertain [illegible] from abroad. It is customary to make them feel at home in Canada.

On completion of the London indoctrination course, students where they receive their undetermined course with Canadian and RCAF [illegible] and are given a thorough [illegible] the training [illegible] Duties [illegible] politics [illegible] are [illegible] to [illegible] with all aspects of Canadian life. Many enjoyable Canadian families and organizations take the time to entertain [illegible] from abroad. It is customary to make them feel at home in Canada.

On completion of the London indoctrination course, students are ready to begin their aircrew training as either pilots or observers. Selection into one or the other of these branches is determined within the respective NATO air force prior to the arrival of the trainee in Canada.

Pilot trainees leave Station London for the Primary Flying Training School at Centralia, Ont., for training on Chipmunk aircraft. At the end of the course the students proceed to one of three Flying Training Schools where they advance to the more complex Harvard aircraft. These training bases are all located on the Prairies, at Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan, Claresholm and Penhold, Alberta.

The NATO trainee is then ready to go to an Advanced Flying School. All pilots, except those considered medically unfit for the flight, go to one of the three advanced schools for training on the Canadian built T-33 Silver Star jet trainer. These schools are all located at Manitoba at Portage la Prairie, Gimli and Macdonald. There is a fourth AFS at Saskatoon, Sask., where pilots destined for transport or maritime operations train in multi-engine aircraft.

Observer trainees leave Station London for Winnipeg, Man., where they attend the Air Observer School. At the AOS they receive their observer training after which they specialize in one of three types of observer: Observer Navigator, Observer Radio/Radar Observer Air Intelligence.

During the highly technical observer training courses the students master the intricacies of long-range air navigation, [illegible] radio [illegible] and air intercept techniques. Flying as an observer in [illegible] Dakota and Mitchell aircraft in which the trainees are not only to put to practical application the theory they have learned in the classroom. By the time of graduation the student navigator on his specialty is competent to either navigate a bomber to the target and return, guide a long-range fighter aircraft, or operate complicated radio and radar equipment.

At the conclusion of the AOS course, for the pilots and the AOS special courses for the observers the trainees are awarded their Wings. In the [illegible] months of arduous training and study a bomber to the target and return, guide a long-range fighter aircraft, or operate complicated radio and radar equipment.

RAIN DAMPENS ONTARIO FIRES, DANGER STILL ACUTE

At Rowland's Bay near Sudbury homeless residents view the remains of their trailer after 60-mph winds blew a forest fire into the community, razing most of the homes in a few minutes. Light rains have helped to dampen the fires that have spread over 25,000 acres in Northern Ontario, but more rain is needed before the danger of the fire spreading is past.

F.U.A. Meeting At Lake Eliza

The Swedeburn Local No. 453 held their monthly meeting on May 13 in Lake Eliza hall.

Ten members were present. The meeting was opened by John Prydatuik with the reading of the minutes.

The Financial report was read by the Secretary and $18.38 was found from a previous bingo.

A long list of correspondence was read and discussed by the members. The Rig marketing Board being the most important item.

With the small attendance it was quite a problem to decide whether the Annual Rotary Lake Picnic should be held on Farmer's Day or not and after a lengthy discussion it was passed to be held on the 16th of June.

Meeting adjourned at 12.15 p.m. with coffee and sandwiches served by the ladies.

Glen Avon Home And School Association Receives Charter At Convention Held In Edmonton

The following report was given on May 22, 1957 at the regular monthly meeting of the Glen Avon Home, School Association. It was made by Mrs. George Manse who was a delegate at the convention.

The 28th Annual Convention of the Alberta Federation of Home and School Associations was held in Convocation Hall at the University of Alberta, May 8, 9, and 10th. Three hundred and fifty delegates were in attendance one coming from as far north as Yellowknife. Among visitors present were Mrs. J. D. Taylor of Ontario, National President of the Home and School Federation, Mrs. B. Tupper, vice-president of the B.C. Parent-Teacher Federation and Miss C. Morgan, President of the Montana Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Mr. W. B. Hodgson, President of the Alberta Federation later read the delegates that in Alberta the Home and School movement had grown tremendously in the past ten years . . . from 142 associations in 1947 to 520 associations in 1957.

The theme of the first day was Parent Education and Mrs. J. D. Cameron chairman of the Parent Education Committee, outlined its functions he also the said, is to "study the child at home" and to build an understanding of the way personality is developed to healthy maturity" The primary concept of the parent education program is the child. "What happens at home is of vital importance to the child's efficiency at school"

The work of Parent Education is an effort to assist parents to gain a greater understanding of the normal development of children of all ages, also in the training and in the solving of normal problems. The local Home and School Association can help in this by devoting at least three part of a year's meetings to Parent Education topics, using films, publications, panel discussions, etc.

Wednesday evening, Mr. Hodgson presented the executive members to the Session. Following that we all enjoyed a very professional performance by the Victoria Composite High School Glee Club who sang selections from Victor Herbert's "The Fortune Teller".

The evening closed with a reception by the Alberta Federation at Athabasca Hall.

Thursday's theme was School Education. A panel, under the Chairmanship of A. Schrag of Vulcan outlined the role which Home and School Associations could play in education. He said the kernel of interest which brings us together is the child in the classroom. Discussion emphasized the need for more stress on Mathematics and English in present-day curriculums. Also in the light of a shrinking world due to faster modes of travel, he was felt that all Canadian children should have a second language so do meet Europeans. With regard to this, the Session later passed a resolution that French should be taught from a Grade 7 level.

It was suggested that parents could establish a better meeting ground for discussion with the child by listening to the same school broadcasts as the student. It would be easier to follow the child's work and maintain a real interest.

Mrs. Waight, president of the Edmonton Council of HSA's, told the convention that local associations could help to publicize a scholarship available to students "A lot of scholarships are available", she said, "but many are not picked up".

Thursday evening charters were presented to delegates of ten new associations, among them our own Glen Avon.

Then we heard an extremely thought-provoking talk by Dean H. Searle of U.B.C. on the Children of Today' who he pointed out, are no less worthy than the youth of former years. There is just more opportunity for them to be bad. Fifty years ago, he said, there was little scope for mischief and little time either so without modern labor-saving devices in homes, parents kept their children continually busy.

Children need and want a basic security at home, and he added that morality is taught, not caught. Parents will accomplish far more by the example, he they set than by the lectures they preach.

The session was adjourned and was followed by a Reception of the Executive Council in the Wauneta Room in the Student's Union Building.

On Friday, following more resolutions, committee reports and elections, the Rev. G. M. Hutchinson preached his group discussion on Community Influences in the form of a regular communion meeting. Town-ego drinking was one of the topics and the Rev. Edgworthy presented an over-all picture of how the alcoholic develops. One teen-age club on being queried as to why it did not stress a non-drinking stand for its members reported that it was not to impossible to get such standards set as many times the example was set in the home.

Mrs. Hall then received from two communities in the United States on how they met with typical teen-age problems. In Pasadena California parents and teen-agers had got together and established certain standard rules such as curfew for school nights, and curfew for week ends, public behavior, dress, etc so that no longer would one child feel under more restriction than another and use that feeling as a lever against his parents' better judgement.

In Las Vegas Nevada, to counteract rowdyism by teen-age gangs a Community House was provided with recreational and hobby facilities. There it was found that it helped to have the teen-agers share these facilities with other groups but that they needed to have the building to themselves at least one night a week.

The Convention was then adjourned and later delegates met at Athabasca Hall for the concluding banquet at 7 p.m.

Provincial Safety Meet June 3rd

Alberta's rising accident toll will be one of the main subjects studied at the Provincial Highway Safety Conference to be held in Edmonton on Monday, June 3rd.

Sponsored by the Provincial Government, this second traffic safety parley will be attended by representatives of many groups engaged in the fight for greater road safety.

The Alberta Council reports that in the first four months of this year, 80 persons were killed in car accidents, six more than in the similar period of last year.

What is especially alarming is that accident fatalities in April numbered, doubling the total for the similar month last year.

Of last month's fatalities, 15 occurred at rural points and were reported by the RCMP. In addition, there were two in Edmonton, two in Lethbridge and one in Peace River.

For the four months, the accident picture shows:

	1957	1956
Car accidents	6,000	5,775
Persons injured	1,489	994
Deaths	104	86

In April rural points had 494 motor vehicle accidents, a gain of 14 over a year ago. At the same time Edmonton rose by 169 to 530 and Calgary went from 316 to 393. Lethbridge and Medicine Hat rose 22 and Jasper Place 10.

While the accident trend is alarming, greater awareness are being taken this year to promote safety on Alberta's streets and highways, coupled with greater enforcement.

The provincial government has announced the RCMP will increase the strength of traffic police.

A province-wide child safety program has been launched by the provincial health department.

From May 20 to June 15, a child safety campaign will be conducted by the Edmonton Safety Council.

The Alberta Safety Council will give full co-operation in a campaign Slow Down and Live Campaign which will run from June 20 to the Labor Day week-end on September 2nd.

Commencing probably on December 1st, a Winter Driving Campaign will carry over the New Year's Holiday.

To Bring Custody Case to Supreme Court

Determined to keep his adopted baby the way they adopted him, when he was six days old Mr. and Mrs. Ray McNeely of Toronto will take the case to the Supreme Court of Canada. The couple were stunned by the unanimous decision of the Ontario Court of Appeal that ruled that Ricky be returned to his mother, Helen Agar, a Canadian citizen now living in Minneapolis. Miss Agar, an unmarried mother renounced her claim to Ricky when he was a few days old and handed him over to the Victor home in Toronto, operated by the United Church of Canada. She now wants the child but the McNeelys claim she is "flamboyant and unstable" and feel it is cure for the boy. The McNeelys are shown with Ricky and their natural son, John, five.

Glendon Takes Own Tourney

The Glendon Baseball team won an eight-club competition tournament, held Sunday and Monday at Glendon. The two-day sport was sponsored by the Glendon Chamber of Commerce and drew a large profitable attendance.

In the first elimination round on Sunday, Bonnyville took out St. Line, 5-1; Hounsberg defeated Thorlen 11-1; Glendon got the edge on Mallaig 10-6, and Grand Centre overthrew St Paul 7-4.

Semi-finals on Monday saw Glendon win a berth in the finals by overpowering Hounsberg 5-0; while Grand Centre defeated the Bonnyville In the finals the local club continued its winning streak with a score of 7-4

First prize to Glendon was the sum of $150.00, second to Bonnyville for $100.00. Hounsberg and Grand Centre third and fourth winning $40.00 each.

Next sporting event at Glendon is a big fast ball (soft ball) tournament scheduled for July 13th

Sons Of Freedom

There's everything to be said for variety and color in the national life for the Doukhobors certainly put on made parades in protest towards the early 1900's, and nobody's waiting more laughter than but among the by-standers. Here's Canadians thought the ... be an odd way of expressing dissent in a free country made but all the same tolerable because the nudes, when clothed were industrious and peaceful.

Nowadays the Doukhobors prefer burning down schoolhouses, a easier type of protest. Though living members of the sect must be second, third or fourth generation Canadians, they still feel "persecuted" when authority objects to these proceedings. Better they want to go to the Soviet Union, from which their ancestors fled to escape Russian persecution, and the Muscovites are reported to be interested.

Should Canada protect them against their own ignorance?

Solemn would talk at this one Perhaps the only possible comment is that some problems are insoluble, except by tossing a coin

To The People of Battle River-Camrose Federal Constituency

Some of the most serious defects in the present system of Unemployment Insurance in Canada, is that it has been too much used as a tax collecting agency, and too little as an insurance fund. Many people have paid into the fund for a long time, but when the fund is in need, they receive no more than contributed with little or no accumulating power of the fund.

Conservatives promise that all such defects will be corrected.

Family Allowances and old age pensions will not less than they are now. They will be paid to the children and old people are increasingly considering their lives.

The unemployment dollar will not go so far as it did a few years ago. Conservatives promise to restore its purchasing power.

Conservatives promise that the unemployment funds and unemployment insurance funds will be used for the purposes for which they were intended.

Conservatives promise that the increases in salary which teachers are asking for, both provincial and federal, will be granted.

Conservatives stand ready to help the provinces in every way they can to improve the standard of education.

Conservatives promise that the payments to the provinces of education grants will be increased.

Conservatives promise that the present system of taxation will be changed so that the burden of taxation will be more equitably distributed.

Conservatives promise that the tax policy of this country will be framed in the best interests of the people as a whole.

We further think that unnecessary taxes have been placed on the people by the present government and it is our intention to remove them.

Conservatives promise that the present high cost of living will be reduced

Rodeo Opens On Friday With Western Parade

150 Head Of Stock Herded In By Vold

With a "Big Corral" circling the race track right in front of the grandstand, six brand new chutes from which 150 head of stock—broncho, steers, cattle, Brahma Bulls will spill out, western mounted fans and anyone who likes the thrill of daring feats are headed to spend a lively exciting weekend at the St Paul Rodeo Friday and Saturday May 31st and June 1st of this week

Harry Vold, famous stock breeder, herded his stock into St. Paul Tuesday with the help of Marcel Boivin. St. Paul manager for Agricultural Society, sponsoring the event. Everything is being polished off in professional manner for the big day.

Flying in from Colorado is Mike Cervi, one of the most reputed rodeo clowns in the business, good for many a laugh. And, besides entertaining the crowd, the rodeo clown serves the more useful purpose of protecting the cowboys by distracting the maddened stock away from the riders after a spill

The Rodeo opens Friday with a big western parade at noon, sending the two thousand main street. A formation of CF-100 Jets from RCAF Station Cold Lake will fly past, while the Airborne Band provides the march-music and later will perform at the corrals.

This show is a professional affair organized by experts and there is no doubt that you'll get your money's worth All cowpokes are invited to join the Grand Parade Friday and Saturday for a big fiesta Don't be the one to miss it, you'll be sorry.

Airforce Day At Cold Lake Station

COLD LAKE, MAY 25 — The Airbase at Cold Lake, Alta., is the training base for Flying specialists of the Royal Canadian Air Force. Their schoolroom is the cockpit of a CF-100 jet interceptor travelling near the speed of sound. It is here at RCAF Station Cold Lake that the RCAF is turning out the all weather pilots and crews that make up Air Defence Command.

RCAF Station, Cold Lake, is actually the "base" of Canada's Air Defence Force, but it is more common the men trained in the science of blind flying, who man our radar installations . . . it is here that weapons and missiles are tested, engines are fired in and this is the base that will be one of the first to receive the "arrow", Canada's truly supersonic fighter.

QUICK ACTION SAVES 50 STORE

A few minutes before this picture was taken, flames were shooting up 35 feet in the sky at the rear of the 50 Store. Moments after the blaze was completely under control by quick action of the St. Paul Fire Brigade who saved the store, eliminating danger to the Food Sales and Service, an adjacent garage, and further possibilities of disaster for the Town of St. Paul.

Chamber of Commerce Elects New Slate And Committees

The St. Paul Chamber of Commerce was taken out of the doldrums of the past when two lively meetings a general one and one a slate of directors, willing to go to work, and secondly the executives at a special session gathered to appoint its chairmen and name committee heads.

Mr. L. H. Brosseau was elected president. The meeting was conducted by Mr. Ted Paradis who went down to become the first Vice-President. Mr. Bill Cawsey was named Second Vice-President and Mr. Stan Powers took on the important job of Secretary-Treasurer.

Brosseau was made of the existing committees, several being amalgamated into one and a few added to more adequately fill the needs of the organization.

Communication, dealing mainly with road problems was allowed to Mr. Bill Cawsey. Reception, Mr. Mike Pawlyk; Publicity Mr. Fred Arnold. Membership, Mr. Armand Lord, Agriculture, headed by Mr Marcel Boivin with the help of Laurent Bunette, Commerce and Industry, Mr H Hamelin, Cold Lake and Building, Louis Letourneau and Ted Gemeroy, Cold Lake and Welfare, Dr Leon Trottier.

MEMBERSHIP FEES

It was decided to leave the membership fee on the same basis as the previous committee. Business individuals will be charged $5.00, small business and private individuals $3.00. Canvassing for membership will get under way immediately with the direction of Mr. Armand Lord.

Because the Chamber of Commerce has been inactive for over a year, the directors decided to withhold a general meeting until the new executives have had time to study the requirements of the different positions, find out where the old management left off and draw up a general business coming up and the program it will undertake during the coming year

A tentative date of June 17 has been set for a meeting at which it is hoped to have members of the Associated Chambers present to get off on a good footing.

HOLIDAY BY-LAW

An important matter was discussed at the first meeting last Thursday in regards to the holiday in the town.

There was a good cross-representation of business men who were asked to form and individually, their opinion on the subject.

After honest and sincere declarations had been made by all present, it was evident that the majority was in favour of observing basically the provincial and dominion holidays only The discussion was concluded with a motion by Mr Hanston that the meeting recommend the executive take steps suggesting amendments to the existing town by-law to the council so that it changed in conformity with the wishes of the majority of businesses It was also agreed that Wednesday afternoon closing be observed whether or not there is a holiday during the week. The motion was moved by Mr Ted Paradis.

The theory was advanced that it was becoming increasingly impossible, on account of this diversion of opinion on closing and unreasonable observance to notify patrons in the wade market area St Paul now serves, and much time was being lost over the fact that no one knew when St. Paul businesses were closed or open leading to much frustration disappointment and ill will towards the town

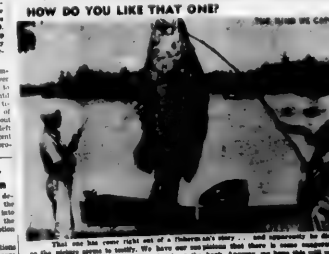
An economic survey of the Town and District with the Cooperation of the Department of Economic Affairs and the help of Mr. Ric Bateman, Minister of Industries and Labor is proposed and steps are being taken to get the project under way immediately.

Graduates From The School Of Agriculture

Mr Robert Neiberung, 24, son of Mr and Mrs Robert Neiberung of St Paul, graduated Friday recently from the University of Alberta with a degree as Bachelor of Science in the Faculty of Agriculture

Robert has accepted a position with the Provincial Government and will be posted in the St. Paul District doing soil surveys and investigations for the Department of Lands and Forests

HOW DO YOU LIKE THAT ONE?



That one has come right out of a fisherman's story . . . and apparently he didn't get away as the picture seems to testify. We have our suspicions that there is some exaggeration here and there's a catch somewhere besides what is on the hook. Anyway, we hope the catch will pass for fishing in St. Paul and district. Probably there are some pretty big ones, and although we don't guarantee this kind of results everybody is on an even footing of catching them with.

Surplus Outlet Store Errupts In Sudden Flame

Brought Under Control In Fast Order By Efficient Firemen

A fire which erupted almost spontaneously out of the Surplus Outlet Store in St Paul, Saturday night at 8:10 and shot skyward 35 feet of flames, threatened to engulf the building along with adjacent St. Paul Sales and Service before it was brought under effective control 20 minutes later by the local brigade At 9:15 the all clear signal was given The truck was called back at 10:30 to extinguish a few numerous sparks in the rafters, of no consequence or trouble

Paul Pagnac, planning a garden, one block south was the first to notice a smokescreen of flames and smoke bursting with ominous force out of the building's roof. Alarm sounded, he said that a few minutes before everything was quiet and the fire just seemed to burst forward like that.

The firemen hoisted the answer in the rear where the flames were being lapped hungrily at timber clothes stored in the attic and on the first floor

In town from dodo to 7000 gallons of water pouring under pressure in three hoses to put out the fire Standing by was the fourth of seven hoses, to protect the Tannas Building in case of emergency The water was used wisely, concentrated to the rear right at the source of fire and by the time we do so by Fire Chief Phil Germain was a wise one.

It said extensive damage to the stock of furs and toys in the store to a $1.00 store from unnecessary damage However, the $75,000 stock suffered some smoke and heat damage Plaster toys at the rear, the front, away from the fire melted almost completely from the intensity of the conflagration.

After the front windows were broken an accumulation of gas and smoldering smoke prevented firemen from entering When they did, $450.00 in cash and cheques was recovered The greater part of it was in a box under the counter and the holders of the cash register At closing time $1300.00 was on hand, but it was reduced by payroll of employees. Mrs Paquette, a clerk took possession of the money in the presence of RCMP

The building owned by Mr T. C. Ashworth suffered about $15,000 of damage, including wiring and heating system. The heating system was located at the rear where the fire originated

No estimate yet has been given on the amount. Mrs Beauty Parlor operating in the building and owned by Lucy Arseneault suffered water damage when sponge through the ceiling knocked down plaster All were insured

After the fire was under control, in the absence of the store manager, Mrs Charron, and the sale promoter Mr Rube Goldstein who had left at about 6:30 p.m. for Edmonton to spend the week-end with his family, Bruno Fris

St. Paul Holiday Paradise

[illegible] annual vacation-seeking [illegible] Fishing starts early and is at its best in the spring when hungry fish reach out to the [illegible] waters for food and lures of the fisherman [illegible] and water sports follow as the summer sun warms up the clear blue waters of our many lakes. When the cool of September sets in, there is further sporting pleasure in our golden fields, where local and migrating ducks provide the hunter with one of the keenest sports found in the world.

The Jaycees have been plugging the paradise theme at provincial conventions and this year another Lloydminster with a flood of suggestive pointers on making St. Paul a tourist's fishing paradise. With time the idea is bound to catch on and if followed through will be a boon to the town and district.

We are pleased to go along with a publicity program this week, being stimulated by the Department of Economic Affairs throughout the province. They have asked all the workers to furnish as much data as possible about the lakes and locales attractive to the local sportsmen. From this will be compiled booklets for interested purposes and the information found in it used where ever practical in the overall provincial tourist promotion program.

Dog Fight In Court

You could almost visualize clashing teeth and snarled lungs at the defence and the prosecution squirmed off in a "Dog Fight", over the construction of two dogs up here affidavits.

The case was brought out into the open by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, who were acting on private [illegible] complaints from several residents of summer cabin [illegible] in a warm, home affair, but as was pointed out by Mr. Whitney McIver the SPCA should be a [illegible] look into [illegible] matter.

There was of course some splitting of hairs over a few cats and [illegible] but [illegible] fees. The [illegible] of summer [illegible] to [illegible] how dogs were treating a neighbours [illegible] to [illegible] and in [illegible] finally justified in carrying out the duty of [illegible] putting [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] boys and [illegible] with the Town By-Law [illegible] with [illegible].

We suppose there is going to be a lot of howling about this once again, but [illegible] not go barking up the wrong tree.

There's too big a lack of humanity [illegible] humanity itself. Let's look [illegible] that social problem first before going to the dogs

CHAMBER RE-ORGANIZES

Hints On How To Live Through The Summer Without Mishap

When the warm rays of the fusion through sea of extreme summer finally break up the last of a whimp of joy at the prize crumbs of winter, we all first rays of sunshine and blossom a new spirit and dash the dull dark shelf back of the garden or dust out of the sunshine. A welcome relief from cooler, brooding days, people seem to feel somewhat as the animals that want to accommodate the hoard, and we want to accommodate the hoard. Ladies are more apt to appear in their best bathing suits and the fire hose boys are more faithful in exercising their duties at the swimming holes, through the months ahead.

As spring progresses, however, and the novelty of the season wears off, we are apt to become careless and forget the simple rules of safety. Many of these rules are simple common sense, but they are important enough to be repeated from time to time.

Little lessons will head for swimming regions drink safe water that is unpolluted. Avoid the water for at least one hour after eating a meal. Avoid getting overheated by the sun. Use suntan lotion, sensibly. Avoid and refuse to swim alone.

Summer is filled with these delightful potential death traps called the long weekend. Police are anxious to get the time of every person who drowns. Most of these people appear young to neighborhood swimming holes. Many are non-swimmers. Many are overconfident swimmers who have overestimated their ability. Many are drinkers who have had a few too many beers. Many are non-swimmers who have ventured out on a boat without life preservers. Many are persons who have been stricken with cramps. Many are persons who have been overcome by the heat. Many are persons who have been overcome by the heat. Many are persons who have been overcome by the heat.

First on the list of HOW TO LIVE THROUGH THE SUMMER is the advice to take things easy at the start. Don't rush into the water. Don't dive in. Don't go in the deep water. Don't go in the deep water. Don't go in the deep water.

Another thing to remember is that the sun is very strong. Don't go in the sun. Don't go in the sun. Don't go in the sun.

Don't go in the water. Don't go in the water. Don't go in the water.

Don't go in the water. Don't go in the water. Don't go in the water.

WATER SKIING AT ST. VINCENT

For those who prefer to live dangerously, St. Paul and district lakes have the facilities and are perfect for one of the most exhilarating water sports—skimming along the surface riding the waves with a cool refreshing breeze. Here is a scene taken at Lake St. Vincent, boasted the Lakeseeme speed boat, with Perry in the wake. John Bykewich also provides water skiing and surfboard riding at Long Lake.

St. Vincent Lake Summer Resort For Most Residents Of District

To immediate resident St. Vincent Lake is a Sunday Beach resort which draws huge crowds every summer weekend to sun bath along the width of its sandy shores.

St. Vincent provides a recreation for both the fishermen and those inclined to enjoy the sandy beach for relaxation

It has gradual slopes into the waters, providing maximum safety for children to play and romp in. Out in the shallow waters, the center of the beach, Mr. Joe Pratch has provided a slide for the kiddies to play on hour upon hour. A diving board for the older ones and the adults is a source of relaxation for those who wish to make use of it at no charge whatsoever

Out of its fresh water, tested and recommended as excellent to drink good edible jack fish are caught by trolling or casting. Perch abound in the shallows of the reeds where an active school of thousands can be seen in the waters and followed with a simple hook until it is snapped in full view for a real thrill

Attempts were made two years ago to lock the lake with pickerel, and although a rare one is hooked occasionally the lake seems unsuitable to their full survival

The rear side of the lake is on the south side and bears the name of St. Paul Beach Summer Cottages are provided by a reasonable rental, are set-up to the cottage owners along up the beach. Most are privately owned and families from outside who prefer life on water skis in a trailing cottage. The waters are safe for most of the summer and ideal for water skiing all kind.

The lake has 12 miles of shore line, averages 16 feet of depth and has a good rock bottom formation to bathe and recuperate. For a long stay beach, there is a cafe to be found on a number of lots around the lake.

Mr. Joe Pratch is the Pioneer who owns the water resort. He rents furnished cabins for those who prefer

Lake St. Vincent is indeed a lake to take the family out for a few hours afternoon. The kids can have plenty of fun on the beaches . . . mom can relax in the shade of its shore line of trees, on the beach from where she can keep a good lookout . . . while daddy can putter away in his outboard motor boat for an usually successful few hours of quiet fishing on its peaceful waters and heading into a maze of attractive bays and inlets

BEAUTIFUL BOATING SETTING

A spin in a motorboat is one of the most refreshing and relaxing recreations on a warm day And you can do just this in the thousands of small and large lakes in the St. Paul district which offer this opportunity. All are within close range of the convenience of a modern town. Above is a scene on St. Vincent Lake.

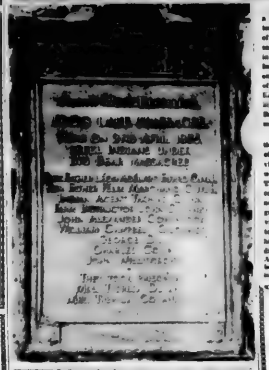
HISTORICAL FROG LAKE



Our historical background is a colorful one filled with interesting events. Among one of the more notable is the discovery memoirs of Frog Lake in 1866 when a segment of Indians under Big Bear went on the rampage. In an offshoot of the Riel Rebellion at Duck Lake and killed 9 white men at a small hamlet Hudson's Bay Trading Post, roughly 60 miles east of St. Paul.

After many years and petitions from the Historical Society of Alberta, to the Provincial Government, the site was marked and restricted. There now stands a stone cairn in memory of these pioneer martyrs and a miniature graveyard seen above. Tourists visiting the district are directed to this interesting piece of history as well as many in the district who have not seen it. A good network of roads have been built into the area and it is easily accessible.

Long Lake Located Along Highway 28 Very Popular As Fishing Place

Long Lake is one of the most congested fishing areas in the district for many good reasons than one. Firstly it is conveniently located on Highway 28, about 22 miles north east of St. Paul, secondly and a very important factor, the quality and the quantity of fish are above average, and thirdly, it is one of the quietest and safest lakes to venture out on

Long Lake the white man's name for it, properly named Kethowuk, is located on a Cree Indian Reserve of the same name Not more than three-quarters of a mile at its maximum width and a quarter of a mile in its narrowest limits, the lakes snakes its way in a valley some miles long and parallel to Highway 28

The fish which turn up in abundance on the lines whether trolling or casting are a delicacy Their meat is of the firmest and flavor the best. Because of this unique factor Long Lake has often been the subject of riveting surveys by biologist and naturalist trying to determine just why the fish never get wormy (in nearly all lakes this occurs in a regular cycles) and thrives to reproduce so prolifically The answer, at least has never been officially divulged.

The lake has been used for the past two years as a supply depot for transplanting into other lakes. Pickerel and Jacks have been moved to the Vermilion Park Lake to Hart Lake and Cheechomold, Myraam, wiche... basically restocking its fishing potentialities

There is also a good supply of the small perch.

For the past six years, the resort site of Long Lake has been under the management of young John Bykewich of Elk Point who is the owner of the place. He has a fleet of 22 boats 12 motors and rents with or without of the services of tourist.

On the weekends he is always completely sold out with a waiting line on the shore. Week days are also extremely busy. Besides the boat service John runs a small concession stand, caters to campers and operates a water taxi service in a fast speed boat at the disposal of tourist who may like to do some water skiing or surf board riding

The steep cliff-like and rocky banks of the lake are ideal campsights to good beaches and there are very few spots for mosquitoes or beach playboys.

Long Lake is recommended by fishermen only. Although its scenic setting presents much in the way of natural beauty To the bird lover it offers an abundance of wild life and numerous picturesque secluded its shore. The season opens on Victoria Day, and Mr Bykewich and resident there until Labor Day.

Mr Bykewich operates the resort with the help of his wife and two sons age 9 and 11 and a daughter. They moved out to the site in summer but reside in Elk Point during the winter where John operates a service station.

Seibert (Worm) Lake Considered Best Fishing Lake In District But Almost Impossible To Reach

Among one of the more popular fishing resorts in this district is Seibert Lake (better known as Worm Lake).

It has never been recommended very much since the northern lakes have come on stream recently north of St. Paul has acquired the name. The theory is advanced by some that the whitefish, netted for commercial purposes only, has a tendency to worms in irregular cycles.

Whatever the reason it does not appear true in the fact that there is waters come across of the biggest catches of any lake in this locality.

It is not uncommon for a fisherman to land a 20-lb. jack fish (Northern Pike) on a hook. Twenty-five pounders take the boat fairly regularly, with the average catch between 10 and 15 lbs. and they're fine fighting game, give no even some sport. The lake is also known for its abundance in pickerel which range from 2 to 3 lbs. The small perch, found in great numbers are completely overlooked and ignored upon by the fishermen who go for the big ones only.

The only disadvantage with this northern fishing paradise is the difficulty to get to during certain seasons of the year. In spring when the fishing is at its best hardly fishermen are known to have made the trek, fording rivers, building bridges and wrestling themselves out of the quagmire of mud which makes it nearly inaccessible.

It is 68 miles north of St. Paul by way of either Glendon, Goodridge and Truman to where the road is in good condition. From there 18 miles wind their way through picturesque bush on a trail of sand, a former lumber camp road. The last three miles are an absolute course of mudding, impossible to surmount during the rainy season, but very good in dry weather. But a fisherman who likes to rough it for a big fishing reward, does not mind an obstacles prove from the number who habitually make the trip.

The main objective is on the south shore where T.N. Rocheleau has operated a lumber camp and mill. There are good camping ground facilities but tourist going into the area should preferably have a guide and be well equipped for the outdoor. The lake is rough in adverse weather and sometimes a sudden storm will have a fishing party ashore to spend the night. The lake has a surface of about six miles by nine.

There is a forest ranger on or on the east shore, and a few Indian trappers make their living around Worm Lake.

The Lake is in an area where over 100 Elk were planted several years ago. They are reported doing well according to last reports. Hunters and trigger happy poachers are however, warned not to molest them under heavy penalty of law prevailing the particular season.

A fishing trip to Worm Lake, at any time, is a challenge to the enthusiastic fisherman. If you are one of them, and enjoy the great outdoors we recommend Worm Lake, and know you will enjoy every bit of the trip and most especially the out-of-this-world catches.

A HUNTERS' PARADISE

When summer vacationists have wound and the countryside changes its colors to the golden hues of the fall, sportsmen answer the call of the wild duck, which attracts them to the lakes, marshes and a myriad of inland "spots" where land and migrating ducks converge. Field shooting in this district is excellent. As the birds fly out to their feed on the grainfields, duck flights close to town and easily accessible for the delight of evening sharpshots. Muskrats are mostly on the moon during this month, abundant green heads. Lake shooting brings down all variety of game birds. Ontario fishermen (Cold Lake provides good near lot accommodations with its above line of cabins and in town—two modern hotels and up to date real dresses. It is only four miles from the RCAF's CF-100 jet training station, the largest unit in Canada.

RCAF Cold Lake Base To Host Public At Annual Airforce Day

The next two weeks will have been a busy one for the personnel of the Cold Lake RCAF Station on Saturday, June 8th, as the special guests of the Air Force. All are welcome for a pleasant holiday week-end are being made for your comfort.

Continuing with our educational program, we are this week featuring data on Air Defence Command and Canada's participation therewith.

AIR DEFENCE COMMAND

The RCAF has many individual duties and responsibilities, but none is more important than that of Air Defence Command. This Command is responsible for the air defence of Canada, a vital, highly complex task calling for the finest available aircraft, equipment and personnel.

Before and during the Second World War, fighter squadrons formed a part of the home-based defence forces. During the war, however, the question of enemy bomber attack on Canadian and North American targets was of only secondary importance. Today, of course, the danger is a while at the same time keeping a balance of power for the rainbow of the nations of the world.

Among the many roles of the RCAF's Air Transport Command is the re-supply of Arctic weather stations and outposts scattered across the roof of North America. Here, at an Arctic "field", a North Star transport aircraft unloads its cargo of food and supplies.

RCAF Plays Important Role In Defence Of Possible Attack

prime one, and calls for the diversion of large resources to provide the means of warning of the approach of enemy bombers, their location and obstruction.

The RCAF's post-war plans called for fighter forces to form the major operational element of the Service. In 1936 the headquarters that was to control these forces came into being. This was Air Defence Group, formed initially as a planning group by Air Force Headquarters and moved shortly after to St Hubert, outside Montreal, to present location.

Originally few in numbers, its first aircraft were Vampire jets and Mustang P-51s, World War vintage Pleiis were underway, however, for production of Lodos and more efficient types—the F-86 Sabre and the CF-100 Canuck, and even a few of the Vampire squadrons formed, time tables were being drawn up for the re-equipping of later squadrons with these two types.

The decision to expand the RCAF after the outbreak of the Korean conflict and to provide a 12-squadron Air Division for NATO, had its effects on Air Defence Command. It was decided that as fast as F-86 Sabres came off the production line at Canadair Ltd., at Montreal, they would replace the Vampire jets which were then being flown by Regular Force squadrons, and also to use them to equip new squadrons.

These squadrons were to be brought to a standard of operational efficiency by ADC, and then dispatched to the UK and Europe, to form the Air Division there. The programme called for a number of Sabre squadrons to be in Canada until the first CF-100 Canuck squadrons had formed. These Canuck squadrons during 1957 three more CF-100 squadrons are being formed to bring to 12 the total number of Canada-based CF-100 squadrons.

The Canuck, which is playing such an important role in our air defence plans, was designed and produced in Canada by Avro Aircraft, of Malton, Ontario, to meet particular RCAF requirements for Canadian air defence. There were no other fighters available which could meet the requirements, so it was necessary to design and produce one in Canada. Canada engines, which powers the CF-100, was also designed and produced here.

Now in operational service, the Orenda 2 Canuck is an improved version of previously-produced types, and a growing itself a reliable addition to Canadian defence. CF-100s are equipped with a new type fire control system permitting more accurate attack procedures than are possible with a manually controlled aircraft.

However capable it may be today, no fighter aircraft remains in front line plane indefinitely. The RCAF, together with Canada's aircraft industry, is constantly seeking through a continual programme of research and development, more effective means of defending Canadian skies.

In addition to its fighter squadrons, ADC controls two operational advanced training establishments. These are the Operational Training Units at Chatham, N.B., and Cold Lake, Alberta. The Chatham OTU provides conversion to Sabre jets and tactical training for pilots who have just won their wings, and for veteran pilots going on to jet operations. The Cold Lake OTU, at Cold Lake, carries out a similar training course with the Canuck all-weather fighter aircraft.

The fighter squadrons equipped with the best aircraft available make up the most spectacular part of ADC. They form the knockout punch for invading enemy bombers, but equally important is the early warning and ground control systems, and the Ground Observer Corps.

An important part of ADC is the network of early warning stations which stand on guard to detect possible enemy bombers. These stations require a tremendous amount of highly complex equipment, and call for special skills by the personnel who man them. The construction, usually in isolated areas, is slow and expensive. One early warning system, the "Pinetree Line", is complete, a second, the "Mid-Canada Line" is now in the final stages of construction and will be in operation on January 1, 1957, stretching along the 55th parallel of latitude. Construction of the third, the "Distant Early Warning Line" is underway in the Sub-Arctic.

In addition to early warning systems there must be a method of directing the interceptors to their targets. A change of course by the invaders could result in the defenders failing to intercept them. A communication system to permit the squadrons to receive continuous direction from the ground is therefore a necessary part of the early warning network.

The men and women of Air Defence Command know the importance of their task. They realize that aircraft and equipment are, though the best in the world means nothing unless it is matched with courage, skill and determination. They realize their jobs are to maintain a watch, day and night, to detect a possible invader; and by constant training and practice, be ready to seek out and destroy him. It's a job calling for teamwork and for high individual qualities, and those making up the RCAF's ADC are showing that they have everything the job demands.

RCAF ON THE ALERT

Sabres of the RCAF's No. 1 Fighter Wing at Zweibrucken, Germany, await the order to "scramble". During an exercise "alert". Another squadron of the stock join them overhead. The Sabre, built in Canada and equipped with an Orenda engine, are the RCAF's standard day fighters at home and abroad.

Another Whopper

How would you like to catch a fish as tall as a man? There it is displayed by Mr. E. Hartland, Ont., as we'll admit there is some deception. The picture is actually a trick shot taken by Dr. Trower, President of the Fish and Game Association of St. Paul. The fish is suspended and also in the camera trick Mr. Hartland is standing in the background pretending to hold the fish at just the right angle for the lenses.

ETIQUETTE

There are unwritten laws about golf which when followed makes the game more enjoyable for all concerned Below are several of the rules which should be considered.

GAME TO PLAY

To start a round of golf, the order of teeing off may be determined by a toss of a coin or by agreement, but players are usually smart enough to settle the manner of the first hole long before the first tee is reached. The fewest holfers and so on Should hole be Lost, the number of the previous hole retains his honor He does so until he is beat on any one hole.

IT'S THE HILL

Golfers liven upon disturbances of any idle chatter which tends to upset the player as he makes his stroke. Do not attempt to walk a ball, pick out a club or remain at Stand well back and face the player as he tees While one

Town Works Foreman Charged For Cruelty To Animals By The SPCA, Case Heard In Court Action

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals acting upon the complaint of a St. Paul resident charged cruelty against the Town Works Foreman, Mr. Phil Germain for the destruction of two dogs under three months old, and opened prosecution at a court case in St Paul before Magistrate Gauvreau, Monday afternoon.

The SPCA was represented by Mr. Johnny Hammoudi, former resident of St. Paul who is on transport for the Society.

The prosecution built its case around the alleged fact that the two Dalmation-Fincher dogs belonging to Mr. Marcel Dechman were under three months old and consequently out of the Town's jurisdiction because at that age the animals are not dogs for legal purposes but pups.

Several witnesses testifying on the age of the dogs, including Mr. Dechman, a former owner of could only establish the approximate date of birth.

The two dogs, from evidence given at the trial, were left by its owner, Mr. Dechman in the care of Mr. Leslie Bivey. They were penned under a porch by Mr. Bivey betting during the month of February.

Mr Gerrgan testifying to the charges laid against him said that from early complaints by Dechman, a warrant had been issued to Mr Dechman concerning the control of the dogs, and the necessity of purchasing licenses for them.

There was no response from the owner who on or about that time left for Edmonton leaving a dog bearing the dogs in the custody of Mr Bivey for about a week, according to the testimony of Mr Germain, complaints were received by the town to act on the destruction of packs of dogs terrifying children and worrying adults. It was alleged the dogs were a nuisance in the neighborhood for the two bitches under the porch BCMP were contacted by Mr Germain who was advised to act upon the power given to him by the By-law. He approached Mr Bivey to have the animals removed from the town, but the latter said he was only instructed to feed them and would not take any action.

Mr Germain with the help of his assistant removed the dogs from the premises and disposed of them at the dump ground with a firearm, on February 28. The prosecution was handled by Sergeant Hutton, acting for the crown. He brought out the fact that the dogs were a menace per personal in and under control at the time they were destroyed. He pointed out that no direct evidence established the fact the two dogs were the cause of attraction for the congregation of other canines.

Mr Lagasse, Town Solicitor in his summation for the defendant Mr. Germain's right to act in accordance with the power given him by the by-law and the fact that the municipality completely established closely the dogs were a menace of nuisance. Because of the absence of owners, the dogs were not under effective control, but actually neglected and abandoned, although they were being fostered by a few homes, periodically by a neighbor.

Magistrate Gauvreau deferred his decision on the case until June the 8th at 10:00 a.m.

Roberts Tries Out With Eskimos

Did you see Garth Robert's picture, big as life in a double column spread in the Edmonton Journal of Tuesday night? Garth who is a coach of the St. Paul Baseball Club sparked the locals to a win the Eastern Alberta Baseball League Trophy last year, and is currently whipping the boys into shape with a good showing on district ball is trying out with the Eskimos, a attempt had been assisted to Mr Dechman concerning the control of the dogs, and the necessity of purchasing licenses for them.

We know Garth has a lot of talent, and although we'd hate to lose him, we hope he makes good with the city team.

Social Crediters Attack Liberal Foreign Policy

Reierson Speaks On Behalf Of McPhail

Mr Archie McPhail Social Credit Candidate for the Federal Constituency of Athabasca, introduced himself and spoke at a rally in the St Paul Parish Hall, Tuesday evening. He was a co-speaker with Hon Reierson who spoke on his behalf and the record of the Alberta Government

Mr McPhail described himself as a descendant of a pioneer family, born on a Manitoban farm. He was employed for 26 years in the oil industry and is well known throughout Alberta as an organizer for the Social Credit movement. He is married with one son.

He told his audience not to believe all the rumors Alberta Rebsell League Trophy last year, and is currently whipping the boys into shape with a good showing on district ball is trying out with the Eskimos, a attempt had been assisted to Mr Dechman concerning the control of the dogs, and the necessity of purchasing licenses for them.

There was no response from the owner who on or about that time left for Edmonton leaving a dog bearing the dogs in the custody of Mr Bivey for about a week, according to the testimony of Mr Germain, complaints were received by the town to act on the destruction of packs of dogs terrifying children and worrying adults. It was alleged the dogs were a nuisance in the neighborhood for the two bitches under the porch BCMP were contacted by Mr Germain who was advised to act upon the power given to him by the By-law. He approached Mr Bivey to have the animals removed from the town, but the latter said he was only instructed to feed them and would not take any action.

Mr Germain with the help of his assistant removed the dogs from the premises and disposed of them at the dump ground with a firearm, on February 28. The prosecution was handled by Sergeant Hutton, acting for the crown. He brought out the fact that the dogs were a menace per personal in and under control at the time they were destroyed. He pointed out that no direct evidence established the fact the two dogs were the cause of attraction for the congregation of other canines.

Mr Lagasse, Town Solicitor in his summation for the defendant Mr. Germain's right to act in accordance with the power given him by the by-law and the fact that the municipality completely established closely the dogs were a menace of nuisance. Because of the absence of owners, the dogs were not under effective control, but actually neglected and abandoned, although they were being fostered by a few homes, periodically by a neighbor.

Magistrate Gauvreau deferred his decision on the case until June the 8th at 10:00 a.m.

St. Paul Fourth Annual Bull Sale Brings Good Prices As Lively Bidding Carried On By Buyers

Twenty-five animals were knocked down across the auction block by Don Ball of Edmonton in the fourth annual St Paul Bull Sale, the first to be held in the spring The average of $230.40 for the sale of twenty-five out of 30 animals listed compared well with the prices paid in Vermilion and Lloydminster and considered very satisfactory by the local promoters — the St Paul Agricultural Society

The only entry of the Blue Hill Hereford Ranch, Bacon, Blue Hill Royal Domino, a Hereford bull, just born years old was Grand championship of the bonza and was sold for the highest price, bringing $385.00 to its owner, Mr. Fernand Bacon. Purchaser of the animal was Mr. Jacques Charbonneau of St. Lina who also listed a free animals of his own to sell.

Reserve Champion was won by Albert Tourville of Bonnyville, showing Simmie Simpkin, a yearling calf which later sold to J Donald Rose of Rife for $250.00.

In the Shorthorn Bulls, the Champion was Grandma Horsman, owned by Neil Poulsen of Grande Centre, Reserve, Hildergrade Landmark owned by Marshall M Samoil of Lavoy in the Hereford females, Bill Sutton of St. Lina took first and second with Excel Gay Lass and Mary's Lassie; Aberdeen Angus Prince of Ellesmeres, J. Vic Lafrance and Athabasca Julien, J Rudolphe Lafrance

The twelve Hereford bulls averaged $300.00, five Hereford females, $260.00; nine Shorthorn bulls, $211.00

The highest shorthorn bull, Granahi, Horseman, exhibited by Nelis Poulsen of Grand Centre sold for $360.00 to T C Ashworth of St Paul; high female Hereford Excel Gay Lass, Bill Sutton, brought down $325.00 on a bid by Lee Plante of St. Paul.

Mr. Wm Mood, Livestock Commissioner for Alberta opened the sale and turned over the block to Don Ball for the auction. Judging duties were performed by Bill Yule of Edmonton.

The Sale Committee wishes to express its appreciation for the co-operation of the local auctioneers, Lafrance and Hannan who were taking the bids as well as the clerks, T. Joly, Andre Joly and Ken Cote of Athabasca.

Henry Charron Supplies Cattle And Fast Calves

Henry Charron, Livestock Dealer and Rancher, supplemented the Wednesday Valley 150 head of steers with a herd of cattle and calves for the St. Paul Rodeo. Valley's contract agreed to supply only the bucking horses, steers and brahma bulls.

We don't know how Henry goes about training his stock for stampede, but the cows were plenty wild and gave the milkers a tough time for their money. The calves, cursed by some riders for their small size, were tricky and surprised more than one cowboy by slipping through the loop, after what looked like a good throw Size did not diminish their spirit as they continued to fight and twist adding tying time and in some instances accomplished right back on their feet before the judge could get near. Showmanship, they contained.

The Agricultural Society has special word of thanks to Henry for his co-operation in the use of stock for the Rodeo.

LEAD COLORFUL RODEO PARADE

Riding up to any occasion, Hon. Roy Reierson, our venerable M.L.A. and Minister of Industries and Labor (middle), who continues to lead the way in the colorful parade of the St. Paul Rodeo. With Hon. Reierson and member of the A.G. are Mayor Jules Van Brabant and Chairman of the rodeo for the Agricultural Society.

Vold Turns Out Stock Of High Class Broncos and Wild Texas Brahma Bulls

The St Paul Agricultural Society made no mistake when it undertook to promote a Rodeo The first such professional event in the history of St. Paul, proved true to advance billing, bringing to town a top western show which unfolded under clear skies, before a record attendance of over 6,000 patrons from every part of the district.

For two days the six chutes of the new corral poled out an uninterrupted string of the tough broncos, Brahma bulls, steers, ridden by Canada's foremost rodeo performers, provoking a thrilling combination of western entertainment with suspense and spills by the minute

The show was sponsored by the St. Paul Agricultural Society in connection with their centenary and producer, Mr Harry Vold of Dewinton, Alberta. The young 33-year old rancher and cattle breeder who hailed from the foothill country, 30 miles south of Calgary, lived up to his reputation and was highly complimented for the calibre of stock featured in the rodeo.

Mr Marcel Bulnil, Rodeo Manager for the Society, is equally responsible for the success of the show, along with his committees for the events of the week carnivals, shows and other facilities, provided for the entertainment of the rodeo which ran from Monday to Wednesday during the entire two days.

PARADE OPENS RODEO

Although overcast skies threatened to dampen the festivities, it was dispelled by a warm sun, pouring through clear skies to usher up the show with a western parade at noon Members of St. Paul's RCMP detachment took the lead followed by Donna Wolfenbarger and her majorettes with flashing twirling batons, reflecting the sun. The RCAF band set the pace with a lively march while a formation of jets proclaimed the activities from the skies.

Color bearers astride spirited ponies necessitated the western touch, followed by Hon. Roy Reierson, M.L.A. and Minister in western style. Henry Vold and Marcel Bulnil rode with their cohorts of cowboys.

The Ravy Cadet Band from Blue Quill's Indian Residential School was amidship swinging along in precision manner, while western music was supplied on the rear by Eddie's Rhythm Pals.

A number of other floats completed the pageant—an entry by the Blue Hill Hereford Ranch, Agricultural Society with a Princess' log shack theme; St. Paul Jaycees, plugging a fishing paradise, Elk Point Chamber of Commerce all out to advertise the Golden Jubilee Celebration, June 14th, with a colorful pageant parade, more cowboys, caravans and an entry by the Royal Canadian Sheets

As two sidelights on the dot the Rodeo started after an official welcome by Mayor Jules Van Brabant who introduced the Hon Reierson, Minister of Industries and Labor, (quite a cowboy at heart although he had a little trouble with a pressure jeep in the parade) to get the event under way very gracefully with due congratulations to Mr Vold and the St Paul Agricultural Society for their fine promotion and sporting spirit.

PRIZES AWARDED

With indescribable cowl, the show was on in a hurry with Jack Mackintosh, representative of the Department of Tourism, on hand to present the prizes and congratulations to the winners, giving a number of cash awards in addition to the prizes paid in Vermilion and Lloydminster and considered very satisfactory by the local promoters — the St Paul Agricultural Society

Ashmont Ceremonies Mark Official Opening New Centralized School

Official opening ceremonies of the new centralized Ashmont School were under way at 1 p.m May 30th, when Mr W E Gullion in the presence of a large crowd cut the ribbon at the entrance of the $250,000.00 modern building, erected by Car-Ouells Construction of St Paul.

An impressive array of speakers were among them the Hon. Ray Reierson, Minister of Industries and Labor who called to speak. The general trend of all addresses lauded out the great advantages of a consolidated school system, in comparison with the "little red school" system, example of which was found in Ashmont with the opening of a modern school reminiscent of school children with the same courses and on equal terms to residents of the cities and the larger centres.

Mr. Reierson, while bringing greetings from Premier Manning, Hon Reier Pudlet expressed pleasure to recognize many St. Paul pioneers and descendants of some of his old Quebec friends.

He praised Mr. Dechene as one of the more eloquent members of parliament a Social who is energetic and good servant of the people deserving of eastern Alberta.

Among the travellers were Mrs. Lionel Pearson, Mrs. Joe O'Driscoll, Mrs. Jacques Champagne, Mrs. Jos Bertolet, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Beaudoin, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Beaudoin.

Senator Speaks For J. M. Dechene

Accompanied by J. Harper Prevision from Premier Manning, Senator Pouliot expressed pleasure to recognize many St. Paul pioneers and descendants of some of his old Quebec friends.

Exercise Voting Right

The political campaign in the Federal Constituency of Athabasca for the June 10 election is winding up.

It has not been a big hectic one. As a matter of fact, it turned out to be rather quiet and subdued. Whatever the politicians called rallies or meetings only handfuls of the real interested turned out to listen to the issues presented by the candidates.

Here in St Paul we have heard the Liberal side and the Social Credit angle. The Progressive Conservative Candidate and the CCF representative made cursory visits as town but called no meetings, preferring the policies of their respective parties as far as this town is concerned, aloof.

The Liberals erected their political platform on the fact that no party in Canada apart from the Liberals is able to form a stable government for the nation and pointed out that voters, especially farmers in western Canada can best be served by a strong liberal administration in power with representation in the western provinces. Quarter parties can only hope to present any solution. A factor the Liberals say would lead to chaos and anarchy.

The Social Creditors on the other hand, without fail stand with the time record of Alberta and British Columbia, pointing out that if they were elected in majority to form a federal government, the same prosperity which exists in Alberta could be provided on a national scale. They criticized social and welfare programs, financial and foreign policies, they claim is leading Canada down the road of destruction and threatening peace.

For be it for us to tell you who to vote for, but we hope that as conscientious Canadian citizens, you have made it your duty to study the issues and reason them out rationally in order to chose the man who is likely to do the most for you. Federally for the Constituency of Athabasca.

Don't be one of those fellows who has it all figured out and assumes one party is bound to win and there is no need to vote, or that the other is going to lose, and what's the use. Elections are strangely unpredictable despite all the wise predictions and gallop poll forecasts. Make sure you vote. Express your democratic franchise which is the only sure means of protecting your freedom by electing a representative who speaks for the majority and not only a segment of the society.

Ballots are to be marked with a single X, opposite the name of the man of your choice

Good Western Show

The St Paul Agricultural Society made a big gamble and it paid off. When the decision of a rodeo for St. Paul was promised by Harry Vold early this winter there was some apprehension. And rightly so, because the Society remembering well the reverses in its Fair promotions the past four years, just wasn't too sure of itself.

However faced with a pressing financial problem of repaying debentures up for payment in the coming bonded by president Rodolphe Lafrance agreed that a new type of entertainment was needed, something attractive something the public wanted.

From the results of the two-day St. Paul Rodeo held on Friday and Saturday May 31st and June 1st, the gamble paid off for this year, and although there will not be a tremendous profit due to the capital expenditure of new corrals and necessary improvements for the affair, the enthusiasm with which the show was received heralds well for the future and it is expected larger crowds will attend next year. The Society hopes to make it an annual event.

The success of the St. Paul Rodeo depended, of course primarily on the weather, and for the first time in many years the Agricultural Society got the break it deserved. The first part of June is ever the red ideal for such a performance. It is a time of the year when the heavy rains have not started, the parkway lacking for an outing after winter confinement. Being billed as one of the first major attractions of the year in the district it acts as a card raising factor in favor of booking it early in the summer season with endurers and performances and events compared to the middle of summer when the entertainment season is in full swing and demand heavy on photo-

Mr Harry Vold, of DeWinton, Alberta, stock contractor and his cowboys and girls ran the St Paul show as a young man of his years. He fulfilled to the letter, without contract, all he promised the Agricultural Society and more in the line of stock providing high class western entertainment.

Thirty-three years old, this western business man lived up to his name of Vold, honest and straight. His main mission was passing the first end in order to make his rodeo even better next year. He was also very generous with the spectators and did many small kindnesses during this first year of organization.

There was no question on the ability of his hitching stock, the calibre of riders he guaranteed and the conduct of his hands he took personal responsibility for. Apart from two duds, during the entire two days, every bucking horse passing out of the chute was a rip snortin' bronc taxing the riders ability to the limit.

We can personally vouch for the fearlessness of the Brahma Bulls who care nothing for cowboy and even an Editor when their come ringsang out of the chutes maddened by the confinement. While we were at the arena watching the procedure with all eye for a picture, a great big, heavy shouldered snorting Brute, aggravated by the puny cowboys trying to put a rope around its flanks to ride him, broke out of the chute No 4 and came thundering in for the kill. At the time we were looking the other way but when cowboys started to disperse like scared rabbits around us, we ventured a look back and low and behold, two-feet away was a charging two-ton monster of flesh called "Mussolini, billed as one of the toughest on the circuit. Not being a Bull Fighter by trade, the Editor had no choice but to stretch out in one of the fastest sprints of his career. With the fences not crowded with scurrying cowboys, the only refuge was about fifty yards away . . . and beg but we make tracks for it. Cheering section . . . Believe you me having one of those Brahmas breathing down your back and the threat of a horn in the rear will convert my editor-photographer plus a track champion in no time flat.

Another man greatly responsible for the smooth operation of the Rodeo was Marcel Brisi Marcel, an experienced organizer of unlimited energy, was appointed manager by the Society and took full control of the place, acting for the sponsors. It required a lot of time and hard work. Direction of the corrals was a major proposition, but it was done on schedule and according to detailed specifications of the Cowboys Protective Association's plans. The corrals are acclaimed as the best found in the smaller centres and many of the cowboys expressed extreme satisfaction at their newly constructed, smooth operation of the chute gates. Except for a few timed flay downs by exceptionally vicious horses, they rated well. Behind the scenes, a crew of Bill Sutton, Robert Gerlitz, Leo Jolinette and Gerry Pominas stood by with carpenter tools for emergency repairs. Fortunately, the show ran smoothly with no interruptions.

The Rodeo opened with a lively parade. Although it was not too long, the quality of it was unexcelled. It will be noted here that business men were not asked to participate with the result that a request being reserved for the fancy organizations such as the Legion, Jaycees, were entered. I like part. These folks did made a commendable job of it and along with the Blue Quill's Band of St Paul, St Al Band and the Rhythem Pals who supplied the It was a gala affair with its sense of riders bringing out smiles much.

In charge of the parade were Mr H Hanston, Mr Bill Conroy and Jr Hutchison

The Agricultural Society is grateful for the response of people of this district. It is hoped you have enjoyed the show Next year there is promise for a better rodeo and the only unfortunate inconvenience of the week-end was of adequate seating accomodation—will be rectified with the addition of more grandstand and bleacher space.

Why Not Give Holiday A Break?

It is not easy to get there, though it is only 22 miles away. The road is reminiscent of the days of hard money, when times were really difficult but once you turn off the main pavement road, there are no more danger spots and you will soon settle to a pleasant little town, which is kept clean. The houses are well built, the yards are neat, the trees in good repair

Of course last Sunday was a Sport's Day and people usually put on their best. What struck me particularly was the neatness of the chic of the inhabitants. Blue is the favorite color in Mallaig.

As we drove into the grounds I was delighted with the excellent manner in which the outing had been chosen. Permanent booths are located in orderly line Blood bleachers with strategically placed grandstand were filled to capacity This land measures were announced that the ball game between St Lina and Glendon

The diamond was excellent; the infield had evidently been perched and it was as smooth as Rondrow Park. The only disadvantage is that there is a decided slope in the outfield. The parking facilities are well planned and there is ample room for four hundred cars. Everything has been carefully planned even to the toilet rooms.

The park is not without a name but the contest sponsored by the Athletic Committee will doubtlessly discover a good name soon (If you are interested send in a name to Box 56, Mallaig The prize is $10.00)

The Mallaig Picnic is something to remind one of the good old days The meals in the Parish Hall were served in pleasant surroundings and what a meal! I thought his hostess were energizing but it had to be seen to be believed—chicken, ham, corn, peas and beans pickled beets, dills lettuce and tomatoes, potato salad, jello and whipped cream plus many varieties of dishes and cakes What really had me was the rediculous price of one half a dollar for all you could eat This served with an affability and courtesy that spoke well for the manners of the entire community

After the sumptuous meal, (I didn't eat all I've described, but did have a fine meal) the Saint Paul Dramatic Club game the play, Durand et Durand comic Durand et Durand Auditorium An appreciative audience which filled the hall, thoroughly enjoyed the two and a half hour program

Toastmasters' Recess For Summer Months

In keeping with established policy the St. Paul Toastmasters' Club No. 1818 suspended activities for the summer months at the concluding meeting of the 1956-57 season held in the Lavoie Banquet room on Tuesday, May 21, 1957. Having found the winter months most favorably suited to the objectives of the organization, Toastmasters will meet again in September to resume operations for the 1957-58 season. That the year just concluded has been a successful one there can be no doubt, judging from the members many comments of appreciation and their enthusiastic anticipation of next seasons program.

Briefly, the purpose of Toastmasters is to offer guidance, through a Basic Training Manual and practice, under actual conditions at the weekly meetings.

The chief objectives are:

How to think logically and speak effectively before an audience.

How to listen attentively, evaluate tactfully and receive criticism graciously.

Proper conduct of meetings by parliamentary procedure.

Promotion of good fellowship.

The general objective of Toastmasters might be summarized by the renowned motto: Be Prepared, for in foremost considerations of this training is to prepare members for the many occasions when one might be called to organize a group or communities, present a strong logical argument for some cause, conduct a public meeting or Propose a Toast suitable to the occasion.

In the arrangement of our program each member has an opportunity at every meeting to express himself in some capacity, either in the predominating short impromptu talks, the delivery of a prepared speech or the evaluation of other speeches, and may so he gains experience take his turn in the various functions of the Clubs administration. This plan results in a well rounded expedience so necessary to the development of confidence.

Most assuredly a program such as this is said be found useful in any vocation and must, in almost some respects appeal to the aspirations of any man.

It is regrettable that the formidable barrier of public opinion has discouraged many men from experiencing the benefits and pleasures of expressing themselves to their own satisfaction. However, this can be overcome through Toastmastery. Every man craves self expression, and Toastmastery through their mutual assistance plan can FULFIL that desire.

A Toastmaster.

Air Force Day / June 8th, 1957

Canadians continue to look up with pride and admiration to the World famous RCAF of the Royal Canadian Air Force flashes overhead. Each year on Air Force Day the men, and women serving in Canada and abroad are your hosts at RCAF stations.

Air Force Day is your opportunity to pay tribute to the airmen and airwomen who have maintained a magnificent pattern of loyalty and devotion to duty for over forty years.

RCAF Station Cold Lake

Capt. Seavel

A personal invitation from the Commanding Officer of RCAF Station at Cold Lake is cordially extended to the public of the district to Air Force Day being held at the station on Saturday, June 8th, starting at 1 p.m. This annual event is promoted to provide opportunity for every Canadian to familiarize himself with the operation the RCAF and the role it plays defensively and offensively to protect the peace of the nation and the world.

RCAF Maintains Search, Rescue Facilities And Equipment From Coast To Coast Throughout Canada

From Latitude Columbia to Newfoundland, from the 60th parallel to Canada's Arctic Archipelago men and women of the RCAF search and Rescue organization stand by ready to answer the all of distress.

The imagination of the Canadian people has been stirred time and again by the courage and daring of its members as they have flown or parachuted into the wilderness to save lives. But although search and rescue operations call for skill, experience and extreme devotion to duty, they are made possible basically by a widespread and highly efficient organization rather than to daredevil flying exploits. Behind each successful operation is a carefully planned organization stretching from coast to coast, and able to draw upon all the resources of the RCAF the other Armed Services the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and other governmental agencies.

The St AF is charged with the coordination and supervision of all search and rescue activity in Canada, and with the provision of all primary search and rescue facilities. This includes responsibility for search and rescue operations involving aircraft in distress, marine distress cases on the East and West Coasts of Canada and portions of the Great Lakes as well as a secondary role per-taining to any necessary ground assistance.

"Provision of such any necessary circumstances" usually turns out to be a so-called mercy flight. These flights are undertaken when the job is a life and death matter, and can be handled by no other actual means, including commercial flying organizations. Some of these mercy missions have resulted in the most spectacular operations carried out by SAR, as in the cases of Operation Canon and Operation Double, both Flights [illegible] Pole, [illegible] bring out persons requiring immediate hospital care.

Control originated from each of the major coordinating centres at Torbay, Newfoundland Halifax, N.S., Trenton, Ont., Winnipeg, Edmonton and Vancouver. Aircraft earmarked for every flights or search operations are stationed at Torbay, Newfoundland, Greenwood, N.S., Goose Bay, Labrador, Trenton, Winnipeg, Churchill, Man., Edmonton, Whitehorse, Y.T., and Vancouver, and although planes at these points held for specific search and rescue work are allowed to carry out other duties, they are never allowed to undertake jobs which would prevent them from being instantly ready for their primary responsibility.

The list of primary facilities of the Air Force for search and rescue work also includes helicopters and a number of specially trained airmen, who have been given an intensive course in parachute rescue work near Jasper, Alberta. These men have received at Centre Ste. Jacqueline Green-wood, N.S., Chatham, Ont., Turnhouse, Edmonton, Whitehorse, Yukon and Winnipeg men have been trained upon to parachute from Air Force planes and perform [illegible] distress.

Air Force Day Throughout Canada Celebrated Saturday, June 8th

OTTAWA May 24 RCAF Stations across Canada, in addition to carrying out normal duties, are preparing for Canada's eleventh annual Air Force Day, which will be observed this year on Saturday, June 8.

Air Force Day will be celebrated at RCAF bases overseas, and in Canada 23 stations will be opening their gates and inviting the public to come and see something of their Air Force for themselves.

"Open House", the main feature of the day, will be marked by ground displays of modern RCAF equipment, wherever feasible, by flying displays of jet fighters and interceptors, anti-submarine and transport aircraft, and training planes which will form a large part of the afternoon programmes at most of the RCAF bases.

First held in 1947, Airforce Day was noted by a relatively small number of Canadians as open house was limited to a handful of stations. This year is is expected that hundreds of thousands of Canadians will take advantage of the opportunity to see their Air Force at first hand.

RCAF officials feel that his occasion provides the public with a better understanding of their Air Force, and promotes an even closer relationship between the public and the RCAF.

Men and smoke kits were carried into sites inaccessible by other means of transport by these whirlybirds. They are also vital for use in emergency flights to carry sick and wounded during war time and mercy missions in peace. St. Paul has the greatest concern in aiding its services several times. DIGNITARIES AT OFFICIAL SCHOOL OPENING IN ASHMONT

The new Ashmont School was officially opened last week with ceremonies attended by a number of dignitaries among whom are the Hon Ray Roberts, Minister of Industries and Labor congratulating Mr. Wilfrid Boudreau, Chairman of the St. Paul School Division No. 45 for the completion of a modern building. Also in the front row, left, are Mr Mike Skrepnyk, MP, E. Racette, Mr. W. E. Gullion and Mr J. Bibby. Back row: Messrs. H. Levasseur, John Stevens, Walter Smith, Mike Podhaizki, A. Bismert, Lloyd Cartier, Jack Leake and Bruce Patterson.

Official Opening Of New Ashmont School Held Thursday, May 30th

not when it had been first introduced. But, he said, his government had no choice when it was realized children had to be brought to education and not education to children in remote areas where it was impossible to take care of individual needs adequately.

Parents and ratepayers are now reaching the sound policy of the centralized system which has brought equal opportunity to country and city children, said Mr. Reierson.

It is schools, such as Ashmont, emphasized Mr Reierson, which raise our standard of education and turn out students capable of filling the highly technical positions which our rapidly expanding industrial economy is demanding. We must cultivate a higher field of education and more degrees.

Even the boy who contemplates staying on the farm can learn faster, and poetic verse with a better education.

It was explained how the Provincial Government pays 60 per cent of the cost of schools with grants, thereby subsidizing rural residents in order to bring equality in education.

Mr D Cameron, Registrar for the University of Alberta, further emphasized the value of centralization pointing out by means of a table how the system of education had changed to conform with the needs of the present day times.

The moral of his anecdote lucidly explained how the curriculum of schools are being shaped to take into consideration the different aptitudes of every child, his ability and providing suitable systems of education to meet the requirements of every student.

School is not simply governed by a set of rules, tests and instructions which must be passed randomly, but should offer a diet of academic subjects, with flexible application for the individual personality.

He felt certain that the new Ashmont School, constructed on modern prerequisites of education and would answer and meet the challenge of the Alberta economy in terms human and educational citizens.

Mr A. Bismert, Assistant Principal handled the duties of Master of ceremonies introducing the guest speakers. Mr. Mike Shepperd, local Board representative, presented the key to the school to the Principal, Mr Bibby, in whose care and trust he left the future of the school.

Other speakers were Mr. Deschene, Chairman of the St. Paul School Division No. 45 who said Ashmont was one of eight new schools the division had built on the centralized plan which he felt has decided advantages. Mr R. Reierson, Superintendent of Schools, rejoiced to see 11 small schools amalgamated into one in the interest of education. Mr Lavoie also spoke.

Jacob Mr. Obbink, city of Edmonton, ... who designed the school, Mr Lloyd Cartier, Contractor and members of the local board.

The Ashmont School was built at a cost of $206,000.00 An eight room school, it has an classrooms besides a modern workshop, home economics division and typing rooms. Of the 235 students attending school, 186 are now in the new building while the remainder occupy the old school.

A staff of eight teachers, with Mr J Bibby as Principal and Mr A Bismert, Vice-Principal take care of the educational needs.

The auditorium of the new building presents a pleasing and restful atmosphere with its wide light birch panels bordering the stage with contrasting cedar "curtains" Stage background is of pale orange and the platform stage is of simple dimensions for almost any type of performance.

The floor of the auditorium is of a new type of grain wood, glued to the cement while the walls are tan-tone grey and green, softly reflecting rays of overhanging lights.

June is Dairy Month in Canada with the results that emphasis is being placed on each and every product of the dairy industry. The month of June represents the peak of dairy production—both quantity and quality are at the best.

One dairy product which gets the applause by young and old on any menu is ice-cream. With hot summer days at hand ice cream will make its usual appearance on the popularity poll. For the homemaker it is an easy-to-get ready dessert which also contributes the essential food value of milk and cream from which it is made. Until just a few years ago, ice-cream was classified as a frozen compound but because it does have a goodly supply of calcium, riboflavin and vitamin A as well as other important nutrients, it is now classed as food. Now for a few cooling recipes to serve on hot days:

Caribbean Cooler (4 servings)
3 cups mixed diced fruits, fresh or canned.
2 T. Sugar
1 cup orange juice
1 cup pine apple juice
1 large orange vanilla ice-cream soda water chilled cinnamon sticks (opt.)

Combine mixed fruits and sugar. Put half cup of the sweetened fruit into each glass.

Add quarter cup of orange and pineapple juice and 2 scoops of ice-cream to each glass.

Fill to top with soda water. Serve with a cinnamon stick in each glass if desired.

Pour ice cream in its sundae-boat a little honey into crushed pineapple and pour over vanilla ice-cream.

Or for something even simpler, just spoon honey over vanilla ice cream called Arctic Honey.

CROSSES CONTINENT TO ATTEND THE MAT

It took John Wright, University of British Columbia student, two weeks to hitch-hike from Vancouver, Toronto but he arrived in time to see the Maple Leafs defeat the Montreal Canadiens. Not only did he attend the opera but he will participate in it as actor and stage hand. The hitchhiking jaunt started with $6.50 and a push-card.

Merger Of Large Co-ops In Offing

An announcement regarding the merger of two of Alberta's large farmer co-operatives [illegible] boards of directors of the Alberta Wheat Pool and the Alberta Seed Growers's Co-operative have reached agreement on a proposal by which the Wheat Pool would take over responsibilities and properties of the Seed Growers's association. This was made known in a statement issued jointly by the two organizations.

A special meeting of the Alberta Wheat Pool delegates is to be held in Calgary on June 12 at which time the proposal will be presented to them for ratification.

Details of the transaction and the date of transfer have not been announced. These will be made public as soon as final arrangements have been made. It is expected the Alberta Wheat Pool will be able to take over operations of the seed business in time to handle the coming crop.

The Alberta Wheat Pool is a large grain marketing co-operative with a membership of nearly 50,000 and with over $35 country elevators located throughout Alberta. The Alberta Seed Growers's Co-operative has a membership of the neighborhood of 12,000 and seed cleaning or storage facilities at over 30 points in the province.

To The People of Battle River-Camrose Federal Constituency

This ad was lost in a series of advertisements designed to bring before the public of Canada the policy of Conservative party for your attention. Shortly after this appears in print the people will decide who is to form the next federal government.

Conservatives hope that this ad will be for a change of direction in Canada, one that will find in Canada, John Diefenbaker will be the next Prime Minister that government.

No political party would work for any less than that.

In our opening message a few weeks ago we outlined briefly what the Conservative party is the only opposition party which has support in all regions of Canada and from both language groups in Canada. This places upon the party and its supporters the responsibility of finding solutions to the problems faced by Canada as a whole. We cannot and must not be content with discussing a constituency's problems, or even with discussing a region's problems.

In the very short space of eight weeks we have tried to place before you the representative point of view on a variety of topics—for example, inflation, national development, female reform, labor and trade. There has not been time to do more than this. Conservatives believe that a federal election is now ahead and we must remember that we are part of a far-flung campaign which extends from coast to coast. We must remember that Battle River—"proves is not run on "Alberta" constituency or "Saskatchewan" constituency, but one of 265 constituencies which make up our country. Our constituency has its problems, but they are problems faced by dozens of constituencies in a number of provinces. We cannot be expected [illegible] and problems.

We must elect a national government. The Conservative party has as leader a man with years of experience in Canada's Parliament. The Conservative party has as candidate in Battle River-Camrose a man who knows Battle River-Camrose and its problems.

A vote for CCF Social[illegible] is still going to elect that national government.

Clown Essential For Protection Of Rodeo Riders

With unpredictable danger on the hoof every minute of a professional rodeo, cowboys receive special protection from a rodeo clown whose job it is to divert charging horses, bulls and bronco maniacs hooked bulls, in between a good clown is a tonic and entertainer to boot.

Performing this duty at St Paul was Mike Carvi of Littleton, near Denver Colorado. He was flown in especially for the rodeo.

Mike did a tremendous job both week and kept the crowd hot down. He was at his best as a bull fighter when the brahmas went on the rampage after dismounting a rider, pulling them away from the scene to allow the contestant time to recover and make for safety.

He further taunted the bulls into a spectacular act involving a barrel protected by rubber bands, in which a decoy, Leo Brown of Czar, was rolled around when the crazed animal bowled him over.

Mike Carvi is a 20-year old veterinary student at the State University at Fort Collins, Colorado He has been at the hazardous trade for 3 years and averages 35 appearances per season.

Three Casualties At Local Rodeo

First day of the rodeo saw two casualties Alex Laye, Bronking Duke suffered broken ribs in a sheer wrestling contest. Getting off the horse side by side animal's neck and horns, Laye was trying to throw him on the ground, but "Hoofdinand" the steer instead sat on it rolled over counted it win, crushed the cowboy's side with its head

Wilfrid Buffalo of Hobbema broke a collar bone from a fall in the Indian Bareback Riding He landed heavily on the dirt on his right shoulder and was taken out on a stretcher by Park Duke Ambulances, standing by.

On the second day, minor injuries were suffered by Ross McKay, Kay Black Diamond, thrown by a saddle bronc Thumb and wrist sprained in the fall. McKay came back with a vengeance to compete in other events.

Magistrate Clears Town Foreman

Police Magistrate Chas Gauvreau dismissed the case of the charge of Cruelty to Animals against Mr Phil Germain, Town Works Foreman for the disposal of two Dalmatian Pinscher dogs, owned by Peter Mac Intosh, in the course of duty in his official capacity as Town Works Foreman.

The case for the prosecution had alleged that the dogs were under effective control and also that they were under the age of three months, outside the jurisdiction of the Town.

The decision was handed down on June 5th, after evidence was presented in court, May 27 had been carefully considered by the magistrate.

Following is an excerpt of the judgement:

The question of 'wilful' comes into the case and wilful ignorance or suggests something intentionally done with a bad motive There was no bad motive intent on the part of the accused to commit an offence and that lack of a bad motive I am now dismissing the case.

However, I have also found that the dog in question was not running at large in that the dog puppy did not come within the accused's duty as Town Dog Catcher It is possible that the accused has violated some civil rights in this case. There is definitely some responsibility on him to collect the dogs to destroy them within the by-laws.

I hope that case shows the Town Council that the dog by-law should be overhauled and the dogs dealt with in a humane manner with proper accommodation given them. The dog owners, after all, are taxpayers too."

Controversial Question Of Emblem June Is Dairy Month Across The Dominion

What one gentleman has termed "an official and cherished Canadian position" is in the news once again. It's the question of why Canada, one of the leading countries in the commonwealth, still has no emblem of its own. Why have we no flag? However Johnny, in this week's issue of The Star Weekly goes into the whole question.

For 50 years the Canadian flag issue has been a sounding board, a rostrum for red doers in official and religious deliverances and stanford beliefs.

In the 50 years since the first flag issue" reached Ottawa, it is estimated that more than 15,000 editorials and professional articles have used their luck at producing an acceptable design.

Many symbol under and including the Big Dipper has been incorporated in the designs for words, brooms, bears and moths have been pumped against maple leaves and oak leaves, pine and fir needles and canoes, hospitals, lighthouses and lilies have been some of the floral paraphernalia included. One Rosebowl flag carried a Canadian Mounties at his conversation piece.

The secretion of the Ottawa showing was a flag containing a red circle and blue bonding a red white and blue bonding a maple leaf on a chain. Another design had a starring eye not on a background star on a blue background.

Johnson's Star Weekly article describes many of the designs, reviews the circumstances and history which has resulted in the present dilemma and tells whether in the light of recent developments, we may now hope for a unanimous

BCAF'S FEATURE PERFORMERS

Aircraft famous here—feature performers in the RCAF's record-breaking show were among those which held the spotlight at the Cold Lake Station, Saturday, when Canada's Airforce went on display with ground and aerial demonstrations.

At the top is a familiar site to those who attended the show and are the highly manoeuvrable CF-100 Canuck. It will be remembered for its brightly painted wing tips and red tail assemblies along with its record breaking scores in aerial battle simulation flights. The aircraft is used to train Commonwealth and NATO student pilots.

Star of the Air Force Day show, center, was the CY-100 long range interceptor, the all-weather aircraft which guards North America's aerial approaches against aggression. The 17-ton giants of the airways handled lightly under expert touch of the pilots and were able to thrill spectators with wing tip formation flights and darting acrobatics. Here the blunt nose of the big all-weather fighter makes a striking picture as the crew climbs aboard.

A real work-horse of Air Transport Command is the C119 "Flying Boxcar", an aircraft which has seen service in the U.N. efforts in Egypt. Its tremendous size and carrying power is displayed as a fire truck rolls through its cavernous cargo doors, into the pod-type fuselage.

What About Elvis

The strong emotional reaction of teenagers to Elvis Presley is characteristic of the present generation; their parents would likely have reacted to Elvis quite differently, says Dr Edward Ramon of the University of Toronto's Department of Psychiatry, in this month's Canadian Home Journal. "What the kids today think is okay," he says, "has changed from the children collecting of photographs, to spanish, screams, and contortions which evoke parents as being crude and vulgar. This situation is being exploited by professional techniques into a profitable business."

Dr Ramon is one of three specialists interviewed by the magazine's Associate Editor, Helen Weir. After attending Presley's performance and quizzing him in person conference, she asked the three experts for their opinions of the Presley "phenomenon" and the reaction of youngsters to it. A consulting psychiatrist, J. K. Thomas, told her he felt that the disturbing aspect of Elvis' performances and teenage reaction to them was their sexual content. Dr Karl Bernhardi, assistant director of the Institute of Child Study at the University of Toronto, says he doubts the adolescent audience is aware of "sexual overtones". At this age, he believes, they are susceptible to anything with sex connotation without relating it to sex".

Is this strange emotional experience harmful to adolescents? asks the Canadian Home Journal writer. Only time and research will tell, replies Dr. Ramon. "Presley may or may not be successful as another entertainer of the same kind," he says. "Perhaps he's just a phenomenon of this era, and teenage vogue will [illegible]

Men Who Make Alberta

THE POLICEMAN

Have you ever considered that the policeman you are grumbling about for having handed you a parking ticket may have, only a short time before, prevented a fatal accident involving your child . . . that the motorist, passed when stopped for speeding or careless driving, may be only minutes away from killing or injuring you or one of your family? Have you ever stopped to think that as you sleep peacefully in your bed at night, an army of men in blue are on guard to prevent the lawless from having a field day of theft, assault or even murder, at your expense? Sometimes we are all apt to view the policeman as a disciplinarian put in our way to annoy us personally, and forget that without the law and order that he and his fellow constables must maintain, orderly process of our every-day life would be impossible.

With the increasing problems of modern society, through traffic hazards and the complexity of high speed living, the new police constable is required to meet ever increasing standards. His job requires understanding and tact, firmness of character and courage. Twenty-four hours a day he and his buddies stand on guard for our domestic security. He regulates the flow of traffic, prevents and reduces the number of fatal and crippling accidents, organizes and instructs school safety patrols, prevents crime, and, when crime is committed, is faced with the task of apprehending the culprit often at the risk of endangering his own life.

In short, without the police constable's

Cattle rustle ups and round-ups are considered seriously western, but specialists on the roads between Hall and Lash Lake, Ont., saw what could pass as a fair-sized cattle drive even till western standards. Two hundred head were herded 60 miles to fresh pasture at Duck Lake between Lindsay and Grenadmont. They were attended by cistom-wearing Leonard Curt and his son, Ray, left, who rode herd in back most of the way and "did not have a casualty" even though they travelled through bogs, forests and across highways Curt has made the herding of a semi-annual event to provide fly best pasture for his cattle.

New St. Lina School Officially Opened By Bishop Lussier, St. Paul

The official opening of the new St. Lina School took place on Ascension Day, May 30th at 6:00 p.m. Under the patronage of His Excellency Bishop Lussier, Mr. Antonio Mailhe gave a word of introduction on number of comments His Excellency then officiated the ceremony after which he cut the ribbon—clearing the entrance of the school. The blessing then took place. A lovely crucifix was also blessed and later placed in a conspicuous place.

The banquet was held in the gymnasium of the school. The tables, attractively decorated were set in readiness to appetite. The speaks were introduced by our parish priest, Father Yvon Mr. Andre Dechene of Edmonton representing L.A.C.F.A., Mr. Bleich, the Architect, Mr. Vernon Christianson, sub-contractor, Mr. R. Beaudry, School Inspector, Mr. Philip Charbonneau, Chairman of our School Board, Mr. W. Deschamps, Chairman of the School Division Board, followed by the bishop.

Other distinguished guests were at the parade of Fr. Yvon, Fr. Arnould Father Primeau, Mr. Philip Mercier, Secretary of the School Division Board, Mother Provincial of the Sisters of the Holy Cross, Fr. Yvonne, former Principal, also Srs. from Port Kent, Lacombe, Medicine, Thorsby, and many others. In the meantime, supper was also served in the old school for all the children.

A concert was given by the St. Lina pupils which was very appropriate for the occasion. LOUIS ST. LAURENT MAY BECOME OPPOSITION LEADER

Prime Minister of Canada, the Hon. Louis St. Laurent, leader of the Liberal Party was personal victory in his constituency but now his party go down to defeat against a Progressive Conservative onslaught which surprised and upset all Canada. Mr. St. Laurent, however, announced whether he will remain in the cabinet, he would remain in parliament and head the opposition for his party if necessary. Most of his cabinet colleagues were also defeated.

Figures Indicate Farm Income Up

Net farm income in Canada in 1956 rose 16 percent above the 1955 level and 25 percent above the 1954 figure, according to an estimate of the dominion bureau of statistics.

To the casual observer these figures are impressive and paint a rosy picture for the farming industry. The truth of the matter is however is a group we are doing a well as figures would lead one to believe. In the case of thousands of operators there was no net earning and a great many were forced to dip into their reserves or to use their depreciation allowance to meet operating expenses.

The 1956 net income of $1,573,000,000 was scarcely above the ten year 1946-55 level of $1,547,000,000. In the same period according to the value of the Canadian dollar depreciated by about 25 percent in other words, if the farmer is to be as well off today as he was a decade ago he must have 25 percent more income.

Then too, the net income figure for 1956 included a $170,000,000 increase in inventories of unsold grain in the prairie provinces. While this eventually will be turned into cash it did not provide farmers last year with dollars to pay operating expenses and to meet the rising cost of raising their families.

FORMER COLD LAKE PILOT KILLED IN LONDON AIRSHOW

A former Cold Lake RCAF Jet Pilot, Flying Officer Lester "Birdie" Isserow was killed in a CF-100 when the plane crashed into a cliff from the London, Ontario, County Airport on Air Force Day Show, Saturday. Flying Officer Isserow was attended the first Air Force Day at Cold Lake in 1955 as the daring pilot who broke the sound barrier in an FH Sabre Jet. The youthful, 23-year old pilot at that time was the youngest in his F-86 jet after landing from a 45,000 foot dive. Cause of the accident has not been determined, but it is unofficially known that the CF-100 experienced dangerous control difficulties, where the air stress was too great, causing the plane to disintegrate. Flying Officer D. A. Sheffield, 24 of Ottawa, observer was also killed in the air disaster.

Flight Simulator Installed At Cold Lake RCAF Training Station

starting the engines and taxiing to the final landing are simulated.

An instructor sitting at the giant console control panel can duplicate any mechanical failure, set it either the pressure in other aircraft on radar, ensure jamming of radio and radar.

SOUNDS TOO

To ad further to the realism, the exact sounds of flight can be reproduced from the growl of tires on asphalt to the rumble of uncontrolled engines.

The final result is no toy. It means basically a revolution in aircrew training methods being embraced by all air forces in the world and commercial airlines as well.

CAE has a contract to install one of the simulators for Canadian Pacific Airlines, duplicating the type of aircraft flown by the company.

Mr Conlin told the "Journal" that the use of simulators would allow 70 percent more instrument training in a given time—at 20% less cost—than training in the aircraft.

Two means for the RCAF at Cold Lake, according to F/O S. Beatty, PRO, elimination of the cumbersome Mitchell trainers and other obsolete and costly aircraft, reduced to minimum, effect a great economy which will raise the standard of training and step courses by weeks without unnecessary risk of life to pilots and instructors as well.

It also means that a particular troublesome exercise can be repeated time and again without completion of actual flight.

Mr Conlin was a short time on looking out procedure in which the pilot has to successfully go through seven movements, recorded on the control board by a series of red buttons, flashing on alternately as the exercise progresses Failure in any one of the operations is immediately simulated. The simulator can be stopped on the spot by the instructor to explain and correct the mistake until perfection has been achieved. Doing the same thing in the air would be risky business

Every conditions of extreme danger can be reproduced on the pupil where the pilot is allowed to crash—but he learns exactly what will happen if he does not take the correct action. Such a risk is a faster motorcycle on the air.

Mr Conlin, an electrical engineer, has been specially trained by the manufacturers to handle the equipment and serve as an instructor. To qualify for this he had to take a four-month course, requiring flight in the simulator and although he is not a pilot, has never flown a CF-100, can handle to perfection the duplicator on instruments, and load it in any desired location on the huge map where a graph traces the line of flight with accurate precision.

"Red" said that someday he hopes to get a try at a real CF-100 to see what he can do with it.

In the meantime with his two other assistants he will complete the installation of the simulators so as to use immediately. A second one will go up across the hall to fill the expanding requirements of the large Cold Lake Base and to meet the demands of modern aircraft which are becoming more and more complex, requiring the latest and most economical methods of training to keep Canada abreast with the rest of the nations.

It is of interest to note that Canadian Electronics Arts, or, a Canadian owned corporation, was designed and is manufacturing the simulators. On the open market against U.S. competitors it has won contracts to sell simulators to the United States and other countries of the world.

The invention, production and installation of the CF-100 simulator at Cold Lake is a fine example of civilian and service personnel co-operation in an achievement that all Canadians should be proud of.

And the choice of Cold Lake for the site of the second and third simulators is conclusive proof that the station plays a major role on the protection of Canada where a defensive and offensive training program holds the balance of power for peace and is of necessary.

Summer Fashions and Fabrics Softness the Theme Knowing full well that each season brings an announcement from one or many that the new fabrics are the prettiest ever. A wave of enthusiasm overtakes even the most casual skiers and the greeting of her will create a new you.

Fabric Highlights The fabrics which best express the new soft-feminine silhouette are naturally soft and graceful—supple silk prints, cottons softened to the hand of fine silk, and chiffons. Also in the sportswear category we like the continuing madras—type of plaids

With so many of us traveling far and wide these days, certain fabrics are especially recommended for their combined fashion and practicality appeal These are cotton gossypine, a soft sheer with built in crinkle that drips dry without ironing More on practicality—the silks that will, specifically, the prints and plaids of broadcloth which are especially lovely for the patterned shirt Chambray is coming in important revival, a light feminine fabric that is lovely in the important parts—One special fabric presentation that we feel has many handsome possibilities are the polished cottons and voiles that are like—printed

The Color Story This fashion season gives a big play to white. The all-white look is here, bringing the white close back into fashion's good graces.

White with color—goes hand-in hand with the all-white look. Its clear and cool with green, gay with yellow, feminine with blues, classic with black and noble with beige.

Color for summer rises blone high. Preferred are the clear pastels, but medium blue shades are excellent for tailored and casual wear. Choose mauve shades in prints and patterns and have clear orangey red as a focal accent for summer

Large Use Of Chemical Sprays Increasing And Showing Results

Spraying of crops with chemicals has become an established practice on most farms in this district in the past few years and the results are undoubtedly evident. Instances that farmers used to the tune of as the increased acreage sprayed.

Spraying should begin just as soon as crops enter the four leaf stage for several reasons. Firstly young susceptible lambs in the very early stages of weed and crop growth. Secondly, weed destruction affects crops more seriously in the early stages and thirdly young weeds are easier to kill with smaller amounts of 2-4-D than making the operation somewhat cheaper.

Tests show that crops treated at the 4 leaf stage yielded 35 % higher than those crops treated at the 6 leaf stage and 56 % higher than crops treated at the shot blade stage. The reason for this is not the affect of the chemical on the crop but the removal of the competition at the vital stage of crop growth.

2-4-D is the most common chemical now used and is safely applied to barley and wheat crops at the rates of 4 to 8 ounces per acre. Oats is somewhat susceptible to 2-4-D and care must be used when spraying. MCP a chemical very similar to 2-4-D does not affect oats and should be used on this crop.

Another piece where MCP should be used in preference to 2-4-D is in the production of hemp nettle as it is effective against this weed while 2-4-D is not.

There are many more aspects of chemical weed control that cannot be discussed in this article and farmers are strongly advised to obtain the booklet Weed Control with Chemicals from their District Agriculturist or Field Supervisor for full information on this subject.

In past years most dealers handling this material in the district would run out because they find it impossible to predict the demand so farmers would be wise to purchase their chemical supplies early and then ensure that they will not be delayed when time comes to spray and that none is left over.

European Crops Look Poor At This Time

The outlook for European grain crops is now somewhat less favorable than it was a month ago reports the Northwestern Miller, published in Minneapolis. Temperatures have been abnormally low and the lack of rain has retarded the growth of winter wheat and delayed the germination of spring-sown grain. This condition has prevailed in Northern Europe but as southern France, Portugal, Spain and Italy prospects are still good for early harvest and fair yields.

France is still expected to harvest an abundant crop and should have in the neighborhood of 180 million bushels of wheat available for export this year.

NEW MALLAIG SCHOOL OFFICIALLY OPENED

It was a solemn occasion for Mallaig residents when their new school was officially opened this week. Left to right are Dr. A. W. Reeves, director of education of the University of Alberta, Wm. Isbister, Mallaig trustee; Leo Goudreau, Catholic bishop of Edmonton; Rev. Father Lefebvre, Edmonton; Rev. Fr. Pauze, Pincher Creek; Bishop Joseph Routhier, Edmonton; Rev. Fr. Paulin, Mallaig; Rev. Fr. Gilbert, Edmonton; Rev. Fr. Poulin, Edmonton; Rev. Fr. Pauze, Pincher Creek; Rev. Fr. O. Prud'homme, pastor of Catholic flock; Rev. Mr. Rennie, Mr. S. Cameron, Mrs. R. Bolstrom, Mr. Leo Goudreau, Rev. Fr. L. Vial and Gov. Trans. Mr. Ansmall.

Official Opening, Solemn Blessing Of The New Mallaig School Is Progressive Step For District

The evening of May 31, 1957, will remain as a landmark in the history of the school of Mallaig. The rapidly growing community, meeting and a two-room school in 1942 finds on its premises a beautiful new school. Modern Home Economics and Industrial Arts Centre, a large gymnasium and other offices and libraries together with all the facilities of modern schools, in order to accommodate the children of the Mallaig School District and those of the Bellevue School District which are now annexed to the Mallaig School District.

The Cadet Corps of Mallaig formed a colorful arrival on the eve of the new building as His Excellency Bishop Routhier of Saint Paul and members of the Government and Department of Education escorted the visitors to the platform prepared at the entrance of the school, from whence they could address the large group gathered there from long distances. A prayer, O Canada, and the lowering of the flag to the music LAST POST opened the program.

It was a solemn moment when Mr D R Cameron, Registrar of the Department of Education, was offered his cue and scissors by Mr. Leo Gratton, President of the Local School Board of Mallaig, a beautiful ribbon and declared the school officially opened. But the moment was more impressive when, with all the solemn ritual of the Church, His Excellency dedicated the school to Almighty God by the sprinkling and interior blessing of the walls and all rooms of the extensive one-story building. A beautiful crucifix was blessed and appended to a wall in the main entrance.

Pupils, teaching members of the School Board, local and divisional, architects, persons representative of the Government and Department of Education, members of the clergy, and the church dignitaries, all contributed to a program which was most educational and entertaining.

Mr G Dalmond, the architect, after having explained to the reporters, the investment they the future generations are mortgaging for this school, gave one of the special prayers that he recited for the solemn blessing of the school and its inmates. With a wealth of words at his command, he stressed the importance that should be attached to education obtained by both the students and the teachers. "Teachers are preparing students for life now and hereafter", he said. His Excellency explained the great responsibility that should be attached to the teachers. "Teachers are preparing students for life now and hereafter", he said. His Excellency then called upon a number of persons to address the audience. Both mentioned in various ways their great satisfaction, with regards to what had been accomplished for the school of Mallaig. "Then accomplishment is due certainly to the co-operation of parents, school boards and benevolent guidance of Rev. Fr. Prunevo, and Mr Amyotte . . . Other numbers on the program were noted by Miss Loretta E. Poirier, one of the teachers, Miss Irene Lamoureux and Gerard DeRault, students. A chorus entitled "The Sacred School of All" was sung with all its meaning on this happy occasion for the students Gratitude was expressed on behalf of the students by Richard Martin.

Rev. Fr. Prinneau, Pastor of Mallaig, congratulated the members of the School Board for their untiring efforts to obtain what they needed for their community and thanked all those who had accepted to make of this evening "something to remember".

Mr G. E. Latimer, Vice-Principal, acted as master of ceremonies and brought the program to a close with the singing of "God Save the Queen".

The large gathering dispersed to visit the classes and understand for herself served by the ladies of Mallaig.

Merger Of Co-operatives Forms New Giant In Agricultural Field

An announcement regarding the merger of two of Alberta's large farmer co-operatives has been made. The board of directors of the Alberta Wheat Pool and the Alberta Seed Growers' Co-operative have reached agreement on a proposal by which the Wheat Pool would take over responsibilities and properties of the Seed Growers' Association. This was made known in a statement issued jointly this week by the two organizations.

A special meeting of the Alberta Wheat Pool delegates is to be held in Calgary on June 12 at which time the proposal will be presented to them for final consideration.

Forecast Good Upland Bird Season This Year Due To Favorable Spring

A good 1957 season for upland game bird hunting is forecast by biologists of the Game Branch of the Department of Lands and Forests. The forecast is based on results of surveys and investigations made by game personnel shooting carried out since 1952 in one of the most popular hunting areas in Alberta, the Eastern Irrigation District.

Studies show that each year enthusiasts are going out on the first day of the season in 1952 and 1954 respectively. Number of Cock pheasants bagged per hunter the first day of the season last year was 1.81 compared with 2.39 and 2.32 the two previous years. Decrease in the bag is attributed to the greatly increased number of hunters.

Success on the first Saturday of each season has shown a pro-

CF-100 SIMULATOR MARVEL OF CANADIAN CREATIVENESS

The above exclusive pictures are the first released from RCAF Station Cold Lake where Canadian Aviation Electronics are responsible for the installation of a CF-100 simulator used for advanced training and evaluation of jet all-weather pilots. Its complicated electronic components are divided into three units—the brain, a mass complicated electronic equipment, governs the machine; the actual simulator, a replica of a CF-100 cockpit, and the control panel which records every movement of the pilot from where the instructor can also "call the shot" on any training manoeuver desired to test the pilot's flying ability. Explanations on the complex control panel is given by Mr. Rathwell "Red" Cunelio, Civilian Electronics Engineer in Public Relations Officer F/O Stan Bugsby on the left is the simulated CF-100 cockpit.

Cold Lake RCAF Air Show One Of Best Staged Aerues Canada

while F/O Don Lamont and F/L. Harmon Hammond took the fighters through their aerobatic demonstrations.

F/O Tony Gunter Smith, flying and Pat Baker Jar looked the accompanying race in a piercing attitude of seven miles but was unable to join the "mount" back the fairfield due to the low ceiling disappointing the crowd of 10,000 people who had made up for it with long some sweeping passes at the airfield which took him down almost to the runways, up again on his last time the clouds rolling and spinning as he flew to. So close was Tony at the end of his native he could see the blue of his eyes from out of his helmet. This daring and pretty first part-crowd at the Edmonton show and last year starred at Cold Lake.

The T-33 Trainers made a resourceful splash of the day's show with their red painted engine and fuel flashing along in formation or streaming marching patterns to make flight for F/O Parks. Purkington warmed up the cold atmosphere in a performance emphasizing the versatility of the T-33 as a preliminary all-weather trainer for jet pilots.

The humming C-118 Flying Boxcar pulled a few tricks of its own it hasn't been one of the best able to do so in a normal command—and it did—and also it drew a big laugh when it made a quick turn on the runway flipped its nose in the air while the dual tails took the strain and bounced off the ground to prove the fan-like Reversing unit gracefully it really took to the air hindered a man, and of its ability to fly on a straight level roaring angels of power failure should the occasion arise.

Other aircraft taking part in the display included a formation of three Harvards, a light plane and new Mk. 5 Hawkers.

An air landing on fighter attack drawing a good number of spectators when a Mustang crashed with a CF-100 screamed immediately after and jammed full speed ahead, coming towards the Beaver River Valley where it disappeared in a cloud of dust as a ball up. The aircraft plane pulled up further to get out of sight of the spectators but from the comments before the crowd realized the deception and a hush fell over the field in grim realization of an actual crash.

Minutes after the fire broke out the CF-100 to supplement its rockets and guns ships with cannon-mounted pods, a series of 2 inches can all of ammunition spraying the ground in a simulated attack. Exhibitions of air rescue were given by a helicopter.

A combined 100 cars came to the display area as evidenced by the persons. Along with relatives visiting air personnel and service and also from as far as Edmonton, witnessed the spectacular show.

There was no traffic congestion on the roads along the route and cars were directed smoothly to parking areas without a hitch or delay.

After the show a number of officers were special guests at a cocktail dinner at the Officers' mess.

BEARDED MEN IN SPOTLIGHT AT JUBILEE CELEBRATIONS

A great idea, which captured the fancy of the crowd at Elk Point's Golden Jubilee Celebrations, was the introduction of a beard contest. Prizes were given for four months to see the board competition. Pictured above a panel of judges, their decisions and honors for to-day the last crop of whiskers went to Mr. John Bodnar, front row, second from left, with the grand prize of $10 and a silver cup of him. Steve Andrabak, owner and curator of the Elk Point Museum, where authentic and interesting momentos of the past are lovingly gathered and preserved, was complimented for his efforts in recording for this generation the development of the district and province.

Some of the old-timers interviewed were William, Mr Lee Babcock, Mr Collin Campbell, ferryman, C H Johnson, Mr Edward Smith, Mrs Anna Hughes 88 years old, Mr E A Bolin and many others.

An official welcome was given by Mayor Mike Habiuk, "a might big Mayor in a mighty big town" Clarence Boon, president of the Chamber of Commerce expressed in welcome the large crowd and grateful to the Province's Town for relinquishing the date of their annual picnic to celebrate Elk Point's Golden Jubilee as one great big family.

Hockey Financial Statement Shows Small Deficit

Completion of the auditor's financial report on the state of affairs of the St Paul Hockey Club for the year 1956-57 shows an operating deficit of $338.27.

However this verdict, now outstanding represents $127.66 outstanding at the bank last year which has been paid, $110.00 for last year's ice bill and $80.00 of other accounts brought to date from various sources.

Deducting this sum of $318.00 from the $338.3 would mean that the hockey club is only on actual deficit of $10.45 for the current year just ended.

Expenses for the year amounted to $9,301.36 against an income of $9,714.67. The highest item, players wages and expenses cost the hockey club $3323.00, sticks run up to about $1000.00

Elk Point Anniversary

A Golden Jubilee Celebration is just around the corner whether it be a wedding or anniversary of a town. The Chambers of Commerce and Agriculture of Elk Point are rushing to speed by organizing a fitting celebration to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the town and pay tribute to the old timers who made it possible through sweat, blood and toil of their youth.

The celebration wrapped up a number of impressive events for the day, Friday, June 14. It combined the celebration of Farmer's day, the opening of the new school, meeting - milestones in the progress of time; and more important the celebration of the Jubilee itself paying due respects to many old timers interviewed on the remarkable growth of the Town of Elk Point.

In the words of Mr Sid Hoitin, Manager of Commission as a broadcast interviewer, "Elk Point is a mighty big little Town with a mighty big Mayor, Mr Mike Habish, with him done mighty big things for the Community."

The Chamber of Commerce, headed by Clarence Best as President, and energetic Ron Berwick, Vice-President, organized a celebration, never equalled in the history of Elk Point. It drew over 1,000 persons for the special occasion, following a smooth program, carrying a successful day to a huge pre-conclusion.

We would like to join with the rest of the district in extending the Town of Elk Point our congratulations on the occasion of their Golden Jubilee anniversary which will long be remembered and the active Chamber of Commerce for making the event such a memorable one. The pioneers of Elk Point, their successors, past, present and those of the future can feel mighty proud of their record.

GENEROUS GIFT

The news that the Alberta Department of Highways would bear the entire expense of paving St. Paul's main street was welcome indeed—to the tune of approximately $50,000 it will save the rate payers during the next few years

A gift of this nature is not one to be overlooked — but one to gratefully acknowledge and thank the contributors for

When the paving program from Mr Brides onto town was announced speculation centered around the possibility of extending the work to the eastern approaches and include the main street south furnace part of the highway.

Eventually, the sight the other week of our Minister of Industries and Labor, Mr. Ray Reserve, it became a fact. The Provincial government would pave the main street, carrying on through from the north highway with specifications of 24 feet. It will left a substantial saving for the town to finance, but now we can all smile happily at the news released this week by Mr Reserve and reinforced by the hon. Hon. Hon. Gordon Taylor, Minister of Highways with an official letter addressed to the Mayor.

Pavement of busy street will make us, town one of the smartest little towns in the district, the envy of all we are sure. Business men have long deplored the clouds of dust, stirred up the heavy truck and motor traffic through the street's loose gravel.

ENLIST IN WATER COURSE

In 1956 water claimed the lives of 55 persons in Alberta 18 of whom were under 16 years of age The Canada... Red Cross Water Safety Service is aimed at reducing the number of these tragedies It is the belief of Red Cross that if young people learn to swim, learn to handle watercraft safely and are taught the proper methods of saving others the needless loss of life can be gradually lessened.

Operating in conjunction with the Alberta Safety Council, the Red Cross gives instruction in swimming, for both adults and children, conduct in-boat handling instructors in water safety and presents demonstrations on artificial respiration, water safety, light craft and safe canoe and life saving techniques. High standards set up by the program is evidenced by the fact that those taking the Water Safety and Swimming test are required to answer 20 questions with three incorrect answers losing a failing mark

Life-saving awards are presented in accordance with regulations of the Royal Life Saving Society.

Both children and adults have the opportunity this year to again get instructions in swimming Register with your local Red Cross for courses opening on July 3rd to the 16th . . . two weeks of water safety education

TOO MUCH TAXES

Dissatisfaction of Canadians with high taxation emerges as one of most significant features of election campaign Reasons for such discontent are worth pondering

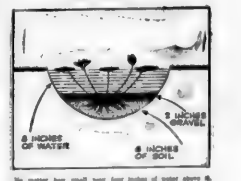
First reason to be drawn from imminent tax result in Canada is that people feel that they aren't getting their money's worth for their tax dollar Resentment also arises from fact that tax expenditures, unlike most other expenditures of private citizens, are compulsory Unlike the purchase of an automobile, or a home, or food and clothing, the purchase of services from the State leaves people no freedom of choice They are deprived of their right to shop around for the kind of services best suited to their individual needs.

Canada's next parliament and next Government will have to watch their step when it comes to taxes.

Commenting sadly on the election results, a good Liberal in the Athabascan constituency consoled himself by compromising with the statement that "we had lost the war, but saved the nail".

Garden-Graph

By SEAN HALLIDAY



No matter how small your garden is, if there is one corner that always receives full sunlight, you can grow a pool there and have it in a few short days as shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph, but there will be pleasure in it.

Usually a small pool is also shallow Therefore, the water lily should be planted in soil that is in the bottom of the pool, instead of in a box, which is the most practice when the depth of water is greater

To plant a water lily in a shallow pool over the bottom of the pool with a 6-inch layer of soil. Place the lily bulb in the soil. Then fill the pool with water to within 6 inches of sand or gravel on top of the layer of soil. If possible there should be 6 inches of water from the top of the layer of sand or gravel to the water line at the top of the pool.

When the lily is first planted, however, there should only be four inches of water above it. As the plants grow and spread over the pool, gradually add more water until the 6-inch depth is reached.

For the very small pool it is advisable to plant miniature water lilies These can be obtained in either the hardy or tropical varieties. In the fresh grown there in Aurora, a dozen easy pillow white lotus types a deep red White Pygmy, Yellow Pygmy and Red Laydecker are also among the hardy kinds. Flora in tropicals may be selected such varieties as Royal Purple or Patricia, a handsome return

Hardy water lilies can be out any time after warm weather but water from the top of the layer of sand or gravel to the water line at the top of the pool.

What's on the Air

Election Comments

Monday, June 10th was a chilly day and a gloomy one for Conservatives here and . . . Canada. Conservatives were waiting . . . the results of the great election in Canada in the support of one or the other candidates. The election fever had . . . and in the hands of the . . . people. Mr Diefenbaker has a mandate . . . and Mr Pearson has a mandate . . . but the Liberals should be with the C.C.F. It would still have things about it even if . . . Liberal sadly in one such an election. There are plenty of socialists in the Liberal Party now without adding Mr Coldwell's group.

The outcome is predominantly . . . We are sure that the Prime Minister intends to meet Parliament and submit to the fate of his government by a vote in the House If defeated . . . he undoubtedly will be . . . but then have to make up his . . . as to whether to carry on with a minority . . . or to go to the country. It is advice to Governor-General to dissolve . . . Parliament again and call a new election, the other course is to advise that Mr. Diefenbaker be called in and given his opportunity. If Mr. Diefenbaker . . . responsibility he can . . . meet Parliament and ask . . . a vote of confidence If he is defeated in such a vote he too will have . . . to advise the Governor-General to dissolve the House New groups . . . won't it? Another election this year

We are glad to note that our old friend J. M. Dechene has been re-elected in Athabasca. the only Alberta Liberal candidate to come through the contest in a winner But among his fellow supporters from Alberta, Joe will stand out like a Sir Galahad in his shining armour bearing the banner of Liberalism on . . . worth he has . . . the . . . ge your "Evolution".

Even West Edmonton, long regarded as a Liberal stronghold went over to the enemy Consult the shades of Frank Oliver or even Henry Marshall.

One feature of the campaign was the notable absence of editorial support of Joe or that . . . dicle Alma, unanimously the . . . and city newspapers kept aloof from . . . the mid-century ago the world was . . . to be possible for the editors and . . . little air room a found to position But as these days of the radio and television newspapers . . . keep exercise the influence . . . which they once had The . . . ted word is disseminated by way of advertising, leaflets, pamphlets, letters and so on all these . . . Unless Canadians are to lose . . . limit altogether their own merit

Controversial Topic Of Retirement Age Rages In Many Quarters

The province of retiring men and women at the arbitrary age of 65 whether they are ready for retirement or still capable and willing to continue working comes under heavy fire in an article by William A Mercer, President of William A Mercer Ltd., in the current issue of Health Magazine, official publication of the Health League of Canada

He warns that society will not stand for the creation of a compulsorily, increasing body of frustrated over-65 citizens "This group itself would soon form a voting block strong enough to achieve government action on these needs".

"If everybody wants to retire at 65, we're sold down forward to one citizen living in idleness for every 4 in the labor force. If retired people were to live about as well as working people this would mean that one fifth of every employed person's income would have to be taxed away to take care of retired people alone. Obviously, society will simply not stand for the forced withdrawal of all our over-65 citizens from productive work. Society is not prepared to stand the cost

He pointed out the modern tremendous adjustment that forced retirement causes people who have been used to working all their lives to make, maintaining "The naive assumption that what has been a hobby can suddenly become a full-time pursuit. Have you ever tried fishing eight hours a day, five days a week?"

He said that a means to discovering the logical age for each individual person to retire would have to be found, as some men are ready for retirement before 65, and others are still alert and productive at a much more advanced age "It's just one of those tough jobs which must be done by fair and reasonable management, he continued

Fires are mainly caused by carelessness' if all of us would be a little more aware "than we would be fewer fires

One sunny afternoon, Mr and Mrs. Smith left for town to buy their week's needs leaving their two boys, Jack who was eleven years of age and Tom who was thirteen years of age at home. While they were at home they were to watch the fire and clean the yard By the time the boys had the junk which was in the yard in piles, it was getting near lunch so Tom went in to start the fire Not having dry wood, Tom was having difficulties in getting the fire started after several attempts in vain he went to the garage to get a can of gasoline which he was going to put in the stove With gasoline in the stove he put the can with gasoline aside and went for a match Returning with the match he struck and threw it in the stove As the flames from the match reached the gasoline can gas exploded breaking the stove to pieces and setting the can with gasoline on fire Tom made a break for the door but by the time he got out of the house he had several severe burns As soon as Tom got out of the house the boys started to look for help from the world's try to put out the fire, but it was a hopeless task When Mr and Mrs Smith returned from town they found the boys lying in the ground about ten feet away from the ruins of the house half unconscious and severely burned At the sight of the boys, the parents rushed them to a hospital At the hospital the doctor had to graft the boy's skin because they had many bad burns on their faces The boys stayed in the hospital for about a month After returning from the hospital to their new home they were very careful when handling fires and they never never used gasoline anymore to start a fire.

MINISTER OPENS ELK POINT SCHOOL

With a large crowd watching the ceremony enthusiastically, Hon. A. O. Aalborg, Minister of Education, cuts the ribbon at the entrance of the new 13-room school to declare it officially opened. Mr. R. Beadle, right, School Principal introduced the Minister and took part in the function.

Elk Point's New High School Was 4-H Out Club Officially Opened By Minister Of Education At 50th Anniversary

Hon. A. Aalborg, Minister of Education, officially opened the new high school in Elk Point. Over 400 people viewed the ministerial party as visitors for the opening ceremonies while another 150 dined in the hall.

Mr Aalborg told his audience that he was indeed happy to have an opportunity to join the people of Elk Point in the celebration of the 50th anniversary. This is a splendid new school" he said.

The Minister said of the school as one of the finest in the province. You have had the advent of natural gas, running water, sewage, highways and a bridge to cross the river. All have been milestones in the town's history." Mr Aalborg said.

This province is well known for it's extensive agricultural industry. It is widely known for it's gas and oil, and forests. But at this time, the most important thing is people.

The future of your community lies in the boys and girls who are attending this new school," he said.

"I taught school for 19 years and enjoyed it. In the end I came to the conclusion that education is the difference between looking and seeing," he claimed.

The Minister extended his congratulations to all of those people who had contributed to the building of the new school. The minister said that the province of Alberta spent over forty-three million dollars on the building of schools last year.

Following his speech, the Minister presented Principal R. Beadle with a picture from the Province of Alberta. The picture will be placed in a prominent spot in the school for future generations.

Hon. Ray Reierson, Minister of Industry and Labor also congratulated all those people who had a part in the building of the new school.

Every dollar that is invested in education will be returned to Canada a hundred fold," he stated.

He urged every student who graduates through the school's doors to go out into the world and do something worthwhile.

School Inspector R. Harris and Mr. Steve Scott, of Bonnyville, also spoke briefly.

Master of ceremonies for the opening was Dr. Miller of Elk Point.

Pioneer Recalls Facts Of The Opening Years

It's Fiorini's 50th anniversary celebration attracted many of it's former residents and customers. Among those present was Charles Bullis of Bullis who farmed near the town for 44 years.

It was not much of a place when Charles came and Mr Bullis, for his part, threw little sentiment over the fact that was no problem to leave.

Mr Bullis now lives in Red Deer. She came to Elk Point in addition from U.S.A. in two and half months' two miles south and a mile east of town.

I wasn't the first settler to arrive but some families took up homesteads a few years before that," he said.

The first store was built in 1912. According to Mr Bullis a person could carry out his requirements with a small amounts of sugar, tea, coffee, dried and flour was sold. But in 1913 work began to take shape. A post had batteries sharp and cars were built.

Mr Bullis, who was born in Iowa, Feb. 1, Illinois in 1886, claims that Elk Point never became a boom town. The coming of the railroad in 1926. That was the time and the years were normal. Settlement could be said to be the railroad came farther. Settlers moved in from they were born to farmers.

Mr Bullis and his wife Linda have three children. He has farmed in the district for 44 years. In recent years he has retired every few years — sometimes he was sold — and other times he was not so fortunate.

the final decision on the facial beauties.

After much deliberation the three judges, headed by Steve Shopka of Bonnyville, with Mr D Peterus of St. Paul and Tony Wikyluk of Iron, handed their verdict in favor of John Smyth, first who received $50.00. William Tokay, second, $10.00 and Johnny Yaremchuk, third, $5.00.

Actually there was not much difference to choose from. All contestants were lovely specimens but their novel contribution to the show they carried away with honors.

Questioned on the feeling of a beard for so long a time the boys admitted to a few disadvantages, such as entertaining by the wife, childish feeling for the first few weeks, and in some cases, annoyance of fleas. Nevertheless it was an enjoyable experience, maybe of the fact that all promised to return to their natural self after the show.

OLD TIMERS REMINISCE

Old Timer Remembers Historical Facts And Hardships Of District

sheep or grain," he said.

Probably the biggest day in the history of Elk Point was the official opening of the bridge which spans the North Saskatchewan River, just south of town. It was in June of 1926 and over 10,000 people crammed both sides of the river to attend the opening ceremonies. That was the biggest celebration which ever took place here" said Mr Bullis. Even larger than when the railroad came through. The parade was over two miles long."

The original school was erected two miles south of town and later moved into Elk Point in 1933. About 50 children attended classes.

Baseball has always been the big sport in Elk Point. Hardly a year has gone by that the town has not had a good team. "Even back in 1900 and '01 there was a ball team in this town" said Mr Bullis. The first ball park was located south of the hospital.

Fire! mayor of Elk Point was Dave Nelson. Charlie Hood was the first permanent settler. He had the first post office located right in his farm home. Charlie stayed in Elk Point district until 1940 when he moved to Vancouver BC.

Although Mr. Bullis does not recall when the first hospital in Elk Point was built, he does know that it's first matron was Miss Sigga Holton.

"It took guts to live in this country. Those that didn't have guts soon pottered out," said Mr. Bullis.

THE Homemakers
BY ELSIE RUTHLEN M. H. E.

Now is the time to start planning a summer vacation. You may have your plans formulated for a trip to the coast, Eastern Canada or any of the other vacation spots in this country. If not, and if you don't feel that an extended vacation is indicated by your budget this year, here is a suggestion for the ladies at least.

Farm Women's Week will be held as usual this summer at the Vermilion School of Agriculture. The dates to keep in mind are July 30 to August 1. Many of you have attended before so why not return this year to renew many old acquaintances and make some new friends.

The school can accommodate approximately a hundred guests. Early application will have the first consideration. Board and room are provided in the dormitory at a charge of $4.00 per day. No charge is made for children under 5.

Supervision is provided for young children so that mothers can attend all classes.

The program is planned to include lectures and demonstrations in practical Home Economics as well as Agricultural topics of interest to farm women. Provision is also made for recreation and relaxation from the routine of home duties on the farm.

If you are within daily driving distance you are welcome to attend for one or more days. Organizations arrange for the whole group to attend for a day. The school appreciates advance notification so meals can be arranged.

Application forms are available from the office.

ABUNDANT LIFE

BY ORAL ROBERTS

THERE IS HEALING FOR THE INCURABLE

"There is no such thing as an incurable disease—and no one need die to gain . . . There is no such thing as an 'over' or 'difficult' case of healing in Christ's name."

These are the words of an eminent physician, Dr Christopher Woodward, who is combining spiritual healing with his practice of medicine and producing spectacular results.

My own work as a minister of the gospel and as one who prays for the healing of the sick has brought me to the very same conclusion. No disease is hopeless—none is incurable.

Mrs D. H. from Ingrow, Col. reads: relayed this story a few days ago before our television audience. She was holding in her hand at that time, two X-rays made of her 11-year-old son who had been pronounced incurable with a strange bone disease.

"My son began having aches and pains in his head and legs when he was four years old.

"A few days later he could not get out of bed. On July 3, the physician made an X-ray

"My doctor looked at the X-rays. He observed a white spot the size of a dime in the head of the big bone in the upper part of the leg. Then softly someone his head he said, 'I've seen this only twice before he is to his body to will be a miracle if he lives.'

"Our family went and anxious hour through that. Then—I saw much of the boy's pain and suffering. I could see the gradually I had a terrible power and up it out, and

Guides are not required for land hunting in Alberta The local manager in the place selected for the shoot is usually most eager to co-operate with visiting hunters, and can supply the names of persons who might be willing to accompany the visitor to prepare pits, etc. Lomi members of the Alberta Fish and Game Association are, likewise, eager to ensure that the visiting hunters get their bag limits Visiting hunters are urged to call at the Information, just west of Fort MacLeod, for specific information about where to go, or they may write the Alberta Travel Bureau, Legislative Building, Edmonton, for the accommodation booklet which lists hotels and for other information.

St. Paul Fleet In Elk Point Parade

Mr Lionel Aperto and Mr Paul Boutlier furrying the Chamber of Commerce float to Elk Point for their Golden Jubilee celebrations had plenty of trouble On the way with an early start at eight in the morning they were delayed by broken bolts and what not, to arrive nearly on deadline, rushing through the pennant hanging duties and decoration to make the last end of the parade.

Further disaster was encountered on the way back when the float got stuck in deep mud between pavement the tractor and up ended in the ditch.

Why No Calf Club In St Paul?

Last week 4-H Achievement Calf Club Days were held in St. Paul and Mallaig as well as Bonnyville. Each of these districts had the best product parraded and later won honors in Edmonton.

The St. Lina Calf Club, one of the oldest in this district has been established for over 20 years. During this time, through the efforts of its devoted organizer, Mr. Bill Sutton and others who have a lively interest, the Club has grown to be one of the best in Alberta.

Besides the distinction of providing good publicity for St. Lina and likewise in the case of Mallaig and Beaver Crossing, these clubs have served the very important of teaching a strong cattle economy in their regions to supplement the grain growing industry.

From the successes of sales being held in Calgary, Edmonton and even St. Paul, the high prices paid for purebred stock, it is evident that cattle is going to form an important ingredient of agriculture as world markets.

The foresight of these stock growers who have gained a head start in the business will most certainly place them in an enviable position when the cyclical trend comes into its own.

This all brings to mind the fact that St Paul has never had a Calf Club and for a large centre is taking a back seat in the smaller progressive agricultural districts.

We just haven't quite put our finger on the reason for this lack. The question of a Calf Club has often been discussed, the need for it felt, half-heartedly organizational attempts made, but somehow the thing has ever materialized completely.

It seems to us that the first step should be taken by the farmers themselves — those parents of children who are looking forward to a better future for their families. By investing in some good purebred animals they are bound to interest their children in stays on the farm, a situation which is becoming critical, and at the same time teach them the basic fundamentals of cattle raising to educate better farmers in the land still keep up with the times and the standards along with increasing the rural revenues which are always a problem.

If someone took the initiative now, St Paul children could have a go-during Calf Club for next year. There a plenty of time during the coming summer months for organizational work. Once the baby calves up can-ves be bought this fall groomed through the winter and next achievement day in the spring, take their place in the local parade and in Edmonton if they make the grade.

The young boys and girls of St. Lina and Mallaig who have made the effort the part years deserve congratulations for their part in promoting the cattle raising industry and agriculture. We hope the example set will be followed someday in St Paul.

Waiting For Good Rain

Some rain came to the district last week. According to a farmer's almanac, which is the farming population in this district we can assume that some degree of moisture will be the present crop and the yield cut down considerably due to lack of moisture.

Many farmers have had to the situation which has retarded and stunted crops but is by no means too serious.

The early thaws and a dry spring sent the frost further out on the land in record time. One St. Brides farmer reported grain seeds on April 30 and that is the earliest in the first ewes of May. This was the case with a great number of efficient farmers who have been working to cleanse and take every opportunity to land as much as they can, early, to reduce the risk of frost in the fall.

It almost seems that these ambitious farmers might have taken it too well. If a season's rain were a few more weeks late that ear-ly point them on the dry-ness of the spring. Their crops were too advanced, needed moisture, which never came for healthy germination, sprouting out weakly.

The surface on the top of rolling hills or hilly districts notably the Lake Eliza and Lake Belvedere regions, suffered an almost complete drought. Parched rut worms reached out for the little moisture in the subsoil and gnawed away some good acreage, most considered a total loss.

Barley and later variety grain have not suffered so much and coming along fine in some fields.

It would almost seem, that the unseasonably slow farmer who dallied along this spring in the better off, because the current rains if they continue catch the growth at a better stage and are bound to do the most good.

At the time of writing, we have had a good day's rain More is needed to prevent further crop deterioration prevalent prior to the downfall.

Appreciation is our mentality in St. Paul and rain is the mainstay of agriculture The rains brought many a smile of relief

The next few weeks will tell the story of this year's wheat crop. No need to wail until September to know how much will be added to the almost two crops already in storage. Timely showers and no blistering heat will mean another big crop animals, witnesses testified to strange disappearances for some time.

Count Moss, while presenting his case, brought out four photographs from belonging to bodeen which he said these had been used for superimposing and altering brand. In addition he exhibited portions of the hides from four horses which he claimed to be various animals. He contended that the original brand had been changed on the hides.

Brand alterations were further substantiated by an expert Mr. Hosier, now retired, who came to with the Provincial [illegible] and RCMP where he served as [illegible] plain clothes detective in the [illegible] branch.

He definitely asserted that in his opinion the original brands on the hides had been tampered with and explained how a [illegible] will slide off an old brand leaving a blur which is decernible on the hide when viewed over a strong light.

Evidence of forgery was given by hand-riding experts, Const. J. Warr of Fort Regina, as well as Sergeant Dudberry, who located that the style of [illegible] and characteristics on the hides of steers from Monty and Bodeen accumulated and in their opinion completed belonged to [illegible]

The Crown and the charges did not constitute [illegible] for a trial.

However, Mr. Heckel, stating there was common Code contention [illegible] the preliminary inquiry was not a trial to prove guilt but to find sufficient evidence to warrant a trial before a higher court. The accused, in his opinion, that inference of investigation liberties by the parties involved was sufficient to commit the accused to trial.

After a [illegible] Magistrate Gouvreau ruled for the [illegible] to hold it a higher court at Edmonton.

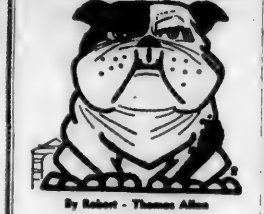
I Hate Dogs



By Robert - Thomas Allen

After half a lifetime of being barked at and bitten, gassed and petrified, Robert Thomas Allen, an ex-mailman of Kenora, Ont., opens his counter attack on dogs and dog owners with an impassioned plea for equal rights for human beings.

We publish the article at the time, because it is timely with the fact that St Paul has been having plenty of dog troubles in the past few weeks, and could use a little mail matter

The article will appear in a series of two issues

When I was a boy I used to believe that anybody who didn't like dogs was probably a moon-ing coward. Bioherub murderer, rustler, foreigner, drunk-ard or Democrat. As a playboy and I grew older I changed my mind. Now I think that most dogs are. I think they're worse I think they're the greatest pests of the twentieth century. I think they're smug, arrogant, deceitful, treacherous, vicious, anti-social, selfish, reactionary lazy, dirty, two-faced, unmotivated and plotting. But I don't hold it against the dogs. Dogs can't help being dogs. I hold it against the dog owners. They're not helping dogs. I hold it against the people who own them.

I think dogs do something to people's breaths that isn't good for people. I've seen a fat lady sit smiling on her porch while I tried for ten minutes to get past a cocker spaniel whose end a nightmare, and finally get up and tell the fat lady what I thought. I've seen a fatherly gentleman tenderly caressing while his fat terrier put my kids slit their kids every day on their way to school and on their return. When my little Polly parked up a rock to brush it, the guy jumped off his porch and remonstrated with them. "Never throw stones at dumb animals", he said I've known dog lovers to look on wordlessly while the dogs they loved ran frantically at my car and I drove up on the sidewalk trying to avoid killing them Once I nearly killed a baby in a carriage in the process I've sat smiling till my jaws ached, panning up conversation with two people I hadn't seen for ten years while I waited for a opposite to speak. I once had a dog owner sit on my car mpatiently waiting for me to drive him to work while he watched me rectuff my garbage can with frenzy orange peels, potato peels used Kleenex and sardine cans that his own dog had dumped on the amorgasborg during the night I've strained my ears and my diaphragm trying to catch what a dog owner was saying and himself was pulling at me over her wheezing railing while her wire-haired terrier barked at the wind trees, leaves, rain and sky and I've lost in bed at night Listening to the same dog continue on with the same wurs, plaints and aurors borealis until I started moaning and having dreams of tying knots in his ears

I've watched dogs bite gasoline salesmen, postmen, policemen Salvation Army workers, paper boys, grocery boys, milk boys and old ladies I've watched dogs dug up my lawn just after I seeded it and when I remonded it, dig it up again to see if I'd planted anything new And I've through I'd give fair warning I've reached log and my navel normally and happily Starting now I'm going to report dogs, any dog, the police overtheheard will ob-serve, and if the police don't do something about it, I'm going to report the police If somebody reports your dog I don't blame your neighbor It was me I don't care if you stop speaking to me I don't care if you have to bail your dog out every night for the next two hours from work If you don't have him some manners I don't care if he spends the rest of his life in stir As far as I'm concerned if will be fine with me the dog in the world I'd rather have kids

I'd take to be more friendly with a dog than your neighbor I'd treat them all a fighting chance of living a normal life in society Dying with the wolves from which they came But I can't because dog lovers keep turning their loose on my lawns and kids I'm afraid they defend me like I seem to care less about dogs Because I don't, dogs like me less interest in dogs, have less trying for dogs, are more bored with dogs and no longer like dogs longer than any other group on earth.

For two and a half years now every late I go down to the foot of my street sh-spond a tail Every laying that, I credit him with too much personality This dog has one burning ambition out of a dark driveway at me like a hot-rod with hackles and does his best to stop me getting home So far I've fast-balked him into letting me pass I bail him to rutte here to go away Le down and shut up I manoeuvre him He lurks ha ha. me and pet lords he's going back into the driveway If I take his word for it he lo-ross up behind me and tries to get a few in All the time in two and a half years the owner hasn't once put his head out the door to see what's striving As far as I can see, this guy lets the dog out in the morning and in again at night and forgets him in between, although somebody must feed him because he hasn't had a meal off me yet

A little further up the street there's another dog whose name I have to get to pass He's a brindle dog with a head and a tail Every laying that, I credit him with too much personality This dog has one burning ambition to see what's inside my wastepaper vents The only reason he hasn't so far is then him all dogs he's a coward. The two of us often stand looking at one another for as long as ten minutes, one leaning just as draped as the other, although I can at least see I'm not barking We do that till the owner comes out, a man we feel bad on for Marmot unforseer which he frequently wears on hot sumer nights He rails to the dog, then turns and gives me a dirty look as if I'm one of those people who

Many Household Commodities Are Highly Flammable As Demonstrated At Fire Chiefs Convention, Banff

Mr. Phil Carman, St. Paul Fire Chief returned recently from a convention held at Banff Mr Carman was elected a director last year and continued in that office for another term. According to Mr Carman, the Fire Chiefs had a busy agenda, dealing with new methods of fire prevention and problems arising out of difficulties experienced by the municipal department during the year.

It was felt that the attendance was low with 67 of 270 Chiefs present. This is due in part to some towns refusing to pay the expenses of representatives at the conference The suggestion was made that the annual convention should be turned into a training school as well as conference and the value of the deliberations emphasized more strongly to the town administrations who have failed to send a representative.

The following extracts from Calgary Herald review are of the important affairs which revolved at the conference.

Fire hazards from the latest processed commodity in Alberta Monday as 75 fire chiefs throughout the province gathered to attend the annual Alberta Fire Chiefs Associated Convention.

One of the first things the chiefs heard was that "of the 34 commercial hair sprays on the market today, half of them are so highly inflammable that they could double adequately as blow torches"

This was the belief of Low Marks, an inspector with the agency's fire department, who added that many "harmless" looking household articles exist in household equipment — like the hair rinse.

PROVES POINT

To illustrate his point he held up a match under the spray of a common hair preparation. The liquid being ejected in the compressed gas mode ignited immediately and formed a sheet of flame a foot or longer.

He also demonstrated that certain brands of nail polish remover a compressed moth spray and various types of wax and solvents in common use ignite easily

"If a woman were smoking while applying certain types of hair spray or fingernail polish remover, she could easily be burned, even fatally, when the liquid flashed back."

He advised the group that when purchasing any kind of a liquid for use in the home or office, careful attention should be given to whether it is non-flammable. "It won't take much of your time and may save your life".

He also advised that crepe paper and other decorations should be flame-proof. While flame-proof paper furnishes a few cents more expensive, mother will be wise in eliminating a major fire hazard. He advised against using anything but fire resistant paper to make costumes from.

UNSAFE SOLVENT

He told the chiefs that they should urge their towns and city bage concerns to pass by-laws making it illegal to sell more than one gallon of gasoline to a private citizen. This gasoline should be carried and stored in an approved safety container.

Ordinary household solvent is responsible a fire hazard, he continued. When heated up to 100 degrees above zero, it has a combustion factor equal to that of gasoline and can explode quickly. One of the worst beth housewives today have, he added, is that solvent should be heated to increase its cleaning effectiveness. Every degree of extra heat adds to its explosive potential. It is, however, fairly safe at room temperatures or when stored in a cold spot.

Nitrate films and some caps sold today are also very dangerous, he continued.

"Fire prevention is one of the main tasks of the modern fire department and it is up to every fireman to assist in this activity however," he concluded, "to convince the public, we must first convince ourselves."

Fire prevention was also the keynote of a talk given by provincial fire commissioner A. E. Bridges of Edmonton. He stressed that all firemen in the province should receive training along this line and that home inspection be conducted regularly. He cited the figures of several states and provinces where a full fire inspection program had resulted in a 30 percent decrease in fire losses.

AIR AGE REACHES MOOSE FACTORY

The Moose River, Ont., air cadet squadron has a girl drummer. Carol Archambault, attached to it but that is not the only way in which the squadron is unique. When a three-man inspection team from the RCAF station at Trenton arrived, they found that most of the Indian members of the squadron had never seen a train but were well acquainted with air travel. They fly from their homes every year to attend school at Moose Factory and all the squadron's equipment is transported by air. Corporal Mawhinney is a stenographer at the Moose Factory Indian hospital. Says in the photo are James Rickard, Alan Cornies, Roy Farmer and Wilmer Sedelnik.

Derwent Celebrates Farmer's Day Hearing Vermilion Guest Speaker

In the course of an address to have the natural advantages and opportunities to become established successfully on good farms, Dr. Bentley, Deputy Minister of Agriculture for the province, told the gathering of farmers and their families at Derwent N. W. Bentley Principal of the Vermilion School of Agriculture, urged farmers to take greater pride in their career Observing that farming has been given a "black eye" by people in this industry for many of the young people now growing up in rural Alberta.

In spite of the recognized problems which have unmistakably challenged farm people in the course of pioneering and developing our agriculture to its present state and not withstanding the serious changes currently encountered, no thinking person can conclude that the good agricultural lands in Western Canada will be abandoned They will be farmed and the farming of them will offer rich rewards to those who have the ability and have secured the education necessary to complete successfully in a new and better agricultural economy

Too often farm families could and recount their troubles, hardships and disappointments without paying a comparable tribute to their blessings and the real progress that their hard labor and good management has brought to them. Young people growing up in farm homes repeatedly hear their parents include themselves with those whom they could describe as "the poor farmers". It would seem inevitable then that these children should seek for their future almost any alternative to that of farming Obviously, farmers themselves hold some considerable confidence in the future of their industry Their own encouraging participation and their investment in it provides proof of such confidence But they could express it to their sons and daughters and remind them of the freedom, the personal initiative, and the lavis...ying challenge of contact with nature enjoyed by the vocation of farming.

Mr Bentley stated that he believes that many farm young people will be championed in purchasing bulls wages and may money reported to be waiting for them in industrial employment. Certainly, few will find away from agriculture offers them the best prospect for a happy, useful and prosperous future

To keep pace with the complexities and developments that are creeping in modern agriculture young farmers, today and tomorrow must be thoroughly acquainted with new developments in agricultural science and farm business management.

Mr Bentley stated that the best possible foundation for success in farming is a good farming background with a good sound high school education. He urged that young people set as the forum of Agricultural Representative Study a 5-30-7-15-9-12 p.m. where young men who are going to farm will find valuable information and practical training found but the fort remains that a goodly number will find that to serve their purposes

Mallaig Boasts New Playground For All The Sporting Activities

When one drives into Mallaig, from the east, immediately on the approaches, attention is drawn to something new and almost stunning.

A clean look reveals it is the new playground built to spread out over eight acres of levelled land, this recreation centre for Mallaig was built with an eye to the future, leaving nothing to chance in its planning.

The entrance lends to a large open-air parking area where cars can be lined up neatly and without encroachment, close to the ball diamond and the centre of activities.

The ball diamond leveled and although still slightly dusty this initial year, is laid out with the home plate facing the south and is ringed by a new fence at the entrance of which is the score and stand flag pole is set.

The playing part of the field on the spectators end is protected by an enclosure. A grandstand behind a shielding fence sits at the north end overlooking the play. A gumbala and picnic bay at its extreme height gives full view of the playing field to non-rehearsers, smoulderers and newsmen.

Behind the grandstand a series of permanent booths have been built along a wide avenue for the circulating crowd in search of refreshments and assortment of foods sold over the counters.

Preliminary work on the Mallaig Playground started last year with a planning committee made up of Armand Martin, Henri Mageau, Paul Marchand (now of St. Paul) George Guilbault and Paul Arsyutiew. From their planning, came the modern layout as seen today, the success of which became a reality under the management of the recreation, Mr. Arthur Demers.

Mrs. Demers, Mrs. Henri Mageau, Mrs. Armand Martin, Mrs. Joe Chartrand and Louise Amyotte who continued the task to its present stages.

Not yet quite completed, the playgrounds will consist of its recreational activities, a skating rink will be built this winter, a section devoted entirely to children marked off, and other sporting and cultural requirements added as time and finance permit.

It is impossible at this time to estimate the actual value and disbursements made likest of the work was voluntary.

Rev Fr Prevost, pastor of the farming northern community disclosed he was part of the plan for the playground. It was through his leadership, with a helping hand here and there whenever needed that the project came to be and organized from.

An official opening and a grand celebration of the Mallaig playground is being planned for the near future.

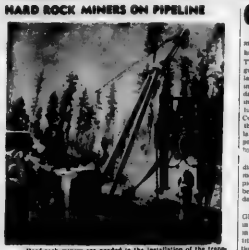
HARD ROCK MINERS ON PIPELINE



Hard-cost miners are needed in the installation of the trans-Canada pipeline in areas where the Canadian shield is encountered and like members of the crew pictured at right, the hand-held hands are jack hammers and wagon drills to prepare holes for the explosives which blast a ditch for the pipe. Power-operated jack hammers are in foreground in this scene from the Blandford-Smith mine under where the contracting crews have to dig the ditch in solid rock.

COUNTRY FAIRS ARE IMPORTANT

Agricultural fairs are as old as recorded history. For centuries, the fair or festival was one of the great human and social events of the year for country people. In the rural communities of Western Canada the fair is still an event of outstanding importance.

A Vital Service

The country fair performs functions that no other rural activity is able to do. Besides providing amusement and relaxation, a fair at the fair provides farmers with a pleasant opportunity to meet their neighbours and local leaders and to find out what is new in agriculture. Above all, it provides the ideal place for the people of the surrounding district to display the best products of the farm and home. In short, country fairs stimulate pride in achievement, and a desire for community advancement.

Today, unfortunately, local Fair Boards and Agricultural Societies are finding it difficult to maintain the fair as a vital feature of community life. They need, deserve and should receive the fullest possible support of every farm family. Let's keep our agricultural fairs going! Make a real effort this year to attend your own local Fair.

A New Mobile Service To replace its well-known "Agricultural Show on Wheels," the Lily Elevators Farm Service is planned to announce the introduction of a new type of agricultural service—a complete mobile sound and public address unit. The unit consists of an attractive custom wagon equipped with three directional speakers, a high amplifier, turn table and tape recorder. It can therefore be used to provide local music for fair and 4-H Club parades, or as a public address system, either stationary or mobile. This new mobile sound unit will be made available, without charge, to the 1957 Agricultural Societies and 4-H Club districts throughout the Province. We feel sure it will fill an important need and perform a most useful service at many agricultural events in Western Canada.

WEST COOL, EAST WARM FOR NEXT THREE WEEKS

Anyone west of Port Arthur can expect cooler than normal temperatures for the next three weeks according to the Dominion Government bureau forecast Easterners will get hot weather—and it has already begun with new highs being recorded for this time of year. Rainfall throughout the country are expected to be light.

Safety Council Warns Against Accidents Over Long Week-end

"The men to a holiday spot will be the last drive for many Canadians this Dominion Day week-end", warned Safety officials today Paul Lawrence, Safety Director of the Alberta Safety Council, said that extra heavy holiday traffic could travel safely if drivers realized that a little patience will be required "Slow drivers", he said, "should try to travel when traffic is lightest and should do their best to give plenty of passing room when required On the other hand, normal speed drivers should be quick to realize a slow vehicle and realize that an unexperienced driver or a car in trouble should be given a wide berth and only passed on a straight-away with plenty of visible road ahead."

Unsafe Drivers to be Suspended

Safety experts say that ordinary observance of the rules of the road is not enough for holiday driving Extra alertness is needed to be ready to avoid the careless fool who always appear in surprising numbers on long week-ends. The safe driver should keep a constant watch on cars at least a quarter of a mile ahead and maintain a safe following distance of a car length for each ten miles per hour of speed. If this is done he will avoid emergency stops and reduce the danger of both front and rear end collisions The safest speed on a crowded highway is the same speed as the rest of the traffic. RECIPE FOR HEAT WAVE GLARE

Several sections of Eastern Canada are setting heat records for this time of year. Many citizens, of course, feel miserable when temperatures rise, but usually that is because they don't know what to do about it. Here's one proven technique for making a hot wave more endurable: Wear few clothes, find yourself a parasol and sip cool, refreshing water from a hose every few seconds.

Chamber Elects New Executive At Convention

President of the Alberta Associated Chambers of Commerce and Agriculture, elected at the 19th Annual Meeting of the Association held in Edmonton on June 11 and 12, is W D McDonald, well-known farmer and shorthorn man from Grainger. The convention elected A W Wackelard, Lethbridge theatre operator, as first vice-president and D R Hunter of Athabasca as second vice-president.

Members of the executive Committee of the Association, in addition to the President and the Vice-presidents, are E E Peterson of Calgary, J C Miller of Medicine Hat, A F Shortell of Lloydminster, G M Pearce, Q C of Edmonton and J Privitt of Peace River. Therefore elected to the executive Boards all zones and chambers of commerce to represent the various zones into which the Association has divided the province include Zone 5, A T Broussau of Bonnyville.

Delegates to the convention were from 42 Alberta communities, the largest number of local Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce to have been represented at any Annual Meeting of the Associated Chambers.

During the convention, the delegates adopted a resolution expressing disapproval of the use of trading stamps as retailing, and urging the Alberta Attorney General to legislate against them if there are appears to be spreading in the Province. Another resolution adopted by the convention urged the construction of a highway to open up the mineral resources area of the Province of Alberta. The prompt start of construction of a railway to accelerate the development of Northern Alberta and the McKenzie district of the Northwest Territories, running from the Peace River District to Great Slave Lake, and the provision by the Alberta Government of Crown land for right-of-way for the railway, were urged in other resolutions adopted by the delegates.

Forest fire prevention, the operating problems of municipal parks, uniformity of matriculation standards across Canada, the creation of a federal-provincial Canadian Highways organization to finance and construct inter-provincial highways and roads, movement of grain, provincial parks and the supply of district agriculturists were additional subjects dealt with by the delegates in their consideration of the statements of broad aims, policy and 37 resolutions carried over from previous years together with 15 new resolutions submitted for the first time to the 1957 convention.

The convention approved the board of directors that the 1958 Annual Convention Meeting of the Association be held in Calgary in 1958.

I Hate Dogs

would report a dog.

I am. As far as I've observed, the sort of jerk who would report a dog is, on the whole, better than the sort of jerk who owns one.

When I was living in the country, friends of ours from Winnipeg, a railwayman, his wife, three boys and a little brown spaniel used to drop in to visit us each year on their way to the Coast. Each time the spaniel tore around on flower beds as if he had a firecracker tied to his tail, while farm animals watched with dignified amazement. Cows stopped chewing their cuds and watched him go by covered with burs. Birds stopped singing to watch him rocket beneath them, looking down as if they'd dropped an egg. Cats drew themselves up like society girls at a Saturday night ball. Dry Horses lifted their noble heads as if they'd heard Roy Rogers. He was the most undisciplined thing for miles. Not that I minded this. A dog can't help being undisciplined. What I minded was the tooth-marks he left on the furniture, the carpets and even my wife's prize delphiniums.

Next time someone behaves like a hoon in my house he gets tossed out, and I include your dog. And don't start apologizing for him. I'm not interested. I'm not interested in anything that has to be explained so much. Dogs probably require more explanations than any other living thing on earth. I don't care if your dog was once barked by a little boy, dropped on his head, bit by a bone, or was misunderstood by a drunken father. He was I, but nobody excuses me. If he's going to hold his phony position as a member of society, teach him the rudiments of civilization or take him out and get lost.

I was visiting a woman friend a little while ago with my two daughters. She had a dog built like an old horsegoon each stuffed with apples. In top lip permanently quivered with suppressed rage at not having free, wild and independent 90's the rest of the animals. The woman introduced us. She introduced the dog ahead of her husband. Podger, his name was. My youngest girl reached down to stroke him. Podger whipped around and tried to rip her arm off.

I waited for the woman to go after him with a poker, the way you would a panther. She looked down at him in mild reproof. "Fu-u-u-u-u-gor," she said. "Aren't you ashe-u-u-u-amed of yourself?"

Podger saw that he might have some of his free meals cut off and slunk under the table, seething. The woman turned to us brightly and explained the whole thing.

"He doesn't like children," she said.

Well I do. I like them better than dogs. And I intend to keep them, with both arms. The more impossible dogs become the fancier the explanations get. The latest one is that dogs reflect the personality of their owners. If I were a dog owner I'd spend that one right now. According to this hypothesis, all dog owners want to dig up other people's lawns and eat human flesh, something that wouldn't altogether surprise me.

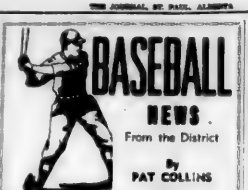
Play in Lacombe

The St Paul Beav baseball players will play for the Grand Centre entry in the annual Lacombe baseball tournament which started yesterday.

Catcher Garth Roberts and pitcher Jack Andronuk are the two main names in the starting lineup for Grand Centre.



Andronuk Big Gun For St. Paul Beavs, Defeat Derwent Cardinals

St Paul Beavs won their fifth consecutive game in the Eastern Alberta Baseball league last Sunday with a 8-7, 10-inning victory over the Derwent Cardinals in Derwent. The victory marked just a league tilt so far this season.

The win was the seventeenth this year for St Paul against two losses.

Tied seven all at the end of nine complete innings, the Beavs broke loose for two big runs in the top of the tenth to win the game. Lefty Pat Collins hurled the entire game for St Paul striking out 14 batters in the process. He walked three men and gave up nine hits, one a two-run homer by M Wysocki in the third. J Wysocki started on the mound for Derwent but was replaced by Bd Lawcombe in the fourth, the losing pitcher.

Derwent opened the scoring in the first when Bowman scored on a single a stolen base and a single by Lawcombe. St Paul immediately back with three tallies in the third on singles by Ken Charuk and John Kotowich followed by a walk to Jack Andronuk. Spike Ketelle and Chuck Kotelo almost singles to drive in the three runs. St. Paul went ahead 4-3 in the fourth on hits by Andronuk and Garth Roberts.

Derwent tied the score in the sixth on a walk to Kosmak, a stolen base and a hit by Modrych. St. Paul took a two run margin in the seventh on a load off single by clean-up batter Garth Roberts, a single by Andy Barutsky and singles by Jim and Collins.

Derwent clashed for —— in the seventh to make the score 6-5 but the Beavs scored another in the eight to still hold the lead. They got that run on a hit by Andronuk followed by a single by Collins.

Derwent tied the score in the bottom of the eight on hits by Bowman, Modrych and M Wysocki.

In the top of the tenth, John Kotowich ripped a double followed by Jack Andronuk's scratch hit to the shortstop. Chuck Kotelo drove in both runners with the three runs. St. Paul went to bat. St. Paul will be Sunday, when Elk Point Monsarchs will be the visitors.

Thorien Rinsed Out In Annual Sports Event

A rainy downpour halted the final game in the annual Thorien Sports Day ball tournament Sunday. Thorien and Glendon were tied 8-0 in the second innings when rain put an end to the day's events.

In the first game of the day, Thorien pounded out a convincing 22-5 win over St Lina. Jack Andronuk, Pat Collins and Garth Roberts, all St. Paul Beav players, were in the Thorien lineup. Collins hurled the game pitching to Roberts.

The second contest saw Glendon down Mining 13-2 Ken Collins was the winning pitcher.

Pat Collins and Hank Collins were booked up in quite a pitching duel in the final game but rain came in the sixth and a bit each before the game was called.

A large crowd attended the Sports day which would have been a record success had the weather cooperated today. This was the third straight year that rain has spoiled the day.

Jaycees Strap Teachers In Grudge Game

The race regular and youthful teachers who recklessly issued a baseball challenge to what may come, were cut down to size when the Jaycees called their b u f f Monday evening, stripping them by a score of 11-6

The outcome of the contest was determined by a great pitching test on ability, but on who made the less errors and the lasting power of its pitchers.

The Jaycees under the slugging power of Pete Hiburan who batted four for four pounded Sylvain Lefebvre out of the pitcher's mound in three innings. Hubert rose bobbing in with a switch from left field, introducing Paul Dorieux. For an old timer, he had plenty of steam for one inning.

Joe Stolle opened the Jaycee for four giving in to Nick Lefty Gourlay. The hickory stick pusher had it in for 15-hard but breaking his engagement with a series of hits to bring themselves back into contention during the last stages of the game.

Catching for the Jaycees, Louis Letourneau and Ralph Joly; teachers, Lorden Lounsbry and Bill Abercrombie.

It all ended up with bruises, scratches and aches and muscles the next day . . but as the old saying goes — a good time was had by all.

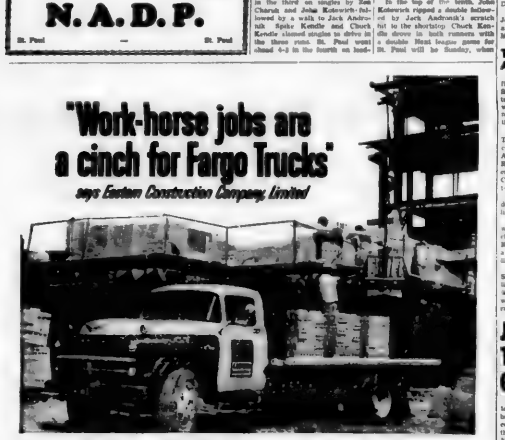
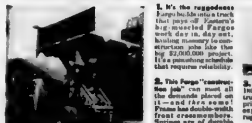
"Work-horse jobs are a cinch for Fargo Trucks"
says Eastern Construction Company Limited




1. It's the ruggedness Fargo builds into a truck that pays off. Eastern's big-mouthed Fargos work day in, day out, hauling masonry to construction jobs like the $1,000,000 project. It's a punishing schedule that requires reliability.

2. This Fargo "construction jeep" can meet all the requirements of Unit 11—and then some! Frame has double-width front crossmember bolts. Springs are of durable chrome-alloy steel.

3. Extra V-8 power, rated from 180 to 223 h.p., makes Fargo trucks the power leaders in their price ranges, from 4-ton pickups to semi and petrol models to rugged heavy-duty trucks.

4. Safer operation is a cinch, too. Big wrap-around windshield and optional wrap-around rear window, covenient-speed electric windshield wipers are just a few of many safeguards.

Garden-Graph

by DEAN HALLIDAY

Carelessness frequently causes needless annoyance from the home vegetable garden, carelessness on the part of the gardener who works or walks around the garden when they are wet with dew or rain. Such carelessness frequently is the cause of spreading the blight known to gardeners.

The blight causes irregular brown or black patches on the leaves to the consternation of the gardener. The blight, like the measles, is contagious and spreads from plant to the nearest that they touch. Good sprays or dusts will control it.

The blight also attacks the roots of bean plants. Red cotton appears on the roots and the plant in the extent that they stand during rain or wind storms.

The disease is carried on the seed. Therefore, the first plants there are several brands of that dusting day of the symptoms every season.

Carelessness should be resisted and burned.

The disease can largely be prevented, if only plants are resistant varieties of beans.

Beans also have another enemy, the Mexican bean beetle. To keep the plant in check, dust with bean with rotenone or the equivalent at the rate of one pound to the 100 feet. Repeat as often as the first few holes appear, as shown in the Garden-Graph.

By dusting at once, you may be fairly certain to kill the beetles before they do their work. If you delay, the damage is apt to appear too late to be stopped.

Two Beautiful Rainbow Trouts Netted From Thelon Lake Monday

There's still hope for Thelon Lake and St. Paul fishermen looking forward to catching some land monster trout.

Evidence that the lake is capable of harboring and winter-ing the fish planned by the Alberta Department of Fisheries was brought in this week by Gerry Steadman, Game Warden for St Paul.

Gerry produced two skinny trout, glistening with bright colors, and proceeded to pose in exhibits "A" and "B" to the "Journal".

Jeared in experimental 3½ inch net, 50 yards long, the two beauties measured exactly one foot and weighed three-quarters of a pound. They were caught on the first attempt

Those two fish, the product of a batch of fingerlings planted in the lake on June 1st, 1956, survived last year's rigid winter. A quantity had been released in the lake the previous season, but had not survived, possibly due to winter kill or the theory that the high lake level had carried them through a usually low creek into the Saskatchewan River.

This latest bit of evidence proves conclusively that the fish can survive in Thelon Lake and the possibility of some good fishing, perhaps this fall, next year.

The question, foremost in the fishermen's mind is "will they bite and at what?" One of the two fish caught had a "mouthful of minnows, indicating that the lake is abundant with food and sometimes well-fed fish are complacent and disdainful of artificial lures. Time will tell, but in the meantime, start practicing fly castings-accurately to meet fishermen horseboxes.

Construction In Town Booms

Total value of construction in St. Paul started to over $140,000 to the end of May, figures released by Town Secretary-Treasurer, Tweed Secretary, revealed.

The building boom has accounted for nine dwellings being constructed at a declared cost of $61,150, a used cleaning plant built by the St. Paul Municipal Seed Cleaning Association valued at $45,000 and a gas and oil bulk plant and service station by Wainwright Producers & Refiners Ltd. valued at $12,000, plus a large number of garages and additions to homes.

The 1957 value of construction in all probability will climb well over the $200,000 mark, if work continues at its present pace.

January building permits were issued to the following: St. Paul Municipal Seed Cleaning Association, Seed Cleaning plant, $45,000 Woodward, clothing, $8,000 February—Raymond Larochelle, single dwelling, $5,000; J Labutsne, single dwelling, $5,000; Sam Kuzma, double dwelling, $6,000 March—Wainwright Producers and Refiners Ltd., gas and oil bulk and service station, $12,000 Dr Bosnak, garage, $2,000 Agricultural Society, garage, $2,500 May—D Lee, addition to dwelling and garage, $1,500; W Durand, dwelling, $12,000; Oliver Noel, warehouse, $300; Marcel Desbiens, dwelling, $8,000; R Tesorkyuke, dwelling alteration, $800; John F Kidd, dwelling, $9,000; Car-Oualls Construction Company, dwelling (Lloydminster: $10,000. Grand Centre In Second Place Final Ball Thriller

Good Attendance At Jaycee Dominion Day Tournament

Little, short and stocky Johnny Kotowich, swinging a heavy bat was St. Paul's wonder boy and hero of the Jaycee Dominion Day, July first and annual Baseball Tournament, when his two-run homer showed the Bears ahead of a tough Grand Centre Club in the final game before 2000 fans

Johnny plays a tight centre field position, he covers like a blanket, pulled the dramatic stunt at the bottom of the fifth inning.

St. Paul, trailing from the opening pitch, blasted out of the park over left field fence in a homer by Tom Murphy, and just missed the tying run, on a one-bagger by Ralph Lee, which hit the fence, but pulled a short single over third, when both Lee and Murphy scored by forcing pitcher Fred Brady into a balk and sending in on pitcher Buddy Schnell's lapping centre field fly.

With Schnell sitting on first, Kotowich took a 2-1 count, wound up to match Murphy's drive and let go with a long smash over the left field fence to round in the St. Paul pitcher and himself for the two-run homer that gave St Paul ahead on the long end of a 3-1 count.

Murphy again pulled up the hopes of the Grand Centre Braves in the top of the seventh, and repeat performance digging a second one-bagger over left field fence with no one on bases

Pitcher Fred Brady for Grand Centre relieved 1 hits while his mates made 3 errors, behind the plate was Bob Olsen

The win gave St. Paul the host's the $2,000.00 Dominion Tournament prize money in the amount of $700 to while the runners-up, Grand Centre took a $400 cash. The defeated Elnora, Elk Point and Cold Lake received $200 to square the money of the Tourney round. Clandon, Two Hills, Bonnyville and Vegreville came away empty handed.

In the first day's play, (all 7 innings) St. Paul subdued Glendon in a game brought about by Glendon's errors. Ralph Lee, Two Hills, 3-0, Cold Lake, Kotowich, Grand Centre, 3-2 (8 innings) Tom Murphy, Grand Centre, 3-2 (8 innings) Elk Point 7, Elnora 1, Grand Centre 3, Cold Lake 2, St. Paul 3, Two Hills 0, Grand Centre 3, Cold Lake 2, St. Paul 3, Glendon 0.

The Tournament sponsored by the St. Paul Junior Chamber of Commerce, under general convenorship of Jaycee Ken Hunter and was well run and smoothly handled by Jaycee Tournament Director Ken Hunter and Jaycee Bill Cote, assisted by Jaycee wives and many other people.

It was the third year in a row St. Paul instituted in the top prize money Last year they defeated Cold Lake on a two-game-by Buck Judy who brought in the winning run. The previous year split with Cold Lake on a rainout.

Fine Community Spirit

We'd like to hand out a bouquet to the executive of the St Paul Curling Club for their fine example of community spirit in relinquishing the opportunity of putting a car lodge in favor of the St Paul Agricultural Society.

Early this spring the Curling Club announced its intention to sponsor a car lodge. Having been the first to venture in this field of promotion it is fairly and justly agreed that they should have preference of sponsorship.

However the curling club has always been willing to lend the facilities of the rink and step aside when other organizations requested priority on the basis of pressing needs.

Consequently after announcing its intentions, the Club held back when members of the Agricultural Society expressed the wish to put on a lodge to help pay for the buildings erected on the construction of Exhibition Grounds improvements ten years ago.

Furthermore, the Club's President, Mr John Bagan who has considerable experience handling lodges, has taken the lead in the promotion by accepting an advisory position on the committee in charge.

It is this kind of spirit which makes for the progressiveness of this town. The citizens of St Paul are reasonable enough to understand that all the organizations put together are for the good of the Town. They exist substantially from the support of the entire people and it is to the advantage of everyone that these organizations be kept healthy and solvent! At the moment, the Agricultural Society needs a helping hand from everyone to meet its obligations. They have had tough luck, but because of a lack of goodwill and effort from its members, but through a run of weather adversity which has equalled the success of fairs five years in succession.

Farmers in this district are reminded of the Agricultural Society expressed the wish to put on a lodge to help pay for the buildings erected on the construction of Exhibition Grounds improvements ten years ago

IN RECOGNITION

Recognition by the Town of St Bill of Non. Ray Reserach's contribution to its direct progress through the Minister's efforts to save the main street of government expense in amalgamation with the building of eleven miles of hard top from St. Bridon was a fine gesture of appreciation to a man who deserves it.

When Mr. Reserach became Minister, many in the constituency feared extra duties calling him to Edmonton and the Province as a whole would prevent him from interesting for his constituents.

On the contrary, Mr Reserach, through the prestige of Cabinet Association has been able to do twice more and applied himself well to the task of caring for this constituency.

We have the opportunity to attend many public functions in St. Paul and surroundings and are often surprised to find Ray present for a night, commuting between here and Edmonton at an amazing pace requiring many hard nights driving over our roads.

We personally know that Mr. Reserach never takes down an invitation to a function unless it is absolutely impossible and takes opportunity of every occasion to be with the people who elected him to government.

The coming parliament marks a milestone in the progress and evolution of St. Paul . . . one that will carry it on still further as one of Eastern Alberta's leading communities.

SPOILING LABOR WORKER

A very serious economic problem is envisaged by a Toronto economist, where some constructive steps are taken to deal with the increasing labor shortage.

"We are expanding our economy at a rate which corresponds with a doubling in fifteen years. At a time when Canada needs all the manpower possible to keep up with this expansion, we are experiencing an acute labor shortage," declared Mr Gilbert Jackson, Economist, speaking to a meeting of the Health League of Canada held last week.

The cause of the shortage is threefold. First of all we have the heightening of the educational process. Secondly, we are living through a progressive shortening of the work week, and not only are we short, of labor but those who are still willing to do a job insist on working a shorter week this year than last and so on. Thirdly, we are promoting elderly workers while a great many of these people are still capable of earning a living

Mr Jackson said that these three influences working together in the same disposition when we have a shortage of labor are creating a very, very serious economic problem, and creating this problem at a time when Canada is entering on a period of unparalleled economic progress.

"I suspect that we are going to live in embarrassing shortage of labor for the rest of our lives," he said, " embarrassing to everybody who wants to consume the products of labor, as long as we have a population which grows faster than the rate of born of our working population grows," he concluded.

AROUND THE DIAMOND

By L. H. Deusen

Foremost, of course, cheers and bouquets to Johnny Kolnevich, the local product who won the tournament with a two-run homer in the fifth and further complimentary to the club's success by playing outstanding centre field making the key catches in the final . . .

It takes a lot of people to put on a tournament. Romeo Bedard as Tournament Manager took on the load with Bill Hudson, President of the St Paul Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the event. Around the diamond there was Mike Phyrlik, fanning with a rake to keep the mound in shape, Joe Stolba standing on the sidelines and watching the kids. At the gate, Leo Lambert had himself a tough job taking up the slack and more trouble seeing that the boys were on tap. Paul Lafrenieux played himself out keeping the goals in the book. Ernie Bilodeau was there waiting on them . . . so much so that he played himself out completely and fell into a deep slumber when the show was all over . . .

The Agricultural Society came out with sterling service . . . catering to the crowd from the grandstand booth. President Marcel Campeau, the chief cook, kept some king size hot dogs steadily sizzling off the production line.

Winning a ball tournament takes more than just players, no matter how good they are. As coach of the St Paul Champions, Garth Roberts also filled in on the managerial duties and fielded a team with not one idea—to win —and that they did. It takes a lot of strategy on the part of the coach, consideration of many opponents and then adverse pressure Garth who caught part of the first game himself before he had to the less strenuous position of right field due to an ankle and leg injury hampering him behind the plate. Our hats off to Garth for a great ball player and has proved himself equally capable of adapting to the complicated assignment of a ball club . . .

The Umpire's What can we say about them, after the game has thrown the book at them? Yet, what would a good ball game be without them. After all in man and mess, we find that Johnny Mason of Edmonton, taking on the duties of Umpire-in Chief for the first time at St. Paul did a good job, calling seven games from behind the plate . . .

and that is no mean job, especially in the finals when players are tense, impressive and critical of every call. On the base lines was reliable Mike Tasno of Two Hills, a long standing official here. Rounding the bases with some of the players afterwards, we deducted a fairly reasonable impression and general satisfaction. Ball players make errors and it would seem only fair to allow a few now and then to the umpires.

Brave keeping and announcing may be considered a soft job. The contrary, it requires . . . every effort to keep a game, Mr Lawrence Richard announcing and Andre Joly mixing keeper, kept the fans informed on line-ups and batting. Armand Lord took over the announcing chores the second day.

Extra publicity to St. Paul and the tournament was given by Radio Station CHFA Edmonton, and CKSA Lloydminster. The French Radio station carried two hours of descriptive broadcast of sports-final games and interviews with the crowd in the afternoon. At the microphone was sports announcer Rene Cobieu. Jean Carron, Mr Forestier and Bishop Bruyere. Mr Forestier recording the final game for CKSA Lloydminster. Harry Smith announcing and Tony Mayor announcing for CKSA broadcast of the game was transmitted Wednesday from 1 to 3 p.m. Everyone little bit of publicity helps Secretary of the CHFA broadcast were Canadian Utilities, St. Paul Pharmacy, Laperre's Garage, Paul Van Brabant, Bedard and Sons, Lavoie Hotel, Lafrance Motors . . .

We did an interview in sign language with Ralph (Rafael) Lopez, the Cuban boy who played some outstanding ball for the Bears. A newcomer in the country, Ralph speaks no English, but we found out he came to Lloydminster to try out with the Meridians. Only he didn't stay we couldn't catch. He is 22 years of age, weighs 'some' 170 pounds, 5 feet tall, with a flashy white grin. Ralph batted 2 for 3 in the final game, 3 for 5 in the semi, 4 for 2 in the first round, up to the handy average of 600. On his bats was slugging Tom Murphy who is credited 3 for 3 in the first game, 3 for 5 and 2 for 4 adding to 3-14 for the tourney. Three of his hits were home runs and except for Johnny Kolnevich the heaviest hitter of the tournament. Joe Wereny chalked 1 for 3, 3 for 5, combining with the second best average of .521.

I tried to find out if Lopez was married by pointing to my left hand and to answer he shook his head happily emphasizing he had no fiancee. His home address is Cardenas, Cuba . . .

All in all the tournament was considered a good success from every standpoint of view as well as the class of ball fielded. Apart from some lopsided games, all contests were battles until the last pitch. The weather was cold and warm, both with spurts of sunshine and threatening showers which seemingly mended fences and failed to break out into expected thunderstorms.

Agricultural Society Rules Against Holding Annual Fair This Year

since the Stampede had been a definite success. The two-day event had attracted one of the largest crowds ever to assemble in St. Paul, the fans expressed complete satisfaction and there were no complaints.

The Lasacial statement showed a net profit of $2200.00 and although this may not be considered a high figure Mr Beland pointed out that over $1,500.00 of Capital expenditures had been incurred in the construction of new corrals for future use. It is his opinion that the rodeo will increase in interest and next year's attendance should be higher. Marvel was given a hearty vote of thanks for the leading part he took in organization and management of the Rodeo.

Faced with the grave situation of deficiture bonds issued in 1947 for capital expenditure on the four grounds the Directors of the Agricultural Society felt that these should be honored as soon as possible to maintain the good name of the Society . . .

It was decided for the present to redeem all the old bonds with a new series bearing coupons at the same rate of interest as the previous debentures so that the holders of bonds would not sustain any investment. Some bond holders have voluntarily returned and written them off a gesture greatly appreciated by the Society but it was felt that such demand would be made . . .

although returned loans would be gratefully accepted on voluntary basis.

In an expression of good faith towards having money to liquidate the indebtedness the Society said sponsor a car lodge on Saturday July 20th in the Curling Rink The Curling Club contemplating a large commission, have quite graciously suggested such in favour of the Agricultural Society which is felt in no way detrimental to the profits of the Curling Club . . .

It was decided President of the Association and two members of the executive should be empowered to act in an advisory capacity to help put the affair successfully over.

Other members on the committee are Charles Gauthreau and President Romeo Lafrance . . .

The chorus of the car has been made and when well fastens a token 1957 Pontiac purchased from Cloverdale Motors Ltd.

RODEO FINANCIAL REPORT

Financial statement of the Rodeo as given by Mr Charles Gauthreau Treasurer, last year revenues of $6156.16 against an expenditure of $4,624.51. For net result of $2200.99 . . .

Major expenses include prize money of 11 thousand to events totalling $2000.00 to Harry Vold and $1,100.00 to Jack Buck for contracting fees and all incidental expenses including salaries of payments made for advertising and small prizes not mentioned with the type of promotion . . .

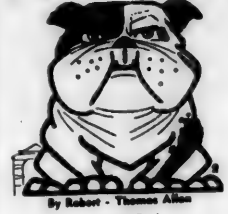
I Hate Dogs



By Robert - Thomas Allen

Sound Incidental

After half a lifetime of being barked at and bitten, pawed and petrified, Robert Thomas Allen is now fond of Mary Lou, published in 1954, opens his counter attack on dogs and dog lovers with an unquestioned plea for equal rights for humans. Because of this tome, however, it is timely with the fact that St. Paul has been having plenty of dog troubles in the past few weeks, and years for that matter.

I have a friend in Connecticut, a middle-aged man of sorts, a bachelor. For a year every time she went shopping a dog that looked like a black sausage on two feet half followed her with its tongs and her from her legs. She complained to the owner. He gave her that smile that dog owners give people who don't like being bitten by dogs like something bit her, he just can't talk to him. The woman talked to his wife. She was talking to him one day he laid her arm open from elbow to wrist the color little thing. When he was taken to a veterinary to see that he was free of disease and could go on biting people safely, he bit the veterinary. The owner kept on the dog in for two weeks. Never the dog was put on the prowl again and stopped speaking to my friend.

I know a dog that looks like a combination of a fox terrier, a wolverine and a Shetland sheep dog. He has bitten six people that I know of, and a little girl who was on a medal last year for plasma donations. He has 20 stitches in his left hand, a paper boy, a crippled girl who had had polio and my mother. The owner always explained.

"The children have been throwing stones at him," he'd say "What would you do if somebody threw stones at you?"

I don't know, but I know what I'm going to do from now on with people who throw dogs at me.

One place I lived I had to walk past a dog collie that had a look in its eyes like a devil just before it sinks its fangs into a throat. Four Martinis One day he came home to find the collie in the backyard torturing out of them the wife of a friend. The explanation from the owner was that I should stop carrying Martinis as long as he stopped biting.

While I was in Florida, every day when I drove in the parking place a great hard-nose dog who had been left over from the last tourist season would try to get me. He would run out at my front wheels. He had learned how to do it after a few close sprinkler. Every day the dog was in the same place every day and day after day but my luck knew if A free-moving bitch would be in the owner threatened to sue me. "Damned fools on the road should be mad. "Damned those dogs." No respect for other people's rights . . .

I don't think dogs have any rights, except the right to be destroyed. I don't think dogs have any sense that we haven't got except the desire to taste human flesh. I don't think they are lovable. I know a dog who got lost if he gets more than a block from home and another one who delights in giving the death howl when nobody is dying. I don't think dogs are any more loyal than people, although they have a stronger instinct for what is their bread's buttered on . . .

One of my earliest recollections is that of a French lad I romped with up north who had three hounds that he claimed would rescue him if he ever got into trouble. In spite of overwhelming evidence to the contrary, he persisted in hopefully mooning in his mouth anguish, talking, clutching his leg and waiting for the hounds to come for help. One three of them, noble, beautiful looking animals always made straight for his parents—which they were forbidden to touch when he was alive . . .

I don't think dogs are intelligent. I think they are cunning. I think people who do, are getting tabled of people who do. I've known dogs to wag their tails at people who hadn't quite fancies fought with their neighbors on their own property, chased me in my own yard and reported kids I know a guy who knew dogs who'd watch an all-around stinker that the neighbors took up a petition, to have him kicked off the street. I know another guy who loves and who doesn't even like any-thing else. He will play out in the back yard for an hour and a half with his airedales, becoming a ball, congratulating the dog on how he is. But when his own son comes out, a shy brown-haired kid who has been convinced he has father that he is stupid, the guy loses his temper right away and tells him to get back into the house.

I've met and listened incredulously to one of the most brilliant surgeons in Canada tell with obvious pleasure how he cut dog flaps outside people by the use

WEDDING

The Israelree United Church held the setting of a pretty wedding on Saturday, June 15, when Miss Eileen Joan MacLeod became the bride of Mr Raymond Petrowski. The altar was surrounded with chrysanthemums and lilies. Rev. I. Holtby performed the ceremony. The couple are the children of Mr and Mrs Adrian MacLeod and Mr and Mrs Dan Petrowski.

Given in marriage by her uncle, the bride chose a floor length styled gown of white linen and net over satin, fashioned with a bonnet short, fitted bodice gowned a high stand-out neckline in front and a V-neck at the back with lily point sleeves. Her fingertip veil of embroidered net and lace was caught to a tiara of brilliants.

She carried a bouquet of red roses and daisies. Her jewellery consisted of an amethyst heart-ring and necklace, gift of the groom.

The maid of honor was Miss Judith MacLeod, sister of the bride. She wore a turquoise bell-ryline over net ballerina-length gown with a matching flowery picture. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Bridesmaids were Miss Gladys Petrowski and Miss Celia Park. They were pink taffeta ballerina net over taffeta with matching headpieces and bouquets. They carried yellow daisies.

Alexa Petrowski, as flower girl was dressed in a white chiffon net dress with a small tiara of pearl in place with a band of roses. She carried a small basket of pink flowers. Mr Makowerski was the flower boy.

Mr Rudolph Petrowski, Mr Peter Petrowski and Mr Ivan Makowerski attended the groom. Mr Pat Mackenzie was usher and Mrs D Dickson was organist.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs MacLeod wore a pale yellow silk with Persian accessories and a corsage of red roses. The groom's mother chose a navy dress with white accessories and a corsage of red roses. For the reception held in the Lake Alice Hotel, 220 guests were invited to the bride's table which held a three-layered cake decorated in white carnations and white wedding bells. The bride's table centerpiece was a corsage for the bride and bridesmaids.

A dance followed the reception.

Out of town guests included relatives and friends from Wynyard and Yorkton Sask., Edmonton, Rimbey and St Paul.

The bride and groom will make their home on a farm south of Innisfree

Murder Case Considered Biggest Newspaper Story On Record

A news event which attracted country wide attention is recalled in the current issue of The Star Weekly. The event features the murder trial of a new actor which the magazine features in a seven tell by Eugene Burke.

It was while Duchesneau was awaiting his fate in the death cell after being sentenced for the murder of Mrs. Genevieve Rex Orleans, that Thomas had his hunch that the man might also have committed the brutal Mc-Kay murders, which took place almost a year previously in St. Thomas.

Thomas, in his News Weekly article tells how he dug for information and requested permission to visit Duchesneau in the death cell 3,000 miles distant. He tells the full harrowing story of the re- of the facts behind one of Canada's biggest newspaper scoops.

It may seem early to talk of preserving when the gardens are just beginning to show growth, but the arrival of the new bulletin "Preserve by Freezing" merits some mention. It has been out of print for quite some time but now is available in large supply. For those who have home freezers or locker facilities, the bulletin will be a source of reference material for almost any freezing problem.

The advisability of freezing food which has been thawed, before which often causes concern. If frozen foods do thaw before cooked, they may under certain conditions, be safely refrozen if they have been properly thawed, or if they have been thawed for a short time and held in the refrigerator. Thawing and refreezing usually results in poorer quality and loss of flavor. Reblown vegetables may toughen. Meats become dry, mushy and satisfactory only for use in cooking or juices or yellow. Re-freezing causes loss of juices. Heavy meat and poultry juices are lost when thawed and refrozen. Uncooked meat and poultry wrapped in moisture-vapor-proof material can be refrozen with little quality loss. Cooked meat and poultry dishes and gravies can be refrozen if they have been thawed in the refrigerator. Fruits and vegetables may be refrozen if they have been thawed in the refrigerator. Fruits and vegetables may be refrozen if they have been thawed in the refrigerator. Fruits and vegetables may be refrozen if they have been thawed in the refrigerator.

If fruits have thawed and warmed above 32 degrees F for a short period they may be refrozen and although there will be some fermentation with flavor and texture changes they are still safe to use.

Most which has been thawed in the refrigerator is best made perishable then fresh meat

The domestic consumption of oats has dropped 2 million bushels as the result of bargain priced feed grains. Canada's carry over into Eastern Canada. The Canadian 1956-57 supply of oats is 46.8 million bushels compared to 39.8 million last year.

A TIP FROM THE CHEF

When you see the word "Julienne" on the menu, it means garden style. The term is used when vegetables are cut in matchstick strips or cooked vegetables are combined, as in mixed vegetables or canned vegetables. Also when several kinds of vegetables, cooked separately, complement a meat platter such as lamb chops garnished with green peas, potato balls, carrot rounds and parsley.

GORILLA IS BAD-TEMPERED BABY

Baby X has only had a few months to cultivate a bad temper but he has done very well in that short time. One of the few gorillas to be on display at a zoo in North America, Baby X took three days to reach Toronto from the Attwick Conservancy. Though weighing only 22 pounds, the young gorilla is very strong and is quite a handful for zoo curator Dr. Norman Scollard to handle. Full-grown he will weigh 600 pounds, and Dr. Scollard hopes he will develop a better disposition than he has now.

I Hate Dogs

of those pests and holds them there till the doctor comes out and realizes that he's got me. One of my wife's best friends has to phone her dog-lover husband at least once a week to get him to come home and get her out of the pantry where she is being held at bay by a building that she despises and which deepens her

I've listened to a grown man say with tears in his voice that every boy should have a dog, any a dog that looked like a hangover, then both the guy and his boy forgot it and left its care, feeding and welfare to the boy's mother, who didn't want it in the first place. I know a lawyer who has a dog built like a bottle brush and about as cute as a hungry pichal that has hit engine. Power Steering if you want it, choice of finish and styles. same as a mosquito, who owns a spaniel that just lies in a great glittering chrome-and-plastic kitchen affecting the strongest scent made by Paton

Feather Lived in Fear

I've heard a man who shaves pennies in fuse sockets tell how dogs are useful for saving people from fires. If he is an example I'll bet statistics would show that the reason dogs save so many people from fires is that most fires happen to people with dogs. I'll also bet that for every person a dog saves from a fire, five persons are burned to death running into fires to save dogs.

Once when I lived in Kitchener I spent a lot of evenings with friends who owned a dog that had been acting queer in the family ever since he was six weeks old and to which they had all become very attached. He was fat, ugly, hairy, smelly and stiff-legged. Every night when I went to visit them he came at me like a wild pig, all his decayed teeth showing. When he didn't bite me, these people sat around beaming with their hands folded in their laps saying, "You see, Fuzzface likes you."

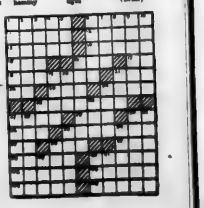
The only reason Fuzzface didn't bite me, of course, was that he was afraid of getting his fangs bent down. But he hated me. And I hated him. He hated me because he sensed that I could see through him. He hated me because I was an cold-blooded about him as a woman meeting her son's first girl friend. He knew that I knew he couldn't hold his own with a raccoon for intelligence, a woodchuck for stamina, a rat for speed style and grace and a lighting heart.

Not that I'm against dogs as such. As long as a dog leads a dog's life is treated like a dog, and doesn't enjoy any privileges that shouldn't I expect to enjoy, I can even find their rather heavy at times, for my feet on cold winter nights I can cuddly enjoy reaching down and kneading their ears. But one deal I refuse to accept a dog from now on. It's going to be on the understanding that he keeps out of my way, wipes that rocky look off his face, wags his tail when I pass and gives me at least half of the street

Planting To Prevent Root Rot

In order to keep root rot infections at a minimum the best depth of seeding for wheat or barley appears to be from 3 to 3½ inches, says Dr. B. J. Sallans of the plant pathology laboratory, Saskatoon. Very shallow seeding is likely to result in considerable root rot infection in the region of the crown which produces the number of tillers and crown roots. It seems too deep there is also a greater chance of infection by root rot fungi.



Moisture Conditions For Prairie Provinces Reported By Searle Co.

Grand Centre Takes Second At Star Studded Lacombe Tournament

A dramatic hit by Jack Answorth of St. Paul, enabled the Grand Centre Braves to gain second place in the eight annual Lacombe Elimanell Tournament held last Wednesday and Thursday.

The Grand Centre boys came home with $150.00 in their pockets after losing to the Alberta Champion Cloverbar White Sox in the final game by an 8-3 count. But they gained the final in the strength of two upset wins over two very highly-rated clubs.

Correction

Last week our article on the preliminary hearing of an alleged rustling earned a heading stating "Horse Hunters Remanded to Court Trial." should have read Alleged Hunters" to coincide with the text which clearly states that fact.

It was simply a slip in the type heading and we hope no one [illegible] was very concerned the item The evidence presented at preliminary trial is simply to determine whether or not there is grounds for a trial at which the prisoner is found guilty or innocent.

We [illegible] this because of possible ambiguity and to enable our readers out in the native [illegible] offense attached to the matter as appeared in the preliminary trial

ELK POINT EASY PREY TO ST. PAUL BEAR SQUAD

St Paul had little trouble in disposing of Elk Point Monarchs in the first semi-final on Tuesday After the fireworks was all over, the Bears walked off the field with a 10-1 victory under their belts.

The Bears really went to work in the first inning when 13 runs went to bat. A great total of eight runs were scored on eight hits. Starting pitcher McKinnon for Elk Point failed to survive the fatal first and thereafter was the losing pitcher.

Following a strikeout, Garth Roberts batted in the first run for the Bears. Kerlaith then drew a walk as did McInerney and a perfectly blasted single to center two runs and pitcher Joe Wereny then slammed a double to clear the bags

George Stickle and Stan Kulka added a two base hits to drive in two more runs

Pitching Joe Wereny won his second game of the tourney by Elk Point he hurled a six-hitter, sending six men down by the strikeout way The only time that Elk Point could crack the offerings of the Bear hurler was in the fifth inning when Bill Montgomery crossed home plate.

The Bears collected 13 runs, on 15 hits and they committed only 1 error The best that Elk Point could do was six hits and they were charged with three errors.

School Requisitions Increased Taxation

If plans now under way for the St Paul Public School and Glen Avon Separate School the Council is to raise its mill rate from 36 to 53 for taxpayers residing in the Public School area and for those paying to the Separate School Board when the budget for the year 1957 was passed at a meeting on Tuesday evening

The total budget for the coming year was set at $596,351.— Requisitioned is $178,340.00 from the previous year of total requisitioned amounts to $418,011.— to offset the increased demands from the schools who last year requisitioned $98,152.65 resulting in a total of $74,458.99 in 1957.

In 1956 the St Paul Public School requisitioned $43,429.00 against $34,541.60 for the current year. An increase of $11,900.00. the Separate School $15,702.13 in 1957 against $10,857.52 for 1957, increase of $4,000.00 This makes a total increase of $15,900.00 for the schools.

Although the Town assessment rose in 1957 from $3,079,-000 to $3,453,673.00, the extra revenue gained was not enough to meet the school demands without increasing the mill rate

The mill rate is broken up as follows: Rat-payers remaining for Public School are assessed 35 mills, 18 municipal and 6 hospital, paying 53 mills hospital area school division is made up of 21 is school, 18 municipal and 6 hospital, totalling 53.

In view of the demand and expanding school facilities in the Creamery district it was decided at a review in the future, the possibility remains school districts will be formed and assessment rate can be effected in other departments the mill rate may evaluate to use

Last year both ratepayer divisions paid fifty mills, divided 30 for school, 15 for municipal and 5 for hospital. The mill rate dropped one for hospital and increased one for municipal purposes.

The following table notes the fluctuations of the mill rate since 1953

1953	50 Mills
1954	55 Mills
1955	55 Mills
1956	50 Mills
1957	53 Mills

Divided into its component departments the mill rate for 1957 provides expenditures as follows:

General Government	$13,527.00
Protection to person and property	12,000.50
Public Works	18,003.65
Health	6,163.52
Social Welfare	= 6,130.00

Modernizing Journal

It's a terrible mess! It's very inconvenient for our staff to work in the confused disordered, temporary arrangements. It is also very awkward for the customers who have to squeeze in to do business. But in the long run when everything is back to normal, we'll all be the better off.

The management of the St. Paul Journal most ashamed of its sordid front, finally decided to give it a face lifting and modernize it completely with the trend of the day.

The new management has been in business for almost seven years. When we took over there was a great deficiency in productive equipment, so it was decided, first, to invest in machinery, type and other requirements to raise the standard of printing in the town.

With this practically accomplished, the latter was at hand — modernize our capital on improving the appearance of the building progressively with the times and also to maintain our prestige with that of the town at presenting a fresh front on Main street.

The entire front of the St. Paul Journal has been torn down and will be replaced by a new solid and durable brick facade. The two old offices have also been demolished and will be rebuilt under with a large reception entrance and a private news room. Extensions will be made all the way to the back, a side wall torn down and the shop space extended eastward where the entire press room will be moved, leaving the rest of the east section open for a large spacious composing room, spaced out conveniently for more efficiency of production. The old part will also be renovated with cement floors fixing of walls and ceilings along with a new paint job.

Looking at it objectively, we feel that all the present inconvenience will be well worth it to our staff and customers when construction is completed.

Inquire of the news, production of the St. Paul Journal and commercial printing will go on uninterrupted with the same efficient service offered to our customers.

Your indulgence in bearing with the confusion for about a month or two will be greatly appreciated.

GROWING CROPS

The outlook for farm production in Ontario and Quebec remains the most excellent, haying and ensiling now being the main farm actions.

The 1957 western Canadian grain crop is holding prosperously to its chance for a place among the bumper crops of history. Manitoba however, the condition has been maintained to date to observers and should certainly dampen the top five stylings and soil. There have been literally no general rains in May or June over Saskatchewan and Alberta. Local weather has drained the residues of moisture storage but the seasonal conditions very wide areas of the two provinces are not producing an average the long range forecasts of above-normal precipitation and below-normal temperatures to materialize must be entertained. There is already showing straight damage as shifting further north showers have been more frequent and generous in S.W. Saskatchewan and S.E. Alberta and, in central and northern areas along the provincial boundary, the decline in prospects is evident over a growing territory to the east and west in condition figures for the whole West, the damage in this central area is observed by the high premium in Manitoba and eastern Saskatchewan. In the latter territory most crops look very thrifty, with the earliest wheat fields coming into the head.

GRAVEL FOR LAKE ROAD

A complaint was lodged with us this week as the condition of the Lake St. Vincent road, by several farmers. They feel that some consideration should be given to gravelling parts of it as soon as possible. As a matter of fact one of these farmers has a deep hole in a rut and badly damaged his car.

This road besides its essentiality to the farmers in the area is also one leading to a popular summer resort favored by a great number of farmers as well as town people alike.

This week while the swimming and water safety courses are in progress, a fair amount of intermittent precipitation made traveling hazardous and several cars took to the ditches unable to maintain momentum, supply hole.

Again on the premises that as many farm residents as town boys and girls look advantage of the numerous lakes in the municipality should pay more attention to the Lake St. Vincent road. There is no doubt it is a road servicing a great number of taxpayers and on that justification merits a better grade gravelled for all weather travel

LABOR TROUBLE LOOMS

Labor thunder is rumbling from one coast to the other reports the Financial Post.

Unions evidently are denouncing big profits.

Management and the public are wondering seriously whether inflation of fat increases set in 1956 and earlier this year was beyond the economy's capacity and therefore inflationary?

A number of key strikes are either under way or threatened.

In a few other cases there are settlements. But they are big-increase agreements, giving unions more backing for their periodical threats.

In all some 70,000 workers are involved in these pace-setting labor cases.

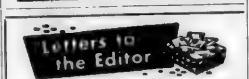
ST. PAUL, ELK POINT, and GLENDON



Foisy, Alberta,
July 8th, 1957.

The Editor,
St Paul Journal,
St. Paul, Alta.

Dear Sir:

I have just had the surprise of my life when I came to Town and heard of the Wolf Carter Show renting the Arena for just a paltry $100.00. Comparing the St Paul Agricultural Society doing areas of hats work for just over $200.00 to pay off their overdue bonds and then trying again to put over a Car Bingo on the same date to make a few more dollars only. I have then plans changed like that Mr Editor, where is the co-operation of the Mayor and Council of St Paul to permit such an overnight for just a $100.00.

Wolf Carter will take a lot of money out of this district at the expense of all the business in St Paul as well as the St Paul Agricultural Society and for just what?, a measly $100.00

The Jaycees sponsoring the Wolf Carter show 2 years ago did a lot of good work holding a platform and selling for good of the community. What confidence is being built up by our Town?

—supported the St Paul Agricultural Society for years, every year they put on a show for the betterment of the community.

To have this done to them is detrimental and may well be a thing that will wind up the Society for once and for all.

Thank you Mr Editor for the space in your paper

Yours truly,
J. C. Tomlinson

EDITOR'S NOTE Being concerned with the facts on both sides of this issue we would like to assert that the Councilors of the Town of St Paul acted in good-will when arrangements were made with Wolf Carter and the conflicting date in just one of those unfortunate and unpredictable things which happened through no fault of anyone, without prejudice, malice or intention to interfere with the Agricultural Society's plans. The Council has always been co-operative in the past. Our only suggestion, perhaps would be more caution to prevent such an overnight and possibly give some local organization a chance to cut in on the profits through sponsorship.

She said that a home is really a saving unit when it has the husband, wife and children all doing a part.

"We need, strong young people growing up to take the place of us", she continued. "We are going to try and make our town's section strongest."

Mrs. Douglass then said the FWUA has invited a woman from Holland to visit Western Canada this summer. The Dutch woman will be taken to many farms in Alberta and shown how farms are operated in this country.

"The handicraft list is now out and it is time to be started on your article for the handicraft display at the annual convention", she said. In returnees in the new egg marketing plan she advised, "Get it all the support you can."

Several resolutions handed in from the different locals were read. Among them: Be it resolved that sub-directors' convention be called by the district board. 2. Be it resolved that the end of the crop year be changed from August 1 to the 15th December. 3. Be it resolved that two tanks on trucks be permitted, one for purple, the other for regular. Carried.

In the evening a dance in the Arena concluded the days events. The convention will be held in Smoky Lake next year.

CO-OP BOOT TO DELEGATES

Those who attended the annual PUA convention in the Canadian Legion Hall last Friday enjoyed a nice surprise during intermission.

The local Co-op Store donated pop, cookies and chocolates to members and guests that greatly appreciated the refreshments.

Mr. Farmers' Dehn, district 6, wishes to thank the Co-op management for their kindness.

The caucus wheat crop in Turkey this year is believed to be small.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

W. G. MALLOCH, Director, Research Department, CANADA GRAIN COMPANY LIMITED

The high level of production and the burdensome carryout now in Western Canada have been attributed largely to the plentiful that has covered during the past five years. However, since during the growing season, an all-time record of 600 million bushels of wheat were produced in the Prairie Provinces with an average yield of 26.7 bushels per acre in this instance it was the heavy fall rains the year before when were largely responsible for carrying the crop to the spring of 1957 through a difficult period. Still again in 1956—and this is perhaps the most striking example of moisture—Saskatchewan started out the season with moisture reserves from the previous fall that were only 30 per cent of normal. Extremely dry conditions during the growing season up to June 15th gave little promise of a crop when on the 16th rains began to fall and to fall at just the desired intervals to carry the crop through to maturity. Another very high production year—that time of 24.6 bushels per acre. Again, the total capital for the growing season was less than normal. This several of the very large crops in recent years appear to have been largely the result of a long break in the weather rather than something unusual in the way of precipitation during the growing season.

WEDDING

Bolland — St. Onge

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a white chantilly lace dress over white taffeta. Wedding reception was held in the home of the bride's grandparents Mr and Mrs. Ernest Boutin.

Poison Ivy Will Again Plague Many Tourists

Canada's perennial enemy of vacationers and picknickers will cause another "bad itch" this summer, says Harold Holland in the current issue of The Star Weekly.

Mr. Holland writes an interesting article on poison ivy—the plant that makes things miserable and unsympathetic for thousands of holidaymakers all over Canada.

There are many old wives tales about the plant but authorities are quick to debunk them as seldom—if ever—actually dangerous.

In fact, there is only one way to escape the annual agony, says Holland—by completely avoiding the mischievous plants. Although there is variation in the degree of severity suffered by individual persons, it is generally agreed that no one is immune and it is a case of prevention being much easier than cure.

Poison ivy is found in every part of Canada, with the possible exception of Saskatchewan and Alberta But the wise vacationer will assume that it grows in these provinces too, and will learn what it looks like.

Holland's Star Weekly article, gives an accurate description of the poisonous plant and is illustrated so that the slightest eye sticker will recognize the vine when he ventures forth on his annual expedition into the countryside Holland also tells what should be done to alleviate the condition, should you be unfortunate enough to find yourself with a case of poison ivy itch Anyone who is bothered by this sore spares this summer will do well to read this informative Star Weekly feature

NEW MEMBERS OF MACHINISTS' UNION

Clinks, a German shepherd dog, is now a "machinist" and "mechanic" with a union card to prove it. He is the seeing eye dog of Paul Ladue, a blind veteran who is employed by an aircraft engine test stand mechanic at a Montreal factory. Since Clinks is certainly an unusual type of "machinist", the members of Lodge 621, International Association of Machinists, felt now no reason why she should not have a card.

Precipitation Report For Prairies

Growing season rains from April 1st to July 1st now stand at 68 per cent of normal in the case of Alberta, 66 per cent of normal in the case of Saskatchewan and 101 per cent of normal in the case of Manitoba, giving a weighted average for the Prairie provinces of 69 per cent of normal.

The total overall moisture condition of the three Prairie Provinces which takes into account the moisture that accumulated prior to the present growing season, stubble and summerfallow, now stands at 95 per cent of normal as compared with 94 per cent last week and 96 per cent at this time a year ago. Respective figures for the three provinces are as follows: Alberta, 93 per cent of normal, Saskatchewan, 98 per cent of normal and Manitoba, 107 per cent of normal.

Rains and thunderstorms have occurred in many districts of the Prairie Provinces during the past week served to bring welcome relief, especially in some areas which had been hardest hit by persistent drought. While the outlook in these areas improved, the need for further rains to maintain the general situation became apparent as crop growth began to draw more heavily upon moisture supplies. An exception in this regard is the province of Manitoba where excess rainfall has occurred in many districts.

CKSA Program Fools Listeners In Travelling 30 Miles To Dance

Dear Audience:

I suppose by now most of you have heard about the family that travelled 30 miles to a certain town one evening to see CKSA's Community Jamboree. When they arrived there, they discovered to their dismay that not a light was showing in the Hall. They were about to leave, slightly more than annoyed. They had been fooled by the imaginary travels to Jamboree or "out" broadcast area, for two Community Jamborees. We apologized to the family for the inconvenience caused, and got things smoothed over very nicely.

It was quite a thing! Folks being fooled by a Radio broadcast and travelling 30 miles to see a show that was crushed out of sheer imagination right in our Main Control Room.

We have two Community Jamborees each week, from towns in our listening area. Wainwright, Manville, Grande Centre, Elk Point, Cold Lake, Marsden, Riverview, Mandaford, Edgerton, and Dayton, in addition to these, Meskin and Provost have a show each week on Thursday and Friday respectively. There are both afternoon shows and feature items for residents as well as news from these two towns. Redberry, Derwberry and Edgerton bring you their favorite hoedown guy, Tennessee Ernie, Thursday afternoon at 2:30.

Sir Cecil Smythe, or Sir Cecil as he is [illegible] most of you folks, is out on his old trail every Sunday with the Smiths of Hollywood at 1 p.m. This show promises to be one of the funniest yet to emanate from the 1180 slot on your dial.

Meridian House welcomed a new guy this week in the person of Bob Bradburn from Cut Knife, Saskatchewan. Bob will be doing the disc and chatting with you every evening on Your Summer Time from the House, and is looking forward to having a lot of you on the airways.

That's about it for now from the gang and myself here at CKSA. Here is our thought for this week. Don't be shy! Let it at the end of it you have made the loan them be is extremely curious.

See you on 1130.
The Trooper.

Water Safety Courses

The Alberta Water Safety tendency course just completed at Lake St Vincent under the sponsorship of the local branch of the Red Cross is an educational program which in our opinion is one of the most practical, especially in this district where there are numerous lakes and people spend leisure time fishing, boating and swimming, in the application of basic life-saving techniques and preventive measures.

The interest shown by young boys and girls registered 210 applicants out of which 184 participated and 114 successfully completed the course.

Because of the large number of beginners, not all received in water front lessons, but the safety students received basic instructions on how to float give artificial respiration, adaptation to water. With following through next year and afterwards, a good crop of young swimmers educated in water safety is bound to grow on our lake shores.

It is always astounding to note the small numbers who can actually swim in this district abounding with lakes. Had a few swimmers been able to swim even a few strokes, perhaps a drowning which recently occured at Three Mile Lake could have been prevented. That is the basic idea behind the swimming courses. Prevention of accidents foremost with of course the accompanying pleasures in the satisfaction of being able to swim and enjoy the many recreational sports offered at our abundant district lakes.

A lot of organization went into planning these courses The executive of the Red Cross headed by President Mrs Blanche Brousseau, took care of all the details. The financing however is a problem which has not yet quite been resolved.

A $200.00 guarantee had to be given to bus drivers on the basis of the registration Fees were requested in advance to facilitate handling, but this was not done in many cases and irregular attendance found to produce the guarantee which has to be met regardless. The Town gave support in the amount of $75.00 but there is still a deficit of about $100.00.

The executive of the Red Cross would appreciate any voluntary donations towards liquidating that expense

Teaching boys and girls water safety and examining has a two-fold purpose in that they learn something valuable and it keeps them occupied with wholesome entertainment and recreation during two weeks of their holidays building better citizens

We believe that instructions given to detail at the Sunday demonstrations have a lot of value and are well briefly go over a few of them.

Circulation to water was stressed as very important. Before entering the water, the body must be conditioned to temperature by splashing the water on back of the neck over the heart If the body is overheated from exercise or anything and suddenly cooled off the blood vessels contract and may cause fainting This is especially important in older persons who may suffer heart attack and illness as a result Remember this safety rule at all times

More persons spend time boating and fishing than swimming How to handle a boat in case of emergencies is essential to safe preservation Many persons even good swimmers have drowned because they have capsized and their capsized boat in an attempt to swim to shore A demonstration by these lessons disguised how a capsized boat can be used to advantage even when it is overturned They righted it by stretching hands across the bottom to classify it and bounced ours then turned it upright steadily Although full of water a boat will float

The boys crawled inside from the bank and by tipping it over a few more settled down to sit on the bottom and proceeded to help others and to safety with their hands This is invaluable and emotion in time of emergencies

Lack of adult interest was not too encouraging They need it more than the youngsters. Perhaps next year a greater interest can be taken as the value of these courses is felt by our population

GRAVEL ON LAKE ROAD

We heard many a satisfactory comment expressed towards the Municipality's gravel project on Lake St Vincent road. Many three miles have been completed covering south towards town. The water hole have been weather proofed and the large numbers who use the road to lake side recreation and relaxation will be very grateful for this improvement

OTTAWA MOVES

A very interesting session of Canada's Parliament is looming up, interesting both for the commencement of political battles and for events now careered, about the impact which it is to encounter and lucid policies which may evolve

So far as the economic outlook is concerned, no new policies introduced at Ottawa are likely to have drastic or disturbing effects on Canadian business In spite of many things said at the hustings in the heat of battle a cool look at the plain arithmetic of the nation's books keeping is pretty sure to convince the new regime that radical change is neither feasible nor necessary

Moreover the purely political aspect of the situation, meaning the kind of party maneuvering of temporary to be expected, suggests a need for moderation.

Living costs in Canada rose to an all-time high during May At the end of the month the index stood at 124.6 which is equalling 1081, an increase of 3.2 percent over the same month a year ago Higher food prices were reported by the bureau to be mainly responsive

Predictions Concerning Elections Proved Anything Happens At Polls

Once again the behaviour at the polls of a trials free people has been such as to utterly confuse many a worthy writer, in terms of surprise and suspenseful drama

Hardly, if ever in a Canadian election has the significance of the individual's vote been so vividly illustrated

When, prior to the evening of June 10th, there was more than a degree or forecasts that the decision as to which party formed the new government would depend on the final result in fewer than a dozen ridings" And visions at that, in which a mere handful of votes separated the two leading contenders"

Who would have dared predict, after a relatively placid campaign that more than half the members of the Cabinet would go down to defeat!

Such wildly unprobable prognostications as these would have been dismissed as ludicrous by those very experts and pollsters who were themselves so busily — and confidently — forecasting the minature as before', albeit somewhat delated line mortality is the will of the people in a land such as Canada!

An analysis of last month's national poll and a comparison with that of the 1953 election is particularly interesting in view of the vastly different results

In both elections the two main parties between them won 39 rides out of every 100 real But whereas in 1953 the Liberals got 83 to the Progressive Conservatives' 51, the division this time, although still slightly in favour of the latter, was narrowed to 41-39.

In other words the distribution of eight electors out of every 100 to switch from 1957 vote to the principal opposition party was sufficient to wipe out the massive majority enjoyed by Mr St Laurent's government in the last House of Commons

Even so, a "swing" of eight per cent is one of considerable magnitude, and the failure of the pundits to detect the extent of the groundswell must be accounted one of the most remarkable fiascoes of a remarkable election.

If there is a moral to be drawn from this, it is surely that we are as far away as ever we were from being able to predict with any degree of certainty the outcome of elections that are genuinely free and undirected Most of us who are unlikely to have considered it a glad day that it is so and would not have it otherwise.

Whether, then, on this occasion we are on the side of the victors or the vanquished, there is reason for rejoicing in the triumph of human will over statical strait-jacketing Canadians in 1957 have demonstrated tha the time is not yet when the sinister shadow of the democratic process can be penetrated with unfailing regularity and as a matter of course

Jubilee Auditoriums Viewed By Many

The Alberta Jubilee Auditoriums at Edmonton and Calgary continue to draw hundreds of visitors daily Tours have been conducted for many, during the months of operation of the structure. During July, the auditoriums will not be in use, but their desert will remain open from 10 in the morning to 10 at night, to enable visitors to stroll through the public sections of the buildings. Central room and backstage facilities will be closed off.

The Disaster Services of the Canadian Red Cross give emergency assistance to 1,365 families consisting of 6,108 individuals in 1956. The majority of these were victims of fire.

McPherson Pres.

At the last meeting of Vermilion Rotary club Reg Mitchell officially handed over the gavel to Tom McPherson, the incoming president

Reg has been president since the club was inaugurated over two years ago, guiding the organization through its formative years with a great deal of success As a mark of appreciation, Gerry Stephens presented retiring president Reg Mitchell with a past-president's pin. Gerry's witty little speech was all that could be desired, the only fear here lacking being that the pin had to be presented in absentia, in other words it hadn't arrived However Reg will receive the decoration in due time

Tom McPherson, who has been in a most efficient secretary-capacity since the formation of Rotary, then officially took over the reins duties of president The executive with which he will work this year is organized as John Robson, secretary-treasurer Ashley Cooper, Cpl. Gil Rath, Sutherland and S Samonson

Canadians Have Own Language

It will surprise many Canadians" to learn that they have a language" of their own, writes J. B. Belliveau in last week's issue of The Star Weekly

Words such as "linguistic" superiorities" and "chinamen" in common usage in this country are wholly alien to Canadian ears and Canadians, in even the most elementary conversation, find themselves in misunderstanding a Newfoundlander who speaks of "berry" when he means "blueberries" or "bakeapple" when he means "cloudberries"

And French-Canadians will readily point out the cuisses" words which they use in their daily speech.

To complicate the matter there are hundreds of Canadian words which differ in meaning from the interpretation in their country of origin

Mr Belliveau's article describes the interesting way that these colorful words came into our language and explains the reasons for such an Canadian dictionary which is at present being compiled at the University of Montreal.

Elk Point Museum Holds Vast Quantity Of Priceless Treasures

Have you visited the Elk Point museum of late? If not you are missing a most interesting experience Mr Andrushak has collected and arranged a most impressive array of birds, animals' heads and historic material. Many Indians and pioneer articles are local, but other exhibits are from various parts of the world. These have been generously loaned by the people of Elk Point and vicinity. The largest exhibit is a Ford car, vintage of 1908, some of the smaller are Roman coins. There are excellent examples of fossils, trilobites, ferns and the knee bones of a dinosaur from the Drumheller Valley.

There are guns of many sizes and periods, with the shot and powder for loading them.

A most unusual exhibit is an original copy of the Chicago Tribune published the day after the assassination of President Lincoln.

This museum is appreciated too. Some 2000 people visited it in the past five years and a glance at the visitors book would indicate that the number is rapidly increasing

Men Who Make Alberta

THE INDUSTRIAL WORKER

The skill of the Craftsmen is the most important commodity in industry. Without trained personnel, all the machinery in the world is useless. Raw materials are of no value unless the hands and the brains are available to turn out the food, the tools, the machines and the materials ready for human use.

The greatest inventions of mankind would remain on paper without the machinist, the welder, the foundryman and the other craftsmen required to turn ideas into practical products And, without a high degree of skill on the part of the craftsmen, the best designed product cannot be satisfactory service. The best food is hardly fit for the table unless processed by men with "know-how".

Today, industry is growing in Alberta . . . more and more products bear the stamp "Made in Alberta", and, Albertans have every reason to be proud of the goods that bear this label, thanks to the quality of our workmen. On their shoulders rests the responsibility for our reputation as an industrial province . . . they are not letting us down. And the man who takes a pride in his workmanship, who is trained to work with precision and care forms the basis of a good solid citizenship. The industrial worker of today is helping shape the pattern of modern Alberta, just as the blacksmith of the pioneer days helped to carve this province from a virgin wilderness.

Annual Picnic At Three Hills Lake Enjoyed By Firemen And Families

Firemen, their wives and families turned out in large numbers Sunday for their annual picnic at Three Hills Lake, where the children, the ladies and of course the Firemen had themselves a great time.

Entertainment for the children came in the form of refreshments free pop and ice cream—galore, shared with the older folks who as usual tried their hand of a game of softball, with all having a good time except the poor Ungers, Councillor Ordene Lerman, caught in a storm of arguments and technicalities which invariably left him in the wrong whether he was right or not.

Tory Judy's flowings proved themselves the more qualified players with the strongest grip of the gab and managed to win by a handy score through ingenuitive and hitting power.

Ray Pollkoshik's luck a bob sweet and along with his partner, gang, forced to reluctantly buy refreshments for the winners.

In the horseshoe competition, the men, over-powered and struggled in four opposing teams with tied pronouncers hauled down to a certain double final featuring Vic Laborcsena and Carl Bender against Armand Lord and Ted Simmons.

The Laborcsena-Bender team meeting the July fanfare capped up with a 21-6 victory.

Through the kind courtesy of Burns Co., represented by George Cyr, a number of prizes were drawn for the boys, a football helmet won by Roger July; the girls, a pen and pencil set won by Marie Lemoel; the ladies, a kitchen set, Mrs. George Cyr; and a set of binoculars taken home by Armand Lord.

The Pioneers picnic is sponsored by the department and the town in appreciation of the efforts of the volunteer brigade. Phil Germain is Chief and Ted Gervenes, Assistant Chief.

A twelve-year-old boy, Leonard Danyluk of Glendon, is having himself the time of his life in Athens Greece, where he flew to via Edmonton.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Danyluk of Glendon, he is visiting his sister Mrs. J. C. Love, who is married to a member of the Canadian Embassy staff of the Canadian Embassy in Athens.

The twelve-year-old boy left on his own from Edmonton June 20 where he flew to Calgary, Montreal, London, Germany and on to Athens where he arrived June 23. Three days later by himself he was taken on a tour by Air Officials and was able to get a brief look at the world on short stops during the voyage.

In correspondence with his mother Mrs. Danyluk, Leonard said that one of the most modern airports he traveled through was a new one in West Germany. He liked and the customs were somewhat strange and baffling, especially the fish diet which is common fare in Greece and used more extensively than in Canada.

He also promised his mother to take lots of pictures he will show a good of his wonderful trip when he returns home for the school term in Glendon to take up grade eight where he left out. The voyage will no doubt be a memorable one for the boy can live and record all his life

TWO SEASONS OF OLD FLOWERS

MULCH INSTEAD OF CULTIVATING

Rhododendrons require sure and. If the soil proves by test to during the summer but they are be acid, it can be changed by shallow rooted and require to addition of lime to the soil. cultivating around them. Their roots stay close to the surface and anything but the very lightest cultivation is apt to injure them.

Instead of cultivating around rhododendrons, keep a year-around mulch around them. Oak leaves are best for this purpose, but if they are not available use well-rotted manure or compost material. The mulch should be at least five inches thick. The purpose of the mulch is to conserve moisture and keep the roots cool. Keep the mulch close to the stalks of the plants, as shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

Rhododendrons prefer an acid soil. If the soil proves by test to be alkaline, it can be changed by addition of lime to the soil. Sulphur may be used by treating with aluminum sulphate.

Small rhododendrons need shading to keep them from "blowing themselves up" in the hot sun especially true of the hybrid types. If the plants are in good health, they do not require pruning.

If it does a good presentation to remove rhododendron flowers after they have faded and destroyed and before the seed pods are fully formed as shown in the Garden-Graph. This helps to save the energy of the plant for growth purposes.

If planning to plant rhododendrons, do it this fall, August or September, or wait until early next spring.

Canadian Entertainment Industry Has Very High Calibre Of Talent

Quiz often is a coffee bar or commerce recreation room, theres across the argument of Canadian Talent versus American Talent. Have you ever thought of this aspect of the entertainment business. I have thinking I have to be either shy and thought I'd ask a few people on the subject I came up with some very interesting facts.

To begin with, we must face the fact that Americans DO have a better nation-wide entertainment industry than we enjoy here in Canada. But why not? They have many times the population we have from which to choose their entertainers . . . and they have the same massive audience to entertain. It's a big job and they have a gigantic artist potential to work with. Canada's population, however have just as fine a set up, with enough artists for OUR industry. Our CBC, which is often ridiculed by public, does a marvellous job on most of their Television and Radio Productions. Our Stratford Shakespeare Festival is the only one of its kind in the world. Our country and western music has its own supporters. But, most of all, Private Radio . . . communications which serve the greater percentage of the Canadian public are in most points away ahead of the Southern counterpart originality presentations, schedule of music variety and Community Service.

Your thoughts must turn, when thinking along these lines, first to that glittering, booming small town of Hollywood in California. How many Canadians, including Private Radio personnel have made a hit in this town of Radio, TV, and Movie Stars? Once you have these figures, you have a better idea of the talent your community stations produce.

First Art Linkletter who had his start on Saskatchewan Radio, and is now a much-sought-after MC with a major American network. Second Bernie Braden, who began in radio in Ontario, then produced to stage work in Hollywood and is now with BBC Television in England Third Dorothy Collins, began her career in radio in Windsor, Ont. and is now featured on a major American TV show and has made many fine records with the Coral Label

These are but three people who began their careers in Canada What made them go south to Hollywood? The larger paycheck—and the fact that they would be seen and listened to by a much larger audience. If a performer needs an audience, no matter who he is, and the bigger it is, the better

However, these three are not alone. There is Gisele MacKenzie from Quebec City, Walter Pidgeon from Nova Scotia, Rod Cameron from Calgary, Diane Foster, who was born and raised in Edmonton, as Olga Lerudak, Yvonne De Carlo of Vancouver, Alan Young from Toronto, Alberta Smith from Vancouver, Gisele MacKenzie from Winnipeg and many, many others.

So you see, that the Canadian Entertainment industry has indeed turned out many fine performers . . . some of whom you will hear on your Community Station, CKSA, in Lloydminster. Keep your ears on these two Canadian Talent and CKSA both going places both getting things done

Who knows, Ken Treman may some day star in a Mexican movie

See you next week,
The Trooper,
CKSA Lloydminster

Flu Epidemic Sweeps Far East

All physicians are urged to report any suspected cases of influenzal influenza immediately to their health departments by an editorial in the Journal of the American Medical Association received by the Health League of Canada

Epidemics of flu have swept various far Eastern countries, and U.S. Public Health officials expect outbreaks in several of the United States as more troops return from the Orient.

A centre for epidemic establishment is being maintained at Bethesda, Md., of which Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney of the U.S. Public Health Service is director.

In addition to following the movements of the Far East and encouraging the U.S. Navy vessels the U.S. Public Health Service and the World Health Organization have set up an intensive program for tracing and preventing outbreak in the United States.

The disease, caused by a new strain of type A influenzal virus, has typified the symptoms rapid onset, fever, general tiredness, muscle aches and running nose. It lasts three to five days Attack rates have been as high as 10 per cent, although mortality rates have been less than 1 per one thousand cases Most deaths occurred at school and persons already weakened by age chronic disease or tuberculosis.

Prevention by including the new virus strain in influenza vaccine already underway, the report stated

Future...4-H Club Member

The two-year-old in his play-pen is fascinated by life around him. He longs to pull the tail feathers out of every chicken on his father's farm. He has no idea of all how a farmer's son should behave, but he'll find out, later, when his brothers initiate him into the local 4-H club.

Here he'll learn by doing, pledged to use head, heart, hands and health in the best possible way.

4-H Clubs were started with one simple idea in mind: to have rural young people do a worthwhile piece of work at home, voluntarily, and do it better than ever before. Plant a garden plot, perhaps, or raise a calf make a dress, beautify a room.

The idea was so good that the young people swept their parents along with them, and farm life improved amazingly.

4-H Clubs have done many useful things. They have kept the right boys and girls on the farm, trained young men and women for leadership, improved life in rural communities by introducing better agricultural and home practices, and implanted the ideal of good citizenship in young minds.

There are about 78,000 4-H members in Canada. Many will graduate into farm organizations in which are the progressive young farmers who—by using modern machinery and farm techniques—help to keep all Canadians well fed.

Jaycees Flash Firemen Under

It's two up and two down for the Jaycee baseball power house. Their second victim was the Firemen aggregation who smoked out with a dance and dandy 9-5 win. The touching aggregation has previously succumbed to like might.

The Firemen led off with one run in the top of the first, but Jaycees bounced by three The game deadlocked until the top of the fifth when the Firemen on their last bat went ahead on a three run homer by Marvel Joly climbing into a 5-3 lead.

The worbs seemed to be all wrapped up as Vianney Joly pitched two outs, but the kid blew off on a hunky 2 bagger by Bobby Joly who knocked three men in.

Jaycees started Joe Stotts on the mound who credited the win pitching to Buck Joly Vianney Joly unmerciful balls to Maurice Joly seized the game.

It was a tight game, and a repeat performance is in the cards to find out just how much better the Jaycees really are Can't be lucky all the time

BASEBALL NEWS

From the District

By Pat Collins

An inflielder turned pitcher proved to be the big gun for the St Paul Bears who captured third money at the Grand Centre baseball tournament held on Saturday and Sunday.

The Bears were pitted with a 10-4 win over Glendon in their first game Saturday and then dropped a close 3-2 decision to the powerhouse Grand Centre Braves on Sunday

The local squad got a big jump on Glendon right off the start by scoring six runs off Ken Collins in the first inning. They added two more in the second to sport an 8-0 lead. Runs were scored on successive singles by Jack Andronyk, Marcel Joly, a walk to Andy Borutski followed by a single to Ben Charuk and a double to Mike Kotowich plus a triple to Vic Pushoski. Pat Collins tangled to finish the big inning

Glendon got to starting pitcher Pat Collins in the third when they touched him for two walks, a single and an error which accounted for their three runs. Collins got a bad case of control trouble in the fourth inning when he walked the first man to face him and then committed a costly error after he attempted sacrifice bunt He walked two more before young Ben Charuk, a former shortstop and first baseman came on to put out the fire. Right-hander Charuk toned shutout ball the remainder of the contest and was the winning pitcher

St. Paul clicked for two more runs in the sixth inning to round out the scoring.

Big gun at the plate for St. Paul was Pat Collins who blasted three clean singles in four trips while Jack Andronyk, Joly and Mike Kotowich each had two hits.

Ken Collins, the youthful Glendon hurler, struck out 15 batters in the seven inning game while waking four. His big trouble was the 13 hits he served up. Glendon committed six errors while St. Paul came up with three.

Grand Centre Braves put the skids to St. Paul Sunday in a nine inning semi-final contest. The Braves got off to a good start in their first turn at bat when they scored three runs—all on account of an umpire decision.

Tom Murphy, leadoff batter strolled and Bill Darcy attempted to sacrifice him to second. Bob Semko grabbed the ball and fired to second and everyone in the ball park, including the Grand Centre team, thought Murphy was out by a good foot best at second.

But Mr. Umpire said no. St. Paul put up a good protest but the decision stood Another walk and two base hits provided Grand Centre with an early lead

After Grand Centre got another run in the third, St. Paul clicked for a pair and the score stood at 4-3 after three innings. In the fourth, Semko again got control trouble and Ben Charuk relieved after two runs had scored Charuk pitched blazing ball for the next six innings and did not give up a run. He struck out 11, walked 4 and gave up 4 hits

Grand Centre started their big threshing Pete Purbenda on the mound but after they got their first run in he was put in Fred Brady and gave Pete for the final encounter

Brady, who pitched the final games against St. Paul July 2nd, just didn't look like the same hurler. Two hits and a walk sent him to the showers and Purbenda, who went to play first, was rushed back to the hill. He promptly struck out the next two batters and the rally ended.

The loss was the third this year for St. Paul against 21 wins.

Big Pete Purbenda pitched a good game for the Braves, striking out nine, walking one and allowing five hits and no earned runs.

Grand Centre Braves won first money in the tournament by virtue of a 10-2 victory over Cold Lake in the deciding game of the tourney.

Derwent Cardinals Take Own Tourney

Derwent Cardinals took first money at their annual baseball tournament held last Friday. Three teams entered the tourney and the winners collected $60.00 for their two wins.

They opened with a 13-6 win over Elk Point and then stopped Ardmore 11-6 in the finals.

Clear skies prevailed and 4 large crowd took in the event. In little league action at the tourney, Derwent took first honors edging Ardmore 6-5 in the final contest. Elk Point lost out in the semi-finals to Derwent by a 5-1 count.

Westlock Volunteer Fire Dept. Takes First In Hose Laying Contest

WESTLOCK—At the hose coupling competition held here this week, the local fire department won the right to keep the cup, as well as setting a new record for the event Their time was twenty and two fifths seconds The old record was held by Vimy Ridge a time of twenty-one-one-fifth seconds Lac La Biche placed third with twenty-one-seconds.

The other teams placed as follows Devon twenty-two-three fifths. Beverly twenty-two-three fifths. Bonnyville twenty-two-three-fifths. Barrhead twenty-two-four-fifths. Grand Prairie twenty-four-two fifths. Vegreville twenty-five, Edmonton twenty-seven-three-fifths. Lac La Biche No. 2 twenty-nine-three-fifths, and Elk Point thirty-two and three fifths seconds.

In the women's competition, Westlock women took first honors with 1 time of thirteen-two-fifth seconds The Beverly ladies were second with thirteen-four-fifths and Edmonton third with thirteen-six-fifths.

After the competitions a banquet was served in both the visiting and the local fire departments, with visitors from Edmonton, the Westlock Town Council in attendance

First prizes were donated by the Fire Commissioner's office, and prizes for the runners-up were given by Wilson and Company, manufacturers. The shield was donated by La France

St Paul Firemen entered a team, composed of The Lagerwy on the track contests. I. H Lemoine first completing Ray Pulchaski second and Jules Gauvreau on the anchor The boys were all members of both runs and washed out for the time.

The hose laying competition is a competitive effort in which needs perfect timing and precision A slip by anyone of the four is disastrous

At a signal the four competing firemen dash to their positions The team man hooks on and turns the water stream He can't turn it off but men have made the coupling but must gamble if swimming time is to be regained And a slow run is of no use. It's all or nothing

After the first run, hoses are unhooked and coupled again to a second stand by the members of the team A target must be knocked down to indicate completion of the run.

Westlock got on a good show and in the opinion of Mr Bedard of the Fire Commissioner's office, the fire competitions are valuable in developing efficiency of volunteer Fire Brigades and for inter-town social relations

GOOD MECHANIZATION PAYS BY GETTING A LOT DONE WHEN CONDITIONS ARE RIGHT
A big advantage of good mechanization is its ability to get a lot of work done in a hurry once you can get on the land to put the crop in or into a field ready to be harvested. This work output of good equipment pays off in two ways—it enables you to offset or forestall the effects of unfavorable conditions and with it you can make the most of the period when conditions are most favorable. You stand to benefit the most when you can do a lot of seeding or harvesting when the time is right.
From the 1957 Massey-Harris and Ferguson lines of equipment engineered to meet the needs of farming today you can select machines that will enable you to gain the advantage of modern mechanization. We will be glad to give you full particulars.

All time record of twenty-two-fifth second was set by a team from the Westlock Fire Department. Fifteen four-man teams took part in the competitions, conducted by the Provincial Fire Commissioner's Office annually since 1948. As a city-light there were similar competitions for ladies and racecourses, using smaller hose lines and lower pressure. The meets are sponsored by local fire departments in various sections of the province with co-operation of the Alberta Fire Commissioner's Office.

Line-up at Long Lake

A highway is defined, according to the dictionary, as a public road open to all passengers and traffic.

Inside this definition could be applied to a section of highway 28 which skirts Long Lake. After a rain this picturesque road is unpleasant at best with extreme caution showing an intelligence that a motorist can keep astride the bump which seems to become inevitable.

The big reason with the grade is the failure to make adequate use of gravel. While travelling to Cold Lake last week, some of the most unfortunate potholes noted were those not far about to being crossing bridges and another interesting feature was the method of skipping in the ditch somewhere from page 1.

Considerable maintenance work on getting out first results in the heavy grade, although the chief fault, it was noted, is inadequate use of the trouble which keeps it from sliding into the ditch. The bus was stalled for two hours, missing its St. Paul schedule and another two transporting firemen to Cold Lake unloaded its passengers for the main power and traction to step on the road.

We could understand the kind of trouble on a side market road for instance, but it is hardly logical to travel on a main through highway where one is obliged to that kind of an ordeal every little rain.

The fact the Long Lake road is vulnerable to moisture along the valley slope, down to the lake is one reason why it should receive some special consideration with a new coat every year if necessary to replace the gravel washed out through natural erosion.

There's a small problem for the Hon. Gordon Taylor and his Department of Highways. It's actually a very little problem in this big wealthy province of Alberta and needs only recognition to be accomplished.

CRASH TRAINING

With an eye to possible air disaster and a near miss of saving valuable pilot lives, the Home Guard and Air Force Station have been instructed on a crash rescue training program which included firemen, St. John Ambulance personnel from the Town Detachment Cold Lake and other units.

A special St.AF bus was despatched following points to pick up firemen from the volunteer fire brigade one day and the next had the second day not to leave the centre unattended by the driver in the event a real and full day's course on all aspects of crash safety.

Although Cold Lake is right close no incident St Paul the distance or a more frequent flight in super sonic jets and the safety of training aircraft, all crash services necessitate. Consequently [illegible] all air crash is accounted [illegible] Bearing a mind that in the event within a month a pound of cure, officials of the Air Force want to be the good stead of disaster to salvage the maximum out of crash. It costs thousands of dollars to train good aircrew and these trees are valuable in that respect as well as to humanity's sake itself.

The firemen and St.AF of the district learned the important familiarization of crash rescue [illegible] enough to be of help in the event of a crash.

The Air Force intends to conduct a similar course for farmers in the region. It has been noted that the greater percentage crashes occur in the vicinity of [illegible] farmer in the first on the scene [illegible] on the fundamentals of training an injured pilot before the plan blows up in a conflagration.

NOTICE OF POLL

We would like to draw your attention to the Notice of Poll for the Town of St. Paul, calling on the ratepayers to give assent to four proposed by-laws for the improvement of the Town. Complete details of the by-laws can be found on page two of this issue.

One point in that acts quite important is whether it be municipal provincial or dominion. Town officials must know the feeling of the public. If you are indifferent to not want to take against it and are quite satisfied with the Council's proposal, you should nevertheless get out and signify your choice in favor. The turnout of a poll indicates the record and has an influence with the Public Board and Utilities in determining how officials are going to act. The greater the enthusiasm the better chance of provincial support in the end matter.

Voting in the Poll by-laws is set for Monday, July 29th, from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. in the Town Hall.

Conservative Government May Be Stiffer With U.S. Trade Relations

U.S. Political observers are more or less unanimous in saying that Government of Mr. Diefenbaker means that a "stiffer line" may be expected in Canada's economic and trade relations with the United States. Such a view is interesting, if no other reason that that it reveals the [illegible] existence of a feeling that U.S. [illegible] are not in [illegible] matters, he hitherto been able to appear to support unquestionably official Canadian representations [illegible] damaging effect on agricultural [illegible] suggestions of Canada's receiving of Washington's farm surplus disposal program.

World Famous Cowboy Sings At St. Paul Show

Over 3000 people took in the colorful Wolf Carter show which was held in the St Paul Arena last Friday night. The audience was crowded by nearly two hours of top notch cowboy and western jazz music.

The guitar twirling singer delivered many of the western hits that have made him famous over the last 20 years. Among them was the smash hit that he recorded for Decca two years ago, "I'm Ragged But I'm Right."

Wilf's two daughters, Sheila and Carol also took part in the show. They performed as a ballet number as well as a modern jazz dance. Songs were also sung by Wee Pearce who did an imitation of Elvis Presley.

Carter's show also went over big in St Paul two years ago when an estimated 3000 people jammed the arena to see the performance. This is the eighth tour that Wilf has toured the Canadian provinces. He has also made several world tours. He makes his home in Florida.

Following the show, a large [illegible] was held in the Legion Hall. Music was supplied by the "Trail Riders," who are also a part of Wilf Carter's show.

Citizens voluntarily donated 383,000 bottles of blood to the Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service in 1956.

WILD GEESE IN FLIGHT

OH THE SPAGHETTI TREE—as it has been named and admired by newcomers from CHEF'S radio station. We'll admit that it is an odd looking creation and that some imagination has to be brought in play to identify the power. However, we think the redneck and indigenous shown on the part of some is quite unwarranted. Anyone who has travelled the continent and one of the larger centres in North America will remember this type of art school, is quite acceptable. If culture is to come into the Canadian way life, we'll have to accept more of this type of art. The $14,000.00 the City of Edmonton spent on this fountain is peanuts in comparison to the four million spent on the gyro of the building. We are sure no indignity will suffer from the expenditure and all visitors work will continue as usual. EDITOR.

Alberta Gas Trunk Line Officially Opened By Premier E. C. Manning

Gas from Alberta started to flow into the Alberta Gas Trunk line main line Tuesday afternoon when Premier E. C. Manning turned a valve at [illegible] Minister of Resources [illegible] Mr. Vickers.

The [illegible] Alberta gas travelled hundreds of miles ahead of schedule. R. F. Kittle, General Manager of the Alberta Gas Trunk Line Company [illegible] said in announcing details of the ceremonies which will mark the entry of Trunk Line into the gas transportation business.

A large group of governmental and industry leaders were invited to attend the opening ceremonies which have already over the Trunk Line. President of the Trunk Line Times included [illegible] Premier Manning, Minister of Resources Hugh Horner, Chairman of the Transmission Board and all-member board [illegible]

Mr. Kittle said that the [illegible] was set for 2 30 p.m. Tuesday so that the Largest number of officials at the [illegible] ceremonies would be encouraged. Some business, where the [illegible] Tuesday, a luncheon [illegible] Hotel [illegible] over the Trunked Studio Highway on an all-member aircraft tour.

Mr. Kittle said that [illegible] would be piped from fields being developed by the Bailey [illegible] in Canadian Kansas Gas Near Medicine Hat, Alberta Southern Alberta Gas and Mid-West Gas [illegible] Alberta Pacific Consolidated [illegible] are now in production and Mountain Gas Trunk Lines owned a pipeline as well as the Trans-Trunk Canada Pipeline [illegible] Alberta Natural Gas and Alberta Gas Trunk Lines. The [illegible] Alberta Gas Trunk Line will [illegible] to start its gas [illegible] and Winnipeg until [illegible] original [illegible] dates [illegible] Montreal [illegible] the value gas from [illegible] an ample line, gradually building [illegible] pressure and then a blow off [illegible] system [illegible] the lines from the metering station [illegible] to 12 inch [illegible]

After the [illegible] at the metering station, [illegible] officials had a cavalcade to the South Saskatchewan river crossing where the [illegible] largest [illegible] in land on the continent has been built. The span is 1,865 feet long with towers rising 120 feet on both sides of the river. Across this span will be strung two 34 inch tubes to carry gas to the Saskatchewan field. The first of these lines will be connected to the main line now constructed. The second is being installed now to take care of a connection for a loop in the main 34 inch line which Trunk Line officials have to be inevitable.

While the river crossing is being finished a temporary submerged bell crossing will be used to feed gas to Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Pipe for this crossing was obtained from the new Alberta Phoenix Tube mill at Edmonton while crossing towers steel was fabricated by Dominion Bridge at Calgary.

The big 34 inch lines is now complete to the point of the installation of valves which do not go in until the final purge of construction debris and tested. In addition to the 14 miles of 34 inch line Fulton Bannister has finished 25 miles of the 12 inch line, building from the main line to Provost Construction has so far approximately $1,700,000.00 while pipe costs exceed $5,434,000.00.

While the laying of the line itself was straightforward pipe lining, construction of the river problems posed some tricky engineering problems. However, both the crossing of the Red Deer river by submerged method and the spectacular aerial crossing of the South Saskatchewan went almost without mishap. The crossing cost a total of $800,000.00.

The 2,300 foot submerged crossing of the Red Deer River was started by the Massie Corporation last October and completed on January 15th. The suspension crossing on the South Saskatchewan River was designed by Matthews and Keenan, Consulting Engineers, and construction was by Barker Construction Company under a joint venture with Dutton-Williams Brothers Limited. Work began on the suspension crossing on April 1st and will be completed on time on September 1st.

Newest project now in the works is the construction of a total of 17 staff houses at Cavendish, Orcadia and Provost at a cost of $300,000.00 Laird Construction (Lethbridge) Ltd. has the contract and will complete it by November 30th.

The dreadful toll of farm accidents and fatalities emphasizes that every person further endangers the lives of his family and others.

In the six months ended June 30 there were 11 deaths on farm accidents in this province. The majority of these accidents were due to tractor-tipping in fields or roads, and in no case could the Provincial police in the area be blamed.

Precipitation Report Released

Rainfall which occurred in Western Canada during the week ending July 19th mainly in the form of thunderstorms, was extremely variable ranging from nothing at all in some districts to several inches at certain points in the Peace River area, Southern and Central Saskatchewan and parts of Manitoba. With temperatures in all three provinces well above normal, prospects for crops, which received little or no rainfall declined appreciably although there was considerable rain and held up reasonably well in the face of declining available moisture supplies.

Growing season rains from April 1st to July 19th now stand at 65 per cent of normal in the case of Alberta, 68 per cent of normal in the case of Saskatchewan and 105 per cent of normal in the case of Manitoba giving a weighted average for the three Prairie Provinces of 71 per cent of normal.

The total overall moisture condition of the three Prairie Provinces, which takes into account the moisture that accumulated prior to the present growing season on stubble and summerfallow, now stands at 88 per cent of normal compared with 82 per cent last week and 89 per cent at this time a year ago. Respective figures for the three provinces are as follows: Alberta, 91 per cent of normal, Saskatchewan, 89 per cent of normal and Manitoba, 100 per cent of normal.

Cruelty Towards Children May Bring Stiff Penalties By Courts

Canadian parents are liable for a $200 to $500 fine or jail for twice leaving a child under 10 without a baby sitter. This is one of the little known facts revealed in an article by Editor Frank Rasky in the July issue of Liberty Magazine.

Every year in Canada more than two children's Aid Societies all over the country care for over 20,000 children who are neglected, abused or deserted by their parents. Rasky says.

Among the cases of cruelty cited in Liberty's probe of Canada's failure to protect its young are two men rescued only after the cries of the tiny victims had been heard by passers-by. Another man locked his 11-year old son in a room and left him there for a week. A Montreal father admitted to whipping his four young sons with only their bare toes touching the floor. In Halifax a mother left her four-month-old daughter drown when she was discovered crying at a bootlegger's.

Separation of parents leaving the remaining parent incapable of proper care is a major cause of trouble, says Rasky. R. P. Crozier of the Calgary Children's Aid Society, blames the "trouble on the complex pattern of today's society says. 'You cannot expect discipline and love from children on a home with there is no love and order on the parents love's."

In the final analysis, says the Liberty article, if a parent turns his back on a child he is punished by depriving himself of a child to love. At one supervised mother spoke upon reunion with her family. "It's been hard having the children away from me, but it's certainly has been a tough lesson. I'll never fail them again. Children are something that nothing can fill their place."

St Paul Bears wound up the regular Eastern Alberta Baseball League schedule last Sunday with a resounding 14-5 victory over the Monarchs in Elk Point. The win boosted the Bear's seasonal record to 22 wins against only three losses. They posted eight victories in league play opposed to no defeats.

Derwent finished second while Elk Point ended up Last. Elk Point and Derwent now open a best of three semi-final series, the winner meeting St Paul in a best of five series for the league championship trophy, currently held by the Bears.

The game Sunday was close at the start of the encounter. The Paint gang scored a pair in their first turn at bats. Starting pitcher Zen Charuk for the St Paul crew failed to survive the first inning. The young right-hander just couldn't find the plate and as a result walked a run in before playing coach Roberts took over Roberts promptly put out the fire, after the Monarchs had scored a run. The Bears went ahead 6-2 in the second inning only to have Elk Point tie the score in the third.

The score remained deadlocked for the next four innings and a large crowd was treated to some fine baseball. Sharp defensive play by both teams held the score down. St Paul scored in the only double play of the game in the seventh when shortstop Kreiger drove a grounder tossed to second baseman Andy Rutnik on first before the bullet on the seventh to nine batters. Elk Point in the top of the eighth and they added to their lead. Paint made an attempt to score in the last inning but the batting Tie Lie-in-the-ings were played on a light show-

Ratepayers In Favor Of Four Money By-Laws

Pawliuk Awarded Water Contract

A small percentage of the voters' list—106 out of 703, 15 per cent—turned out to give support to four money by laws on Monday All were approved by a big majority and the Council met in special session afterwards to give third and final reading to the By-Laws

Contract for the water and sewer extensions was awarded to M S Pawliuk and Sons of Edmonton after council examined six bids tendered by district contractors Pawliuk was the lowest with $6,350.

Other bidders were, Ackerman Construction of Vermilion, $9018, Noel and Blanchette, St. Paul $13,940, M W Warbolik, St Paul $9,730, Mott Construction Co., Edmonton, $13,979, Ruben Hieb Drogline Service, Medicine Hat, $15,510

Municipal Grader Catches Fire Working On Road

One of the Municipal District's graders was destroyed by fire close to the eastern limits of the Town, Friday, and within reach of the St Paul Fire Department when it caught fire at 8.30 a.m.

The intense fire which apparently ignited from a short circuit in a battery cable at the left rear fender had spread to the dual tires and the crankcase by the gas tanks, threatening to explode when the fire truck arrived to quickly bring it under control with fog nozzle water pressure. About 120 gallons of water were used.

The accident happened just east of the Bot-Air Drive-In Theatre, reportedly John, possibly cutting the truck to make the trip.

It is estimated the $43,000 machine suffered damage to rear wheels, the cab and its special canopy was also reached by the fire. A loss of about $2,000 was calculated.

Rodeo Grounds To Open Soon

Work is proceeding rapidly on the playground at the rodeo. The preparation of the grand opening of the grounds. Several trees have given a boost at building the pillars at the entrance to the grounds. The field has been grassed down and the stones picked. A record should be in tip-top shape for the 1957 August Good booked to ensure judging the entries so far received. Three years ago the grounds were in their entry; Cold Lake, Grande Centre, and St. Paul. Visitors can have a good afternoon of entertainment and leave quite satisfied.

No effort is too great to make the playground a credit to the community and some of the vandalism is to be deplored. Driving a car over the field after a downpour of rain could have no other purpose than wilful destruction of property, more so when it was done in the late hours of the night.

Entries for the contest are coming in at every mail. But there is room for more. Just name the pets and win the prize.

Municipality Of Strathcona Receive $89,209.00 Share Of Alberta Provincial Gasoline Tax

Cheques placed in the mails this week by the provincial government gave grants totalling $16,879,000 to municipalities throughout Alberta as their share of the provincial gasoline tax.

Distribution is based mainly on population figures.

Kenneth J. Hawkins, deputy provincial treasurer, issued a statement showing the total is an increase of $679,000 over the $9,900,000 paid in 1956 and represents approximately $9 25 per capita. The per capita figure in 1956 was $7.80.

Mr Hawkins noted how the shift of population from rural to urban areas was reflected in the grant. The grants to the cities and towns show an increase of more than $1,000,000 while grants to the villages, districts and counties shows an increase of less than $300,000 over the 1956 figures.

The town of St. Paul received the sum of $25,300 and the Municipal District No. 99 was allotted $84,700.

Other district towns eligible for the payment were Bonnyville $18,246, Cold Lake $10,144, Two Hills $7,426, Vermilion $26,305 Derwent $2,388, Vegreville $24,-913, Elk Point $7,466, Glendon $8,063, Grand Centre $15,126, Myrnam $4,969, Viina $3,436

Municipalities Vermilion River $113,342, Eagle $63,997, Bonnyville $47,382, Smoky Lake, $82,-972.

Storm Disrupts Power, Phone; Breaks Trees, TV

A heat wave, smouldering for two days — Thursday and Friday — erupted into a terrifying storm which in its short duration of forty-five minutes knocked down trees, TV aerials, broke power lines and damaged phone cables.

A near 100-mile-an-hour wind was unleashed at about seven p.m. Friday evening, and accompanied with heavy hailing and torrential downpour which lasted fifteen and told music to question.

The worst damage was inflicted by wind, breaking power lines. The heavy gusts snarled wires into sparking area which cut off power into town for over an hour.

NINE BROKEN LEGS

Mr Paul Drolet Canadian Utilities manager said that nine poles in preliminary lines were broken, and 15 others were damaged. Crews have cut off the power. With the help of RCMP as escorts all lines repaired, as patrol lines, except for one district where blackout conditions prevailed for the night.

One of the more serious breaks was behind the Lewis Hotel where it is believed a dangerous live wire swinging in the wind made contact with a telephone cable and burned it out causing inconvenience for a number of users.

Power lines on the Parish Mill Street behind J. M. Drouin's caused serious trouble. Broken they swung in the wind, saving across a parked car, preventing the owner from approaching in fear of electrocution.

Broken trees were found behind the Orange Crush Factory, Brosseau and the east end where blackout conditions existed.

TREES BROKEN

Trees along main street, fronting Lodges Landry, Hector Brosseau and J. M. Drouin felt the full fury of the winds. Big timbers had branches torn off and lodge from poplar trees blew away with each gust.

A tall, iron tree in the front yard of Mrs. Jimmy Dubois was broken four feet from the ground

Former St. Paul Lawyer Starts Polythene Plant

First Plastic Industry Established In Edmonton and the West

By L. B. SMOOTH
Editor, St. Paul Journal

EDMONTON—Polychemical Industries Limited, an Edmonton plastics manufacturing firm, in cell of the fastest growing fields in Canada, the first such plant put into operation in Alberta and the west, now ranking third in Dominion production, was promoted by two young city lawyers, both former rural residents.

Mr. Roger Bedell, the firm's first President is a native of St. Paul where he left to go to Edmonton in 1952 to team up with Mr. J. (Bill) Chalk into a partnership which operated the law firm of Bedell and Chalk for the west. Chalk, Secretary-Treasurer of this company remains in the city as the executive of Bedell.

Searching the field of investment in the booming city, torturing from interview of and investment gas discoveries from all directions, the young lawyers perceived an opportunity to plastics which are in demand. Research revealed no such enterprise in the west and the wealth of by products was available cheaply while being easily accessible.

It took months of preliminary study before a presentable plan could be drafted. When this was done, influential business and professional men (Dr. R. Scott, Dean of the University of Alberta) were approached to incorporate Polychemical Industries Limited. It took a further year of planning, selling interest to those the necessary capital to finance the project and required the investment of over $603,000.00.

A great part of the success of the Company is also due to its energetic managing director, Mr. Cliff Bondar, who, trained by profession and a native of a rural town, Mr. Bondar comes from Woodlands, is recruited from the big Calgary Chemical Plant to Beverly where he was top executive, to take charge of the new plant and its operations.

Besides supervising the trouble-shooting of the plant, Mr. Bondar is in charge of sales promotion and Canada, and the U.S.A. He picks up new developments to keep the plant up to date in color or more better by quality, opportunity to introduce and promote sales of new and better product manufactured by the firm

Ben Bondar was to St. Paul this spring for a demonstration of construction of the building trade.

The plant, costing $672,000the anodizing the land and the building is naturally located in the

Life Jackets For Boat Passengers

If you own a boat that is powered by a 10 horse power motor or more better look out that you have life jackets in it all of them.

The St. Paul RCMP report that the Canada Shipping Act states all boats powered by over 10 horse power motor must be registered. Also all boats powered by any motor must carry approved life jacket for every person riding in the boat. A customs inspector or an RCMP officer will be making checks of boats at strategic points in the near future and anyone found guilty of this offence may be liable for prosecution

Peep Holes Drilled For Superintendents

Where there is prosperity there is usually a building boom and where there is a building boom there are usually sidewalk superintendents. The same seems to apply to St. Paul. There were lots of peepers stretching their necks over the fence from the old Pat Office's step to catch a glimpse of initial construction on the new wing of the building. To add to the comfort of spectators and relieve the congestion on the porch, contractors unwisely cut out a number of peep holes for the curious who are stamping their authority on all over the fence.

Thieves Strip Car Of Accessories; Stalled On Road

Beral Canadian Mounted Police throughout the St. Paul district are on the lookout for a large quantity of car accessories that were stripped from a 1951 Meteor, belonging to Art Poirier, St. Paul Municipal works foreman.

Mr Poirier developed car trouble a mile north of the Cash Hall and was forced to abandon his car during highway 28 about 3 a.m Saturday He intended to return later with repairs for his car A passing motorist notified him about four hours later that his car had been stripped of its accessories.

The silvered Meteor took battery, wheels, radiator, heater, spare tire, rear view mirror, a number of screwdrivers, wrenches, credit card, drivers license and insurance card, a fence stretcher and a piece of cable and a 100 foot rope.

The tires, wheels and battery are insured. Anyone who passed Art Poirier's car while it was parked along the highway and who may have any information that may help in the apprehension of the alleged thieves is asked to contact the St. Paul RCMP immediately.

Wanted -- Clean Beaches

St. Paul Beach at Lake St. Vincent has built itself a reputation for being a rare quiet restful holiday resort. Each year more visitors are coming up and real estate on the lake shore is in great demand.

True enough, the natural scenery around the lake and its abundance of Jack Fish, etc have lured many tourists and local holidayers to spend relaxing hours in a pleasant atmosphere.

A few weeks ago we had occasion to receive a phone call requesting information on the beach — its facilities for accommodation, water supply, etc We were pleased that persons so far away had heard of the lake and were interested in spending their holidays there.

We naturally recommended it, but with some misgivings. Earlier in the same week we have noticed large accumulations of weeds and garbage strewn all over the place. Too big of a build up would have been a bit down and led to adverse publicity for the future We made a few excuses that the lake front was a little dirty from algae drifted in by a heavy storm.

St. Paul Beach is privately owned and the responsibility for keeping the shore line clean belongs to the owner Some private parties have been cleaning their fronts regularly, but the accumulation from the public front just drifts over and fills up the cleaned regions. There is also some duty on the part of Sunday visitors, compare to keep the place clean. Fishermen have the habit of throwing dead fish in the beach where they rot away and stank up the surroundings If you don't want the fish you vent back in the water after they've caught and at least give them a chance to grow up Pick up your lunch remains, take it home in a bag, deposit in containers for such at the lake, or bury it on your camp fire

Readers will remember our tourist issue published a few weeks ago and circulated to tourists across We received very favorable comment on the issue and the holiday attractions advertised in this district One Tourist Agency said it was familiar with almost to see a youngster chasing one, forgetting the depths he is walking in, shortsighted in recovering his plaything A hole or sudden drop could mean the end of the chase in a coffin

Rafts are even worse The young ones submerge them, falling over and under with the possibility that a foot might get caught or someone trapped They also float away easily to dangerous waters

Children can have too much fun with balloons balls rafts etc At play they are lulled from the soaring and always present dangers of wading into deep waters Don't forget fate You only have yourselves to blame in case of a fatality Children are children and fail to recognize danger.

We believe the natural attraction of water for children is sufficient to keep them happy and they can have a whale of a time just splashing and cavorting in the shallow safe depths without the aid of these hazardous playthings where can safely lead to disaster

Election Post Mortem

The printed word may as well end the explanation of the duties of the St. Laurent government at the polls

It is a simple explanation It is that John Diefenbaker is the most persuasive campaigner the political arena has seen in a long time It is also notable that at no time was he abusive of his opponents. He made his point always subtly or humorously or both

He never pointed out in so many words that one of the leading members of the St. Laurent cabinet, including the prime minister, were elderly men He frequently alluded to the general belief that the increase in the old age pension was niggardly But he added that Messrs St Laurent, Howe, Gardiner and McCann all thought it enough and they all took it Even a Canadian political audience got the point without a diagram.

He was also as kindly, even tender, in his allusions to Liberalism He seemed to think that there were fine elements in it, which have been troubled with notions about pipelines, erasures years

Seems Not To Matter

A war also has never made a secret of his political leanings by the rest of the voting day friends that as the second vote in the general election stands. in the pre-war days appeared in a vote of 1,000 votes cast for the lecture the deputy returning officer. The deputy appeared to be almost seventy-five and on prime ministerial questions should not have been too old for his daylong job

In the first instance, the ballot was meant to be pushed into the ballot box with the numbered counterfoil still attached, which in fact as it did not, it would have made it possible to trace the name to the voter What this machine was to achieve the DEO, he presumed, to unfold the ballot so that he could more conveniently detach the counterfoil. He admitted that he had

Taking A New Look

One thing about the federal election was the attention it got from everyone once the results were in. That kind of attention is likely to hold it to the strenuous months ahead. Comedian voters, eyes fixed on Ottawa, will get a newly mended reputation to live in Slow To Let Yourself Be Governed.

For newspapermen and commentators today's situation is a valid bring back that prideful feeling, nearly lost, that daily

Complains Of Poor School Bus Routes

In the issue of July 4th you carried a photo showing a line of delayed cars and cars on Highway 41 around Long Lake. Although of the fact was drawn to Mr Gordon Taylor, Minister of Highways for the Province of Alberta

A new coat of gravel was requested to fix the road to allow flow of traffic in wet weather because existing conditions do not permit two large vehicles to meet due to slippery roads slanting towards the ditch.

In case Mr Taylor doesn't know, in our districts there are school bus routes on which even a half ton truck can't drive after the slightest little shower.

And they expect six-year-old children to hang on for their lives in buses which should be equipped with safety belts outnumbering the residents.

Who are we to ask for gravel? Mr Taylor doesn't seem to do and gravel is make a formal request to the Municipal Council either.

They have and girls have 2 hours to get to school. They have to navigate these slippery roads in the face of numerous accidents aggravate the problem, in the spring they are

The expansion program will be geared to increase production in all present departments with the addition of equipment to manufacture moulded plastic containers, plastic pipe and novelty items

The demand for plastic products is increasing at a dynamic rate. It is the aim of Polychemicals Industries to obtain a bigger share of the western Canadian market in plastic products. To accomplish these aims we must have production to handle a full line of plastic products and services. The plant will be one product orientated, however the manufacturing interest and is now president

Mr. Clark, after graduating from the U of A, was on the legal staff of the City of Edmonton for four years He also served on the land department of a large Calgary Oil Company for several years.

Now that Polychemical Industries are well established, Clark and Belzil have turned their interests and investment attentions to the promotion and development of other chemical industries in Alberta. The objective is to establish petrochemical industries which shall be the foundation of a thriving petrochemical complex in Edmonton. The first to go into development will follow.

The industrial promotion of Polychemical Industries of Edmonton, Western Canada's first plastic manufacturing, is a tribute to ambitious youth, and a promise in the future for enterprising men with vision, foresight and perseverance to undertake large tasks in the development of our great west, just waiting to be exploited.

Bouquets of mixed flowers decorated the Roman Catholic Cathedral on St. Paul, July 26, when Mary Eva, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jean Stark of St. Paul, became the bride of George Joseph, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wilbrandt of St. Paul.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a white floor-length dress with layers of ruffled French lace over net and taffeta and lily point sleeves She wore a chapel veil kept in place by a crown of pearls here edging trimmed with rhinestones Her only jewellery consisted of pearl earrings. She carried a white prayer book and orchid, gift of the groom.

The bride's matron, chose a deep mauve dress with white accessories and carried a rose corsage. The groom's mother wore a pink and white summer dress with white accessories and a rose corsage.

Bridesmaids were Helen Stark, sister of the bride, Cecile Wilbrandt, sister of the groom, Frances Smith and Vera Hrynish. They wore floor length dresses with matching headpieces and carried white and pink rose bouquets.

MEMO FROM HERMAN ROSSE

By BILL DOWSON

In reading through one of our bigger papers on the happenings in Alberta the other evening, I came upon a short article concerning the "Cat-Otta" controversy. Now I was surprised to read that most Albertans are not concerned about that there is no such thing as a Canadian accent. That is the opinion of men who seem to know what the are doing, but it has been my experience to note that Canadians in different parts of Canada have different pronouns, and some of these are very pronounced.

There is of course a difference between Colloquial language and accent. A favorite colloquialism in Newfoundland is "Stay b'ys here sit, and I'll come where you're to" This is a figure of speech But the accent used in the utterance is a true Newfoundland accent The word "stay" is pronounced "ste". Another Newfoundland colloquialism used by natives of Haydie accent is the now-famous "Gee um i make ah you George Gander um I'll gee you a sash ah make you a pair I got me Mommy stitchy. "Give us a sash ah make you orange George, and I'll give you a sash of those when I get it".

Now these two examples are colloquialism, which are defined by Mr. Webster in his famous book The Dictionary as "local speech used in everyday speaking".

This is all very well, but the fact remains that when George, is pronounced as Jarj, and orange is pronounced as Arrinj we have an accent on your hands no matter what you say. So, that's the Newfoundland accent In Northern Alberta we have a most of my forebears came from, the people speak with what is known as the Ottawa Valley accent. This comes the words pronounced as "Car-Otta", with the first syllable sounding like the word "Car". This is a correct pronunciation of the words "marriage, carriage and garage" Then, words like "cow" "crowd and round" care pronounced "coo" "croodd and roond" the "ch" syllable sounding like the "sh" in the word "shoot".

That's the Ottawa Valley Accent.

Hail Devastates Elk Point Crops

By now everyone in this district has heard of or seen the results of the disasterous hail storm which lashed at the region about three weeks ago.

That afternoon, slow moving clouds from the northwest sprung up out of clear blue sultry skies at four and hailstones as large as hen's eggs made an eastern sweep through the Rosalyn Lake District, across the river and still further south and east.

As a person nearer neighbor after neighbor, from south and west of Elk Point, story of the damage unfolds. Some crops are estimated losses up to seventy-five per cent or higher, gardens are beat into the ground, windows broken, pigs, chickens, and turkeys killed.

A farm home south of the river was struck by lightening and burned. One lad coming home with a load of grain was badly beaten about the head by hailstones. The storm was so strong one elderly farmer, after making a dash for home in his car was forced to sit it out in the garage until its fury abated before he could get into his home.

Many taken by surprise were caught on tractors in the fields and had to seek shelter in the best manner, under the machines.

There were 864 housewives and business women serving as volunteers in the Canadian Red Cross Corps in 1956.

Farmers Have Plenty Troubles

The summer man and farmers of Elk Point boasted happily when the rains came after the May and June drought to push the crops up and bring bulled prospects.

The joy was soon dampened by destructive hail in some regions which again reduced the farmers' prospects and forced both the farmers and the business men to patch again as both are affected by the agricultural success or failure in this district.

The Elk Point district has experienced all kinds of adversity from drought, cutworms, grass hoppers and the market squeeze when prices are reduced and grains will not sell.

What is going to happen to the farmer is a prominent question which is anxiously being discussed by all those who are making a living on the land.

MAAT TWINS ABAUST QUICKLY

Ronnie and Richard Maat quickly adapted themselves to their new environment when Mrs Teddy Maat, whom they were rescued by their foster father Antonio Hopton of Cambridge Ont. The lads were returned to the Supreme Court of Canada ruled they should be raised by their natural parents, even though they had been adopted for the previous two months after birth. The twins ask for their foster parents often but appear happy as they play with other children in their new neighborhood.

Last week's jam jars may be due filling jars too full. Leave ½ inch headspace at the top of jars (measured from the rim) except for jams, jelly and preserves which require 1 inch headspace as they expand more during processing.

It may also be caused by too rapid boiling. This loss of liquid does not interfere with the keeping qualities of the food so the affected should be made to open the jar for refilling after processing.

7 Jars should never be inverted after removal from the canner bath or the seal may be broken.

8 Faded Berries: some varieties tend to lose their colors more than others. Injury to berries causing unsightly stains escape of juice and hence loss of color.

9 White Sediment in Vegetables: white particles settling out in the bottom of containers is due to hard water used. While sediment in peas and beans may be due to overmature vegetables. Sometimes starch cooks out and causes the liquid a white look. White sediment in tomatoes indicates spoilage It is caused by using a poor product and by extra process.

10 Floating Fruits: may be due to overripe fruit, processing too long or too hard syrupge A pack in hot to low may also cause fruit to float.

11 Discoloration of peaches and pears after canning is often due to enzyme activity which means that the heat of processing was not applied long enough, or the temperature used was not high enough to render the enzyme inactive or to expel all the air from the jar. The remedy is to follow exactly the standard processing time or use a hot rather than a cold pack.

Elder Lambert's TV aerial was caught in the hubument, bent to half its gravel guard and the top of the roof on its guy wires . . . testimony of the indiscriminate fury of the winds, ravaged everything in its destructive path.

Theatre goers found their entertainment interrupted and set in the dark for hours while power was restored. The management suffered financial loss, refunding admission money and lost many patrons who were unable to return Only one showing, Friday night was possible of the popular "King And I", a picture which had attracted large attendance, a good percentage of whom were home discouraged.

Seaway Tolls Not Create Problem

Tolls for the St Laurent Seaway are now being worked out. The Financial Post reports

1 The toll committee—one Canadian and one American—have not yet made up their minds on tolls.

2 They're actually looking for information from anyone to be affected, wan to make sure all sides have been grazed before levies are fixed

The expectation now is that both committees will come up with their recommendations, and that these recommendations will be merged after consultation into one schedule about a year from now.

Government agreement both Canadian and U.S., will be reached during the winter of 1958-59.

Canadians voluntarily contributed $5,565,885 to the Canadian Red Cross in 1956.

Swine Research At Lacombe Leads To Development Of New Breed

One of the most notable achievements in agricultural research at the Canada Department of Agriculture Experimental Farm, Lacombe since its inception fifty years ago has been the development of a new breed of swine the Lacombe. This particular phase of research has been considered one of the most promising of all Experimental Farm work and no doubt will create a great deal to interest at the 50th Anniversary celebration at the Lacombe Farm on Wednesday, July 31

The Lacombe breed was developed from a hybrid foundation Landrace-Chester X Berkshire and each generation was selected on the performance of littermates with respect to feed efficiency, rate of growth and carcass quality The objective in producing a breed with optimum performance standards and the ability to cross with other breeds, particularly the Yorkshire thus providing hybrid vigor has been attained.

A swine herd was established at the Lacombe Farm in 1912 and the first experimental work involved comparisons between the Canadian land-type breed and the Canadian Yorkshire It was not until after the year 1927 that the Yorkshire was supported by the breeds in other than minor test quality These results although were not conclusive enough to satisfy the breeders generally as to the value of crossbreeding in the production of market hogs, did however point the way to further research which in recent years has produced in carcass of 60 per cent Grade A carcasses

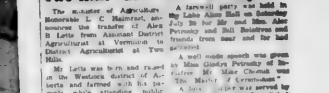
by DEAN HALLIDAY

This investment-minded bridegroom is making sure that the bride he's carrying over the threshold doesn't get her toes caught between the tops of bridge and approach. Photo shows how. Proper bridges must allow for a clearance between the top of the bridge and the approach barbwire, on the other hand, must not be too high.

Dangerous bridges such as pictured at left are common in rural areas. Even a slight rise in the road—color may be observed right at the bridge approach. Cause is the spring Another light shadow is the misalignment in guessing that it is necessary. It is a bad idea to shape approaches just like the roadway because the soon will be a hump in the middle. Approaches should be level for a distance equal to the length of the bridge.



"Dad, did you pick up my dress?"

That young voice hits Dad where it hurts. He was so sure he'd remembered everything. And here is Amelia, with a heavy date, demanding her dress which he forgot to pick up at the cleaners. Why, grumbles Dad, don't women do their own shopping?

The answer is that farm women usually do. In fact, their shopping, in person and by mail, adds up to a lot of money. How much? Well, last year, farm families put about $1½ billion dollars into circulation. That's over twice the amount spent for all the new housing in Canada. About 1,000 million dollars went for household requirements—the things you buy regularly. And the rest of the money was spent for equipment, wages, feed, seed, fertilizers—everything that farmers need to produce food in abundance.

All this farm spending for consumer goods and services helps to keep a great many Canadians employed in a wide variety of businesses and is a powerful stimulant to progress and prosperity. This is made possible by good farm management, efficient practices which include the use of modern farm machinery.

St. Paul Bears Lose To Braves

St. Paul Bears lost their fourth game this season Sunday when Grand Centre Braves won by a 12-7 victory under their belts. The local crew jumped into a 7-3 lead after three innings of play but died off apart at the seams in the 7th. seamless when the Braves rum at the next four innings.

John Kotowich, Chuck Kendle Jack Andreuyk and Marcel Joly all crossed the payoff plate in the first on the strength of four solid base hits Tom Murphy and Chuck Tanner scored the first two runs for the Bears.

Starting pitcher for the Bears, Ken Simms, looked good in the first two innings but tired in the third. Garth Roberts relieved with the score 7-5 in favor of the locals. He gave up a single run in the fifth inning and then was knocked from the box in the sixth with the score standing 6-7 for Grand Centre Roberts was the losing pitcher. Ken Charnish took over pitching duties following Roberts and he too had a tough time. In the absence the booming Grand Centre batter, Charnish was removed in the seventh in favor of lefty Pat Collins who pitched to the last three batters.

Bears on both pennisby cast the Braves with only six hits. Batsiers surrended 12 free passes to their rivals. Murphy and Jim Dew gave up only five for Grand Centre. Winning pitcher was curve-hurling Jim Dew who took over from starter Fred Brady at the end of inning. Dew pitched six. . . in the three innings he worked. The smooth American rightshander struck out four, walked one and gave up only one hit.

A crowd of about 700 took in the game and were on hand to watch the Bears play this season with the exception of July 1 tournament.

INSPIRATION FOR NEW HAT AT CNE

Even your wife a mineral elephant will look lousy beside the weird and wonderful headgear to be displayed in the Women's building at this year's Canadian National Exhibition. A fearsome sample is this Indian headdress worn by the Trois-Pistoles lacrosse team there. Built it is made of sea lions whiskers, wood and chenies.

Museum For Doll's Inventions

Saturated on the brow of a Cape Breton mountain, in the town of Baddeck, N.S., is a treasure house of the inventions of Alexander Graham Bell.

Although Bell is known the world over for his invention of the telephone, it is but one of the many creations of his genius, writes John Edwards in an absorbing article which appears in the current issue of The Star Weekly.

His work on the hydrofoil, his experiments which paved the way for jet engines and the rotating, and his other amazing inventions are described in The Star Weekly article dealing with Canada's memorial to Alexander Bell.

HOSIERY SALES SAID LAGGING

Ladies' hosiery items are worried about sagging sales, reports The Financial Post, which points out Once the average grown-up female bought over 10 pairs a year. Now she is down to a little better than a dozen.

Longer wearing stockings have something to do with declining demand, but bare legs are a major factor it is against this practice that the hosiery people are preparing to battle.

At one time" says Du Pont consumer researcher, "if a woman did not look good enough she was apt to be judged unrefined, in poor taste or even a little unusual.

He and his fellow researchers aim to restore that social code.

Construction On Pavement Commences

The St. Paul JOURNAL
THURSDAY AUGUST 8th, 1957
Thirteen 32 Pages No. 32
THE JOURNAL, ST. PAUL, ALBERTA

Crews All Set To Lay Hard Top St. Brides Corner

September 30th Completion Date

Government supervisors and crews from Mannix, O'Sullivan and Company arrived in this week to commence the first piece of paved road to be built in this district

Construction is starting at St. Brides and will move along Highway 18 east for twelve miles to St. Paul and continue through main street to the eastern approaches of the town.

The announcement on the project was made early this spring by Hon. Hugh Rowland, Minister of Industries and Labour, who verified the statement on behalf of Hon. Gordon Taylor

At that time it was not known whether the appropriations included the main street, but this was resolved a month later when the fact was ascertained Part of the main street costs, from the corner strip, paid by the government to the adjacent property owners, is the responsibility of the Town and a further amount of one quarter of the total cost is the responsibility of the provincial government around the entire route, saving ratepayers some $56,000

Mr Bill Eale, resident director engineer for the Province and a crew of thirty men moved in on Thursday, followed by the contractors and the immediately started the paving program.

Mr. Eale explained that he and his men are acting strictly on behalf of the government so as that the road is built according to specifications

The road will be a no-sensitive affair between Mr. Eale and Mr. Ernie Mannix, contractor from Montreal. The standard of roads built by Mannix according to Mr. Eale is of top quality.

Completion of a twelve-mile strip from Red Water east to Smoky Lake, of the same specifications outlined for here, has already eased the tasks of thousands of motorists using the heaving gravel on the present superseded to two lanes over-night and has eliminated the trouble without any signs of strain.

SHAPING UP

The first step leading to pavement on the new highway is the gravel grade built two years ago. The surface is first "razed" or "shaved" by the crew, which is leveled off heavy applying a new 1957 four-liner Pre-mix by Mr. Rodolphe Lafrenier president of the corporation. He explained the set of keys from County Mannix, supplies of the job.

They were attractively inlaid in the centre of a horseshoe (an old metal sheet) and topped with a white iron, all attached to an enlarged version of the key

Mr. Lafrenier has gratitude at the win. Dana Chartrand thanked the Agricultural Society for having given him the opportunity to win the car When asked what he intended to do with it, the boy replied he was too excited to think about anything yet and would decide after consultation with his father.

200 Trucks On Pavement Job

It isn't a gold strike, but to St. Paul it is something close to it in prosperity for the Town as 200 trucks are jamming the streets getting set to go on the road paving program from St. Brides.

Don Guthrie BA dealer here informs us that his company has received the contract for supplying the gas to this hungary fleet which will set between three and five thousand gallons a day when in full operation.

A refueling depot has been established in St. Paul Sales and Services' used car lot behind the garage where a special tank and pump will attend to the needs of the fleet.

The Canadian Red Cross Corps established voluntarism service in 25 Canadian communities in 1896.

CANADIAN-UNITED STATES HEREFORD CHAMPION

Winner of the Canadian and United States honors at the first Hereford Congress and Roundup held at Calgary before the banquet in this well rounded animal, Blue Hill Royal Domino 2nd, is a two-year-old Heifer, raised and groomed on the Blue Hill Hereford Ranch west of St. Paul. She is owned by Mr. Ernest Ladouceur of the Ranch. Mr. Fernand Tetrault is held by Fergus Imlah and Sons of Elmira, Ont. Judge Imlah has been over the Canadian herd many times and Mrs. Imlah is the well known announcer of the cherished silverware for her home. (Complete description in accompanying article.)

Teenager Wins Car At Agricultural Bingo

A nineteen-year-old Mallaig boy was the unsolicited winner of the St. Paul Agricultural Society's car Bingo, parting the drop on of a new Chevrolet at over 2000 who attended the event on Saturday night at the St Paul Arena.

Young, Denis Chartrand, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jos Chartrand of Mallaig, was presented with the keys to the car, all by Mr. Rodolphe Lafrenier president of the association. He received the set of keys from County Mannix, supplies of the job.

They were attractively inlaid in the centre of a horseshoe (an old metal sheet) and topped with a white iron, all attached to an enlarged version of the key

Mr. Lafrenier has gratitude at the win. Dana Chartrand thanked the Agricultural Society for having given him the opportunity to win the car When asked what he intended to do with it, the boy replied he was too excited to think about anything yet and would decide after consultation with his father.

BIG EQUIPMENT FOR BIG JOB

While the attention of most of Canada is diverted to the trans-Canada pipeline, the St. Lawrence seaway project is progressing on schedule with many of the world's biggest excavating units at work. Here's the business end of a 70-ton dragline in use on the 27-foot, Lake St. Louis-Lake St. Francis channel. The bucket is big enough to scoop up a fair sized house, lawn, car, trees and all.

FOR THE PEOPLE

Much has been written and spoken about the role and responsibility of newspapers before now, but every now and then a matter arises which brings the question up for review.

The influence of the weekly and daily press upon the lives of the citizens can be quite powerful—the fabulous sum spent on advertising is evidence enough of this from a practical point of view. But does a newspaper exist only as a vehicle for airing slanderous, undercover and libelous views?

Surely people look to the pages of their weekly paper for news and behind that lies the real thing—a quest for truth. A man may hear of a train wreck from his neighbor who tells him 300 people perished. Another neighbor tells him no one was injured. He looks to his newspaper to give him the facts, or in other words, the truth.

Carrying on the simile, when the blame for the train wreck is being apportioned, the newspaper will carry versions given by both parties involved. The individual reporter may have his own opinion, but it is her function to put in his own feelings. He gives the facts, and the reader makes up his own mind. As least that is upon the principle which the Canadian Press was founded.

When a newspaper gives only one side of the picture, it is guilty of being biased, unjournalistic and unprofessional. A newspaper can silent news, editorialize and refuse to print letters that do not agree with its policy. It is dictating, in its readers what they ought to think.

When the circuit over any matter, the damaged caused can be irreparable, because many will believe what they read in the newspaper as gospel truth.

However, to avoid the danger of a silenced press all readers, or persons affected by an editorial or even a news story, have the privilege to counter and express their side of the story with a letter to the editor. No matter what the opinion is, contradictory or not, so long as it is expressed in an approved conventional form, publication is guaranteed. We will print any letter received, either for or against any subject as a matter of principle to properly fulfill the job we are entrusted with.

OBJECTIVE LESSON

The news stories concerning the derailment of a train near Winnipeg where 18 cars were damaged and 31 persons injured brings to [illegible] forcibly the [illegible] in the vicinity of St. Paul.

RCMP and railroad officials were deeply concerned with the fact that, presumably some children had been playing on the track close to town and wilfully or innocently placed some big spikes on the rails to have [illegible] flattened.

The case of the Winnipeg accident concerned an engine-only locked switch, swung around to the wrong position, sidetracking the train into the right of way.

The same thing could happen — no case of the spikes, many persons injured and heavy damage done to the train. Parents would do well to admonish their children on this possibility, bringing to their attention the example of the Winnipeg accident as an objective lesson in what a childish and innocent prank could lead to.

A CLOSE CALL

Over a week ago there was a donkey baseball game in St. Paul, attended by several thousand persons. During the game someone, or for that matter, a number of persons should have learned a very valuable lesson.

Probably everyone will remember an interruption in the game when a bleacher on the east side, seating about thirty fans collapsed. Fortunately no one was hurt, but it might be a different story next time.

The structure which collapsed was rotten and weak and by many moves from the arena to the ball park and to the exhibition rose track. When it broke some of the timers crashed down on a car parked behind and the remainder shattered on the ground along with tangled timbers, both planks and children who got away with a good scare.

We've had a warning. Let's not wait for second and perhaps more disasterous one to show us the way. Authorities responsible should make a thorough inspection of the bleachers and repair them accordingly so that they will be safe in the future. The sooner, the better.

BOATING REGULATIONS

The boating public is urged to learn the do's and don'ts in connection with the operation of their boat. If in doubt please contact the local R.C.M.P. detachment for information on the subject.

As for equipment, the Canada Shipping Act sets out the type and the minimum amount of approved life saving equipment required for each type of boat. For instance one approved life jacket must be carried for each passenger in the boat. A booklet, "Safety Afloat," covering all aspects of boating can be obtained from R.M.C.P. detachments.

Any boat powered by a motor of ten horsepower or more must be licensed. Applications for the license can be obtained from the R.C.M.P. or the nearest Collector of Customs. There is no fee for the license.

There are various offences that can be committed in connection with the operation of motor boats. These include (1) operating a motor in a reckless or unsafe manner, (2) operating a motor boat without the minimum requirements of life saving equipment and (3) failing to obtain the necessary license if one is required.

THE WORLD OF WHEELS
by
W. G. WILLIAMS
Director
Canadian Department Library

There is evidence that the whole way from wheat growing Western Canada during the past year or two has perhaps been the dramatic that was supposed. The reason for this is to be found in the revenue figures covering Area of Food Crops 1950 recently published by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The report indicates that as we all feel the Prairie Provinces turned wheat acreage transfer to revenue crops. 22 million acres of wheat as against 23 million acres used as a basis for figuring the 1951 wheat acreage for 1952 and the 1950 acreage reduction in the all wheat acreage turns out to be small, as expected, it may be recalled that Western Canada planted between 30% and 31 million acres every season that year.

But when assuming that the 1951 acreage figure would be slightly reported somewhat more than the fact that the increased area has at present been used, needed to. Durum wheat crop this year may show a large increase over the 1 million acres. This means in effect that the needed to the increase which has decreased proportionately but of which we are not in any way responsible. Where we have been needed to spring wheat.

TECHNOLOGY DOESN'T ELIMINATE EXCITEMENT OF STAKE RUSH

Although science has eliminated some of the fine points of the old rush for mineral deposits, it still has a lot of the excitement and thrills of the past. It started recently when two prospectors were allowed 4 days to stake claims on the first undisputed geophysical claim post.

All sorts of men, 500 square miles area, active supervision report and geophysical engineers work in Winnipeg, a half-hour of seeing surveyors from staking party, left lunch by plane after a 75-mile flight to be first in the staking race in the chosen area. It would have taken days to reach it by foot or canoe. At present Chief Stuker Jim Brady works speedily to put up the first undisputed geophysical claim post.

Printed Surveys Help Towns Sell Themselves

Now industrialists are out of luck and without the regional director of Industrial Development Branch of the Department of Economic Affairs. The surveys are designed to present in a concise form all the facts a prospective industrialist needs to know before he can decide whether or not to establish his plant in a particular community.

The surveys are prepared at the request of local chambers of commerce, boards of trade or other community groups who want to attract new industry. The information is collected by the staff of the Industrial Development Service and is presented in a form that will be of most interest to the industrialist.

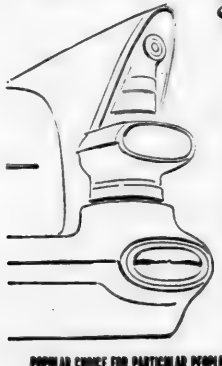
We knew
we had a "honey" of a car
BUT...



. . . this year's Pontiac has even us running out of praise for the good looks that have put it at the top as Canada's most wanted car. Could be good styling always comes out on top.

Remember when all the male fashion magazines were full of pink shirts? Store windows blushed pink on every side and, for a little while at least, shirt dealers were very happy. Then the clearance sales began and dealers tried everything they could to dispose of the pink shirts that people weren't buying any more. One more fancy fad had come and gone.

We think there's a moral in this that applies to the car business, too. And when we take a look at Pontiac's sales record this year, we're sure of it. Canadians everywhere appreciate Pontiac's quiet, graceful beauty . . . the absence of flash and gaudiness. They recognize and appreciate the sort of workmanship in every detail that only General Motors can put into a car. They like the friendly treatment and the efficient service they find wherever they deal with a Pontiac dealer.

But see for yourself as you drive. Just count the Pontiacs . . . and you'll agree the rising tide of Pontiac popularity is turning into a veritable torrent.

The carnival of Citizenship Week, July 23rd to 28th, at the play-ground was the election of a mayor and mayoress. Although the electoral atmosphere was stormy and gusty, the election was a serious mention of the duties in their future duties as citizens of this country.

Alice Hetland proudly ascended to the dignity of mayor for the first time while Carole Dufresne was re-elected for a second term as mayoress.

The proud winners were honored in a procession which filed through the town streets immediately after the election. Food to fit the kiddies tastes was served at the Saint-Laurent Park terminal of the procession.

Elections au terrain de jeux

La semaine du 23 au 28 juillet, connue sous "Civisme" a eu revenir les élections. Le but d'un tel événement au terrain de jeux est d'exercer des enfantsant les jeunes aux responsabilités qu'ils auront plus tard comme citoyens. Nous donnons à cette période électorale tout le sérieux qu'elle mérite et ils gardent la note de gaieté qui convient. Cette année, M. Alice Hetland fut élu maire de l'CFJ di St-Paul alors que Mlle Carole Dufresne était reélue mairesse pour un second mandat.

Après les élections les protocoles d'usage se tinrent et ils furent suivis de la traditionnelle promenade au milieu d'un enthousiasme exhuitant. Ils se rendirent au Parc Saint-Laurent où un goûter fut servi en l'honneur des nouveaux élus

Bebé supplies totaled at $300 - 333 were sent overseas to 14 nations by the Canadian Red Cross in 1936

Mlle A. Plouffe remporte le premier prix

Chaque semaine au terrain de jeux, les enfants sont invités à réfléchir sur un thème fourni par les moniteurs. Après avoir traité des "Sports," de "Bon sens," du "Civisme," la semaine dernière on parlait de la nature.

Lundi la part particulière de la journée portait sur le lieu ou se trouve celebre la mère Lapierre, née Marsh on a remarqué que Mlle Plouffe a plus important dans l'arbre. Chacun(e) se mit à la besogne Marsh, grille et, vendredi il n'avait commencé que tout particulier les plus importantes de la semaine, l'arbre, la commémoration et la consolation.

Pour finir, chaque enfant, accompagné d'un adulte, dessina approprié un bâton entre tous les candidats de l'CFJ Parmi les candidats, nous remarquons Mlle Marguerite Plouffe, qui remporte le premier prix avec la fille et M. Roland Cimérèves chez les Lapierre. Les prix ont été remis vendredi après-midi. A la même occasion, M Jacques Gurtsein a été choisi comme le Tit-Kan de la semaine et Mlle Lucie Plouffe connue la meilleure citoyenne

THE Housemaker

How about a session on freezing this week as a sequel to last week's rousing discussion? There could be no topic more timely!

Four keynotes to good freezing results are 1. Use only varieties of fruits and vegetables which are recommended. 2. Freeze only products at high quality at the stage when they are best for eating fresh. 3. Speed in handling from harvesting to freezing is of utmost importance. 4. It is important that vegetables be blanched before freezing. It is not necessary to blanch fruit.

How to pack is another point. Vegetables may be packed wet or dry. The dry pack is easier and can be removed from the container more easily afterwards. The advantage of the wet-pack is that the product stays in the freezer state longer after being removed from the freezer

Fruit may be wet-packed in a syrup the strength of which depends upon the individual's taste. A very thin syrup (1 to 3) is sufficient to preserve flavor and appearance Too heavy syrup will not freeze properly

To dry pack place a layer of fruit and one sugar alternately in the container ending with sugar

Some of the more commin irregularities in frozen products may be diagnosed as follows:

1. Darkened discolored fruit may occur at the top of the package or throughout. Use a syrup pack for peaches and apricots making sure that all fruit is completely covered with syrup. The addition of ascorbic acid will help to prevent darkening.

2. Soft, mushy berries may result from several causes. The variety may not be suitable for freezing. The berries were over-ripe, held too long before freezing or handled carelessly. Berries held too long after thawing deteriorate rapidly.

3. Sugar crystals on top of fruit is caused by too great a concentration of sugar. This does not effect the quality.

Paul Reid of Woodstock in behalf of the Imperial Oil Limited. Ted was selected by David Wilson, runner-up from Victoria, B.C. and Sandra Beaudry, left, of Galt, Ont. A series of safety experts put the finalists through a rigid test of driving skill, safety knowledge, road sense and personal initiative.

A Sporting Way To Catch Gulls

This week we were introduced to a new sport. It could be called "Catching Sea Gulls With Bare Hands," and is what one might call a real sporting sport.

One hot afternoon we skipped out to Three-Mile Lake for a fast swim and while there we got a request sent to us from some of the summer residents at the lake. Mr. Pete Monnier who owned up Mount Mandin is a camouflage of twigs and grass on the lake shore, and sent some pieces of bread to bait the Gulls, true scavengers. circled until one landed for a feed On the first crack Maurice reached out and scooped the surprised and bewildered bird in before he knew what was going on.

Not to be outdone, brother Ernie captured himself one the hard way. Spotting a gull apparently swimming in the lake he dashed out in the cold and again before the astounded bird could figure out what his world was coming to, he was a fast prisoned Birds were turned loose.

If you have the patience to be quietly for hours under a tuft of grass with the gulls and the heron flies nibbling at you, catching gulls with bare hands is a thrilling sport we highly recommend

Three-Year-Old Girl Dies Of Gopher Poisoning

Discarded Tin Can Has Deadly Potion

Grim tragedy struck at Saddle Lake, Monday afternoon when a three-year-old Indian girl perhaps died of gopher poisoning.

RCMP investigations revealed the fact that the young girl died after she is believed to have eaten deadly strychnine from an old rusty discarded can of gopher poison.

The young girl, Gloria Janet, daughter of Mr and Mrs William of the Saddle Lake Indian Reserve, was outside their living quarters playing around a pile of discarded junk, accompanied by her sister Irene, 5 and Betty who is 14 months

In the midst of strewn pots and tins, jars and sealers the young girl is believed to have found the fatal can of gopher poison, opened it and taken some of the powdery poison to her mouth She became sick and was taken onto her home by her Aunt Mrs Jackson tried to resuscitate her by giving her water, while the Mounties went out in search of transportation to bring the child to a doctor.

Red Cross Blood Clinic In St. Paul

Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion service is once again visiting St. Paul.

Arrangements were completed Tuesday night at a special meeting of directors to receive the same unit on Tuesday, August 27th

It was decided to dispense with the cumbersome and unsophisticated system. Instead donors are invited to attend the clinic at their convenience between the hours of 2 to 5 in the afternoon and 7 to 9 in the evening and later if necessary.

The clinic will be set up at the Legion Hall and the same overwhelming response received last year will be appreciated by both the local organizing and the provincial headquarters. Last year was a record — let's break it and make this proposed clinic a still greater success

So many people today are inclined to accept that Transfusion Service as now part of our way of life without understanding or knowing very much facts concerning it A few will recall the days not so long ago when human transfusions had to be bought and that a suitable donor was not always available even when available, too late. The Canadian Red Cross Society have changed all that and the present situation should be appreciated by the public for what it means Blood is now available in any type and in any amount to of that type to meet any emergency as it comes up, entirely FREE of any charge to the recipient, except the administration of it. You are being asked to attend this clinic, to show your kindness in short with your contribution of this priceless Gift to health of unknown persons in their time of need.

Local Golf Club Holds Tourney

Despite of dimming mist for two holes and driving rain for three more, a combination of George Poissant and Pete Pobzeran emerged winners of the two-ball foursome at the golf course last Sunday. However, they had to go an extra hole before Deally defeating Bert Beaurgard and Wm Higgins at both flights ended the competitions with a net score of 65.

A total of twelve golfers teed off at sunrise and another at 1.30 p.m. and posted their digit

Retail Merchants' Association Holds Policy Meeting In St. Paul; R. Bedard Chosen Representative

Mr Trevorton Self, special representative of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada (Alberta Division) was in St. Paul Tuesday to hold a meeting of local independent retail merchants to discuss policy and to strengthen the position of the organization

To Create Interest

One main purpose of the meeting was to co-ordinate the efforts of the retailers in Zone 1, including St. Paul and convening an area centered on Edmonton from Whitecourt in the north and Red Deer south.

There are four other zones in the province all co-ordinating towards the same aim.

Those meetings, said Mr. Self, are being held in every sizeable town throughout Alberta in an effort to establish full representation for independent retail merchants on matters of policy and legislative representation to local, provincial and dominion governments.

REVISION OF CODE

Among some of the more important presentations of the Association on behalf of the membership was a requested revision of the code on fair competition and numerous changes made in the wartime last year to the Hon. Ray Lamontagne, Minister of Industries and Labour

The Association realized that certain sections of the code are no longer necessary and almost impossible to enforce. Young people are in luck these days when it comes to winning cars Last week we had a 15-year-old boy take home a brand new 1957 Pontiac at a car show and this week it is a 13-year-old who gets possession of a brand new chevrolet jalopy, raffled off at the block at the Bel-Air Drive-In theatre.

The lucky young fellow was Robert Vandelaan of St. Lina, and son of Mr Arthur Chapdelaine The Stevenson, reports at its vintage, was nevertheless a coveted winning for the young man who happily drove it home

Unloading On Main Street

Loading and unloading trucks on main street is becoming a traffic problem which will have to be looked into soon.

With the majority of shipments coming in by truck and the C.N.R. also using small cars to unload from the rail bed, St. Paul finds itself with a congestion of heavy traffic on the main street. The switches pull in to unload to the [illegible] with no regard to normal traffic sometimes stretching out blocks behind them before [illegible]

Truck drivers forget that the few minutes [illegible] can be a nuisance to many [illegible] Double and sometimes triple parking is an aggravating factor to the [illegible] of their large [illegible] vans which cannot be circumvented until [illegible] one and then sometimes [illegible] another eternity. And they can be in the way of lone car [illegible] trying to back [illegible] a space.

When these trucks block thoroughfare to make a delivery which is accessible to the back and could be made without hindrance to [illegible]

With the construction of the pavement on highway 28 coming up when an increase of traffic is being evidenced right at the moment, it might be a good idea to divert truck unloading to the back wherever [illegible] is the most [illegible] places.

NEW PLAYGROUND

The new Mallaig playground is a small town improvement which could easily fit into many larger cities on the map.

It has been built to provide for and [illegible] swimming requirement of the community and more, with an eye to the needs of the future.

We all know the energy required to put over a project in our respective communities and because of that knowledge we are familiar with the tremendous effort that goes with such a plan.

Mallaig, in our estimation, has gone ahead with an example of what can be accomplished through co-operation no matter what size the community. The new playgrounds are spacious, have taken into consideration the prevalent parking problem, of today with a car for every two persons, has large convenient beautiful diamond, room for concessions, a spacious grandstand and [illegible] plenty of room for a recreation centre for the [illegible] It plans a community rink as the future rendering all of Mallaig's sporting activity to the one location.

Although the playground has been used for the summer, the official dedication and opening ceremonies will take place this coming Sunday, August 18th.

If nothing else, but for curiosity, residents of St. Paul and other centres should take in the opening to see for themselves this great accomplishment on the part of a devoted few who have co-operated to build this playground.

It might just stimulate some latent ideas and spur others to emulate this thriving little northern community which is refining the pace and leadership.

DISCOVERED CANADA

There may be more awareness of Canada in the U.S. capital today than at any time in the century, reports the Washington Correspondent of The Financial Post.

The reason is the new Conservative government in Ottawa. What the Dominion-her government will or will not do has almost become a regular topic on Washington's cocktail party circuit.

The state department and department of agriculture are the most concerned with Canada, and there is what has been described by Canadian officials here as "an uneasy concern" shown by officials in those departments.

Nothing is said or noted in public of course, but a [illegible] discussion is audible in private conversations.

And on Capitol Hill the senators and representatives are even beginning to realize that there is more north of the border than just snow, "mounties" and Lester Pearson.

THE HOME

We have a smattering of institutions which we sometimes feel the easy answer to [illegible] the real lessons of life are learned, are the homes of our country We hear a great deal about higher education, but the highest that can be had is found in the lofty lessons of self-control, self-service, unselfish faith, and splendid trust, which humble but such a marvelous power to teach. There is no training to be had in school, college, or anywhere in the world which can take the place of the discipline of the home. —Parish Bulletin

DIVIDENDS HIGHER

Canadian dividend payments and declarations for the first seven months of this year will be at least $1 per cent higher than comparable period last year and top the [illegible] mark.

Preliminary data for July indicates a total of $85.3 million, a good 8.6 per cent over previous July.

Biggest gain was in the oil group which chalked up a 15.3 per cent increase. Only section to show a decline in preliminary estimates was the mining category which was down 5.6 per cent

African Missionary Officiates At Annual Protestant Rally Recently

The heroic past and the campaigns presently were linked in dramatic fashion by the Rev. Dr. Kenneth Prior, formerly of Nigeria, as he spoke to a large congregation at the sixth annual service on the site of the first Protestant mission west of the Red River Settlement. On the 1st Sunday of August each year interested people have been coming in increased numbers to the attractive home of Mr. H. Ibbart. Do'set to share in the inspiration of the old mission and in the natural beauty and charm of the present day.

Recalling that in 1847 Mr. Rundle had set about to establish a farm and settlement under the leadership of Benjamin Sinclair to share with the Indian Peoples the knowledge of self culture and the production of food, Dr. Prior traced out the important need for food and for better culture in many lands of the present day world.

Until recently", he said, "Africa has not really been any source of food except during occasional famine periods. But with a rapidly increasing population, now approximately 200 millions, the problem of food is becoming a very important one. Increased pressure on the land is already producing devastation of the forests, and degradation, and erosion. Uncultured people are induced being eaten away and they do not understand why. In one area it is attributed to a big enemy, when comes out at night and eats up the soil. So the story goes from country to country until we find a highly developed of 1,000,000,000 people in the category of being under-developed under privileged one under food.

Surrounding his listeners that hungry people do not keep their treaties and do not keep the peace", and that we must more fairly and brotherhood or drift into the abyss. He challenged them to accompany their regrets with suitable action. He suggested that in establishing Christian Rural Fellowship might well be formed to keep abreast of the needs of things accomplished in the past and to keep them moving in positive action now on a worthwhile front. A standard of living and of cultural action could well grow out of such a project as this and develop into a worthwhile avalanche of Christian brotherhood and goodwill affecting the thinking and acting of the nations concerned and the world might become a reconciling force.

An important step was taken at the service this year in the formation of a group entitled Bemidje's Missions Inc., to subsidize and maintain a Dining Hall and Recreation Centre, the project and parts. C. H. Hutchinson, Telfordville is the president, Mr. Paul Mesmeon, Wetaskiwin is vice-president, the Rev. C. H. Mac Murtry, Wetaskiwin is Treasurer, Mr. K. McKenzie, Edmonton is Secretary, Robert Dowler, Fisher Home and Mr. Walter Perley of Thorsby are directors. HERO FROM HERMAN HOUSE

By BILL DOWSON

Something new has been added to CKSA's already tremendously varied programming. There's a new shows are "Buffalo Bill's wagon" heard at 8 in the afternoon and "Buffalo Home" following the Kid's Clubhouse at 5. Bandstand Bandwagon is designed to give the Western music fans a half-hour of the best in current Western music, and Bedtime Home is heard to be the program we have been looking for to bridge the gap between the time most of you folks have work and retire home. It will feature ideas, tips and hints for the car owner, recipes and many for Mom as she prepares supper and novelties for Dad to keep him in feel that this time of the day is just right for getting in down's way.

Rolling Along runs from 3 until 6 p.m. and you can look forward to a full hour of fun and interesting fact on this show.

To make the arrangement of these two about a little easier, Ked's Clubhouse has moved from 5 back to 4 in making it a satisfying for the boys and girls on their way home from school. The kids will be invited to the studio as usual and this is hoped to keep them off the streets (at least some of them), during that busy period on our streets.

Along with the new look here at Meridian House should prove to be a lot of fun indeed. It is a way of pre-supposing variety, which we have found is about the darkest time of evening.

Another feature we are currently listening on the tape recordings being made by Glen Lavold who is visiting the Billy Bread Jubilee Indian Station Park England. The tapes were all recorded on the spot with the aid of a little chat and not the theatrical stuff. It will feature the voices of some of England's best known personages who have been visiting at the big 34,000 acre camp. The Queen's message to the boys was included in one of these tapes. Another travelling tape is in Rome being recorded upon the last two travelling Canadian Soldier Girl that country. We hope to be able to play that one for you very soon.

If anything is new or different, you can be sure you'll hear about it on CKSA — your radio station serving you and your area 18 hours a day.

See you next week . . .

Any girl in search of the unusual evening outfit would do well to consider this one. It is a most unusual combination of tartan plaid and nylon lace and the result is one of charm and fashion interest. The long little jacket is cut on classic lines. THE Homemakers

District Home Economist

By E. KRUBAR

Once the 4-H clubs hold their rally in the early summer, winning teams of the clothing, foods and garden clubs are picked. Each of these teams then prepare a demonstration which they demonstrate at the county fair judging competition. Last week I drove the girls from the district to Olds and there I judged the foods and home improvement and the garden demonstrations in each of the projects. The girls are not only judged on their demonstrations but also on oral interviews and their club records.

Last year we were very fortunate in having a girl from the Nykreek Foods Club as a winner. This year the girls never let the down either for once again another winner. This time from the Mc Kinley Clothing Club and the girl is Barbara Wenger of Egremont. She will be only one of the 16 lucky persons representing the province at Toronto in the late fall. Congratulations for the good work!

Truck Roadeo Considered To Be Of Definite Value To Industry

The Truck Roadeo was conceived by the American Trucking Association in 1937, to give national recognition to the best and safest drivers in the nation. It was designed also to bring to the attention of the public the fact that truck driving is a profession followed by men whose knowledge and exercise of safe driving practices and driving skills are equalled by few other drivers—and surpassed by none

From its infancy the truck roadeo has increased by leaps and bounds. Each year interest in it grew and competition became stiffer than ever. The drivers in the National Allocation Roadeo became true "Champions" and were recognized by the trucking industry and the public as examples to follow in attaining the goal of safety on the highways. The success gained has been evidenced in Canada since the introduction of the truck roadeo to the Dominion in December 1947, when drivers from across the country competed their skill before some 5,000 spectators.

Here is what a leading Toronto Daily said after the 1947 Championships:

"Two new kings were crowned before a packed house in the Automotive Building of the C.N.E. last night For the first time in history, Canada declared monarchs in the truck driving profession.

"It was a scene reminiscent of a Stanley Cup Final when the seniors were declared. The huge crowd swarmed down from the seats to shoulder the Champions in a triumphant celebration. For them it was the day of days, and the truck transport industry made the most of it."

The conservative New York Times, in commenting on the Fifth Annual American Truck Roadeo, termed it "a sporting event, it is undoubtedly an educational one. As a sporting event, it is unique. As a safety-building device, it is significant."

The Championship receives nationwide publicity and this, along with other remunerations, makes the championship more than a matter of honour among truck drivers. Each winner is awarded a large and impressive trophy to retain for one year during which his title successfully, and another smaller one which is his to keep. Each champion also receives substantial cash and other awards.

The truck roadeo fosters and emphasizes the three virtues of safety, courtesy and efficiency on which the trucking industry is founded. It has become a great medium through which the trucking industry publicity pays tribute to the skill, knowledge and personality of the men who drive the nation's trucks.

Alberta's 8th Annual Truck Roadeo will be held at the R.C.A.F. Parade Square, Kingsway, Edmonton, on September 6 and 7. This roadeo is sponsored by the Alberta Motor Transport Association in co-operation with the Western Automotive Conference, the Edmonton Safety Council, the Calgary Safety Council, Alberta Provincial Safety Council and other groups interested in traffic safety.

The film Service of the Canadian Red Cross provided regular showings of current movies to veterans in 40 hospitals and institutions in 1956.

FIGHTING FIRE FROM THE AIR

Use of helicopters in forest fire suppression is increasing throughout Canada, and veteran forest fire prevention officials describe this versatile aircraft as the greatest single advance in forest fire fighting in the past 20 years. Recent forest fire fighter was given last week to Spartan Helicopter Services Ltd. of Ottawa by Ontario Forest Industries association and department of lands and forests. The helicopter shown here carries a 30-gallon tank of water on its fuselage which it can discharge through a hose on to the fire in a matter of seconds. Larger type helicopters carry several hundred gallons of water at a time, and can spell a few before it has a chance to get out of control. The course was held to familiarize forest industry personnel with latest techniques and equipment in forest fire fighting.

Oh No, Not Again Change In Dress

There are rumours afoot to-day that the fashion shows in Ottawa are changing.

Their dastardly scheme is to reveal the female knee.

A knee (male or female) is a busy, awkward piece of machinery suitable for viewing only when surrounded by adequate protective garments like trousers or leg, as in bathing suits or shorts.

Second, the knee-length dress has been lauded, rather, with a certain degree of enthusiasm by those who have nice knees to show. Those who have not, however, have been heard to say that it is the most unbecoming length ever devised for the female leg.

Fourth and last, the knee-length dress is being worn by many of the girls in the Ottawa fashion shows.

Think, girls, every textile manufacturer in the world is complaining about markets. This is no time to antagonize the women of fashion by drawing herself in three inches of cloth in front of Lord Boyd. That's a 25 per cent cut in potential at our stroke of the pencil

New Edition Of Quick Canadian Facts Reveals Interesting Items

Canada, bounded by three of the world's four oceans and crossed by seven of the world's twenty-four time zones, is second in size only to Soviet Russia. Brazil is the world's third largest country, and continental United States fourth. To date, less than one-third of Canada's total area has been brought under development, less than eight per cent of the country is classed as occupied farmland, and an equal area considered suitable for farming is still unoccupied.

Such are some of the items of information contained in the 13th annual edition of Quick Canadian Facts, the pocket manual of facts about Canada released last month by the publishers.

Among thousands of other facts about Canada and Canadians noted in the new book are:

There are fewer than four persons per square mile of land area in Canada, compared to more than 50 in the United States and more than 500 in the United Kingdom;

The most significant change in Canada's population pattern is the trend to urbanization which has accompanied the country's great industrial expansion; manufacturing now employs 1,-500,000 Canadians compared to about 800,000 employed in agriculture.

In the current year full-time university enrolment in Canada is estimated at 781,000, more than double the pre-war figure;

In 1956 as compared to 1955 the value of foreign goods sold in Canada increased by $0.7 billion, from $6.7 billion, the value of Canada's exports increased by $4.5 billion from $4.3 billion;

There are 91 daily newspapers published in Canada with a combined circulation of about 5,000,000, and about 1,000 weekly newspapers with a combined circulation of about 4 million;

The highest earners in Canada are consulting engineers and architects who, by most recent figures, for year 1954, had an average annual income of $12,600; largest single group of income taxpayers are employees, who averaged $3,304 for the year; next largest group, business proprietors, averaged $4,921 for the year.

The new edition of Quick Canadian Facts, containing up-to-date information on all aspects of Canadian life, is available to the public through newsstands and book stores across Canada, or from the publishers at 810 Lansdowne Bldg., Toronto.

NORTH BAY RCAF SQUADRON FLIES TO NATO POST IN GERMANY

North Bay's 419 Squadron was ordered to augment the RCAF forces at the NATO station at Baden-Soellingen, Germany, and when the squadron left, a gun Bruce the Moose, Bruce, the mascot of the squadron, is a big package to put into a cockpit of a CF-100, but Flight Cadet Eileen Kennedy of South Porcupine and W/C Stan Roberts, commanding officer of the squadron, managed the job without damaging an antler

Westcoast Transmission Co. Gas Line Completed Ahead Of Schedule

The Westcoast Transmission Company's $170 million pipeline through British Columbia was completed August 1.

Frank M. McMahen, president, announced in Calgary and Vancouver that the final weld in the 650-mile natural gas pipeline was made at Mile 112.5 near the geographical center of British Columbia.

"We are extremely pleased to be able to announce the final linking of our pipeline system," Mr. McMahen said. "Although we were pressuring gas since 1956, the entire project is several months ahead of schedule."

"The completion of the pipeline will, I feel sure, benefit every resident of British Columbia and is an important milestone in the economy in the West."

The Westcoast Transmission pipeline stretches from the Peace River fields of northwestern Alberta and northeastern British Columbia down through B.C. to Vancouver and the international border. This line will serve natural gas to most large B.C. communities and at the present time Huntingdon it will deliver natural gas for consumption in the Fraser River valley.

This is Canada's first major natural gas pipeline and will mark the first large international exchange of natural gas.

Full-scale construction began in the spring of 1956, and more than 2200 men were employed each season. Seven million tons of earth were moved in laying the 30-inch welded high-pressure steel pipe. More than 230,000 tons of pipe were used.

Initially, the line is capable of moving 400 million cubic feet of gas a day but, by the addition of extra compressor horse-power, the capacity can be increased to 600 million cubic feet a day.

In addition to the main pipeline, 154 miles of gathering lines ranging in diameter from 6 to 26 inches are being laid. Pipeline contracting and consulting engineering companies are handling the construction.

Testing of the line is now being completed, and clean-up and pressure operations are under way. Dry clean natural gas from Alberta basin is now flowing in the line at the northern end in the cleaning and testing operations. At the southern end the same operations are being conducted with natural gas flowing from the Pacific Northwest Pipeline Corporation's New Mexico-Washington line.

The northern and the southern gas is expected to meet at compressor station No. 5, approximately in the Fort Nelson area, on September 16.

SAVE HE $AW FLYING SAUCER FOR 45 MINUTES

Jack Stephenson says he saw a flying saucer and no one can convince him to the contrary. He says he saw the saucer hover within two feet of the ground as he was walking four miles outside Gull, Ont. The saucer, he says, had a "round spinning body" and four legs was "bright and did not appear." He watched it for 45 minutes as it hovered like a helicopter then it "just climbed away without a sound that seemed over the top and away." It remained motionless the next day, same area when the saucer came across the prairies was observed and showed prints of some kind.

St. Paul Bears Take Close One From Cold Lake

In a game which gave no quarters, the St Paul Bears flew a tight formation to ground the Cold Lake RCAF airmen with a score of 1-0 in a seven inning game held at St. Paul last week.

The lone run scored on a hit from Roberts brought Johnny Kowalchuk home on the bottom of the second inning.

Leo Charuk pitched all the way to keep the fly boys down. Garth Roberts was behind the plate catching for him.

Four St. Paul players have accepted with the Cold Lake Golf Club to help along in their Labor Day finals against Grand Centre and Lac Ghis from the Air Base.

Johnny Kolowich, Garth Roberts, Spike and Chuck Kendle are taking part in the play which is swing run off this week.

Healthy Pink Chicken Owned by Mr. Bivay

This chicken may be a little late to match up to last year's pink style, but even at that she is quite a novelty in the conventional world of chickens.

Presented to us by her proud owner, Mr. Louis Bivay of St. Edouard, the dainty spring chicken has light pinkish hue throughout her exclusive My how she must strut around for ordinary chicks on the roost

Mr. Bivay informed us that she comes from the incubator of St. Paul Hatchery, owned by Honest Bolzil.

A white leghorn breed, usually white and brownish into a beauty, but this one is quite normal in all respects except for the color. For months old, the chicken weighs as at about 1½ pounds. It is very lively and he keep it domiciled and quiet, wings had to be clipped.

Notes On Hardtop Construction

The coming of pavement to St Paul is responsible for great upheavals which are disrupting daily business life.

The Main street is a mass of turbulence with new sub-walks being finished, storm sewers installed, water connections dug, repaired and so on, to the point where one feels like leaving it all behind until everything is back to normal with much hobbling and red-leaved black leg intended

Mr. Zale, resident engineer for the Department of Highways and supervisor for the road construction, said that paving in town will commence as soon as the public works department is ready, in about ten days. Construction will go on from both ends he said.

Mr Zale further stated that the pavement will go through town to 100 feet passed the north road at the public school

PARKING PROBLEM

A special meeting of the council Monday evening discussed the parking problem on main street while work is in progress.

It was decided that parking may have to be curtailed entirely during the period of construction. The main street will be torn up block by block with one side at a time to permit flow of traffic It will be completely closed down when the street is ready for asphalt and for a few days no traffic will be allowed, while the base course is spread.

Worm Lake Trip Planned For Sept

Monday afternoon.

A fish derby has been organized with appropriate prizes for the fishermen catching the biggest fish in several classes of species to be found in the lake

Invitation to take part in this expedition is tendered to all residents of the district and otherwise Your help in conducting the event is friends in other regions will greatly assist the promotion which is primarily sponsored to introduce the natural sporting attractions this northern part of the province holds for fishermen, hunters and holiday-seekers.

Further information and registry of names are to be made to Mr. Brekk at the Glendon Hotel, or Bill Lunder, secretary-treasurer.

We have been informed that it has been found that it is possible for all types of vehicles, but said ten trucks are recommended for the survey trip. In case of rain, which could make the road tough, tractors will be standing by to help. From Glendon to Worm Lake is about 40 miles.

Therese Hospital were: Sylvia Van Brabant, St. Paul; Leo Chapdelaine, Mallaig; Mrs Norman Elsie, St. Paul; Clifford Cardinal, Good Fish; Ernie Roy, St. Paul; Bella Brertian, Saddle Lake; Alfred St. Arnaault, St. Vincent; Mrs Jacques DeMoissac, St. Paul, Guy Paquette, St. Paul; Raoul Chamberland, St. Paul; Joseph Charbonneau, St Paul; Henry Dion, Saddle Lake; Leonard Blanchette, St. Paul; Norman Lavoilie, Good Fish; Michael Callioux, Kikino Colony, Alta.; Frank Sloan, Bonnyville; Rodolphe Gamon, St. Lina; Francoise Mahe, St. Lina; Mike Gadowski, St. Paul; Mrs. Armand Lapointe, Lafond; Mrs. Pete Meyer, St. Paul; Mrs. Stanley Cardinal, Saddle Lake, Lillian Lamoureux, St. Paul; Denise Louis Germain, St. Paul.

Recent births were to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fitzsea, Ashmont, a boy; Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Maheau, Saddle Lake, a girl; Mr. and Mrs. Andre Jean, Lafond, a girl.

Truck A Minute

When the gravel run commences from the pit at Mr Ball's, 11 miles east of town to the grade from St Brides to St Paul, one truck a minute will be going both ways on the road.

Handling that kind of traffic has presented problems. The route the trucks around the main street, requires complete breakdown of avenues not built to stand heavy loads and the bogs strain. Although the main avenue will be manned the mainte- go is not serious because it has to be rebuilt, regardless.

We learned recently of any official word on just what is going to be done about the matter this file is to be controlled but indications are it will go through the main street and the parking restricted while construction is going on.

Diphtheria Strikes Boy, Eight, St. Lina
St. Paul JOURNAL
Volume 22 No. 34 THE JOURNAL, ST. PAUL, ALBERTA THURSDAY, AUGUST 31, 1967

LOCAL MAN DIES IN ACCIDENT

St. Lina Child Eight Years Old Dies Diphtheria

Relatives in Town Under Quarantine

An outbreak of diphtheria that spread in the Municipality of St Paul in the district last took the life of an eight-year-old St. Lina boy last week ended a serious epidemic for hospital quarantines be kept at home and ask all other relatives in the Town of St Paul who had been in contact with the contaminated family.

Omer Gauvin, eight years, son of Mr and Mrs. Antonio Gauvin, living in the district of St. Lina, about forty miles north of St. Paul, died during the morning of Sunday, August 11th.

Dr F R Decome, health officer for the St Paul district was called in on the case He found symptoms of Diphtheria diagnosed it as such prescribed preventive and remedial treatment to Rudolphe, the seven-year-old brother who was confined to St Paul hospital

Official verification of the diagnosis was given later in the week by Dr. Orford Smith, director of local health services and adviser on the board of control of communicable disease in Edmonton. He was in St Paul Friday to make a personal investigation of the outbreak at St Lina

Dr Orford Smith said it is his health officer, Dr Decome, there is a "chronic carrier" of germs in the municipality He qualified this statement by explaining the possibilities of an infected person carrying the germ and while having immune himself is capable of and will transfer the disease to other persons who have not been vaccinated against it

Diphtheria is an acute communicable disease peculiar to and carried only by humans and runs out all possibilities of contamination through any other source such as water supply and food.

The Gauvin family of St. Lina was immediately placed under quarantine and members of the 16-children family living in the district were examined and throat cultures taken. All cultures relatives tested they produced positive signs of infection.

The home of Mr Dick Goodfellow in St. Paul, married to a Gauvin girl and where two relatives are living was quarantined and six were examined. Cultures anne have been prescribed to clear

EXEMPLARY DONORS

An example of this devotion was reflected when Father Pyrmeau was asked how much his novel wading pool cost. He replied "94 bags of cement and that's all". This modern benevolence, the first in this district, made no provision for the kids, with running water in a room which has no water supply was built entirely with voluntary labor and night have cost thousands of dollars instead of approximately $300.00.

The Town of St. Paul is stockpiling 1000 yards of gravel for use on streets in the southern section of town where water-works installation last year have made the roads vulnerable to moisture.

NEW MALLAIG PARK DECLARED OFFICIALLY OPEN

Under bright sunny skies, Sunday, Mallaig's new recreational park was officially opened with the blessings of His Excellency Most Rev. Paul Piche, Archbishop of Keewatin-Le Pas. The leaders promoting the project and Rev. Fr. Viel, Pastor of the neighboring town of St. Lina. On the right, Mr. Jack Riddell, Recreational Director, Dept. of Economic Affairs cuts the ribbon at the front gate to start off the day's events. Mr. Bert Pridgeon, guest from the City of Edmonton Recreation Committee stands slightly back to the left of Mr. Riddell and Marchand, right assists in the ceremonies. Top picture presents view of the fir at wading pool built in this district. In the background are visiting dignitaries and Mallaig parishioners, part of the large crowd attending the Park opening.

Mallaig Officially Dedicates New Park

Seven years of hard labor" and meticulous planning were rewarded with gratifying results at the unveiling of Mallaig's recreational park Sunday officially blessed by His Excellency Most Rev. Philip Lussier of St Paul and opened by Mr Jack Riddell of the Provincial Department of Economic Affairs who cut the ribbon at the main gate

After the opening ceremonies, the party of dignitaries were guests at a delicious banquet prepared by the ladies and at which official congratulations were tendered to this progressive area

Pursuant to receive the acclaim were Rev. O. S. Provost, Parish Priest of Mallaig, Father Primeau humbly acknowledged the praises by citing the labor part of the project's success to a group of devoted parishioners who transformed the dream and the co-operation of the entire community, especially the men of the voluntary labor without which the project of a recreation centre would have been impossible.

EXEMPLARY DONORS

An example of this devotion was reflected when Father Primeau was asked how much his novel wading pool cost. He replied "94 bags of cement and that's all". This modern benevolence, the first in this district, made no provision for the kids, with running water in a room which has no water supply was built entirely with voluntary labor and might have cost thousands of dollars instead of approximately $300.00.

His excellency Bishop Lussier in his address congratulated the community on the progress that has been accomplished and was pleased to see this Mallaig green

Play under proper supervision develops the art in children of others. Recreation is the social power in the community and more the importance of play in the normal evolution of a child's life to develop and fit him with the necessary background requisite of the regulations, forms their character, teaches them tolerance, patience, the spirit of unbiasness, and good sports manship and being gracefully: it is school of formation which develops the child, providing the elementary basis which will govern his life successfully in the future.

Further importance to the establishment of the Mallaig recreational centre, was voiced by Mr Jack Riddell of the Department of Economic Affairs who said the department was very pleased to see this Mallaig green

Driver Of Car Thrown Out, Escapes Injury

Albert Cote, 65, of St. Paul, died instantly when his 1953 Meteor rammed from behind a Wobbly load pecker working on a stretch of highway 28, five and a half miles west of St. Paul on a dark evening, Tuesday, at about nine p.m.

It was the 699th fatality in the St. Paul district covered by the RCMP detachment here. Two died at Brosseau early in spring, one at Therien and the fourth two a months ago about a mile and a half from where Cote was killed this week.

Driver of the car, Mr Charles Gauvreau of St. Paul was flung out of the left front door when he was knocked out temporarily, but recovered with minor bruises and shock

HITS 25 TONS

The car rammed into the rear of a wobbly pecker of two tons and the wobbly, piled with rocks, combustion of which, along with the tractor supplied the flames, ripped and tore the two sets of wobblies, bending a 2½ inch steel coupling by the force, twisted the heavy 16-inch section around with the tongue plowing a four-foot furrow before digging itself about two feet in the shoulder of the road.

The driver of the tractor pulling the wobbles, John Popovich of Therien, employed by Mannix Construction, said that before he realized what had happened, it had been about 50 feet to bring his machine to a stop with the remaining portion.

Popovich hailed Robert Leroux, the first motorist to appear on the scene after the accident. They hooked into the car, now only Cote slumped on the right side of the front seat and assisted him to safety. Cote was dead before the ambulance from Bonnyville arrived.

Leroux, in the meantime covered consciousness and stopped Mr Laurent Hebert of Cold and was driven to St. Paul where he notified detachment a few minutes after Popovich. Before starting, however, Mr Gauvreau had the presence of mind to intercept a car occupied by an immediate neighbor from Edmonton returning them to render assistance. Mr Gauvreau was found to have a nurse and declared the victim dead

The accident happened west of town on a section of highway 28 being prepared for pavement. The car driving to St. Paul from Lafond where Gauvreau, a real estate agent had been accompanied Cote in an interview to sell his farm. Cote had been in town recently before the rise of a small creek which crosses the highway. Constable Bernard Dumontay farm and Raymond Novak's on the south side of the road Leroux made first aid attempts on Cote's person on the north side.

The car passed the heavy thirteen-wheel wobbly, on the left front wheel and frame while it was travelling on the right side of the road. The right front and left rear and the frame was ripped right back into the door, embedding the headlights into the dashboard squeezing the front seat where Cote was trapped Crowbars had to be used to force the door open and release him.

The left side, of the car coming to a stop at an angle across the north side of the road, was almost undamaged Steering was pushed in by impact of driver against it. Considerable damage is estimated on the car where engine and frame were badly twisted

Speed at which the car was travelling was not determined Officials of Mannix Construction and the wobbly owned, from last year lights, functioning properly and the approaches to the construction areas from both ends were lit with three flares and a motorists plus a caress along an avenue of warning and cautionary signs All lights were ordered to be in regulation order before and after the mishap

Dr F R Decome, coroner, ordered an autopsy performed by Dr Wm Pawlus of Glendon. An inquest into the death will be held.

Health Officer Dr. Orford Smith Stresses Importance Of Health Unit For Smoky - Cold Lake District

"Preventive medicine as administered by a Health Unit could be a great factor in combatting Amebic Fit, if and when it strikes Canada as expected," said Dr. Orford Smith, Director of local health services for Edmonton and advisor on the control of communicable diseases of Alberta

Dr. Orford Smith whose duties also include the supervision of health units operating in Alberta made this statement to the "Journal" while in St. Paul investigating an outbreak of diphtheria in Athabasca.

A keen crusader and a firm believer in preventive medicine as administered by a Health Unit Dr Smith was following up on a personal advertisement which he held in St. Paul during the month of March.

50,000 POPULATION

At that time Dr. Smith had explained the possibilities of forming such a unit for the Smoky Lake to Cold Lake area, one of 50,000 population. Organized, a Municipals Health units can be established in areas with a population of between 20,000 minimum and 50,000 maximum.

The area in question has a potential registry of 34,000 The provincial government requires petitions from the Municipalities and Towns and will not act until they have received to provide for at least 70,000 persons now over 15,000.

To make the program feasible request of the three major towns and municipalities of Smoky Lake, St Paul and Bonnyville

So far, according to the record of Dr. Orford Smith, the municipality of Smoky Lake has made formal request, both the Town and the Municipality of St. Paul have completely endorsed the health unit as well as the Village of Glendon

Give Blood To Red Cross

At the request of the directors of the St. Paul Branch of the Red Cross who are currently sponsoring a Blood Donor Clinic to be held in St. Paul on Tuesday, August 27th, this supporting article in help of the cause is published to make our readers conscious of the need for blood and the importance of giving all out for this campaign.

Remember, you will not be individually approached this year, and an appointment cards will be necessary. Come at your convenience, between the hours of two and five in the afternoon and seven and nine in the evening. And if necessary the staff will remain on duty to accommodate anyone coming in after these hours.

Let's break last year's record and send the Red Cross back for more bottles to preserve the precious supply of blood from St. Paul and district.

Do you know that every fifteen minutes, night or day, some one in Alberta will receive a blood transfusion, somewhere? Do you know that through the kindness of others BLOOD is available at all times in any type and quantity required to meet any emergency? Have you had the fact explained to you that some transfusions are accomplished in whole fresh blood and at such it will only keep in this condition under controlled refrigeration for ten to fourteen days or at a serum for only thirty days? Do you realize how this supply must be maintained through a continuous series of collection? Have you been told that there is no waste, that any out-dated blood is recalled from the various medical centres and augmented with any surplus is regrouped into plasma for additional use? Have you been told that plasma itself is the liquid content of the blood, that this plasma can be dried for indefinite keeping qualities to be used for emergency until the fresh whole blood is available? Do you know that the plasma can be shown down chemically into several component parts and used extensively in our hospitals for special forms of surgery and conditions of the patients, either in individual units or concentrates or units? Have you been told that these Blood Products like the Whole Fresh Blood is also FREE of charge? This Canadian Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service is much more extensive in it's application than many of the public are aware of.

Surely with the understanding you will realize that it means an army of donors must be available to maintain this supply. Regular donors may contribute every three to four months but with the need of an average of 1200 transfusions of one sort or another each week in Alberta alone, the Canadian Red Cross Transfusion Service finds it necessary to hold such clinics continuously week after week to maintain this much needed supply. As a means of cutting the costs of collection only the larger centres are chosen for the clinics, where the greatest number of donors will be greater. The coming Clinic is relying on YOU, and your response to show your concern for the sick, to make donations of your blood, which has shown beyond any doubt, one of the finest contributions mankind has provided to aid their fellowmen at their time of need.

There is little in becoming a donor, the process is a simple one, without any pain to you. Mother nature will replenish the volume to your system within fifteen or twenty minutes of your donation. Anyone between the ages of 18 and 65 in average good health may become a donor. Each bottle contains an anti-coagulant solution, and the 525 cubic centimeters which will be your donation, three-quarters of a pint, will fill the bottle. The average adult contains 12 to 13 pints of blood and all you are being asked to donate is three-quarters of a pint. This donation will do you no harm physically and will stimulate you mentally for a good deed having been done.

Let us all get behind this local effort for a generous collection. This district is the point of pickup for every one in the entire district, country points, neighboring local villages contribute their share. Let us make up parties representing our own district to show to others at this clinic that we also can thank of those in need. Remember, others will have thought of YOU should you ever be in need of a transfusion. If you have donated in the past, be sure to come again and bring a friend with you. It is a worthy cause a worthy convenience in good health and in doing so you just MIGHT be the means of saving a LIFE, you will be helping someone back to health. Let the Red Cross go back to their depot with a full load and the thought in mind that here is one district where there are people who CARE.

CARAVAN TO SEIBERT

The Glendon Chamber of Commerce came out with a sound idea when it announced the promotion of a caravan to Worm Lake at Lake Day week-end.

The idea sounds the proposal. is of course, advertising of the natural attractions of this district. What better way to prove to outsiders and even residents of this area, the abundance of fish in Worm Lake, as well as the scenic beauty of the natural surroundings leading to it.

We hope the people of St. Paul will co-operate with the idea, lend its portion to go and invite all the friends they know from the cities and elsewhere it is to those people we want to be [illegible] Worm Lake.

Farmer co-operators are no longer on trial; they have proved their effectiveness to farmers by providing them the bargaining power the need . . . I believe in the co-operative principle . . . Farmers' co-operatives will continue to grow on number because they have an important place in agriculture.—Sara Benson, United States secretary of agriculture.

French Educationists Convene In Edmonton's Jubilee Auditorium

The Association Canadienne des Educateurs de Langue Française opened its 10th annual convention at convocation in Edmonton's Jubilee auditorium August 19th, before a crowd of more than 1000.

The convention was held in western Canada for the second time in its ten-year history. In 1953 it was held in St. Boniface, Manitoba.

Almost 450 French-speaking Canadian educationists were present, representing every province but Newfoundland. Theme of the four-day meeting which runs until Friday, is Education and Social Responsibility."

The only speakers who gave most of his talk in English was Dr. Andrew Stewart, president of the University of Alberta, where the convention was held.

Dr. Stewart started his speech in French, welcoming the visitors and congratulating them on their 10th anniversary. He repeated in English his greeting on behalf of the university.

"I hope all of your deliberations here will be profitable," said the president. "You will find nothing lacking in the facilities we have put at your disposal, we trust."

MINORITY PUB ASS.

"When you leave, I think that you will have something here that will benefit all of us in the city. You are rich with the traditions established with and espoused in the rich French language."

In introducing Dr. Stewart, Rev. Clement Cormier, of Moncton, N. B., secretary of the ACELF and chairman for the official opening, thanked the Edmonton publicity bureau by Alberton to the visitors, and expressed his gratitude.

Most Rev. Maurice Dessaules of the Edmonton diocese told the convention that it was needed more than ever before the possibility of peace in the world.

Archbishop Dessaules said social union is a necessity because "each of our acts always has some relation to other people." He said that development of social union means hard work.

In describing social union, the speaker said it is "a willingness by men to be ever thoughtful of the needs of others, a perpetual duty, and a conscientious regard for justice with due consideration for the rights and duties of groups and individuals."

JUSTICE AND CHARITY

"Justice and charity are the fundamentals of social union", he added. "We can meet with social union in other words, Christian union. But, in addition, it means Christian union by which has been developed, taught and oriented toward a perfection of social sense for all mankind."

The opening program included the presentation of the French Language Medal of the Canadian Council of French Life in America to Rev. Henri Cormier of Vegreville. Rev. Cormier addressed the audience.

A welcoming speech was presented by Andrey H. Dechene, president of the organizing committee for the convention. Other addresses during the evening were given by Rev. Anthony Jordan, Co-adjutor Archbishop of Edmonton; Alfred Maurice of St Boniface introduced the speaker, Archbishop Beaudoin of St. Hyacinthe Lussier, bishop of St Paul; and Rev. Gerard Dubois, chaplain of the ACELF.

Musical entertainment was provided by soloists Miss Marguerite Pelte, soprano; and Bernard Turgeon, baritone.

Rev. Clement Cormier, association president, opened the meeting. "The fact that Edmonton is being host to the convention for the first time is a national character is our association."

DOCTOR GIVES UP MEDICINE FOR A TOURIST BUSINESS IN ARCTIC

A doctor with the Arctic in his blood is setting out from Montreal with his family to establish the word "monster" on the fringe of the Arctic. The doctor is Dr. Albert Hall, formerly of Churchill, Man., who has established a 32-door, $50,000 lodge for tourists at Frobisher Bay, Baffin Island. Only 24 years old, Dr. Hall graduated from medical school in Montreal last year. He has been going back and forth to the Arctic for the past two summers, and has decided to get into the tourist business in a big way with his lodge, which he describes as ideal for the rough waters and floating ice of the bay.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

by
W. G. MACLENNAN,
Grain Inspection Department,
Canada Grain Research Laboratory

Because stored grain insects have become quite a problem in Western Canada in recent years, as a result of farmers having to store quantities of grain for a fairly long period of time, officers concerned with controlling these insects, storage inspectors and the extension service, are advising on sanitation and weather-proofing of all bins before they are filled with 1957 grain.

Many grain remaining in empty bins is very likely to contain insect pests and should be burned during the cleaning out process. At the same time, grain spilled on the ground around granaries should be destroyed as well. When it has been thought that the dead out the inside of the bin may be sprayed with malathion which is usually supplied in the form of about a gallon per 1000 square feet of surface. Apply at a rate of 10 gals. so that the insecticide will take effect. A final check to make sure that the bin is absolutely weather-proof will mean that the necessary precautions have been taken to reduce possible insect damage to an absolute minimum.

Long Lost Survey Pin Located Town Foreman

When St Paul came into being in 1899 a King Pin which established all base surveys was sunk near the site where the Canadian Bank of Commerce now is located.

Although surveyors and engineers in the district thought they knew that this pin was somewhere in the vicinity of the bank, its exact location had remained a mystery for many years even after many attempts to find it failed.

This week the mystery of the missing pin was solved. With the aid of sidewalks razed and a hard-to-get search was made and with the help of a "big needle" magnetic contraption) town works foreman Phil Germain and an active gang began digging for the elusive.

The one-and-a-half-inch diameter rod was sunk down a foot and a half below ground level and was found to be in the exact location as the town engineers had figured it would be.

Markings on the rod revealed that the altitude of St Paul is the 2111.76 feet above sea level.

AN APPEAL FOR STUDENTS

The Agricultural Committee of the Canadian Council of Churches is launching an appeal to high school students to consider agriculture as a career. The appeal is being made in the form of a booklet entitled "Careers in Agriculture" which will be distributed to high school students throughout the country.

The booklet points out that agriculture is a highly scientific occupation and that there are many opportunities in agriculture for young people with training in the sciences. U.S. GIVES AWAY ITS BRAIN

Vernon Gray Stars In Picture To Be Shown At Arrow Theatre In Elk Point September 2-3-4

A moving picture of great interest to Elk Point and district will be played in the local Arrow Theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, September 2-3-4.

The picture "Blow and Forrow" stars Vernon Gray who resided in Elk Point for a number of years as well as receiving his entire high school education in Elk Point.

Vernon left Elk Point in 1941 for New York where he received advanced theatrical training. After appearing regularly on television he accepted a contract in England with J. Arthur Producers for a number of years.

Vernon is the main star in "Blow and Forrow". It was this picture that won him recognition for his acting ability and has since signed a contract with the M-G-M studios in Hollywood.

Vernon visited Elk Point last month renewing old acquaintances, and proved to be very popular with the younger generation as well as his old friends. He then departed for Hollywood and what we hope will be a very successful career.

Anna Maria Johnson was born September 28, 1889, near Viborg, South Dakota, in Turner County, and as a child came to Frank and Anna Anderson and grew to womanhood in that vicinity

On August 25, 1910, she was married to Mathis Johnson, a native of the Viborg vicinity. Together with other young returned, the couple moved to central Alberta where they lived about seven years. They returned to South Dakota and engaged in farming on the Johnson home farm. With the exception of about six years spent in a garage business in Olivet, & Dak., the family operated a farm in Turner County until Mr Johnson retired in 1947.

Mr and Mrs. Johnson lived in Hurley from that time onward, and were members of the Hurley Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Johnson departed this life at a Sioux Falls Hospital on Saturday, August 3rd, 1957 at the age of 68 years, 10 months and 6 days. She leaves to mourn her departure a daughter, Myrtle, of Sioux Falls, and son and daughter-in-law, Glenn and Genevieve, of Davenport, Iowa, and two brothers, Fred, of Irene, South Dakota and Theodore of Freeman, South Dakota. She was predeceased in death by a son Ransom, March 6, 1946, her husband on February 23, 1957, her parents, two sisters and two brothers.

We would like to take this means of informing the many friends and neighbors of our parents, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Johnson, of the passing of our mother.

Their early years in Alberta always meant a great deal to them, and they were always so happy to receive letters and news of their Canadian friends. They never ceased to speak of their early experiences, many humorous, some touching, and all very interesting. Their young days on the homestead gave them a great deal to remember

With kind regards and best wishes to everyone we remain,

Sincerely yours,
Myrtle, Glenn and Genevieve Johnson

MASSEY-HARRIS PRESENTS THE

New Low Look

IN HIGH CAPACITY

Combines

WITH THE LOW CENTRE of GRAVITY

Safest combines ever built. This tribute to Massey-Harris combines is a byword with farmers everywhere. Now it's truer than ever. The 21 and 30 carry their weight close to the ground . . . ride steady in rough going . . . resist side slippage and roll in hillside operation. And the reason's not hard to find. The 21 is 234⅞ inches lower than its predecessor; the 30 is 21¼ inches lower. With the added convenience of the fold-away unloading auger, you get 15 inches more height to clear the highest truck bodies. The top of the grain tank has been lowered to the weather body level and the width of the tank increased to maintain capacity. The fuel tank is bigger, and lower. The engines—heaviest single components—is cradled low. Overall weight is correctly distributed to drive and steering wheels.

NEW MASSEY-HARRIS 444 TRACTOR

How long since you have driven a diesel? Drive the 444 and see the difference! This one's a trimmer all wraps—in power . . . pep . . . performance. And most of all, of course, in economy. Cold weather starts on diesel fuel are assisted by a high output pre-heater. Exclusive Dyna-Cell combustion cushions and sustains long stroke power impulses. Add to this all the good things that go with the 444 gas model described below. Same features . . . same styles . . . PLUS dollars ahead diesel economy.

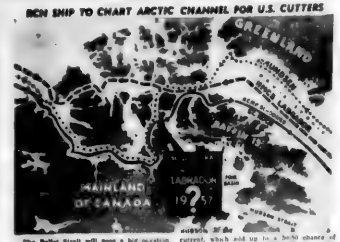
BCN SHIP TO CHART ARCTIC CHANNEL FOR U.S. CUTTERS



The Ballet Strait will pose a big question for HMCS Labrador, Royal Canadian Navy patrol ship, during this season's supply exploration in the Arctic. The Labrador will attempt to chart a course through the dividing Somerset Island from the Canadian mainland so that three United States Coast Guard cutters can attempt to follow the route of the famous 1937 patrol vessel St. Roch in her pioneer 1940-42 west-to-east conquest of the Northwest Passage. Ballet Strait is full of rocks and shoals and has a treacherous current, which add up to a 50-50 chance of success in the venture. The ship starts the battle taken by Hudson's Bay Expedition 1957 from Montreal to Resolute Bay, Cornwallis Island, at the eastern end of the Northwest Passage. Here the ship changes over to Arctic command and is prepared for the 2,500-mile journey through the Passage to Point Barrow, Alaska. Commander E. S. Reid, commanding officer of the Labrador, has been selected as navigation officer for the expedition. He will be in charge of the ship's navigation during the passage. Commander Reid will be assisted by Lieutenant-Commander J. D. Prentice, executive officer of the Labrador, and Lieutenant-Commander J. A. Wilson, navigation officer of the ship. Lieutenant-Commander Wilson has had previous experience in Arctic waters. He was navigation officer of the Labrador on her first voyage through the Northwest Passage in 1954. Lieutenant-Commander Prentice has had experience in Arctic waters in the Labrador and in other ships. He was navigation officer of the Labrador on her second voyage through the Passage in 1956.

The Labrador will be accompanied on the voyage by the Canadian Coast Guard ice breaker St. Roch, commanded by Captain H. A. Larsen. The St. Roch will be the first eastern ship to navigate the Northwest Passage since she herself made the trip in 1942. The St. Roch is a 322-ton vessel, 80 feet long, with a 25-foot beam. She was built at Vancouver in 1928 and was commanded by Captain Larsen during her previous voyage through the Passage.

St. Paul Playground Terminates Very Successful Season As Awards Handed Out To Winners

Monday, August 19th:

Unfortunately a light shower closed the playgrounds for that morning but at 1:30 p.m. it reopened as usual. Fr. Dumas, our chaplain, first gave us the theme of the week, "Politics". As this was the last week of the playgrounds, he called us to make it an outstanding success. In groups we then discussed the subject of the day, "politics at church". Groups of all kinds were played until 3:00 when the story of "Thieu" ended a very interesting afternoon.

Tuesday:

The subject talked about was politicos at home. With the help of a poem the children themselves discovered the roles of politicos to be practiced at home toward their parents, brothers and sisters. The day was full of enjoyment and everyone seemed to live more than ever the playground motto: "Always Smiling".

Wednesday:

Unforgettable day for all! Our super "politicos of school" were widely appreciated by the children because it reminded them of their duty as students.

At 2:30 we gathered in the school green for our last concert. Songs, recitation, stories, quartets all succeeded one another. Prizes were awarded by every instructor at the time after what Fr. Dumas, our invited guest, entertained us with his clever jokes.

The participants of the week's activities were rewarded for their efforts and presented with their awards. All had excellent results, (see French section).

Before proceeding with the distribution of prizes, Fr. explained that the prizes were given according to the number of days attended at the playgrounds and the amount of tickets won. M. L. Generous received special congratulations for his perfect record: one day and Mme L. Plouffe for having won the greatest number of tickets.

To end our program we had the privilege of hearing our Mayor and Mayoress talking on behalf of the children. They gratefully thanked the Fathers and mentioners for all their kindness and devoted attention to our youth. Father Dumas took opportunity on thanking everyone on making us all a next fruitful school year.

At 4:00 the children were receiving the playground with their hands full of presents and their hearts half of joy.

Lundi le 19 août:

Une pluie matinale nous empêcha d'ouvrir un peu plus tôt l'heureuse habituelle 1:30 p.m. un coup de sifflet strident convoque les enfants au grand rassemblement. M. l'abbé Dumas, notre zélé animateur leur donne le thème de la semaine au terrain, la Politeme. Il demande à tous de faire un effort de cette dernière semaine au Terrain de Jeux et d'en faire un succès. On se divise alors en groupes pour discuter de la politeme à l'église. Après de bonnes conversations on met un jeu et terminons l'après-midi par la merveilleuse histoire de "Thieu".

Mardi:

Aujourd'hui nous parlons de la politeme à la maison. A l'aide d'une pièce de rapprochée, les enfants au grand ravissement, M. l'abbé Dumas, notre zélé animateur leur donne le thème de la semaine au terrain, la Politeme. Mercredi:

Journée mémorable au cours de tous les endroits. Notre thème la politeme à l'école, est très aimé des jeunes puisque nous rappelle leur notice d'écolier qui doit respecter bientôt.

A 2:30 les enfants se rendent au gymnase pour le programme de clôture. C'est premièrement nos amateurs qui entrent en scène Chants, duo de piano, sketche, déclamations, histoire en succession. Les nombreux concurrents reçoivent tous de magnifiques prix. Notre article inédit, M. l'abbé Boisvert s'exécute très bien en empêchant notre talent goutter quelques extraits de ses rapportages.

Après avoir récompensé chaque participants au concours nous procédons à la grande distribution des prix donnés d'après le nombre de présences et de bon points. Sur le palmarès on lit en premier le nom de M. Rolland Généreux qui n'a pas manqué une journée au Terrain de Jeux, et celui de Mlle Louise Plouffe qui a obtenu le plus grand nombre de bons points. Une grande surprise est réservée pour la fin: celle d'entendre M. le Maire et Mlle la Mairesse nous adresser quelques mots. La parole est donnée à M. l'Assumeur qui remercie à son tour les monteurs et monitrices et les enfants de leur entière collaboration.

Il est 4 heures, la journée est déjà terminée, et fut une vraie réussite mais nous regrettons qu'une chose que le Terrain de Jeux soit déjà terminé. Il nous reste cependant un grand espoir, celui de revoir tous nos joyeux et un plus grand nombre l'été prochain.

WEDDING

ST. PAUL AND ST. VINCENT PAROCHIALS DOUBLE RING CEREMONY

A double ring ceremony of interest to residents of St. Paul and St. Vincent was the wedding of Miss Jean Louise Chrysteneu, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Christensen of St. Vincent to Mr Metro Chornobas of St Paul son of Mr Mich Chornobas of Pakan.

The nuptials were performed in the St. Paul United Church, decorated for the occasion with flowers and bouquets of dahlias and gladiola. Officiating clergyman was the Rev. R. E. Lobdell of St. Paul while the bride was given away in marriage by her father.

The bride chose for the memorable event a three-quarter-length net dress over white satin, complimented by a short tulle veil set off with rhinestones, lily point sleeves and scalloped neckline. Her bouquet was of cream effect with rhinestone and sequins which held her shoulder veil in place. She wore matching rhinestone earrings and necklace, gift of the groom to her bride.

Her mother chose for the occasion a flowered lace on satin dress with white accessories and wore a pink rose corsage.

Attending the bride were three brides maids, the Misses Lorelle Blasie, Rose Wasylenchuk, both of the bride and Miss Shirley Christensen, all three wearing three quarter length dresses with double layers of net over satin in varied shades and blue. The groom was supported by Ronald Christensen, brother of the bride. Richard Schleicher and George Robert.

The bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to Edmonton and Calgary. For going away the bride wore a white dress with pink blue and white streakers, silver heels and white accessories. She was presented with streamers, silver bells while the room presented a shower of silver hearts for diversion. The guest table was centred with a three tiered cake complimented by white frosted candles. In the evening a reception was held at the Flat Lake Hall decorated with pink blue and white streakers, silver bells and wedding bells. Lunch was served with streamers, silver bells while the room presented a shower of silver hearts for diversion. Death Toll On Highways Mounts Despite Efforts Of Safety Council

The national campaign which has the slogan "Speed Kills— Slow Down and Live", has not yet checked the rising toll of traffic accidents in this province, judging by a summary of statistics compiled by the Alberta Safety Council.

For the seven months ended July 31, Alberta's traffic deaths mounted to 110, compared with 115 in the similar period of last year.

In July, there were 20 fatalities in motor vehicle accidents, six more than the seven month of last year. Last month, 35 lives were lost in rural accidents investigated by the RCMP, while Edmonton had two and Jasper Place had one.

The traffic score for accidents and injuries in the seven months period compared with a year ago follows.

Accidents	11,916	9,981
Injuries	8,014	7,330

Thus it appears that on all three counts, fatalities, injuries and accidents, Alberta is far worse off, despite the efforts of the Safety Council and other behind-the-scenes workers in accident prevention and education.

Under the heading of injuries, Alberta showed 275 persons who suffered physical injury during motor vehicle mishaps in July. This was 101 more than in the corresponding month last year. Edmonton had 70 and Lethbridge with a total of 122, while Calgary had 71, while there were 309 reported by the RCMP a year ago today.

Medicine Hat and Lethbridge showed the largest increase in the period, Jasper Place had one and other towns reported seven.

The number of accidents recorded since January 1 continues to show concern to safety workers. The number for July was 1,982, a surprisingly heavy increase over the 1,570 a year ago.

The rural portions of the province were blamed for the 532 accidents in July, just 100 more than Edmonton had in agonizing the city total of 1,000. the Edmonton total was 351.

In Calgary, the accident total of July was 39 more than a year ago, but the rate for the month still was less than half the Edmonton total. Lethbridge reported 36, Medicine Hat 15, Jasper Place 10 and other towns 20.

Championships In CPA Competition Very Tight Race

Mart Wood of Bowness is back in the lead for the Canadian Reddies Championship after Wednesday as well as being the leading contender for the B.C.A. Reddy Brook championship in the United States.

Posts not previously tabulated have boosted Mart's total to 1977 putting him slightly two hundred ahead of Winston Brown of Perceburg. But Winston picked up 39 points in the Canadian Stampede last week, and in Norman Wells Wednesday evening in the Peace River, he could gather in the needed points to gain first place. It's no secret Mart Wood hopes to be the first Canadian to modern rodeo to win both the Canadian and B.C.A. Saddle Brook Championships for 1957, and is watching the Canadian standings closely. Alvin Owen is 3rd, Keith Hyland 4th and Bob McKay 5th.

The hottest CPA Championship race today is in the Steer Wrestling, where Tom Bescott of Pincher Creek with 1351 has a slim 7 point margin over Harold MacKenzie of Banff, at 1344. Jack Butterfield is third with 1325. Wilf Gerbrandt has 1323 and Hiram Butterfield makes it three twothers in the top 5 with 1302 points.

Lawrence Rambow of Cochrane has gained points to widen his margin in the Bareback Bull riding at 1606, but Ott Garstad from Veteran is making it a race with 1573. Wilf Girling is standing on top for the All-around Cowboy Championship in this the 3rd Rodeo riding. Bill Shiles of Viking is 3rd.

Bill Collins of Stettler has also boosted his lead in the Calf Roping with a time of 1646. The time of Tyson Gooding second at 1651, Jerry Vinebergh of Dapp is the top 279 and Ed Cochrane of Bowness is 4th with 322 and Keith Hyland makes the top 5 with 331.

Ellis Lewis of Penticton has 2027 in the Bareback, more than the next two, Alvin Owens at 1599 and Brian Buckbourgh at 1195. Bob Dare has 1134 and Dick Stevens of Madden 1064.

CANADA HOST TO WORLD'S BOY GUIDES

Music is world-wide language as it is used by 1,500 Girl Guides of Lady Lake and Haliburton, Ont., to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the birth of founder Lord Baden-Powell. Here Guides play over the camp and the girls are being encouraged to sing and dance. The occasion here is the Lakefield Jamboree, and her audience Winnipeg, Diane Heal, Toronto, and Janice Simmonds, Connecticut.

Causes Of Fear Explained By Dr.

Are parents to blame for children's fears? Educator Mairmer Grunsberg, editor of the early chapella of Child Care and Guidance has some interesting information for every parent.

Writing in the week's issue of The Star Weekly he points out parents can unintentionally upset the confidence and emotional status of their children All children's many have fears that are both emotional and physical. nearly always allayed if parents will take time to instil confidence in their youngsters.

Physical fears are perfectly natural and essential, they warn the child to keep out of the way of traffic, away from fire.

As an example, Grunsberg relates the story of the little boy who could complain of a new pain, every Monday morning. It was a tummy ache, another day his ear.

No one knew what was wrong with the little first-grader, aged six, usually the picture of health. Mystified, the doctor looked beyond his "illnesses" for a pattern.

Whatever kind of aches Willy had, they always manifested early on Monday when Willy had to return to school after two days at home

The doctor called Willy's teacher. She said he was well behaved and eager to learn.

Investigation turned up the cause. It was mother's dislike of crowded conditions at the school that was being reflected through her son.

In the Star Weekly article, Grunsberg describes other circumstances and examples of adults that may have an extremely bad psychological effect on children. He then goes on to suggest ways by which the young a sensible assurance of real danger.

IT'S PICNIC TIME

Here a new slant in preparing a meal for a picnic.

Not all in one meal roasted in Aluminum foil in the open fire is perhaps the easiest to prepare. Once you try it, you will use it often with your own variations for a fool cooked meal, smash hamburger with salt and pepper, add chopped green pepper celery or onions as you wish Take it to the picnic along with raw peeled carrots, potatoes, onions, corn on the cob. Take along too, a roll of aluminum foil

At the picnic, an hour before mealtime assemble the meat in dividually on 12 or 18 inch squares of aluminum foil Coat peeled potatoes in two or for picnic lunchtime Centre them on the foil, top with salt and pepper Top with a thick slice of onion. Season again, add several pieces of corn on the cob or small carrots

Then lift opposite sides of the foil and hold edges together in the manner used for wrapping parcels in the drugstore

After making sure each parcel is sub-proof, drop it into the coals of the fire After 20 minutes or more, punch over and cook another 20 minutes Bake them part of the coals and cool for a few minutes Brush off the ashes and place one at each place on the picnic table

The foil serves as plates for the meal. The only utensils needed will be a fork and cup for each person, a pot for boiling water for tea or coffee, and serving dishes for the extras. Serve with the packet meal a tossed green salad, buttered rolls, pickles, celery and radish ends, a beverage and dessert."

expressed co-operation and is willing to contribute to the health unit. Dr. Smith also stressed the importance of the health unit co-ordinating with the town in the proper utilization of the present sewage disposal system.

Mr. Ellis Point, also an influential banker in the organization of the unit, still has to make request The help of these two districts is almost essential to the formation of the unit and authorization from both the provincial government and other centres not willing for their appointment.

HEALTH UNIT COST

The cost of establishing a health unit is $2.50 per capita with the organization of the municipality 60 per cent, leaving $1.00 per person as the municipality's share After the first year when capital expenditures and equipment end, the cost drops to $2.00, reducing the Municipality's responsibility to 50c per person.

The Honorable Paterson, Minister of Industries and Labour and MLA for the constituency of St. Paul has endorsed the idea of a Health Unit for this district and has given it his full support within the provincial cabinet

ASIATIC FLU

Confirming press reports on the probable outbreak of Asiatic Flu, reported from scattered points in the United States. Dr Orford Smith said there is no doubt the disease will strike Canada in fall or winter of this year

He and federal and provincial governments are working on a vaccine which will be released in priority classes, and the masses of the population as it becomes available

However, he warned, should the flu influence be even moderate or worst still, break in epidemic proportions, local citizens in rural areas could never hope to cope with it, or even administer the brain shots

Bears Win Canroy Trophy Second Year In A Row For Championship In Eastern Alberta Baseball League

The St. Paul Bears won the Canroy Trophy awarded to the Championship of the Eastern Alberta League the easy way by defeating Elk Point Monarchs 12-2 in a non-league game in the big attraction staged when the league title was decided.

The end of the season was anticlimactic to last season's finish a Victorious when the Bears pulled out from behind a 6-1 deficit in the ninth inning to win the game and go on to an extra end to win by an 8-6 score.

Mike Kozowich started the ball rolling for the Bears in the first inning with a left field one-bagger following a two runners brother Johnny from third and Chuck Kostelic from second.

The fourth-inning outing for the Monarchs was a sad bottom of the third in which the Bears had a field day, batting themselves into a total of 11 runs to add them on their easy street and almost catch the game.

A deep bit into right field by Zen Charuk was good for four runs at that point. A fumble by right fielder T. Hicks and a series of overthrows to third and home climaxed out the bases in the same stanza Jack Andronuk came in later with a two-bagger home run in left field, scoring Johnny Kozowich.

The Bears pushed on once more in the seventh and final inning to add two runs. The game was called off at the end of the sixth due to darkness.

ELK POINT BUNS

A one-bagger by the veteran tennis of centre field in M. Mack, who scored Elk Point's two runs. It pushed in J. Shalapata who was on base with a walk, stole second and third and D. Hrycaj. Ke-ching-ion fast with a hot pitch. Mack ended his triumphant day at a bat inc-luring neutral home-run ripped between the posts and tripled in Back J. Hrycaj. Kozowich struck another mammoth

Only three clubs participated in the Eastern Alberta League. Elk Point Derscott and St. Paul. Derscott defaulted play in the semi-finals leaving the finals open for St Paul and Elk Point.

The St Paul Bears easily led the league all summer with one of the best entries this town has fielded in many years. Curtis Roberts, coach, is the mastermind and his motivating power which kept the St Paul boys on their toes and in top contention all the way through.

Blood Donations Reduced From Record Year Ago

Epidemic and Bad Roads are Blamed

A number of factors, the diphtheria epidemic predominant, combined to cut down the number of blood donors at the Red Cross Clinic held at the Legion Hall on Tuesday of this week.

One hundred and fifty-one donors turned out—seventy in the afternoon and eighty-one in the evening—to donate a pint of blood in quantities of 250 c.c. each.

The figure compares to a record 228 handled last year and over 180 turned down because of a shortage of bottles

Mrs Rose Bagan, Secretary-Treasurer of the local branch of the Red Cross, said that the Diphtheria epidemic was responsible for alienating prospective donors who were apprehensive at congregating and fearful of unwholesome germs.

St. Lena residents, where the epidemic is raging were not accepted and many volunteers who had recently received diphtheria inoculations and booster shots had to be screened and turned down.

The adverse weather and the School Opening Scheduled For September 3rd

Schools in all districts are scheduled to open on Tuesday, September 3, the Monday being a Labor Day week-end.

There has been some speculation of a postponement due to the Diphtheria epidemic, but local and provincial health authorities have ruled to adhere to the regular opening date observed in all parts of the province.

Health officers explained that unless the epidemic reaches proportions where a majority of the children are unable to attend, it is advisable to keep schools open. This gives the health officers a better opportunity to screen the children to find out how many are missing and will follow up these leads which are sometimes very helpful in the control of communicable diseases.

Each student in St. Paul—the Public School and Glen Koren Separate School—will be taking [illegible] to increase its enrolment this term. Principal Ken Hall is short at Glen Avon who proposes to use its home economics and workshop if the need arises, and the Public School will put into service every available space during construction of a new structure proposed for next year.

Board of Trade Concerned On Health Unit

Working On Associated Chambers For Northeast Area

A general meeting of the St Paul Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night went through a busy agenda covering subjects of vital importance, among them the establishment of a Health Unit and the organization of an Associated Chambers of Commerce for the North Eastern Region, including all interested Boards in the area.

Some ground work has already been done in this important project by the Chamber of Commerce headed by Mr Wm. Connery. He said the idea was to re-enforce all the centres in the North Eastern area to obtain a certain amount of unity in matters which are of mutual interest and in the ultimate working of cross purposes. exchange of help on problems concerning local progress. Similar established good public relations for the benefit of all.

Several district chambers have already been contacted on this proposal, while other meetings are being arranged to discuss it for the immediate future.

HEALTH UNITS

Mr. Ted Parsons, Vice-President of the Chamber, gave a comprehensive report on the need for the establishment of a health unit in the Smoky Lake to Cold Lake area. The urgent necessity for opening a unit as soon as possible was further emphasized by Dr F R Decoux, local health officer in his attendance the outbreak of the current diphtheria epidemic in the absence of a health agency.

Too many persons scattered over this vast area, cannot be reached periodically by normal methods and it is impossible to bring all children to the same clinic for inoculations

A health unit keeps a systematic check through the schools and is able to keep a comprehensive record and accounting in the study of communicable diseases, [illegible] the present [illegible] and preventative measures.

Dr. Decoux said that unless a health unit is established here, the only agency able to discover this carrier who is himself immune, many outbreaks of diphtheria can be expected periodically in the future.

The health unit could find the carrier by doing systematic "swabs" of all persons and cure him before the carrier can be found.

By the time a case of Diphtheria breaks out, is diagnosed as such and the family quarantined, the primary and secondary contacts have been made The impossibility of following these contacts unfortunately without a health unit, leads to more cases amongst children who are susceptible to the disease and much damage to the lives of little children and persons can be incurred before control can once again be maintained.

"There is where the importance of the health unit lies," said Dr. Decoux, personnel are trained and urging the Chamber of Commerce to back all the influence at its command to hasten the establishment of the unit.

Continuing his report, Mr. Parsons explained that health units came be performed by the Municipalities at the area proposed and a coverage of 20,000 persons is necessary for the provincial government to set up the unit. The district requires the co-operation of Smoky Lake and Bonnyville to make the plan feasible So far Smoky Lake has made formal request along with St Paul and other hamlets.

The Chamber of Commerce executive was directed by the membership to contact all towns and municipalities from which cooperation is required to form the unit and seek to influence them on the urgency of this matter

If the unit is established as proposed, the Provincial Board of Health will contribute a grant of $5,000 in addition to the $20,000 now secured by petition, in case necessary support for $5,000 is not forthcoming. However, preference was given to establishing

Rev. E. Drouin Compiling Early St. Paul History

Rev Fr E Drouin, professor of History and English at St. John's College Edmonton, was in town last week spending a few days holiday with his brother, Mr J M. Drouin, and searching facts for a history of St. Paul he is compiling Father Drouin is working on a thesis required by the University of Alberta for a Doctorate in History and has chosen for his subject early history of St Paul from 1896 to-be. The first municipal election was held in 1896 when the first council was appointed and the district was opened to the whites.

His search into the records the past four months has led him to Ottawa where the Dominion Archives were pursued, Provincial Library and the Parish records of St Paul were studied.

He filled in between the lines of documentary records by personal interviews with old timers still in St. Paul and through this method was able to unravel many interesting human-element facts on the colorful early days of St. Paul.

When the thesis is completed in March of 1958, Fr. Drouin will permit its publication in this newspaper.

Fr Drouin brought to mind at this the fact that the oldest store in St. Paul is still in existence. This structure now being used as a warehouse behind Herron Bros. Warehouse was first erected by Robert Logan, a Hudson's Bay Co. man who had come from Moosejaw Lake to establish a store in 1903. At that time it was sitting right in the middle of the road between that wholesale and the block across the street.

Later the building was moved by Elmer Poulette, [illegible] upside again to Tom and Fernand Lapointe who used it for their restaurant building. Many of the present generation will recall it by this name.

It [illegible] will be torn down to make room for a new [illegible] store.

Diphtheria Hits Three More District Families

Officials Believe Now Under Control

Three more families were quarantined as a result of the spreading diphtheria epidemic during the last seven days in addition to those reported last week for a total of six affected households. Of the number two were cleared and restriction lifted leaving four still under surveillance

The four families quarantined in St. Leo, [illegible] and [illegible] area, another request now in [illegible] was released while a quarantined [illegible] St. Paul still remains confined pending the end of the current week.

The epidemic to date has appeared to be persons directly affected by the influenza and allied virus carriers—persons who have shown signs of carrying the germs without being sick, but who have been quarantined and kept under close watch

The quarantine in the district has assumed approximately thirty to forty persons—interviews of the first family stricken and progress—contacts

In cope with the situation, health officers received the help of a team of nurses from the Provincial Department of Health who gave over 500 inoculations to St. Leo, 300 to Mallaig during the past week, while Dr Decoux had [illegible] work to have down any possible carriers at large A full time nurse has been loaned to the area for an indefinite period until complete control is [illegible]

Officials feel that the peak of the outbreak has been reached and no increase will follow if no new carriers are discovered at large.

Extreme caution is advocated and each inoculation or all of the [illegible] is urged.

1st Mile Base Course Applied On Highway

The first mile of pavement, applied in its preliminary form of base course, already gives a look of well being and prosperity to Highway 28 at St. Boniface where operations have progressed leading to and through the main street of St. Paul.

Ahead of schedule the paving progress was subsequently delayed with heavy rains, over the week-end, completing a [illegible] day.

275,000 Tons Gravel Ten Miles Pavement

A ridge overlooking the Dog Rump Valley and "Almanac" Creek, 10 miles east of St. Paul, along Highway 28 to Elk Point has been virtually converted to an ant hill. The similie comes to mind when one hops the crest of the hill and observes the busy colony where huge tandem trucks, caterpillar tractors, men and machines, hurrying to and fro, up and down, transporting gravel are almost dwarfed to the size of ants, moving along smoothly in a co-ordinated operation to produce the materials for completion of the ten-mile section of 28 to the border turns over to the province the snow flies for the winter months.

The source of activity was created by the decision of the Highways Department for the Province of Alberta, when found immense deposits of gravel on the farm of Mr. Leonard Roth to use for the material for the permanent pressure from St. Boniface to the Saskatchewan border.

With this fact established crews moved in a month before to strip about three feet of soil and over burden from a pit and since that time, huge stock piles of gravel have been piling up to the height of the first of trucks to haul the thousands of tons out on the road bed.

A network of roads has been hewn out of the bush and rock resisting trucks and machines to do the back breaking work of moving the gravel from the pit to the road bed. Huge trucks, each capable of hauling 20 tons of gravel, are kept busy hauling the material from the pit to the road bed.

The three-foot gravel road bed the finer less coarse on the road comes into the machine in the form of large boulders, sometimes over a foot in diameter along a conveyor belt fed by a caterpillar blade pushing the raw material into a big hopper.

ROCK TURNSHING

This contraption which resembles an old-time threshing machine screens the materials, large and smaller directly into the vibrating belts within the large boulders are carried to the front and dropped into a pit to be thrushed down to size. Another conveyor belt hauls up the crushed rock to the screens and drops it into waiting trucks loading them up at the rate of one per minute. When hundred tons per hour are thrushed out to the pressure machine rattling the operator's back teeth, its tremendous racket forcing them to shut cotton balls in their ears.

There are five of these huge crushers processing gravel, of the three-inch and ½-inch variety, which is mixed in the proper proportions and sent on to the road bed to be rolled to the [illegible] inch.

Up on top of the hill in the middle of the pit is located the cement plant where manufacture and turns out the fine application

Health Unit Needed

The current outbreak of diphtheria which has rapidly spread to epidemic proportions suggested even more emphatically The need of a Health Unit than a thousand spoken or written words.

One of the basic functions of a Health Unit is the control of communicable diseases by supervising a complete immunization program over a district, it has the facilities for immediate detection and control of the source of infection and can be on the spot at a moments notice.

Had a Health Unit been in operation as the St. Paul area during the past year, it is doubtful the epidemic now affecting us would have materialized. Systematic immunizations would have rendered impotent the chronic carrier as an immunized population.

Dr. Orford Smith, director of communicable diseases for the province of Alberta, during an interview last week, declared categorically that the increased and spread of population in this area is too much for the local Health authorities to cope with and in spite of the fact that they are doing a tremendous job during the time available, it is impossible for them to cover every avenue of possible infection and consequently epidemic conditions are bound to crop up.

The answer, obviously, is the establishment of a Health Unit somewhere in the area between Smoky Lake and Cold Lake. The idea for this has already been discussed and followed up with requests from Smoky Lake, St. Paul and other districts. However, the Provincial Government who supports its part the units, must be petitioned by a majority according at least 25,000 ratepayers in the area designated. So far the requests cover only 15,000, the reason why the unit was not formed last fall and in hanging five pending deemed from other districts who so far are still hanging back.

If support doesn't come soon, there is also alternative. Lacking just 2000 to petition recognition there is a possibility, in view of the outbreaks of diphtheria here, that pressure from civic groups might influence the government to go ahead, and establish the unit for St. Paul and those who have signified their willingness to co-operate.

The St. Paul Chamber of Commerce is very concerned with this grave problem of health protection and this week at a special meeting discussed the possibilities and is preparing a brief to present to the government and hopes to contact other Chambers in the district requesting formal co-operation of the entire region.

Natural fear of a deadly epidemic such as diphtheria has made many citizens realize the value of immunization and thousands have been flocking in for immunization. To them who have not yet fully appreciated the seriousness of the situation, may we advise them to contact their local clinic for immunization, enrolled as soon as possible. The St. Paul Hospital, although not guaranteed has contacted all visitors hereto and you are asked not to go in without justifiable reason.

DRIVE CAREFULLY

Remember you are behind the wheel of a motor vehicle, you become responsible for the safety of life. Accept your responsibility. Learn the traffic laws and principles of safety . . . then follow them.

With school opening next week in our community and elsewhere one of the most important principles of driving safely comes to mind . . . watch for our children when you drive. You must accept the responsibility of those safety.

Even though we teach our children the ways of safety, they sometimes forget. They dart into the street to retrieve a ball or rule their bicycle without a thought of cars. When there's the slightest doubt about a child's attention to cross a street or run into it . . . hesitate or stop. Practice extreme caution near schools or in residential streets. We love our children . . . let them live.

School opening in St. Paul fails at a dangerous time, in the midst of the paving program when trucks are shuttling back and forth from the gravel pit, going right through the main street. Truck drivers have been cautioned to regulate their speed at fifteen miles per hour through town, but they are only human and although they are observing this edict to the letter it is possible some child may cross their path unintentionally.

Parents should take the extra precaution, this year before school opening to seriously impress upon their children the necessity for caution when crossing the streets at all times. Tell them to take the shortest route to school, to abstain from unnecessary play which may lead them to unwittingly out in the streets and into sudden unexpected danger which may arise from the increase of traffic at this time.

Motorists should co-operate with the school patrols by recognizing their direction as that of authority to be observed in the same manner they would respect the direction of an officer of the law. These children are assuming a big responsibility and deserve the admiration and the co-operation of older citizens if they are to build confidence and retain it in order to help their younger sister and do a job it is impossible to expect our officers of the law to handle in excess to their other duties.

Be alert and courteous at all times whether you are a driver or a pedestrian. Safety organizations can inform and guide us; traffic officers can correct and direct us . . . but only when each and everyone of us makes traffic safety our business will the terrible slaughter on our highways and streets cease to exist.

Power Development

Prime Minister Diefenbaker has 6 & 14 preliminary negotiations with the Saskatchewan Government regarding the development of the South Saskatchewan River would proceed "as soon as it is possible to do so". The announcement may be taken as a signal for a fresh appraisal of a prairie development project which has been wrecked in controversy put pressure on interprovincial long-range benefits to the Canadian people.

The project will require heavy national outlay and the main difference of opinion regarding it has been between a local Saskatchewan viewpoint that seeks early action involving sustained governmental spending and the viewpoint that reasonable proof of immediate direct benefits is needed before commitments are made for large expenses. The essential differences in these viewpoints, leaving aside political arguments is a matter of timing.

Thoughts expressed from time to time that the more general adoption of chemical weed control methods in Western Canada might bring a gradual reduction in summerfallow where rust was not a limiting factor, have not been borne out during the past few years.

Between 1952 and 1957, the total cultivated acreage in Western Canada needed to the major cereal grain and flax and barley-ing that is summerfallow, has increased about 14 million acres, but while the cereal and flax acreage has decreased almost 2 million, that placed in summerfallow has increased about 3½ million, or by some 16 per cent during the 5 year interval. The largest actual as well as percentage increase in summerfallow has been in Saskatchewan, closely followed by Alberta and with Manitoba showing a tendency to increase fallow operations. The greater emphasis on fallow means that fewer crops are being grown on stubble land —a practice which certainly appears to have paid dividends in a season such as 1957, when abnormal rainfall was limited. While this may be true, 11 year records of the Canada Department of Agriculture kept on the brown soil dark brown soil regions of west central ... show that of the two residuals (1) Bushel—wheat (2) fallow—alternate the three crop ... when compared on a cultivated acreage basis, gave slightly higher yields ranging from 0.7 bushels to 2.2 bushels per acre. It has been pointed out that the cost of the three year rotation is slightly higher than that of the straight wheat ... summerfallow rotation. However, over a period of time, in the dark brown soil zone, at least thirty would seem to be a definite advantage in keeping all a second crop of wheat after fallow

In the meantime, most areas not a limiting factor, have not been benefit out during the past few years.

Funeral services were held last Friday morning at 10:30 a.m. for Mr Albert Coté, a likeable St Paul resident who died August 20th in a tragic road accident west of town.

A large crowd of mourners including many relatives from Saskatchewan attended the Requiem High Mass sung by Rev Bucwert, assisted by Rev. Dumas and Rev Campbell Rev Fr. Tardiff, Parish Priest read the prayers and officiated at the graveside ceremony in the R.C. cemetery where interment took place.

Upon graduation he returned home to help his father operate a hardware.

From this experience he went on to open a general store of his own at Cornelius Saskatchewan, a business later sold to become a salesman for I.M.C.

Arriving in St. Paul in November of 1953 he worked for a few months as a salesman for the Foundry and later transferred to M & D Motors where he was employed for six years. At the time Mr. Coté was killed he was negotiating to sell his property here and getting ready to move to Dauphin, B.C., where he was investing money in a private enterprise.

Mr Coté as a consequence of his occupation as a pleasant salesman became well known and liked throughout the district. He seldom passing was a great shock to relatives and his large number of friends.

Mr. Coté was a keen sport enthusiast. Among one of his more enjoyable pastimes was fishing, a fact verified by an accompanying picture of him, showing a record catch he made at Long Lake a few days before his untimely death. Mr. Coté used to spend the summers at his Lake St Vincent cottage with his family of four girls by whom he was greatly entertained and loved. He was an exemplary family man.

Low Cost Housing Vitally Needed Throughout Canada's Population

While $20,000 homes stand empty for lack of buyers the Canadian of average $3000 income can't find a home he can afford. The problem engaging the attention of Canada's more resourceminded builders at the urgent need for the low-cost home in the $10,000 bracket Building Editor James A. Knight, writing in Canadian Homes and Gardens states, however, that prospects have seldom been brighter for these low-cost homes. For instance, principles of house building that can be applied anywhere in Canada to lower construction costs are being developed by the National Home Builders Association in collaboration with the National Research Council's Division of Building and Research, and Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

An experiment with the same goal was tried by a Toronto builder. Building Corporation set itself the task of building a three-bedroom bungalow in 16 hours. Besides focusing public attention on the company's subdivision, the purpose of the stunt was to determine if the new factory-on-site techniques could be adapted to mass building to reduce house-building costs. One big saving discovered, for example, was the crane-hoisted roof was 25 per cent cheaper than a usual roof. Some less spectacular efforts to reduce the cost of homes have been going steadily forward. One of the more important of these is the National Home Builders' Association's standards committee which meets each January with the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation. Purpose of the meetings is to discuss ways to bring CHMC building standards more into line with the standards of the National Building Code.

The National Code is the building bylaw for more than 600 communities and is less strict in some of its requirements than the CHMC regulations.

But there are still some formidable obstacles to a drop in house prices, continues the Canadian Homes and Gardens article. Biggest single hurdle, say the builders, is land costs. Besides easy mortgages, they say, builders must be forced to concentrate on the low-cost market.

Alberta Safety Council Urges Care And Caution To Be Exercised During Labor Day Holiday Period

In the first week of the province-wide campaign which envisages the slogan, Speed Kills — Slow Down and Live' vehicle crashes in Alberta have claimed what a certified fatality.

Paul Lawrence Safety Director, the Alberta Safety Council, points out that one out of every three the forthcoming Labor Day week-end when the highways will be chock full of motorists returning from summer resorts or from week-end holiday trips, but in the first seven months of this year there were 119 deaths on Alberta highways, compared to 113 a year ago. Some of these fatal accidents were due to cars pulling out of the line of traffic and trying to pass. Understandably, the province is all too common during holiday week-ends, with the volume of traffic in heavy. Don't be in a hurry to flirt with death and spoil a happy holiday.

The Alberta Safety Council also draws attention to the responsibility of schools for the first term. This means thousands of children will be on the streets and highways, going to and from school. Many of these youngsters will be attending school for the first time.

When driving in the vicinity of schools especially, motorists should be on the alert. Children are more erratic and higher-ups unmindful of the dire hazards and safety advice given at home. Keep them alive by driving carefully at all times.

Traffic signs were designed and placed by experts for your protection. Obey them to the letter and live longer.

EXPEDITION TO PROBE MINERAL WEALTH ON BAFFIN ISLAND

Mobile home for an eight man expedition to Baffin Island until October, the "Coastal Queen," a converted 112-foot wartime Formula sub-chaser, is shown in Cleveland prior to leaving for the sub-arctic. She was attended by Rear Terse of Toronto and captained by Ernest Kass of St. John's, Newfoundland, the "Coastal Queen" will be the mobile headquarters for a party of prospectors whose depositis removed to be found on Baffin Island. The 200-ton ship is equipped with a helicopter which the expedition will use in its search for iron, lead and oil. The expedition is backed by three U.S. firms, including Cleveland steel interests of Cyrus Eaton.

Crewed for this operation comes from a stock pile of ¾-inch gravel, conveyed into a dryer heating it to 300 degrees to take out all moisture before it is mixed with the tarred and hot stone. The black oil inhabited "MCS Asphalt Oil" is of a light gravity from the Lloydminster fields. It is propelled into the ground by eight "sprayer" heads assembled as jets forcing oil into the gravel as it is churned up inside and dumped onto a conveyor belt loading waiting trucks.

Plant foreman Fred Olson of Pentiston, B.C. and Calgary, explained that the plant turns out 110 tons of base course asphalt per hour, and works consistently 12 hours a day without stop.

Heat for the dryer is supplied from a furnace burning bunker oil. At the controls of this unit is Mr. R. E. Bremner, a crane engineer whose duties is to watch the pressure and keep an eye on the generators supplying power to the plant.

GOOD GRAVEL

Superintendent in charge for Mannix O'Sullivan Company who have been awarded the contract for the two miles of pavement, is Mr Ernie Haug, formerly of Moose Jaw.

In answer to our question on quantity and the quality of the gravel found in the Rath pit, he stated it was of very good quality, and deep enough that very little water bound was necessary in the road. Its qualities are almost unlimited and more than adequate for the present requirements.

Mr Haug estimated it will require 125,000 tons of 3-inch gravel and 35,000 tons of ¾-inch gravel for the job. It will take 10 miles of asphalt for the two miles of base course.

To keep the pavement program on schedule 175 trucks hauling at a per mile, per ton basis and can weigh out every trip.

Inquire of traffic this has proved through the main street of town, the competition is one at had to suspend. Drivers are bound to a 40 mile an hour speed limit on the open road, 15 miles an hour through town and 25 miles in the restricted contingent. By passing on the road by loaded or unloaded trucks is permitted. Truckers caught violating the rule are immediately reported by the contractors who are very severe on this point. One, to-date has been dismissed.

BASE COURSE

Going over details on the operation of a base course of pavement, Mr Haug explained the different steps.

When crews move in on a gravel or gravel built for pavement, they start by scarrifying the road bed and levelling it off. Then they apply eight inches of three-inch gravel, water bound as it is applied and packed by both vibrators and sheep foots packers. This is followed by two inches of water-bound ¾-inch gravel before application of two inches of ¾ oil mixed, topped with MCO light oil to seal it off.

The layman naturally refers to the final two inches of oil bound as asphalt, but to technical road men this is merely a "seal coat" preceding the actual pavement used a "hot mix," which is only laid the 2nd year. Last year's Jasper Dickenson said is the asphalt, in the third year a final seal coat of greyish white substance is applied to cut glare and prevent skids.

Mr. Haug said that so far, the contractors are ahead of schedule with the paving program and with favorable weather should be finished in good time. Pavement starts at the St. Bride's corner 10 miles west of St. Paul and will go through main street to 103 yards beyond the north road of the public school.

GOOD BUSINESS

An enterprising business venture is Mrs. Hugh McLean who with her brother Mr Maurice Lemay operates a trench excavator/canopy stand at the entrance. Business in a converted grocery caravan brought visiting the morning until 7 in the evening, catering to the hungry with soft drinks, coffee, hot dogs, chocolate bars, etc. One trucker said that the site was a "smart" one meeting the approval of all the men who enjoy a few minutes relaxation and a bite between loads.

Lloydminster Stock Car Speed Track Enjoys Enviable Safety Record Initial Year Competitions

It's not definitely known who first came up with the idea of stripping old cars, equipping them with new, bugged-up engines and racing them, but you can bet that if he were around Lloydminster of a Sunday afternoon, it would do his old heart good to see the great strides this town has made in the sport of Stock Car Racing.

The Lloydminster Stock Car Club which operates it's races on the Lloydminster Speedway, located at the Exhibition Grounds has gained about very fast this year, and has accomplished much in the way of track improvements and Club organization. The club voted in a new track during May and this track was installed and graded early in June. It is a quarter-mile track and packed very hard with turns banked at nearly 35 degrees.

President elected by the Club was Irv Bleeg who is doing a standout job as club organizer and track starter. Irv has 7 years of stock car racing behind him, and really knows the ins and outs of the sport. Dan Taylor is Secretary-Treasurer and Bryan Peddle is Head Flagman. An executive of 5 heads the club which has now swelled to 43 members.

There are four types of cars and 12 from Lloydminster comprise the total range of the cars of the club, which has raced in Meadow Lake, and North Battleford as well as on their home speedway track.

Most of the cars are Fords with a slight sprinkling of Chevs and Dodges being run as well. The bodies of the cars are braced with 2-inch steel pipe roll-bars, hydraulic brakes, steel bumpers and safety belts, in accordance with strict Safety rules. All drivers must of course, wear helmets, and these must conform to the standard required by the Indianapolis Speedway.

Engines must be flat-head type Ford or straight-8 Dodge or Chev of no later a vintage than 1950. Cylinders are overhead, valves are ported and relieved heads are milled or shaved and mufflers are scrapped to eliminate fadeout on the stretches for an even abundance of back-pressure.

Most of these cars do better than 75 and 75 on the straightaway of the quarter-mile track which is really some going. Turns are taken on an average of about 35. Believers at the race a very common occurrence of course, but accidents on the Lloydminster course issued to a stock car touch. Dan Schreiber had a car 67 driven by Al Magill of Lloydminster, rolled three times on the north turn and was removed and drivers over by another car. Al lost the entire left side of his car body and blew two tires, but when the car was rolled back on its feet, Driver Big Al sat, as safe and sound as ever, and he continued his career of mangling upside Magill by his stolen body belt in times of over 900 people.

The Club is always looking for new drivers and welcomes do out, of necessity have to come from Lloydminster. Spare cars are needed all the time as the competition gets rather stiff either and if you have the facilities to build a car, or are fortunate enough to get a sponsor you would like to race with the club, write to Dan Taylor, Secretary-Treasurer, Lloydminster Speedway Association, Lloydminster, Alberta. Dan will bring these letters up at the meetings and you will be informed when to come and what new money will be paid to the owners of the car. It costs the safe is the rule for cars from out of town and this is enforced from the prize money sum is the car.

Sometimes you don't have to live in Lloydminster to be a member . . . races are held on Sundays only, everyone is welcome. This is a non-profit sport and has many hundreds of fans already to attest to its contest of excitement, thrills and thrills . . . as the big cars scream and roar around the track in one of the most colorful sports ever seen in the Meridian area.

HERO FROM HERMAN HOUSE

By BILL DOWSON

Folks in CKSA's broadcast area are not, as a rule, travelling men. Most of us have never been to Europe, or Asia or even England. Some of us have travelled South in the United States, but all in all, we are a crew of stay-at-homes.

However, there are those in every community who have travelled at one time or another — Bankers, Salesmen, Airmen and those who have worked with the department of Transport or other branches of the Government which send their men and women to remote corners of the globe.

People like this have stories to tell, and the best way to tell them is over Radio 1150. I have travelled quite a bit myself but sometimes think I don't have any stories to tell. Some of them I would make good yarns, but a radio fellow just can't do that, without running the risk of being called a braggart. So, here is what I have in mind.

Every Sunday morning, I have an getwings of doing a show called . . . "Sunday In the Club house" This is a wonderful stay-calling time . . . when most of the family is at home, relaxed and listening intently to their radios. Now, if you have a story to tell, I would like to hear from you, in letter form or personally, and I would like to hear your story and assess it's value to this show.

You don't have to be the best raconteur in the world to tell Cosmo's Index is off 7 per cent.

Defeat or the only man to ever shake hands with Lenne Riel . . . nothing like that! All we want are ordinary folks who have done things most of us would like to do. Some of you men have wonderful stories in your past concerning the 2nd World War, some are strong points. Bailing readjustment has been a characteristic of the economy for the past

(c) The opinion of the best informed people is that the economy—both in Canada and the U.S.—is in a strong half of this year and for a good 1958.

Stock Market Not Booming In Sore Selling

Behind the noise about the stock market decline, which gained momentum with headlines in recent weeks, some facts are important to the stock buyer who does not wish to be panicked—or to lose money, points out The Financial Post

Stock prices have not been slipping as badly as some of the scare-mongers have been predicting.

The Toronto Stock Exchange industrial index is down 16 per cent from the year's high. That, be it noted, means a $16.00 stock is now $9.60.

The Montreal exchange is off 11 per cent. The Dow industrial index is off 7 per cent.

Solid facts are:

(a) There has been no wild over-valuation of stocks so was characteristic of trouble times in the past.

(b) The basic business conditions continue to be good. There are soft spots and there are strong points. Bailing readjustment has been a characteristic of the economy for the past

(c) The opinion of the best informed people is that the economy—both in Canada and the U.S.—is in a strong half of this year and for a good 1958.

Playground Terminates Activities Aim To Develop Children's Minds

The St Paul Playground has concluded another season and the boards of a regular attendance of boys and girls of different nationalities and creeds. It will be recalled that the playground is a service to all impartially. Its aim is to assist the children to develop their emotions in a wholesome and recreational manner, physical, intellectual and moral formation are integrated into the program.

By contributing time to the children's formation, the Playground personnel are supporting the formation on which has already been laid and is being laid in school. That is why the close co-operation of the parents is an absolute necessity for the success of the project.

Physical culture is necessary for children who must relax themselves of their fer ever dynamo energy. The playground has certainly faithfully provided them with the recreational facilities necessary for the different age groups.

Intellects do not run barren at the playground. Brief lectures adapted to the children's level, keep their youthful minds in contact with subjects of civic and social interest.

Moral training is also inculcated so as to produce a well balanced program for the harmonious and integral formation of the children.

The playground personnel wish to express their sincere thanks to the Town of St. Paul, to the business men and to all others who contributed financially to upkeep us.

Your co-operation was indispensable for the success of all their season Sincere thanks also go to the parents whose children were faithfully present to the benefit of the provided facilities Congratulations are in order to the children for the wonderful spirit they showed while they remained mentioned.

L'oeuvre des terrains de jeux a groupe régulièrement les jeunes garçons et jeunes filles de Saint-Paul, sans destinction de langues, de nationalités, de religions, de classes, pour leur faire passer des heures agréables Nous avons tenu à donner les jeux auxquels nous pouvaient participer selon leur âges et leur sexe Le véritable but de l'oeuvre de jeux de Saint-Paul, est d'aider les enfants à passer leurs heures d'une bonne façon, de garder l'ambiance et la jeunesse au Christ. L'O.T.J pousuite un personnel qui se fait un devoir de aligner les enfants des enfants et de s'occuper de leur développement physique, sportive, artistique, etc. Le terrain de jeux est établi pour les enfants.

D'un autre côté c'est un aide pour les parents, durant les vacances. Ils savent que certain parents oublient, c'est de nos veiller leurs enfants durant les vacances. L'O.T.J. est là aussi pour aider les parents dans cette tache Il est malheureux de constater le désintéressement de plusieurs parents qui ne se donnent pas la peine d'envoyer leurs enfants au

Death from a broken heart claimed the short life of Krifi, Canada's only gorilla. Brought to Toronto's Riverdale zoo two months ago from the jungles of French Equatorial Africa, Krifi, 18 months old, never adjusted to life in the New World. Despite the tender loving care of Keeper Ginger, Curry Williams, Krifi's health declined. Even harvard trained doctors failed to save him and he finally died of loneliness. His sickness baffled the officials, who had expected Krifi to be no direction so most of his breed.

Terrain de jeux. Ces parents, au lieu de s'occuper comme tenaient au Terrain, risquent de troubler toi et là, et de remettre des accusations qui pourraient être formulées.

Pour les enfants, l'O.T.J. jouit d'une grande faveur Au point de vue physique, les jeunes peuvent développer leur corps de façon équilibrée, en participant aux jeux de balle, aux courses, aux jeux de ballons, etc Le corps de ces jeunes contient une énergie Elle peut être employée de deux façons. L'O.T.J. est là pour aider les jeunes à dépenser cette énergie pour une bonne fin, afin d'en bénéficier, le jeu. Tous ces jeux contenus raisonnablement, sont tellement sous à la portée de la jeunesse.

L'intelligence des jeunes n'est pas délaissé durant les vacances. Au Terrain, chaque jour, il y a des activités. C'est un entretien court, mais très fructueux. Tenu à jour, les directeurs intéressent les jeunes d'un sujet particulier à chaque semaine, utilisent aussi le système de panneaux afin de captiver les jeunes intelligences. Le point de vue moral est important au Terrain, on tous qu'oeuvre d'action catholique Ame les prières avant et après le Terrain ne sont pas négligées, afin d'développer aux enfants l'esprit de prière Le mot de l'auniversaire est aussi d'un grand secours pour ces petites âmes. Le grand avantage des jeunes qui fréquentent le Terrain de jeux, est de développer chez eux le sens social, l'esprit d'entr'aide, d'amabilité, qui doit être en réalité l'esprit d'enfant-jeune. Le charité Les jeunes apprennent à jouer ensemble, à se connaître, à s'aimer, à s'entendre, à co-opérer

Cependant il y a certaines choses que l'on doit remontrer chez les enfants qui viennent au Terrain de jeux. En premier lieu, il faut l'esprit sportif. Les enfants qui se rendent au Terrain, doivent y venir pour jouer. Mais jouer avec l'esprit sportif, c'est-à-dire que les jeunes ne doivent pas jouer seulement pour gagner. Il faut s'attendre à ce qu'un soit perdu Et si l'on perd, on accepte sa défaite sans ressentir. Il faut aussi consentir à faire jouer avec nous des jeunes qui sont moins forts que nous, en pensant que nous nous nous n'avons pas toujours été de bons joueurs.

Au jeu, c'est remettre qu'on est quelqu'un en obéissant aux directions du chef, de l'arbitre le plus. Toutes les vertus acquises il faut à pratiquer l'amabilité, de loyauté, la politesse. Il serait bon que les parents surveillent leurs enfants et les invitent à perfectionner ces vertus, afin de développer en eux, ce véritable esprit sportif qui contribuera à former un vrai petit gentilhomme de valeur.

L'oeuvre du Terrain de jeux est une oeuvre admirable pour les jeunes de Saint-Paul. Vous, talents notre part pour aider de notre encouragement l'oeuvre et aussi les jeunes.

Félicitations aux jeunes pour leur bel esprit et remerciements sincères aux directeurs et directrices qui se sont dépensés à cette oeuvre des jeunes.

Most Canadians are in the below-normal temperature areas predicted for the next three months. And, for lower-normal Denver then worst rainfall is expected, too. Maybe not enough to spoil a holiday, but enough to keep lawns and fields green. Only a small section of the prairies and the eastern seaboard will have normal temperatures.

Prize Increase Causes Review

A U.S. company's proposal to increase the prize of U.S. industrial gas fed into B.C. may provoke a federal government review of all export and import permits for natural gas, reports The Financial Post.

An eventual stiffening of federal control over all energy movements across the international border is regarded as inevitable.

The government certainly does not mean to let its approval be taken for granted in any part of export-import deals in view of the most critical notice o price

OLD-TIME THRESHING BEE S MOVED BY 2,000 FARMERS

The "good old days" when farming was a community affair and farm machinery was simple were relived near Doneville, Ont., when over 1,500 farmers took part in a community threshing bee Chugging along here is a threshing machine powered by a 1910 Sawyer Harris steam engine fed by wood. At noon, everyone stopped for a hearty dinner prepared by their wives, then returned to threshing to the tune of country music supplied by some of the fiddling farmers. The bee was so successful that it will probably be an annual event.

1000 Pupils Register Two Schools Rental System Inagurated Lower Book Cost

School opening with over 1000 students registering in two establishments, construction of oil dividends, market day, need to replenish the larder and services after the long Labor Day holiday week-end and a beautiful warm day manifested between them, made Tuesday one of the busiest days business men enjoyed this fall.

Large crowds thronged the sidewalks early in the morning consuming the main street with a steady stream of boys and girls going to school, and Alberta Citizens representing both the Treasury Branch and the Canadian Bank of Commerce, each of whom opened one of it's branches through their pockets into the "school-mad" cash registers.

SCHOOL INCREASES

Unofficial school registration figures, expected to show slight increases in the next few weeks, listed a record number of students who boosted attendance figures to a new high of 1185, a total including both the St. Paul Public School and the Glen Avon Separate School.

The Public School recorded 611 students registered in a supplementary of 198 over the while Glen Avon's System rose from 363 in 1956 to 394 for the current term.

The extra turnout of over increasing children in the three school districts—St Paul No. 136, St. Clive Avon Separate, St. Paul R.D. Clive has created an accommodation problem in teaching personnel and space

Glen Avon Separate School, a new district operating its second Oil Dividend which went on "sale" Tuesday morning at all chartered banks and Treasury branches in the province.

A long line carried up at the two banking houses in St. Paul—Treasury Branch and at the Canadian Bank of Commerce—blocking all services and crushing the clerks to a frenzied pitch as 20 cut forms and identify 500 Albertans the first day who received their $50.00 citizen's participation dividend for the year 1957.

The Treasury Branch handled 453 customers until it run out of application forms and had to postpone further payments until a new issue arrived on Thursday. The Canadian Bank of Commerce was still carrying on after receiving applications from 300 citizens.

The "gold" rush was started at the last session of the Alberta Government when the Oil and Gas Royalties Dividend Act was passed to enable Citizens of Alberta to participate directly in the benefits accruing from the development of the Oil and Gas Resources of Alberta.

The Act ensures that each Alberta citizen—a person domiciled to have been resident in Alberta for the immediate preceding two years and for a total of not less than ten years is entitled to $20.00 for the year ending December 31, 1957 Applicants must be of the full age of 21. be a British subject

Payment of the dividend is made at any Treasury Branch or any chartered bank in Alberta between September 1st and December 31, 1957. Those unable to apply personally due to illness may appoint an agent to claim the dividend. Necessary forms for this purpose may be obtained from any bank.

It is estimated that about 6000 persons doing business with the Treasury Banks in St. Paul are eligible for the Alberta dividend in this district.

Rental System Inagurated Lower Book Cost

School boards have inaugurated a book rental system which has been adopted to save parents money instead of buying the expensive school text, children will be permitted to rent them from the School District concerned for a reasonable sum—about one third of the actual purchase price

The plan allows School districts to purchase the regular text books from the School Branch of the Provincial government. Substantial discounts are realized through these volume purchases and passed down to the students.

Students rent the books at one dollar values. A book valued at $3.00 would rent for $1.00. Books but will have to be paid in full for the loss at the end of the year when it and consequently a loss of the former parents and are forbidden to carry pencilmarks, except children covered by their contract and liability policies.

This word of good cheer from Mr. Dusty Rhodes, Reeve of the Municipality of St. Paul will undoubtedly be received by bus drivers. He announced to the Journal today that special allocations are being made by the MD to buy roads and machine and hopefully all roads will receive extra maintenance.

10 School Buses Transport Over 400 Children

Reeve Says Roads Will be Improved

A fleet of ten buses covers a network of rural routes carrying about 400 children to and from St. Paul Schools, morning and night.

Robert Dennis the assistant Secretary Treasurer, C. W. Cousins, and Reeve Rhodes has been named a new route to Redlake.

Supervisors were called in to a special meeting held last week by department instructors for bussing isolated school children upstairs.

Among some of the cautions received was the warning that school buses cannot carry or deliver parents and are forbidden to carry passengers, except children covered by their contract and liability policies.

This word of good cheer from Mr. Dusty Rhodes, Reeve of the Municipality of St. Paul will undoubtedly be received by bus drivers. He announced to the Journal today that special allocations are being made by the MD to buy roads and machine and hopefully all roads will receive extra maintenance.

Twenty-Four Fishermen Join The Glendon C. Of C. Caravan To Worm Lake Over Labor Holiday

The Worm Lake Caravan sponsored by the Glendon Chamber of Commerce over the Labor Day holiday lured 24 fishermen to the northern wilderness for a week-end well rewarded with sizable fish and large catches

The fleet of automobiles observers it was only the "third-in-the-row" spectacular that had the power to partake with the elements and take the outlandish roads and trails encountered in the event of heavy rain.

Luckily enough, the downpours experienced as far north as Glendon, St. Paul and Bonnyville did not fall near Worm Lake and permitted the caravan to push through the worst of the mucking without difficulties, for a quiet, happy and entertaining week-end spree.

Fishermen from as far as Edmonton joined the train into Resort Lake. Three parties came from the city, from St. Lina, Glendon, Vegreville, Bonnyville and St. Paul.

According to Mr. Floyd Swabb, president of the Glendon Chamber of Commerce in charge of the expedition, smooth sailing was experienced all the way. The stand-by tractors had an easy time of it, not being called to the rescue of any bogged vehicle. Even a caravan upset was passed through with ease.

The caravan headed for a camp around the large Basque based on the east side of the lake. The Rendezvous Trail boss was chairman and drew up an hopeless since the mucking has assisted in during the many seasons to close it down completely. The other trail is sandy and stands up better to moisture

BIG FISH

The honours for the biggest fish caught went to Mr Edmund Wenger of St. Lina, who landed a 26-lber pickerel. Raymond Perpiton of Glendon caught a 19½-lber and Jack Bradshaw of Vegreville scored a 15½-pounder; E. E. Krebs, Edmon on netted the largest quantity of fish. Prizes were awarded to the winners.

The trip was organized by the Glendon Board of Trade in the form of a contest to Edmonton and Calgary and the natural northern resource and the fishing potential of the lake. It is hoped to continue the promotion in a bigger manner next year and to encourage to stimulate more business in the popular lake with the aim of interesting the people of Edmonton to consider more fully this fine resort country.

The Glendon Chamber is to be congratulated for its part in organizing and promoting the venture.

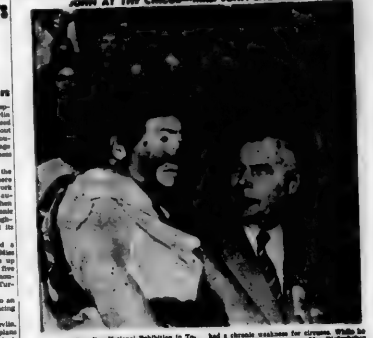
Hunting Season Opens Crash Of Down, Saturday, September 7th

The hunting season for this region opens at dawn Saturday morning, September 7th, 5 days earlier than last year.

Indications the amount of shells being sold and the number of licenses in the past month, would indicate that a good number of our local sportsmen intend to be fields for the opening day.

According to Gerry Steadsmen, game warden in St. Paul, the duck population in this area is at a peak. The only dry spring was very favorable to nesting, permitting a record number of little ducklings to survive the flood dangers and grow into good sport for the hunter.

But before you start out for the field, a word of caution! Make sure you have a hunting license. They are available at all stores selling hunting equipment. It might also be a good idea to familiarize yourself with the rules and regulations. For your convenience these are published on page 4.



JOHN AT THE CIRCUS—MRS. JOHN SHEPHERD

At the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto, Prime Minister Diefenbaker became part of the show when Jim Nelson paraded on his back. Mr. Diefenbaker admitted he had a chronic weakness for circuses. While he was watching the performers, Mrs. Diefenbaker had a more practical day—she went shopping for linens for her new home in Ottawa.

Newspaper Convention

On September 9, 10 and 11 the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association will hold its 50th annual convention in Banff, Alberta.

Representatives of newspapers from New Foundland to Vancouver Island will meet to discuss salient problems facing the industry, and to greet old friends, and make new ones, in this unique fraternity of weekly newspaper publishers and editors. As has always been the case, many of the wives and children will also be present, for they are a part of "Canada's Biggest Family Party", as the CWNA convention has come to be known, just as in so many instances they are active workers in the family newspaper

There are serious problems facing the weekly newspaper industry today. High wage levels, constantly rising cost of materials and equipment, and a shortage of experienced workers are placing a very heavy demand on the productive and management skills of publishers, who seek to hold down costs as the alternative to increasing advertising and subscription rates. Their problem becomes even more acute when, because of rapid growth of the communities they serve, they must enlarge their plant and equipment, placing a great strain on limited reserves.

Such are the problems with which the CWNA conventions and the meetings of the provincial divisions of the association must deal. In forums and general meetings, delegates will attempt to find solutions and reach decisions which it is hoped will work for the good of the entire industry. CWNA members

Certainly there are the pleasures of the social side of conventions, and the CWNA convention is rated high in this respect. But there is much serious discussion, too, because the member newspapers of the association are constantly seeking to improve themselves, not only on the inside, but in the public interest as well. It is never forgotten that the faithful subscriber is, in the final analysis, the keystone of a newspaper's being.

WHEAT HOT MOVING

Overseas wheat clearances during the past week advanced to 8.5 million bushels, more than double those of the previous week Shipments were divided between Churchill, Pacific and St. Lawrence ports. Unfortunately, these did not represent present sales but rather previous uncompleted orders and at least some was loaded unsold. There was a complete lack of overseas demand for Canadian wheat or barley

Lack of elevator space is serious With a 720 million bushel wheat carryover and an estimated crop of 316 million bushels of wheat alone on hand Elevator space at Port William and east is practically filled to capacity and 4,700 cars are on track awaiting unload The Wheat Board's most pressing problem is to make space for the unload of these cars and to provide space for those grains which are likely to move readily into export There would include malting barley, durum wheat, high protein wheat, flax and possibly some high grade oats.

The Wheat Board has made some reduction in the price of wheat at Port William since the first of August, varying from one cent on grades 1 to 3 in 3% cents on No 4 and Feed and 23 cents on durum Practically no change has been made at Vancouver. Though there has been no indication of any drastic price reductions, some U.S. trade journals are suggesting the likelyhood of the new Canadian government challenging the U.S. in a grain price war.

At the present time, ocean freight rates are such that it costs 11 cents per bushel less to move wheat from Vancouver to Liverpool than it does by the Atlantic route.

During the last few days there has been an improved demand for Canadian flax and also considerable speculative activity on the Grain Exchange that U.S. flax crop is 41 million bushels, down 6 million from last year and it is anticipated that the Western Canadian crop will also be down with the probable result of a still stronger flax market.

RECORD FOR DEATHS

According to W. J. Perkins, farm safety director for the Alberta Safety Council it is likely that a record will be set this year for farm tractor deaths.

Since January 1 there have been 16 tractor deaths in Alberta, which is equal to the number for the whole of 1956. Unless immediate and rigorous steps are exercised in the operation of these machines, more fatal accidents will certainly occur during the busy harvest season. The alarming figure of 37% percent of the 1957 tractor deaths was amongst children under 16 years of age

GIVE IT AWAY!

"If we can't beat 'em, join 'em!"

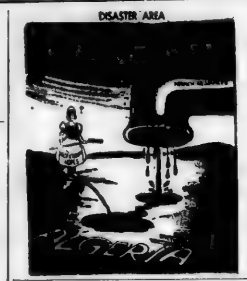
A Canadian give-away program for wheat appears increasingly likely as the only possible answer to the undiminished U.S. surplus disposals.

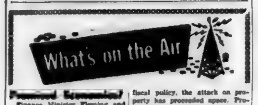
There will be no gimmicks in any Canadian plan.

Canada would make straight gifts to needy countries, perhaps by an addition to Colombo Plan funds.

But Ottawa would seek co-operative arrangements with the U.S. to prevent a rivalry in giveaways.

This plan, getting growing favor in government circles, may be taken to Washington on October 7, when Canadian ministers go there for their first meeting with members of the Eisenhower cabinet—though the cabinet has not yet taken its decision.





Personal Economics!

Finance Minister Fleming and his senior colleagues were well to ponder the fact that promised accomodation in government played a conspicuous part in the June 10 election. In fact, it seems that Canadians have been no slower than their Americans neighbors in recognizing that the bane of high taxes lies its root in lavish government spending. Word from Washington indicates that Congress has lopped about $5 billion off President Eisenhower's Federal spending program for the current fiscal year is not likely to go unnoticed in this country. Economy in government spending seems to be fashionable not only in federal circles in the US Contenders for political office in state elections, are banning on promises to cut spending to win support.

If Mr Fleming and his cabinet colleagues can manage to clip an equivalent percentage off federal spending, this year, and reduce government outlays to the tune of 12 per cent, the prestige and popularity of the Diefenbaker Government will be assured

Subsidy For Grain?

Interprovincial farm action rounds thinks Federal Government should hand over $100 million with no strings attached to prairie grain growers "to compensate them for high production costs and low grain prices."

Request is unlikely to be granted for two reasons. First, because it is not the function of government to burden people with taxes to support subsidy payments which have no other purpose than to block economic change and development. Second, were proposal adopted it would create embarrassing precedent for assistance to every group and every industry caught in the pinch of wage-inflation.

"Compensation," as used by the Interprovincial Farm Union Council, is a loaded word, in no way co-operable with compensation as applied to unemployment or to disability Difference lies in fact that it cannot be proved that prairie grain growers have suffered any "loss." Interprovincial Farm Union Council seems to think farmers are somehow different from other folk, and that they ought to be entitled to dip into other people's pockets whenever they feel so inclined.

Horticultural Industry

Few Canadians, apart from the socialist CCF, advocate nationalization of industry. It would, however, be rash to suppose that socialists, despite their political impotence, have not had an impact and that the smooth on property, which lies at the root of the socialist and communist credo, has not achieved imperative virulence.

In the realm of monetary and fiscal policy, the attack on property has proceeded apace. Progressive taxation, favored by Marx, has created incentive and restrictions to the growth of Big Government. A managed currency has steadily eroded the purchasing power of the dollar, and the gradual confiscation of investments, classified as inflation, has become a familiar and perplexing feature of the economic scene. Trend towards the managed economy, in which property is the intended victim, is discernible in agriculture. And certain industries are subject to restrictive regulation which impairs efficiency and results in costly economic

Of the assault on property have been brough about under government which sincerely profess abhorrence of socialism and communism Yet each such manifestation, however harmless it may seem at the time, makes the way easier for socialism and communism Communism, as the Dilas book, makes clear, is a dictatorship of rule by a class of party hierarchs rightly described as the "ownership class " Communism's power, and its throttle hold over its victims, lies in the control by the ruling class of all prosperity Men deprived of property rights, communists know, make more willing slaves

By DEAN HALLIDAY

The best time to sow grass seed is late summer Fall sowing gives at least six weeks of growing weather, plus the advantage of the fall rains Making a lawn at this time also gives the grass a jump on the spring weeds

Tests have shown that a plot 50 feet square of good seed per 1,000 square feet is the fall will produce thicker and better turf than ch is eight pour ds in the spring.

When planted in the fall, the various grasses reach and start seed, producing short, crowded joints a, the base of each stem. This habit of stooling is what produces a fine turf.

Whether you plant in fall or spring, use great care in watering the seeded area for the weeks. It is easily washed away.

In temperate zones, Kentucky blue grass is the dominating and most known. It is dependable and Fescue does well in poor soils and dry really in sandy places. As shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph, the roots of fescue are fairly shallo w in growth and not adapted to withstand prolonged drought.

If your lawn must depend upon rain for moisture, use lots of clover in your lawn mixture, as shown in the Garden-Graph, the roots go deep for moisture. Therefore, clover stays green even during droughts.

WANTED RATTLER BUT GOT A BITE INSTEAD

A bite on the arm is Bobby Drake's reward for collecting snakes. The 10-year-old resident of Hamilton, Ont., seen above removing anti-snake bite serum from nurse Kay Bullivan in Hamilton hospital, was bitten by a four-foot long rattler when he wanted to keep alive for his collection. A friend, who discovered the reptile in bush on the outskirts of the city, suggested it be killed. Drake seized the idea saying he wanted to take it home and as he lifted a corner of the box which was thrown over the snake to trap it, the rattler buried its fangs in the boy's arm. It then fled into the bush.

Unemployment Service Should Have Own Act

There are likely to be more people than usual looking for jobs this summer and that is one good reason why a thorough overhaul of the National Employment Service might be advisable now. The Financial Post, which points out:

"The National Employment Service was set up in 1935, after ten years of depression and chronic unemployment. It still operates under the Unemployment Insurance Act and is closely supervised with the Unemployment Commission. This means that the service function of providing information about jobs is linked with the collection of payments of benefits to those who can't find work.

This is very bad psychology. It gives a depressing flavor to the whole operation, because the people (if those who apply to the NES for help in locating jobs, and tends to make the NES staff behave like social workers instead of what they in fact are: employment brokers.

The job of NES is to collect and communicate the available information about jobs and jobseekers and make it freely available to anyone who has a job that needs doing or a skill that needs using. The misfunction for government action in this field as that a government agency can serve anyone, and can bear the costs of doing the job on a basis that both and in bad times as well as good. This is a positive function. It needs to be cut away from the negative concept of unemployment. Perhaps NES should be transferred to Trade and Commerce. Certainly it should be given an Act and an atmosphere all its own."

Both have a bank account - and a purpose for saving

The difference between reaching a goal and missing it can be the savings you put by, now, in a bank account.

Such savings don't just happen. They involve some sacrifice, definite planning. But as your dollars mount up you feel a sense of accomplishment, of getting somewhere, that makes the effort more than worth while.

Your bank account provides ready cash that can help take care of any emergency that may arise, or open the way to bargains or other opportunities. Whatever objective you may have in mind, and whatever use your savings may ultimately serve, you'll always be glad you saved.

Save at a bank — millions do!

With fall approaching and school commencing the trimmest 4-H Clubs are coming to a close. Each year at this time the clubs hold an achievement day; by this we mean that the girls can vegetables and fruits, dry goods and display new projects just like at last exhibition. The Wheat Pool Fieldman and I go out to judge all come. Next week the dates are as follows:

September 10—Riverbank and Alsask Districts.

September 11—Egremont and Wostok Districts.

September 12—Lestock and Bronsons at Lestock.

Besides displaying their goods the girls are also expected to hold a short evening's program. This sometimes everything that they have learned.

It is not until a few weeks later that the girls are told who the efficiency winner is of their club. The efficiency winner in the club is the best all round girl. Her records are kept by her in her garden, display and club records.

Anyone interested is welcome to attend any of the achievement days. The program starts at 8:00 p.m.

How Teaching Method Used For Reading

A revolutionary method of teaching children to read is described by Robert Adams in the current issue of The Star Weekly Basis of the new method is a properties and a filmstrip—but this does not mean that the children are in for just another "movie" The filmstrips have been designed after long research and work in conjunction with a filmstrip reader

Not only do children learn to read by watching the picture lessons, but they comment on and to such a pitch that some for them prefer the lessons to a play period Remarkable results have been obtained even with groups of children who have previously proved themselves to be

The Star Weekly article describes how the new method is reported and also details of experiments in the method which are being carried out in Ontario

CO-OPERATIVE NURSERY HAS LOWEST RATE IN CANADA

For $12 a month, 60 children of Willowdale, Ont., will attend nursery school in a big, modern building. The nursery is entirely co-operative with parent committees taking turns in helping the supervisor. Children in need, fire halls, parks and museums, Summer picnics and winter sleigh rides are planned. At $12 a month the nursery is run at the lowest rate in Canada and the parent-subscribers hope the rate will decrease when a $10,000 mortgage is reduced.

Farmers' Union Of Alberta Very Pleased About Loans By Govt.

EDMONTON, August 30—The Farmer's Union of Alberta welcomes Mr Diefenbaker's announcement that loans will be available to farmers under this interim finance Act on September 1st. Mr. A. V. Platt, President, said this morning that the delivery situation this fall is, and will continue to be, very slow. Farmers must have access to cash to harvest this year's crop. The issue are no solution to the grain growers' problem — they will help to keep the tension at minimum until solutions can be implemented, Mr. Platt emphasized.

We have no idea what the Prime Minister has in mind in regard to cash advances. Mr. Platt continued Our ideas on these have been given to the Government some weeks ago. It must, however be emphasized that the primary problem of the grain producer is not delivery but continually falling prices and continually rising costs.

Case With Cleaners

Cleanliness may be next to godliness — but it also can be dangerous. Certainly many human beings go to meet their Maker because of cleaning fluids and laundry troubles.

It is surprising how much a locked cabinet or even a tightly closed container on a high shelf might do to make unnecessary a thousand and laundry bruises, gashes, rags the Flood Spectrum, a Chemical Safety Bulletin says.

Many household mishaps throughout laundry, store chlorine and laundry bleaches and the cleansing fluid, carbon tetrachloride, in soda-pop containers, wine bottles and even baby bottles. These are even found on the floor within easy reach for toddlers in an exploring phase of life.

After a seven year study, three authorities reported in the Chemical Medical Association Journal that carbon tetrachloride is one of the most dangerous poisons of accidental origin. Four deaths and five near deaths have occurred in Ontario in a short period, it is learned, even as absorbed through the skin.

The corrosive and caustic action of the chlorinated alkalies used in laundry bleaches are well-known to anyone who has ever used a Favorite to make cotton away by strong lyes. Less well-known, however, is the fact that chlorinated cleaning fluids are even more dangerous than the alkalies. Even a small amount of vapor from carbon tetrachloride, for example, is enough to cause severe damage to the liver and kidneys, and a few drops on the skin can cause severe burns.

Industrial Use Of Farm Products Solution To Large Surpluses

Editorial use to the best solution to the problem of farm surpluses, in the opinion of a Parliamentary committee which recently reported its findings in the United States. The report states that the potential industrial market for farm products is so great that its full exploitation would eradicate surplusses. Findings of the Commission are summarized in an article written for Foreign Trade by W Adair Stewart, Assistant Commercial Secretary of the Canadian Embassy in Washington.

The five-man bipartisan group was charged with finding the answer to a vital question—can industrial markets absorb enough excess farm products to make surpluses possible even eliminate costly restrictions, price supports, and surplus-disposal operations? It replied "Yes" with the proviso that necessary steps be taken to make possible and encourage such a development.

The Commission's report outlines 120 broad areas for research and development, including hundreds of product uses, that seem to promise fruitful results. It sees bright prospects for the use of surplus grains for the manufacture of alcohol for industrial uses, for conversion to hydrocarbons, and for blending with gasoline as motor fuel. Conversion of starch into alcohol with protein as a by-product is another. The protein would sell for food at relatively high prices as the starch could be sold for alcohol at relatively low ones. New sources of steroids are envisaged in new areas where might replace, for industrial use, food crops now in surplus supply.

Australian wheat acreage has dropped from a prewar figure of 12½ million acres to a 1956 figure of 9.9 million acres. Postwar yields have been sufficiently high to more than offset acreage

IT'S THIS CAUSE OF HAY FEVER

This harvest season is officially opened and those whom sneezes are not too sorry and watery with ragweed pollen may commence the count of their profits. It's the murderous artemisiifolia, or just plain ragweed and it is now releasing its fatal pollen. Each producer ready yellow flowers capable of giving off several million pollen grains to irritate inflamed noses and watering throats. The count is nearly well to—but every now and then even experienced gardeners are found nurturing the plant, believing it to be a flower! Its blooms, it is easily identified, and, pulled out by the roots, it will bother no more hay fever sufferers.

Newspapermen To Convene At Resort Centre

BANFF, Alberta.—An army of weekly editors and publishers, wives and families, will descend on Banff next Sunday as the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association opens its annual convention.

The three-day meeting will revolve around discussions of the problems facing the industry and the study of improvements in printing and publishing standards. Round table discussions on many than a dozen industry subjects will be held with representatives of the Association of Canadian Advertising Agencies and the Audit Bureau of Circulation taking part.

One of the major topics of discussion both formal and informal will concern the increasing problems faced by weekly publishers to face the demand for bigger and better newspapers coupled with constantly rising costs of labor, equipment and materials.

According to William Telfer, managing director of the CWNA, the weeklies are fighting hard to hold advertising and subscription rates at their present levels. Because of rising costs, net profits are dangerously low in many cases.

Despite these difficulties, the weekly newspaper is growing in importance according to Mr. Telfer. Combined circulation of Canadian weeklies has passed the one and a quarter million mark.

Among guests at the convention are 35 British newspaper publishers who are touring Canada and will attend the convention as representatives of the Newspaper Society of Britain.

Alma Cagne of Arvada, Quebec, president of the French language Weekly Newspaper Association, and other association officers will also be present at the convention.

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

On The Skin Side

Maybe it's only skin deep, but an itch that makes you scratch like mad, with dandruff snowing on the shoulders, and the hair coming out by the handful, with pimples by dozens, the baby with prickly heat, the worker with occupational rash, or anyone with hives or an allergic rash from any cause whatever, is not at all funny.

Most of these cases come under the medical heading of "contact dermatitis", which simply means an inflammation of the skin caused by contact with or over-sensitiveness to an irritating agent.

Besides the obvious poison ivy and common primrose, there are many plants are the cause and the appropriately named dandelion and smartweed. Of the foods, tomatoes, citrus fruit, onions and celery are worst offenders.

Medicines, as they are, skin irritations can be the easiest diagnosed. Some of the proprietary ones. Your doctor may suggest one of the new fast-acting antihistamines such as Hydrocortisone which contains a relative of the hormone hydrocortisone. Dr. Ashton L. Welsh, Cincinnati dermatologist, recently reported that Hydrocort proved successful in 40 out of 41 of his patients suffering from 21 different skin diseases.

Once the irritants, the rash and inflammation are relieved, your doctor can go on to find proper cure for trouble, the cause of the outbreak.

Next Week: Symptoms of several common skin troubles your family should know about and how to treat them.

Tension High For RCAF First Air To Air Rocket Shoot Currently Being Held At Cold Lake Station

Eighteen Top-Notch All-Weather Fighter Interceptor Teams From Canada Compete

COLD LAKE, September 9—At this very moment, 185 miles northeast of Edmonton, a CF-100 all-weather fighter is rapidly rising in on its target. Its wing tips bedeck flame, there's a shattering roar and once again the plane and the Deadly 3 he's in are startled and that's how it will end. Pure after pass, from Monday to Friday, CF-100s, piloted by the best crews in the country will use for weapon, a pinpoint 2.75 inch rocket. Each plane is armed with 52 such rockets mixed in their firing tubes. Aiming Group Captain "Bob" Stovel, commanding officer of RCAF Station Cold Lake, Alta., is now serving out of his CF-100 after officially opening the rocket meet by firing the final rocket from the Primrose rocket range early Monday morning. Administering a dark job is his main responsibility the personal CO remains current on all types of aircraft.

FIRES FIRST ROCKET AT MEET

Eighteen top-notch all-weather fighter interceptor teams from each squadron across Canada, with home in east for the top award, the Sheldon Chumir Trophy, are currently grounded for January. A total of three teams from each service will be given the whammo on Friday.

Each of the sixteen teams are composed of pilots, radar observers, ground radar controller, armament officers and aircraft maintenance personnel The competition is designed to test their understanding of the air defense system of interception and their ability to work together as a team.

Squadron Leader Bill Vincent, officer commanding Weapons Wing at Cold Lake, said this about the meet, "We want to determine the efficiency of our air defense system under the stress of competition We want to know if they will be able to take off, intercept an enemy bomber, and shoot it down confidently Also, during this meet, we will be able to re-evaluate our combat readiness and our additional training requirements or equipment that might be necessary."

The crews began arriving at Cold Lake last week to begin an extensive "shakedown" of their aircraft and familiarize themselves with the range of the competition The squadrons competing are 409 squadron from Station Comox, B.C., 414 and 433 squadrons from Station North Bay, Ont. 410 and 426 squadrons from Station Uplands, Ottawa, and 421 squadrons from Station St. Hubert, Montreal, 419 and 425 squadrons from Station Bagotville, Quebec.

Gravel Pit Worth $10,000 To Former Owner

Forty acres of barren rocky bush land, on a desolate ridge overlooking the Dog Rump Valley and Saddle Creek was turned into a bonanza worth $10,000 to its owner Mr. Lemard Reth when a substantial gravel pit was uncovered by Dept. of Highways surveyors in search of material for the St. Paul-St Brieux highway project.

The gravel of good quality was first explored on the surface by Highways engineers in connection with the construction of the St Paul vehicular overpass. Later a test pit was made on the location and the gravel found to be of good quality for construction purposes.

Reth was approached by Department officials and the deal was completed on the following day.

Tests and stripping found greater and more extensive deposits, adequate for the use to the St. Paul paving program.

Mr. Reth purchased the property from the late Charles Pinsonneault Estate four years ago in connection with other quarter sections and had almost abandoned it as unproductive until the timely discovery. Besides this land Mr. Reth owns another four quarters to the farms and lives on with his family of three children.

"The money came in handy for much needed farm equipment and improvements", said Mr. Reth.

An estimated 375,000 tons of gravel will be taken out for the pavement project. The gravel is paid for at a rate of about 16¢ at $.20 according to the calendar hauls they were perhaps twenty minutes to half an hour late with trucks already in the field having missed the early flights.

However, the shooting according to reports and a survey made by this newspaper, was better than average. The heavy duck population, unaware of the lurking dangers in standing and crossed grain swings blissfully in her timid morning hour to find that were had suddenly

Duck Season Opens With A Bang, Sat.

The early muffled whoomph, whoomph, of hundreds of blasting shotguns at dawn Saturday morning left no doubt the hunting season has started in earnest. The impact of it was sharply felt by the ducks who were startled from their favorite feeding grounds by barrages of concentrated lead which took a heavy toll in the migratory population on the first day of the season.

Four o'clock in the morning St. Paul's main street was filled with fowlers maneuvering and traffic of hunters silently plotting out in the gray dark, to fields spotted the previous evening.

The dawn was clear, warm and early. Many hunters who had had a bird on the break of day at 5:30 according to the calendar

Harvest Delayed; Crop Outlook Below Last Year

Growing Season Drought Cuts Wheat Yield To 11 Bushels

Crop prospects for 1957, already reduced by a growing season drought and losing further hampered by wet conditions which have been delaying current harvest operations, are now bringing them about to a standstill

For the fourth consecutive week-end, the countryside was drenched with heavy rains and softened fields rendered almost impassable during the week with very little combine and swath cutting done to dry the saturated ground.

One farmer in the district reported that he attempted cutting with his combine well ahead, pulling one binder and still had trouble A few early cutters are experiencing several growth and swathed grain is starting to sprout

LOWER YIELD

Estimated figures by St. Paul district agricultural grain yields this year will be greatly reduced from 1956 as shown by the following:

	1957	1956
Wheat	11	30
Oats	20	50
Barley	15	35

The largest single factor responsible for the reduction is the early growing season drought in June. Take the month of June and practically all of northern Alberta, where some progress has been made in cutting, very little threshing has been done

Abuse Of Oil Dividend

With such there has been much controversy about the motives behind the distribution of the Alberta oil dividends, and the considerable suspicion which would be created should the next general election be the occasion of the use of the money of per-haps the most valuable asset the province has ever held on prairie farms. This controversy we made last week in Prime Minister Diefenbaker

Both S[illegible] Alberta Wheat Pool executives declared over the announcement that they would not allow this scheme [illegible] Premier Manning will be able to rely on [illegible] support of farmers.

Mr. Plumtree said that if parliament agrees to such subsidies, the Pool would like to see them made through the banks in the same manner [illegible] Mr. Plumtree said in favor of the [illegible] Wheat Board in the [illegible] Chartered banks, in general, [illegible] having machines [illegible] and competing boats or advertisements [illegible] advances [illegible]

Under the [illegible] last session of parliament, [illegible] by the government [illegible] farmers may secure loans [illegible] a maximum of $1000, on the security of farm-stored grain, at an interest rate of 5 percent. The [illegible] that is double that of the past season but the interest rate remains the same. From a practical standpoint, the Pool board is still labouring that it was too high. They add, it should be no more than that paid by the Canadian Wheat Board on the money it must borrow to carry its stocks of grain

GRAIN LOANS

The federal government has implemented legislation providing for government backed loans on farm stored grain. The Act will [illegible] of the total amount of participating [illegible] per bushel, to be held on prairie farms. This announcement was made last week by Prime Minister Diefenbaker

INFLATION COOLING OFF

Signs that inflation has its roots in the overheated manufacturing sector of the Canadian economy are clearly shown in the Dominion Bureau of Statistics breakdown of prices at the wholesale level, says Marshall Berkway in The Financial Post.

It may look at first as wholesale prices were the [illegible] inflation is cooling off. But a closer look raises doubts [illegible] are [illegible] of the trouble yet.

The general wholesale index is kept down by a sharp fall in the price of raw materials. But manufactured goods are still making up. The Consumer Price Index continues its steady rise. And manufacturing wages continue to rise faster than prices.

Co-operatives? Ho!

Strong [illegible] manner in which [illegible] co-operatives as a incentive is found in recent article in the March issue of Maclean's Magazine about a Stratford farmer. Thus Purdue author doesn't go along with the ideas of co-operative marketing [illegible] in certain circles

Mr. Purdue raises hogs, and he is rightly proud of their quality. But he wasn't like the idea of being forced to sell his hogs through the Ontario Hog Producer's Marketing Board. Here's the way he puts it

"Anybody knows you can't put in another middle-man and still give the farmers more money. What they really want to do is to give the farmer security. That's one thing you can't give a farmer. You have to start with and take a chance on the market. You have your grain and take a chance on the crop—sometimes you don't even get back your seed. The only security in it as a good farmer and does what he has. Less money off the good farmers and give it to. When you do that, why quality doesn't mean a thing to anyone. Take one of our neighbors. The manure in his corn means so much the cattle have to stomp down it; get out. We take pride in our cattle. Why should we share our profits with him."

As to another of the article's [illegible] it puts out the difference between Mr. Purdue and some other co-operatives is that the marketing conditions as a challenge, a chance to succeed by excelling, while others view the market as a rush to be minimized, at none-one else's expense, regardless of the quality of production.

Tight Control

Recent pronouncements by Canada's new Minister of Finance have understandably encouraged great expectations.

Whatever our policies we are none of us likely to long with a [illegible] give us the prospect of a full budget bringing with it tax cuts. Not on the public, especially prospective house-buyers, being human, be expected to vent rage at the passing of tight money.

Mr. Fleming's apparent eagerness to reduce taxes and government expenditures is doubly welcome in view of the current economic trends. There were signs earlier in the year that some of the steam had gone out of the [illegible] But subsequent [illegible]

In the past few months there has been a slackening in the rate of economic expansion. And there are other evidences of a less buoyant economy.

True, prosperity is still very much with us. The levels of consumption and employment both continue to be both in any standards. But there [illegible] of unemployment [illegible] tion is on the cascade of reports pouring into Canada have resulted in shrinking profit margins and reduced orders for many of our manufacturers.

The trend showed up early in the year. Co-operation profits for the first quarter of 1957 were substantially down on those earned in the first three months of 1956. The warning is one which should not be ignored.

Failing [illegible] this but all round. That we [illegible] business, and for labor and for the country as a whole.

They are said for business because [illegible] confidence [illegible] more the possibilities for reinvestment [illegible] retard the development and strengthening [illegible] economy.

The tremendous changes that have taken place in Agriculture during the past 50 years, and particularly during the past decade, have brought with them a demand for more trained agriculturists than ever before, but although there is a growing need today tomorrow's need will be even greater.

Quite apart from the long recognized fields of service such as teaching, research and extension work, all of which there continues to be a steady call for trained personnel, new opportunities have opened up in various agriculture industries require an ever increasing share of today's graduates, and there are many other areas of service as well. Thus Agriculture offers a wide variety of careers to suit almost every taste.

Unfortunately, in recent years, there has been a steady decline in the enrolment at our agricultural faculties and colleges throughout Western Canada. This situation, unless corrected, will most certainly work to the detriment of the industry as a whole. Recognizing the need for more young men women to enter the profession, the Agricultural Institute of Canada has taken the lead by publishing a very timely booklet entitled "Careers in Agriculture" a copy of which may be obtained by writing to the Dean of the Faculty of Agriculture of the provincial university situated at Edmonton, respectively. Those who are interested in Agriculture as a career, therefore, but who like to know more about its opportunities, as well as about the courses offered and the various bursaries and scholarships which are available should write to their own higherhood principals.

Junior Chamber Of Commerce Offers Challenge To Young Men

To shoulder the load of civic responsibility on the town of St. Paul, the Junior Chamber of Commerce is concentrating on a membership drive to bolster its working force. Young men in town are urgently requested to join the young man's movement, an organization which helps the town and at the same time helps each develop. At the request of the Jaycee president, Mr Bill Hadden, published below are some facts on what a Junior Chamber of Commerce is.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is an organization for young men, mainly between the ages of 18 and 36. It is dedicated to three purposes: (1) Improvement and development of its individual members to train them for business advancement and civic leadership, (2) Improvement and development of the community, and (3) Fellowship.

It may be defined as "a supplementary educational organization wherein the young men of your community may join together in a friendly spirit to improve their business abilities by means of active participation in projects which will provide and improve the community, provide and train leaders."

In short, a Junior Chamber of Commerce is an organization of young men having through constructive action.

This then, is an organization specifically designed to meet a young man's need. Only in the Junior Chamber of Commerce is it possible for him to receive leadership in your community at an age when such would be needed if you were competing with older and more experienced men.

There are young men at work in worth-while endeavours in your Junior Chamber of Commerce. The chance is yours to gain them in the privilege of building your city's and Canada's future.

A young man owes a debt to the city and nation which provides him a home and the privileges of citizenship. Through the Junior Chamber of Commerce, young men are given opportunity to do their part pleasantly and profitably.

Young men have a personal goal to realize and each member is given beyond the knowledge of how and why the social aspect of a young man's life is shared of him. Anything that he does need to train himself and develop his abilities assures him direct returns on the years.

Membership in the Junior Chamber of Commerce is the most logical and least expensive opportunity available to a young man. In addition, membership offers him direct and tangible personal returns. As a community possible standpoint, the Junior Chamber of Commerce meets the young man's need.

Building for the future of his community is certain to pay dividends to a young man in later life. Every young man has a "stake" in his community. Whatever he may do to improve his city is an assurance that the eventual return on his investment will be greater. The Jaycees will assist a young man in planning for his future.

Civic service opportunities have been explained in a considerable extent herein . . . first, because Jaycees have done and will continue to do notable community building work, and secondly, because every young man has a natural desire to do his part in making his city a better place to which to live.

Friendship and contacts—At the time you receive your local membership certificate, you will also be given a card signed by local officers identifying you as a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. This card is your entree to friendships and contacts in any city to which you may travel.

Nation wide scope—A local Junior Chamber of Commerce unit has a definite part to play in all developments of the National organization. When you become a member of a local unit the machinery is automatically set in operation to include your name on its mailing and national listings. Listed as the fastest growing organization of young men in Canada the Junior Chamber of Commerce is basing its success on the principle of "Training for Leadership".

WHO IS IT BENEFITS ME?

You pay the obligation that every citizen has to be the community in which he lives in the greatest possible way . . . through civic service in co-operation with others. The Junior Chamber of Commerce is where the young man steps in.

You meet and become friends with the very people you would be likely to seek for companions and acquaintances in Jaycees are: (1) ambitious, (2) ambitious young business and professional men representing a unusually high type of character Friendships established in your Jaycee work are lasting ones to treasure for a life-time.

Direct contacts with the young men of the Junior Chamber and with older business men and civic leaders with whom you will be associated in committee work are valuable to you even apart from the friendships. Present day business methods require a very widespread acquaintanceship as is requisite to success in business.

Speaking ability — no asset which too few leaders own can boast—is attained to practice in speaking before audiences. Your Public Speaking Club training which will be in effect this winter in St. Paul, will greatly enlarge your know-how.

Responsibilities resulting from committee memberships, offices, and the like in the Jaycees will put you on your own for decisions with the consequence that your powers of initiative originality, and ingenuity will necessarily expand. You will be called upon to use your judgement as few young men are.

At the same time you are improving yourself in all these ways through Jaycee work, you will be receiving recognition both in the organization and also through the local press for your accomplishments as committee chairman or officer. There is no better way for a young man's ability to be brought to the attention of the community at large.

Finally, you will reap benefits beyond the bounds of your city through your automatic membership in the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Canada. You will come to know the outstanding young men of the entire nation through your contacts at conventions, and you may enjoy the same friendship and contacts with young men of other cities you enjoy with your fellow Jaycee members at home.

Eye Disease Causes Blindness Persons Over 40

A thorough eye examination by an ophthalmologist at least once every two years after 40 is advocated as being the best defence against glaucoma, a degenerative disease of the eyes, Gazette headlines, by T. Harold Hodges, M.D., writing in the annual report of Health magazine, official publication of the Health League of Canada.

Dr. Hodges says there is a special debt Canada, if prevents is contracted because the secretion and drainage of a nutritive and circulating fluid. It is the quantity of the balance of pressure produced by deficient drainage of this fluid, that causes glaucoma. As the fluid accumulates the pressure is increased and is transmitted in all directions, eventually compressing the retina against the tough outer coat. Even slight damage to the retina results in impaired vision.

As the pressure increases further, not only is the retina destroyed, but also part of the optic nerve until the result is total blindness. Glaucoma makes its appearance in two forms, acute glaucoma and chronic glaucoma. The acute form of glaucoma is dramatic and is accompanied by severe pain, inflammation and diminution of vision. Chronic glaucoma is insidious in onset and is hard to diagnose in the early stage. It has been likened to a thief in the night, coming without warning, doing irreparable damage before the victim is aware of its presence.

Only by physician with special means at his disposal can detect glaucoma in its early stage. In 40 years don't rest! In treating the disease, the primary aim is to reduce the pressure within the eyeball. Prompt treatment can check the monthly and sometimes reduce the pressure to normal, but cannot restore the part of the retina and the nerve which glaucoma has already destroyed.

The inside of a crushed, burning automobile is no place to end your vacation. Take absolutely no chances.

fighter pilots flying Sabre 6s delivered home from the United States and France.

The rockets are fired without pilot and navigator seeing the target. The process is radar controlled, from the time the interceptor leaves the ground until the moment a load of rocket warhead is made, or missed. Both are over twelve miles slantly with a ground control interceptor operator, who guides the aircraft to a target which he sees only as a blip on a radar scope.

When the aircraft is close enough to the target, the navigator is able to see the target 'blip' on his smaller radar screen and it is his turn to guide the pilot on to the target. Soon the navigator is able to fasten his radar momentarily on the target, and the pilot must keep the 'blip' in the centre of his scope until the proper range has been manually controlled, from the time the interceptor leaves the ground until the moment a load of rocket warhead is made, or missed. Both are over twelve miles slantly with a ground control interceptor operator, who guides the aircraft to a target which he sees only as a blip on a radar scope.

When the aircraft is close enough to the target, the navigator is able to see the target

In this [illegible] the [illegible] is far from peaceful. The purpose of Cold Lake's competitive exercises is meant to, of course, prevention. Today a crisis at the interceptor bases the pilot and navigator only the hours and hours of their training and other squadrons who were more successful. Tomorrow, however, or at some future date, a raise at a much bigger target, an enemy bomber, could be the fate of thousands of Canadian and American residents.

BEER COMPETITION

Competition is keen among the 18 interceptor squadrons from Comox British Columbia station to Bagotville, in Eastern Quebec. Each station is having two representatives entered and several, North Bay and Comox each have Ontario entries, while St. Hubert in Eastern Quebec has a special challenge for the next Two Comox crews are the sole entries west of Ontario. All of the crews have spent the past week practicing, and shooting, pilot or navigator for the big event.

The crews now assembled at Cold Lake are part of the nucleus of the integrated air defence of North America. Each crew is a permanent their home squadron at this most because of their skill and efficiency as interceptor crews, they play a key role in our air defence. It is their job to intercept enemy bombers before they reach modern cities, or, more important, before they can destroy the home bases of North America's great deterrent, Strategic Air Command's bombers.

The Cold Lake rocket meet marks the first time that Canada has entered this field on such a large scale. Recently our NATO rotations in Europe flying the Sabre 6s defeated the United States and French teams in a rocket contest, but this was the first held over Canadian soil.

The rocket meet will end on Friday, with the winning squadron receiving the coveted Mc-Brian Trophy. There will also be a trophy given to the top single navigator - pilot - controller crew to compete in the event. There is bound to be plenty fanfare as long as the RCAF is manning aircraft.

PUBLIC SPEAKING

Among other important matters discussed was the organizations of a public speaking club to function within the club itself, which is entirely prohibited.

Monday meetings, naturally would be very convenient and appreciated by many bunters but its far too far. One of the reasons is the heavy concentration of hunting and weekends. The trek to the fields starts Friday night, continues Saturday morning throughout the day and the evening.

Parks, especially close to the cities where the hunters can out in humidity over the country side, would be unable to feed for two or three days and consequently take flight to more peaceful surroundings cutting out any further hunting, diminishing entirely.

The Sunday rest gives the duck a chance to feed and remain. They get a full until the middle of the week on the Wednesday or Thursday half-holiday and maybe again until the week-end.

Moderate and controlled hunting is better than nothing at all. The rules and regulations are there for a purpose and they remain the maximum conservation ally by all good sportsmen.

ton route to 230 to date.

There has been a notable increase in migratory birds for 1957 done mostly to the favorable nesting conditions this spring. The year was dry with no flooding of marshes and ponds permitting the birds to lay, hatch and grow undisturbed for the hunting season.

SUNDAY SHOOTING

Last week we published a complete summary of the hunting regulations, including those for shooting and illegal practices. Unfortunately there has been reports of gun seizures for violations. Continued vigilance will be necessary to keep the [illegible] ... especially concerning violations on Sunday shooting which is entirely prohibited.

General Store Is Gutted By Fire At Mallaig

No Equipment To Fight The Blaze

One of the oldest established stores in Mallaig was completely gutted by fire Saturday night. The blaze which caught in the basement smouldered for over two hours, filling the store with smoke, preventing administrators before it erupted in flames and destroyed the entire stock valued at nearly $30,000.00.

Owner of the store, Mr. Frechman Peivier was at home in residential quarters adjacent to the store when the fire broke out. All members of the family escaped without injury except Mrs. Poirier who received slight bruises to an arm while attempting to recover her premises in search of one of the children. Her fears were unfounded however the child was safe and sound outside.

A good part of the household furniture was saved, but the entire contents of the store were destroyed The smoke and a large supply of ammunition, mostly shot gun shells, exploded kept rescuers at a distance

The fire broke out in the basement at about 10:45 but it was not before twelve that it was noted in flames and engulfed the building Intense heat from the conflagration which reached across the 66-foot street terminating Mr. Pete Mallaille's store, saved only by the efforts of a bucket brigade carrying water to the Mallaille threatened across its front.

Mallaig, a hamlet, under municipal administration, has no volunteer fire brigade, nor any fire protection equipment. Observers say that the blaze continued to burn for such a long could easily have been extinguished with even a small pumper before any serious damage had been done to the store.

Mr Poirier who has been in poor health for some years is in stroke and was under care of doctors for a few days. The Poiriers have taken up residence in the Post Mayehead and Mallaig Hotel has extended to rebuild as soon as possible.

Ottawa's Upland Squadron No. 410 impressed a Large crowd of over 200 Airmen, including Air Commodore D. A. R. Bradshaw, Commander USAF group Major Col. Baldwin, and eight other squadrons when they shot down top honors at the first all-Canadian Rocket firing meet held at Cold Lake's RCAF Station last week flying back home with a shinning shield—the MacBrien Trophy, emblematic of top honors in air weapons competition.

The shoot called for a blind firing of rocket fire under enemy skies for the Ottawa Squadron who had it out in close competition against their nearest rival, 414 Squadron from Comox, B.C., averaging on their hall trying to catch up on the leaders Friday, with final bursts of concentrated fire which just didn't quite make it.

Thieves All Set For Good Shooting

Seven hunter thieves are on the loose. On Saturday night they packed off Joe Bilik's pump gun, three boxes of shells and a hunting jacket, presumably while the owner was occupied at the car bingo. The equipment was taken from his car

Joe estimates the value of his loss at about $130.00 and wonders why the thieves did not make a clean sweep of it and include his top trainer in the haul.

R.C.A.F. Teamwork Counts

In the old days of harnstorming flying, pilots with daring and ability were the heroes of the air. When they met in combat with an enemy it was all up to them to shoot down an opponent or die in the attempt.

Today aerial combat has greatly changed. The stress on co-operation and teamwork in the all important bomber and fighter developed by air-force officials to a point where, ground and air crews are one working in complete harmony for each and every maneuver of the mission.

This conclusion was made today as attended the first annual Bomber meet of Cold Lake where nine squadrons competed for top honors. Questioning pilots and navigators on the aspects of the competition—what were its tough problems? who had the greatest responsibility and contributed most to the success of a run?—no were told that no single individual could claim special honors. The whole operation depends on teamwork. While the air crew fly to the day, they are entirely dependent, first on their ground controller to get them on the right track. But after a day's flying and before the jets can take to the air again, there are many hours of maintenance, unglamorous work to be done by the ground crew. To keep the aircraft in trim for the Bomber Meet, crews had to work up to 17 hours a day and sometimes around the clock. In an age of electronics, radar, automatic controls, the supersonic factor is aircraft maintenance. No matter how good the pilot and navigator are, they can hit nothing accurately unless their radar is functioning properly armament controls operating smoothly, along with all the intricate equipment the planes carry.

It was recorded that ground crew maintenance men discovered sixteen flaws in mechanism which had not been spotted by the aircrew. Those were the little factors which counted and brought success to the squadrons, with laurels, recognized as belonging to every member who shared equally in the honors and the pride of winning the MacBrien Trophy at Cold Lake last week.

We believe that this first Bomber meet has achieved its purpose as described last week by Squadron Leader Bill Tweed, Officer Commanding Weapons Practice unit —to determine the efficiency of Canada's air defense. The crews stood up well under the stress of the week-long competition and proved that they were able to galvanize into instant action, fly consistently, shoot accurately and well above average in the unusual conditions simulated as close as possible during the meet.

The rocket meet will stimulate squadrons to put more co-operation into their training programs to win the trophy and in doing so will boost the efficiency of all units in Canada, tuning them up to a high standard for better protection of our country which is the ultimate goal of keeping it true our force.

DON'T LOSE LICENSE!

Don't lose your hunting license! If you do there is a long waiting read of red tape ahead to get another one and at the moment you'll be forced to hang up your gun.

One local almost lost his hunting license recently and found out the hard way. The hunter, a conscientious fellow immediately went to the Game Warden to report the loss. He was asked to describe the fellow, fill in an application form for another permit.

This he was told would take up to ten days before approval came from the license branch. In the meantime, unless he would be outside of being caught without a license, he must refrain from doing any hunting at all. He is now classed as not having purchased a license even though he has the number of the one lost, and reported to the Game Warden.

The law forbids him to go ahead and buy another one for $2.50 which would be his complete way out But, you must obey the hunting license.

They person is our owner who has lost one and in the interim period, before he receives the new one is given, is ignoring his license to make application for another permit to circulate around. Why in such an unimportant branch of licensing-hunting are the regulations so unreasonable.

We sometimes wonder what goes on in the minds of the legislators who draw up the nonsense clauses. A little more sportsmanship on the part of the Game Licensing Branch would be in order.

CALF CLUB NEEDED

In an editorial in the columns of this newspaper, last spring, we brought attention to the lack of a Calf Club in the immediate St. Paul area. It is remarked then that if planning started immediately and determination to succeed, a Club could be formed by fall with plenty of time to purchase calves and grown them through the winter months for the spring showings and sales.

We are wondering at this time if anything concrete has been done about it We hear Elk Point is attempting to form a club. The time has come for St. Paul to do likewise and the district agriculturist would appreciate hearing from parents and young farmers who might be interested.

There is a lucrative future in the cattle industry of this mixed farming area Calf clubs are the foundations for high grade cattle herd, a source of education to young farmers in methods of grooming raising the standard of the cattle industry.

Agriculture, today, faces tough competition There is great need for progress, by raising the standard of farm income to a level where will keep young men on the farm and attract others to it.

A calf club is one way of building up the standard and for that reason, farmers would do well to encourage their children in calf club activities and associate himself in general agriculture and cattle raising.

Economic Prosperity Throughout Canada

In Canada during the first month of September, 1957? Of course. Many Canadians are at work than ever before, a standard of living of our people is higher than that of any other country on earth at the time. Employment of the newer kind is greater.

But prosperity, like most desirable things, has its price. The price of the prosperity stem from here on is a full understanding of the economic facts of life on the part of all of us, not least the industrial management.

What are these economic facts of life? The first and most important is that there is nothing sacred about prosperity itself: it can disappear in short order, and, if we are complacent about it, probably will. Nobody owes us a living.

Our prosperity is, in fact, measured more serious today—not dollars which buy less and less—than it has been in a long time. There can't be many people left who don't know that this remembrance decline in the purchasing power of the dollar results from rising prices, which stem from rising costs, which, in turn, are largely due to wages constantly rising at a faster rate than national productivity.

This, in short, is the vicious circle of inflation which, prosperity or no prosperity, has wrought such havoc on the incomes of retired wage-earners and others on fixed incomes who are unprotected against the relentless rise in the prices of the things they must buy.

There is, of course, nothing new in this condition. It has been with us a long time, and, with the unfortunate and growing exceptions already mentioned, most of us have become richer rather than poorer But this has happened in spite of inflation —not because of it.

That we as a people, are so much better off than ever before is entirely due to the tremendous economic expansion in the past decade This has led to a vast increase in our production of goods and services, and enabled us, on many occasions, to keep ahead of the world ravages of inflation.

But the economy can indefinitely sustain the pressures of rising prices and an eroding currency, even if expanding. And it now seems quite clear that the exceptional expansion of 1956 is not going to be repeated this year, even though there are many more people working.

Although the average weekly wage in manufacturing industries is currently approaching an all-time high of $70, factory production is hardly more than a year ago. But the pile-up of warehouse stocks is considerably greater All of which means that the time is past when wage increases could be demanded —and extracted— in the confident expectation that the consumer would pay the cost. Whether he just can't within any more.

In the end last, inexorable economic law itself, is that while you can lend a customer the your product you can't make him buy. It is the basic economic right of the consumer to say no if he doesn't think the product worth the price asked; and there is growing evidence of his disposition to exercise that right.

The harsh truth is that there is no line-up of world customers clamouring for Canadian manufactured goods regardless of their prices. The Canadian manufacturer, in fact, is finding it increasingly difficult to sell his products in Canada itself.

That this should be so should occasion no surprise The problems of economic production in a country where there are fewer people than in New York State are great enough to start with; and add to them a cost structure which spirals ever upwards at a much faster rate than that of his foreign competitors and your domestic manufacturer is placed at an impossible disadvantage.

The moral of all that should not be lost on the million-and-a-quarter Canadians who depend on manufacturing industries for their jobs and their livelihood. There are no objects of grounds for confidence in the economic or of prosperity But there are all the makings of the most disastrous form of life and their implications, being fully appreciated

New Manitoba Liquor Outlets Have Sparked Improvements

WINNIPEG (CP) — Manitoba's new liquor outlets have sparked a definite improvement in restaurant food and service instead of the boosting apex predicted by some, Barnard Halstead, liquor commission chairman, said today.

He said, "Some people expected a revolution but instead we have had a quiet evolution."

Manitoba's new outlets were first launched six months ago.

Mr. Halstead said there was no evidence that the new outlets have resulted in increased drinking.

The standard of food to be offered has been a basic consideration in licensing the new outlets and the commission has been standing on "the establishment and maintenance of the highest economic standard of food operation," he said.

Mr. Halstead estimated that more than 1 million had been spent on improvement of eating establishments.

The first of the new licences were issued March 1 and since then, 68 establishments have been licensed — all but 16 of them in greater Winnipeg.

Total sales by the liquor commission now are running about 10 per cent ahead of last year

Russia Announces Production Of Intercontinental Ballistic Missiles

Considerable speculation has arisen internationally, following the announcement on Monday of the supposedly successful testing of Russia's Inter-Continental Ballistic Missiles. Civil Defence authorities in Canada stress that the development of this type of weapon will not little affect the planning for Civil Defence purposes For some years it has been accepted that ICBM's would be mass-produced, causing a revolutionary, and Major-General F. F. Worthington, Federal Co-ordinator for Civil Defence, stresses that this kind of assumption is still essential. The principle of dispersal is still valid and what really is to better to be somewhere else when the bomb goes off

General Worthington maintains that the idea of crash evacuation is at present not workable. Some kind of a warning should be given, we should plan to get people away as speedily as possible from the target areas There is naturally, the hope that the number of the missiles will not be 100 percent accurate that Russia, certainly, should be stressed that an air of deferment must not creep into Civil Defence thinking as on other the federal provincial or the municipal levels still we must still bear in mind that the planning for Civil Defence is comprehensive against all war With the release of information concerning the Russian testing of missiles there is the tendency to forget that we of the Western Alliance have continued experiments in the field of I.C.B.M.'s. The United States are at most or less the same level of experimentation in that and their medium range missiles are believed to be capable of falling on the principal centres of any potential enemy.

In the United Kingdom guided missiles were recently displayed at the Farnborough Air Show Nine different types of missiles were displayed by the Society of British Aircraft Contractors, including rocket model interceptors, with an unofficial speed of 2000 miles per hour. The exhibition of missile weapons is only the beginning of the engineering problems rocket warfare. Bigger and more powerful weapons are in test production including the long range Atlantic rocket Some degree of comfort to the Western Alliance can be accepted from the point that if these weapons can be put on display in the United Kingdom, still greater and more powerful weapons must be locked behind the doors of the laboratories and factories.

Therefore, it is generally felt in this Force that all the arms could be between the opposing nations, but the greatest weapon Russia has have is the realization of the superiority of our way of life and the knowledge that, with cooperation in all aspects of living, we can rise above the many threats Khrushchev "Sputnik" may launch on us.

New Canada Map

A new map of Canada and her provinces has recently been compiled by a team of engineers, geologists and the Royal Canadian Air Force in an interesting article in this week's Star Weekly. Adam J. Oxley describes how this map was carried out with the difficulties encountered during the long years of its making. A feature of the new map is the discovery that Prince of Wales Island, on which is located the Boothia Peninsula N.W.T. was found to be three miles out of position on previous maps.

The new chart is extremely accurate — thanks to a method of survey employing "shoran" — the abbreviated for Short Range Aid to Navigation.

This method was first introduced to Canada's barren areas during the Second World War. It as a high altitude blind bombing system and their medium range remains as believed to be capable of falling on the principal centres of any potential enemy.

The United Kingdom guided missiles were recently displayed at the Farnborough Air Show Nine different types of missiles were displayed by the Society of British Aircraft Contractors, including rocket model interceptors, with an unofficial speed of 2000 miles per hour. The exhibition of missile weapons is only the beginning of the engineering problems rocket warfare. Bigger and more powerful weapons are in test production including the long range Atlantic rocket Some were in Canada's far north.

One thing that intrigued us during the first Annual Rocket Shoot held at Cold Lake RCAF Station last week, was the method of computing the hits on the targets.

In modern air to air firing of rockets from planes travelling at 600 miles an hour, converging on a target moving nearly as fast it is impossible for the human eye to see and record what is going on. The problem is solved with the use of a 35 mm camera mounted on the under carriage of the wings, triggered off simultaneously with the firing of the rockets.

Each time the CF-100 closes in on the target and fires its burst of rockets, two cameras, one under each wing, are grinding away. They hold the true story of the violent action as the rockets stream out from the wingtips, in flame and fury, and race for the target. They are too target flash point for only an instant, but experts, by a system of triangulation, can determine if the rockets would have hit or missed, a target the size of a 500 type aircraft.

Just thirty minutes from the time the sleek 11 ton CF-100 touched down and taxis to the ramp ground crew from film processing unloaded, developed and dried a 50 foot reels of film taken from the cameras. These films were positive proof as to the marksmanship of the participants in this strange competition, staged high in the sky over northern Alberta. Most officials stressed the importance of film assessing in determining the score, as it eventually the top squadron in the air to air rocket competition

During World War II when machine guns were the only air to air combat weapon, the accuracy of fire could easily be assessed by the number of holes punched in a towed banner target on which the crew had aimed in firing pass. Today, however, with faster aircraft and far more destructive weapons, crews can no longer be effectively evaluated in this manner. It is now desirable to know precisely the position of not only the rockets that hit the target, but also of those that miss too. To do this cameras are used and pictures are constantly taken of rockets winging their way to a target, that is as small it is seldom hit. Yet on film the small target will effectively serve as a reference point to which the accuracy of all rockets fired can be assessed.

RECOVERS AFTER 6 MONTHS COMA

Uncommon for six months, Shirley Coleman, of Pembroke, Ont., has made an almost miraculous recovery and is now back at her desk. She is shown with W. J. Meenaugh (at play) holding a cheque for $1,000 which he helped the committee raise for her benefit at Pembroke to help pay the bills. She was seriously injured in a car crash last March.

Rocket Fire Regulations Demand Perfect Co-operation Of Crews

Station Cold Lake was host to representatives of Canada's nine all-weather squadrons at a week-long rocket meet beginning the 16th of September. Extensive plans were made by the Weapons Practice Unit (WPU) staff, headed by the Officer Commanding, S/L. Vincent to ensure that the most —first of its kind ever held in Canada—would be a real

Teams from each squadron composed of two aircrews with three CF-100 aircraft and a member ground support crew consisting of airframe and armament technicians, a GCI controller and a technical officer, arrived at Cold Lake a week before to begin a four day "shakedown" period. During this period the teams were occupied with the important preliminary tasks of "zeroing in" the aircraft and becoming familiar with the regulations of the range and the most Competitive shooting began on the 9th of September and ended five full days later, on Friday the 13th.

Each crew is permitted a maximum of six shots valued at a total of 100 points for a total possible score of 600 points. Each crew is called for aircraft to be airborne at specific times and if they couldn't take to the air at those times, due to unserviceabilities or other difficulties, they automatically forfeited the 1,000 points for the shoot that was missed.

Points are awarded on the basis of hit probability (that is the probability of one rocket striking a B-29 type of aircraft) and crew participation at scoop interviewing and the number of GCI controlled passes made. The number of passes is restricted to a maximum of three with the greatest number of points awarded for firing on the first pass and the fewest for firing on the last pass.)

The winning squadron could theoretically amass 12,000 points while the winning crew could amass [illegible]

The range procedures used in the meet were identical to those employed when each of the all-weather squadrons made their periodic visit to the WPU to practice rocketry. T-33 aircraft towing a radar reflecting target on 8,000 feet of piano wire are tracked by CF-100's and GCI. When the "CF's" are locked on the target the rockets fire automatically providing that the team has manoeuvered the aircraft to the right spot at the right time.

There were 148 actual air and ground crew participants in the meet and an adjudicating staff of more than 20 headed by Chief Judge, W/C Lawlor, the new COpsO at Cold Lake. The judging staff included aircrew, technical armament, GCI and Photo experts

In the first half of 1957 construction was started on 48,470 new dwelling units, compared to 60,-200 in the first half of 1956.

BUY AND APPLY NITROGEN
. . . the plant food your crop uses most for bigger, better yields in 1958!

Your crops are more Nitrogen than any other plant food — 80 bushels of wheat take 47 lbs. of Nitrogen from your soil, two tons of brome hay take 60 lbs. away. Without Nitrogen, your crops would starve!

Spread Elephant Brand High Nitrogen Fertilizers* on your stubble or pasture now! Next Spring, even before you can get on your land, fertilized grasslands are growing . . . Nitrogen is decomposing crop residue on stubble land, providing more valuable plant food.

Here are three ways of applying Elephant Brand High Nitrogen Fertilizers. Left to right: 1. Low pressure nitrogenous, by injecting the bottom ends of the anhydrous knife. 2. Broadcasting dry granular fertilizer. 3. Using a mixed solution of nitrogen and phosphate fertilizer. Elephant Brand 82-0 is a popular granulated nitrogen.

FOR GRASSLANDS
Nitrogen applied in the Fall means more money for you . . . you can put twice as many head on every acre, get them on the land from 2 to 4 weeks sooner and keep them there longer.

Elephant Brand High Nitrogen Fertilizers* produce more better tasting forage, richer in essential proteins and minerals – you'll see the difference in fatter steers and heifers, and more milk production.

FOR STUBBLE
Nitrogen on stubble speeds up decomposition of valuable crop residues. In Spring plant food from both the crop residue and the Nitrogen fertilizer is available to the new crop. The young plants benefit immediately from the readily available food in Elephant Brand High Nitrogen Fertilizers*

Ottawa Squadron Wins First Rocket Shoot At Cold Lake; Also Take Top Individual Honors Home

Squadron, Comox, B.C.; 409 Squadron, North Bay; 439 Squadron, Ottawa, and 413 Squadron, Bagotville.

The high single score for the last day of the meet was recorded by Montreal's 425 squadron crew of Flying Officer Jack Clark, 26, of Kirkenby, Fife, in the U.K.

A third award for ground crew efficiency was won by Station St. Hubert with Station Uplands placing second.

Squadron Leader Norm Carter of Toronto, flying with 433 squadron, Bagotville, called the meet "the first opportunity for CF-100 teams to assess their true capabilities". He continued, "we have learned a great deal in this last week, and everyone is more than satisfied with the results."

TEAM WORK ESSENTIAL

Air Commodore D. A. R. Bradshaw, Chief of operations at Air Command Headquarters, St. Hubert, presented the MacBrien Trophy to 416 squadron commander Leader H. E. Boddam, of Sussex, England Squadron Leader Boddam and his navigator Flying Officer Glen Emmerson 26, of Mellon, Saskatchewan, as the high individual scorers for the five-day meet with the point total of a possible thousand.

"It becomes evident to all that the most important thing in the rocketry business is the necessity for "co-operation and teamwork between the aircrew, groundcrew and radar controllers," he officiously opposite a CF-100 interceptor. "If one element is less efficient than the other two, then good results cannot be expected."

Bradshaw praised the work of the groundcrew, some of whom worked 15 to 17 hours daily to keep the aircraft in top shape for the duration of the meet. He expressed the congratulations of Air Defence Command, and particularly of his commanding officer, Air Vice Marshall Larry S. Wray, Air Defence Chief

Squadron 445 was "top dog" now, but a few rocket meets ago it was the first rocket meets on the trend and the pattern established at Cold Lake, the competition is going to be tough great year and the defenders will have to sharpen their shooting eye still more to protect their trophy. A starting point has been established for progress to continue next year, he said. He further congratulated Group Captain D. Hovel, Commanding Officer of the host base for the efficient manner the meet was organized and successfully conducted during the initial year

AMERICAN TROPHY

A band of friendship and cooperation was extended from south of the border with the presence of Col. Baldwin, United States Air Force, Vincent Air Force Base, Yuma, Arizona, who was on hand to congratulate the winners and present the United Weapons Trophy. The award, a beautiful, 3-foot tall silver cup carries a citation for the RCAF's best all-weather fighter squadron, displaying top performance and airmanship during competitions at ADC Weapons meet in Cold Lake for 1957

In making the presentation to S/L Boddam, officer Commanding 410 Squadron, Col Baldwin expressed his personal admiration to the Canadians for their high efficiency and ability in the air. He hoped that the meet would set an example for the States and perhaps expand to a friendly international competition between the two countries in the future

Recently, Canadian NATO squadrons flying Sabre jets defeated United States and French teams in rocket contests.

NO INDIVIDUAL STARS

Bradshaw [illegible] pilots and navigators of the team every expressed the feeling that there were no individual stars on any team and the success of a shoot depended entirely upon the cooperation of every person involved.

Squadron Leader Norm Carter of Toronto, flying with 433 squadron from Bagotville, said there is an element of secrecy just before every crew "goes up" when a quick exchange between pilot and navigator gives the final opening, angle of approach, speed and other information that will mean success or failure. There is no guessing it's a process of mathematical computation done precisely and accurately as possible for best results, said the pilot.

RECORD MEETING

Five days of competitive flying at near supersonic speeds over-head a terrific tension on the flying crews and maintenance personnel Steam was blown out after the final results when members of the winning squadron, 445 from Comox, B.C. and crews made parade of their own

The usual sky larking was in evidence during the meet with the Comox Squadron drawing results attraction with a stuffed bank, emblematic of their wards of every description, and the boys trad to "bank" it away during the night but a new officer had taken the precaution of protecting it securely under lock and key and foiled the plot

The concluding ceremony centered on the former of hangar No. 6 where the nine squadrons, Officers Commanding, pilots, navigators and ground crews, stood at attention for inspection by Air Commodore Bradshaw. Pacific Coast Is Shipping Grain

Interesting not only because it shows the pattern of record grain shipments from the Pacific Coast but also because it indicates that a record total movement was reached during the 1956-57 season, is a year-end report issued by the Vancouver Merchant's Exchange.

It is noted that by far the largest quantity of grain, some 104 million bushels or 1/3 more of the total 138.2 million leaving coast coast ports went to three of Canada's major customers, Japan taking 43.4 million bushels, the United Kingdom, 38.7 million and Germany 22.2 million. Included in smaller quantities went to some twenty other countries as well. No less than four-fifths of the shipments were wheat and the rest mainly barley plus a somewhat smaller, though not unimportant quantity of flax. Of the special crops, which have been grown more extensively in Western Canada in recent years, a total of 1,179,576 bushels of rapeseed moved from Pacific Coast ports last season to Japan and the continent.

If, as appears likely, the far eastern market for cereals increases in importance, there would seem to be a bright future indeed for the Pacific Coast ports. It is clear however, that the present movement of this direction does not depend upon eastern markets alone. In fact, apart from Japan, the major portion of this year's exports have been destined to Continental Europe, as well as to Central and South America

Chemical Preserver

Before fruit is frozen many authorities recommend that an anti-darkening agent should be used This prevents the fruit from turning brown and from losing its fresh flavor.

Citric acid or lemon juice can be employed for this purpose but these agents require large quantities tending to mask the natural flavor or make the fruit too sour A new product which avoids these two difficulties is a combination of ascorbic acid being used by commercial freezers as an anti-darkening agent, with sucrose, a natural form of sugar.

The two ingredients are free flowing and mix readily with sugar to make a solution for fruit freezing. The product is equally effective in preventing discoloration when it is sprinkled dry on fruit slices set to thaw are placed in the freezer

Another advantage offered by this mixture is that when sprinkled over fruit salads and desserts they remain fresh and appetizing for hours This enables you to prepare such dishes long before mealtime

A Sunshine jar, which costs about a dollar at the corner drug store, contains ascorbic acid and sucrose to preserve 15 pounds of any of the following fruits apples, apricots, bananas, cantaloupe balls, cherries, nectarines, peaches, pears, plums and fruit cocktail With each jar the makers provide recipes for freezing these fruits and making up fresh fruit cocktails."

Garden-Graph

By DEAN HALLIDAY

When a tree is dug in a nursery a large part of its root system is necessarily lost When it is planted, a part of the top growth needs to be cut back to establish a healthy balance between the roots and top

Most nursery-planted trees about one-third of the branches should be pruned away as shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph. Trim off any branches which are formed or broken, also any that are too low or crowded Do not cut back the leader or central stem, as this destroys the natural shape of the tree.

Trees which have a mass of fibrous roots do not require as severe pruning as trees which have only a long tap root.

After a try has been set in the hole do not twist it in trying to position it This may result in tearing the roots, thus causing them to "girdle" as they develop As result of girdling trees sometimes strangle themselves.

Young trees planted in the fall should be staked to protect them against strong winter winds, especially if planted in exposed locations. Drive the stake into the young tree in the manner shown in the Garden-Graph It is also important to stake old trees, if they have been transplanted.

Newly planted trees often are benefitted in wrapping them against sun burn This is done by wrapping strips of burlap in spiral fashion about the trunk

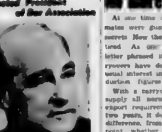
Elected President of Bar Association



New head of the Canadian Bar association, Arthur Ellis, Q.C., Toronto, succeeds J. C. Louis of Regina. Some 1,200 lawyers convening at Banff in annual session will consider, among other matters, a controversial resolution calling for a standard fee to lawyers defending persons who cannot afford to hire their own counsel. Most lawyers give free legal aid to indigents.

No Bare Hiding

At one time official crop estimates were guarded like budget secrets Now they are hardly noticed As one senior economist letter phrased it, "the large carryovers have detracted from the usual interest in the annual production figures"

With a carryover sufficient to supply all normal domestic and export requirements for the next two years, it doesn't make much difference, from a market standpoint, whether this year's crop is up or down a few million bushels or so. A reasonable normal bushels. Crop or no crop, we are still going to have a lot of wheat to sell right going to have our storage facilities cl-ged, still going to have a kind of paralysis in a great Canadian industry

In the crop year just completed Canada had a quota of 60 7 million bushels under the International Wheat Agreement, but sold only 36 million bushels to [illegible]

The girls from all three clubs really worked hard this year. On the whole we can compliment them for high standard of work exhibited. In a few weeks the girls will be told who the efficiency winner is in their club. Meet With Federal Minister To Determine Boxcar Allocation

Last week the Boxcar Allocation Committee of the province of Wheat Pools and the heads of grain companies met with the Hon. Gordon Churchill, minister of trade and commerce, to discuss the allocation of boxcars between country elevators. The group reports a good hearing but Mr Churchill recommended mutual aid and the legislation covering box [illegible] could be expected at the beginning of the coming agricultural season of parliament.

Because of almost continuous congestion in country elevators the amount of grain an elevator is able to handle is influenced in large measure, if not entirely determined, by the number of shipping orders it receives. These shipping orders are distributed by the Canadian Wheat Board on the instructions of the government, in accordance with formula known only to themselves.

The Wheat Pools contend that this system does not give producers complete freedom to say as when they deliver their grain. Instead, they are forced to take it to whatever elevator has space. The Pools also argue that the Canadian Wheat Board should not be coupled with the responsibility of establishing the amount of grain each elevator should handle.

For several years they have proposed a plan which would relieve the Board of the burden and at the same time restore the right of the producer to deliver to the elevator of his choice. [illegible] Wheat Pools [illegible] to the Board [illegible] the elevator they wish to patronize. From these ballots, a ratio could be established for the distribution of cars at each point.

A year ago, the Pools made strong representation to the Agricultural Committee of the House of Commons, but were disappointed in the committee's final report which suggested no changes. With a new government in office, the situation regarding boxcar distribution is uncertain. But it is sure that the present system of distributing shipping orders is unsatisfactory to a very large number of farmers, to the Pools and to the Wheat Board

BEAVERBROOK HONORED IN LIFETIME

When Canadian-born British publisher Lord Beaverbrook makes his annual visit to Fredericton, N.B., this year he will see a statue erected in his honor and paid for by the people of his province. The statue was unveiled on August and was built by 5-cent contributions. The idea was started by "Shad" Ryan, a Fredericton sightseeing bus driver who thought Beaverbrook should be honored in life for his contributions to the province. Voluntary donations built the statue, municipal and civic governments made the property available and built the base. Mr Ryan is shown here standing the statue.

Mr. Churchill will be accompanied by Mr W C McNamara, Assistant Chief Commissioner of the Canadian Wheat Board, Mr W Riddell, Commissioner, and Mr W J Brooking, General Sales Manager.

He will return to Montreal on September 27, in time to attend the Commonwealth Finance Ministers Conference at Mont Tremblant, Que.

During his visit to Europe, Mr Churchill will meet members of the grain trade and milling interests, and discuss the possibilities of increasing sale in the countries concerned.

"The mission to Europe is another evidence of the Government's determination to increase exports of Canadian grain and flour," said Mr Churchill. "Our aim is to regain our fair share of world trade in wheat and flour. Europe accounts for a very high percentage of that trade. I only regret that I cannot take the time to visit more of our mills there in Europe. The members of the Canadian Wheat Board will, however, stay on in Europe for several weeks after my departure for home."

Host With Federal Minister To Determine Bonser Allocation

Last week the Bonser Allocation Committee of the prairie Wheat Pools and the heads of the three organizations met with Hon. Gordon Churchill, minister of trade and commerce, to discuss the allocation of bonsers between country elevators. The group reports a good hearing but Mr. Churchill was non-committal and said it is beyond question covering box or allocation could be expected at the forthcoming special session of parliament.

These shipping orders are distributed by the Canadian Wheat Board on the instructions of the government, in accordance with formula known only to themselves.

BEAVERBROOK HONORED IN LIFETIME

When Canadian-born British publisher Lord Beaverbrook makes his annual visit to Fredericton, N.B., this year he will see this statue dedicated to him and paid for by the people of his province. The statue was unveiled on August and was built by 15-cent contributions. The idea was started by "Shan" Ryan, a Fredericton sign-painter-boss, who advocated the idea that Beaverbrook should be honored in life for his contributions to the province. Voluntary donations built the statue; municipal and civic governments made the property available and built the base. Mr. Ryan is shown here unveiling the statue.

MR. DIEFENBAKER VISITS A MONARCH

On the social scale, P. S. Troubador could be said to enjoy a higher rating than Prime Minister Diefenbaker, who went out of his way to visit the stall where the shorthorn steer was installed. Troubador, formerly owned by Rancher Cyrus Eaton, is an international grand champion and is billed as the King of Beef at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto.

Cream Blooms In Late Summer

Mr John Bodnar walked into our office Monday morning with a fresh blooming cereus. These flowers blooming in the fall in the region are usually considered a rarity because we always associate the cereus with spring and early summer.

However, there are several species of cereus, one which will bloom in autumn as well as in the case of this find.

It was discovered on the south slope of a hill 10 miles north of Andrew's where it was blooming on a late garden, abounding in profusion with the lovely light purple flowers. The flower was found by a party of berry pickers.

Some old-timers, claim that late blooming cereus indicates a cold harsh winter ahead.

OUTCLASSES BOYS IN 4-H EVENT

When it comes to judging livestock, nearly 100 boys at Leduc-Beaver 4-H District will never pass to "underestimate the power of a woman." That was of the women in Laurel Dale, Mo., who outclassed all the men to become the first girl to win the 4-H junior championship for livestock judging. The pert seventeen-year-old from Clinton, Okla.

Of Canada's $2.3 billion worth of exports in the first half of 1957 nearly half the total was accounted for by seven commodities—newsprint, wheat, wood pulp planks and boards, aluminum and copper.

Plum Tree Bears Fruit In St. Paul

It is not unusual to grow crab apples in this country, but plum trees are definitely a rarity. Yet, Mr. Joe Wengerowski reports that he has had success with plums in his back yard.

For the first time in its existence the tree has produced fruit which reportedly resembles the cultivated type except as a deep bright red and believes that fruit is known under the name of "Pesh Plums"

Just how old the tree is, Joe doesn't know, but it was there in 1942 when he purchased the property close to the tracks, next to the Greek Catholic Church.

Mrs. Wengerowski has tasted two complete pails from the productive tree before the fruit, Monday and says they're delicious to make jelly or preserves.

Fashions

Soon we will be thinking and buying in terms of cozy clothes, such as is shown here. The fur trimmed tweed skirt to cut on the bias and to flare slightly at the hemline. Add a matching belt and a contrasting blouse and the large patch pockets. The lighter gray shirt is of denton and cotton mixture and is worn under a flattering wool sweater in darker gray, making for a fetching jumper dress. A good office or campus style.

GLEN AVON SEPARATE SCHOOL OFFICIALLY OPENED

Under bright skies favoring the official opening of Glen Avon's Protestant Separate School, the Hon. Ray Roberson, hands colors on the lawn or in the presence of guests, school officials and visiting dignitaries. They are left to right, Mr. J. ohn Hnatiuk, Sr. F. C. Miller, Mr. R. Bavelle, Mr. John Hnit, Mr. Alex Tuzuck, Mr. Hab Mueller, Mr. Norman Shaier and Hon. A. O. Aalberg, Minister of Education. In the top inset, Br. J. A. Molcolmb, Chairman of the Board, makes presentation of enlarged school key to Mr. John Hnatiuk new principal of the school.

Glen Avon School Officially Opened

Handsome new and different has been added to the schools and educational system of Alberta with the erection of the modern Glen Avon Protestant Separate School," said the Hon A. O. Aalberg, Minister of Education for the Province of Alberta while guest speaker at the official opening ceremony of the $200,000 structure Monday afternoon in St Paul

The ceremonies started with a luncheon banquet at the Donald Cafe dinning rooms, followed by raising of colors on the school flag pole by Mr. Ray Roberson, Minister of Municipal and Labor; cutting of the ribbon at the main entrance by Mr. Aalberg; official welcome by Mayor John Van Hemessen; invocation by Rev. J. Kobluke of Elk Point; good wishes from a number of dignitaries and guests present in the large spacious gymnasium; along with a light luncheon served.

Mr. Aalberg said the new school was a far cry from the small class rooms he attended in his youth and taught in during the first years of his career He paid particular compliment to the design of the Glen Avon School, commenting that in his capacity as Minister of Education he had occasion to visit almost every new school in the province He found as Glen Avon features unique to school construction, pointing out the novel indirect lighting method emanating from the gymnasium walls.

EQUALITY OF EDUCATION

The Department of Education of the Province of Alberta, according to Mr. Aalberg has organized its educational program on the principle of equality for all school children whether they live in the large cities, urban or rural areas, regardless of means, race or nationality.

What has made this possible, said the Minister of Education is the consolidation of schools where the big units are able, with increased assistance from the government, provide a program of education comparable to the cities and are on a competitive basis for the services of good qualified teachers in modern schools such as Glen Avon

Illinois have been three important steps in the progress of education in the Province of Alberta, he explained Mr Aalberg a building program which has encouraged the construction of schools worth one hundred million dollars since the last five years, Municipal grants or assistance of the public treasury improvement in the lot of teachers, now receiving pensions and an average wage of $3,700 per year compared to $800 not so very long ago, keeping in pace with modern times and living up to the real needs of the students which all are the main concern of education.

Hurled 67 Feet; Second Fatality On Road Paving

The piece of construction on the paving program west of St Paul was paved with a second life Tuesday morning when a pound truck driven by Paul Hasenluk, 27 of Vermilion was killed in a truck collision. The accident occurred when the truck driven by Hasenluk was proceeding westward on the new pavement and at the top of a level crossing Hasenluk's truck was loomed on the air by the heavy dozer switcher and landed 67 feet from the crossing. Hasenluk died in the Thomas Hospital he died within five minutes after arrival.

A month ago Mr. Albert Cote lost his life when a car he was a passenger in struck a tractor on the road and killed him instantly. This is the third fatality recorded with Manuia Construction employees and members this year. One man died at Redcrow earlier this summer in a road construction accident.

The death of Hasenluk brings to seven the number of fatalities since the spring in the St Paul district under jurisdiction of the local RCMP detachment.

Paul Hasenluk, owner and driver of the demolished truck, was making his second trip of the day when he collided with the west bound passenger train, arriving in St. Paul at 8:30 from Edmonton. Driven at a moderate speed the truck he had left the gravel pit, 11 miles east of town, ahead of David Lucie of Smithland who overtook him when carburetor trouble forced a stop in which the two men repaired the faulty part.

After it was fixed, Hasenluk followed Lucie closely and it is believed his attention was concentrated on the truck he was trailing rather than the train which accounted it into the right of way which 67 feet Hasenluk

Lucie said that he was aware of the accident until the rear of his truck was hit by the locomotive crashing to make a halt and from there was unable to see behind him

When the three-ton truck weighing 3 tons, plus a gravel load estimated at about 8 tons hit the diesel, it broke the ice that ran windows in front of engineer Fred Hakroft, smashed beyond the instrument panel, and temporarily stunned him By the time he recovered, the train had gone about a quarter of a mile before it was brought to a stop

Three-inch rocks and gravel poured through the broken windows and banged up engineer Hakroft's head while the engineer and his steamed fireman Jimmy Baker also of Edmonton, brushed the caution. The engineer received minor bruises to the left arm.

Steve Mamuryk, a crew member of the local section gang was on the first to arrive at the smashup of truck, while the engineer phoned a phone call from Paul Fontaine's farm house a few hundred yards away to the RCMP Seven minutes after the accident the injured man was rushed to hospital by Park Dale ambulance driven by Mike Pumplyk

Study Liquor Plebiscite

On October thirteenth, the citizens of Alberta will be called to vote on a liquor plebiscite. They will have to decide whether or not they are in favor of more outlets for the sale and consumption of alcoholic beverages.

The issue concerning the plebiscite are moving to organize against it and influence its defeat. Predominant amongst the Crusaders is the Citizen's Plebiscite Committee with headquarters in Edmonton. They are circulating widespread propaganda condemning the sale of liquor on more or less general arguments which are doing very little to clarify the situation while greatly complicating the evils of liquor.

On the other hand, the factors in favor of liquor or undecisions to it, is not concerning itself much about the controversy and will probably sit back, to nothing until the plebiscite is defeated by all these trying to fulfil it, and who will most assuredly turn out to vote against it.

And consequently the will of a minority will be imposed on all the citizens of Alberta.

In the first place a liquor plebiscite should have never been called. The Provincial government has the full authority to legislate on such matters and should have taken a stand for or against it. But it mistrust wants to invoke the ire of the teetotalers, and the displeasure of temperance like a most unstable driver is by handing the hot-potato over to the other fellow, it conveniently at the expense of the people could be expected to save itself the embarrassment of a decision. After the call over, the government will wash its hands of the affair and no matter how it turns out will pass laws accordingly and claim they have been governed by the will of the majority.

The result only too true at the present of the electorate turned out. However, it is our guess that possibly less than 10 percent will vote on the question, and the decision regardless of the outcome will be that of a minority of the population and will lead to injustice to the rest of the citizens.

We do not take a stand for or against liquor, but recommend an intelligent approach to the problem. We do not believe that prohibition can curtail drinking. The last three in the United States, the greater the curse and the more abnormal the desire of those most desire to obtain it.

Our present system is far from being satisfactory in its narrow restrictions. It promotes and encourages the sale of liquor, especially in beer parlors by laws we are almost inclined to conclude are drawn to raise consumption, rather than curtail or discourage beverage in a sensible manner.

Hours are too limited. Beer parlors close late at six-thirty, for an hour, but before leaving patrons consume and guzzle down a greater number of beers than they would otherwise have if given continuous and leisure time to consume only what they could handle. The same applies at closing time when more beer is dropped down it in a relatively short time by customers who staggered out in the street, a source of considerable trouble for the policemen on duty.

It is our opinion that if the hours were longer, the outlets increased and the privilege accorded to have a social drink in more respectable surroundings, with meals and possibly other entertainment, people would come to accept liquor as an everyday item in their daily lives and learn to live with it sensibly.

From a democratic aspect, every person should have the right to decide for himself what he wants or doesn't want as long as it does not infringe on the rights of others.

We conclude in saying again that the question of liquor is not for a plebiscite to decide, but those at the head of the government. If it is not going to be the voice of the majority, at least, will be heard.

HUNTING ETIQUETTE

Most sports have a direct set of rules and regulations governing them and are usually enforced by a referee or umpire. But there are no infringements.

In a few such as golf there are, what you might call, tacit rules observed in a gentlemanly manner and very seldom does any friction arise out of violations.

Hunting is one of these sports where there is a certain code of unspoken ethics which should be observed However we can say through experience and sometimes observed in the office that there are flagrant violations of good manners by many hunters.

A good hotter goes out in the evening before a shoot to find a likely place where ducks are feeding Because ducks return to the same feeding grounds every evening it pays himself in the field before dawn and awaits the arrival of the flock.

It has been said that the late hunters being around in the morning and all night training cars to a spot already occupied men who have searched legitimately for the location go into the field they are followed by the parasites who spoil the shooting for many hours.

We understand that sometimes two parties might have scouted the same field with resulting congestion. However, the law of first come, first served, should be observed, and the party arriving second should move off to another field, or at least hold a consultation with those already stationed and come to some mutual understanding on positions if there is room for all in the one field.

After all shooting is a sporting pastime and there is no reason why hard feelings should be created over a simple little awkward situations.

Why, somebody might even get shot You can never tell about flaring tempers shouldering mighty shot guns, at least.

TRAFFIC CAUTION

Warning has been issued in truck drivers on the gravel run hauling to road construction. The accident Tuesday evening was a second grim reminder of what care everyone might lead to

However the victims, at this time should be excluded in all motorists using highways 28 of the prime offenders and blaming There is also a certain amount of neglect on the part of pedestrians and children darting out from behind parked cars and making unnecessary crossings at dangerous points.

The children's behavior can be understood but adults have no excuse We noticed a child the town who dashed out from behind traffic and nearly got run over.

It might be a good idea to organize a school patrol and have all children instructed to cross at crossing points under supervision. If stores cars is not enough more might just be more dangerous.

The record seven for fatalities in a season too high in the St. Paul area, a reduction which should make everyone doubly cautious. Don't think the policeman who is trying to slow you down is a nuisance. He has a job to do and only by someone being miserable can he save your life.

COMMISSION ON EDUCATION

Mr Aalborg said there is a trend for greater improvement in Edmonton and that his department is now setting up a full time commission to look at the whole the current aspects and problems. Official announcement on behalf of appointments on the commission will be made in about a month. He concluded Mr Aalborg

Mr Aalborg presented the principal of the new school, on behalf of the government, a beautiful stone picture in a mahogany finish.

HON. RAY REIERSON

The Honorable Ray Reierson, Minister of Industries and Labor and MLA for the Constituency of St. Paul, who accompanied the Minister of Education and the Board of Directors had a great deal to be proud of at this official opening of the school, another remarkable landmark in the progress of the town and the constituency

Although, he said, the building is the most important single object in education, a competent teaching staff, and inspiring management more pleasant and being achieve finer goals.

The construction of schools in rural areas and such as Glen Avon has today, said Mr Reierson is in great part made possible through the assistance of the department which equalizes the finances across the province with grants amounting to half the value of the expenditure Glen Avon received grants in excess of Thirty-three thousand for their new school, with the result it would have been an impossibility

The necessity for education has increased a hundred fold in the era of the atomic, electronic, nuclear and atomic energy, continued Mr Reierson Our administration understand the need for a progressive program and have proved the educational setup to meet these requirements while at the same time teaching the students what needs to be done on the farm learn a trade, work in industry same knowledge necessary in the future and that of the province. The local Government will continue to support these high ideals and

From its beginning While it may be expressed he thanks for the excellent co-operation received from the Board, advisory committees and teachers in the district in concluding his address he presented an enlarged key of the school to the new principal Mr John Skakun who responded with a few words of appreciation at the confidence given him and his pleasure of being promoted of such a

WELCOME BY MAYOR

The Mayor of St. Paul, Mr. Jules Van Brabant, welcomed the dignitaries, extending our gratulations to the Board for the fine building and the efforts of parents to provide the best possible education for the education of their children. He was pleased to note the keen interest of the boys crowd in a school they should be very proud of and which stands as testament for the progress of education in St. Paul.

FOR RESPONSIBILITIES

Mr Beverly superintendent of Schools, when called upon the realizes to address the audience, reminded them of their responsibilities when entered the entire responsibility of that is used to perform them.

The most important one concerns the children whose welfare is naturally of primary importance But the students themselves must come to school with a real desire to do their best, physically and mentally and should at all times be of proper disposition with a strong desire to succeed in their scholastic exceptions, secondly, the parents should not pass education entirely upon the shoulders of the teachers, but should mold the child into the proper frame of mind to attend school and fit in that pattern of society where the teachers can carry on more successfully an education with a good home. He expand to the teachers he said that the children have a perfect right to expect proper guidance and receive the kind of instruction which will make of them better Canadian citizens

It is the duty of the teachers to accept unanimously their responsibility; and fourthly, a duty of the Board of directors who must plan effectively for the smooth operation of the school and discharge their duties accordingly So far the board had done an exceptional job in establishing the Glen Avon school on a sound footing and it was Mr Beverley's desire that they continue the exemplary work in the future for the advancement of education and the welfare of children attending.

Other speakers were Dr. Miller of Elk Point representing the

Dr. Melenchuk, Chairman Glen Avon Board Summarizes History Of School At Official Opening

It gives me great pleasure to and after the ballots were counted, Mr. Paul Campbell & Sons, and Mr. Ernest Kopp were elected trustees. It was a great day in the history of the Glen Avon district.

The afternoon I was to relate briefly the history of the school and the organization of this district. Two years ago on August 21st, 1955 a plebiscite was held in the hall of the United Church and the ballots were counted by Mr. Paul Campbell & Sons, and Mr. Ernest Kopp were elected trustees. It was a great day in the history of the Civil Defense Is Voted Topic

The big trouble in this civil defense business so far as the average citizen is concerned, is that he just doesn't know what to believe, says The Financial Post. He doesn't know what is the best or the possible defense for the civilian population in an atomic war, or if there is any defense at all.

He has been told that he should disperse main industries and essential services like hospitals and communication centres. Yet all about him he sees big cities getting bigger, and still more centralization of industries and hospitals.

At the same time he is told that he should be prepared to co-operate in grandiloquent plans that pretend to call for the complete evacuation of our biggest cities in a matter of hours.

Having some first hand experience with week-end and rush hour traffic jams, when only a relatively small portion of the total population is involved, the layman is doubtful of the success of any smaller plan of mass evacuation. He remembers stories from the last war where defense was paralyzed rather than helped by civilians blocking the main highways.

The basic truth is that the civilian population of Canada and the United States was not prepared—and still is not prepared—for nuclear war. Had such small arms been used there were practical plans, if there is any

V.L.A. Announces Money Available For Veterans' Housing Projects

Veterans eligible for assistance under the Veterans Land Act are today in an enviable position because they are not confronted with the present shortage of housing materials. If they need funds for housing purposes

Hon. Sinclair, Veterans Land Act can grant assistance to veterans to build houses on either small acreage out of the heavy mortgage zone and within commuting distance of cities, or on farms.

Veterans can supplement their present revenues as an City bus driver with a long term C.M.H.C. mortgage, where the monthly payments are not more than current rentals.

There are many advantages to the veterans building under either scheme Repayment can be extended over a period of 25 years with low monthly payments. Veterans are given free legal services, they can act as their own contractors and save a considerable amount of money on overhead charges and contribute a share of their own labor. Construction refunds are arranged to educate veterans in handling their contracts and dealing with suppliers and sub trades. The Director advances interest free money while the houses are under construction and competent Construction Supervisors are always available at all times to advise and assist veterans with their plans, specifications and actual contracting work.

The veterans are required to find and select their own land but Veterans counselors are on hand to give to veterans to purchase an acreage for a small holding and erect the building on a town lot.

Veterans are not forced to purchase their own homes if they wish to rent.

The Veterans Land Act offers special opportunities to veterans of World War II who today are presented with a housing problem and are unable to compete in the open market against those in the higher income brackets, or those under the present high mortgage finance situation. In fact the Veterans' Land Act is the answer to many veterans on every income, who for years have wanted to improve home conditions for their families.

It is unfortunate so many veterans are not aware of the real assistance that can be given to them under the Act, and in their own interest they should immediately contact the nearest Regional Supervisor or Settlement Officer. Veterans' Land Act, who will be pleased to give them full information and particulars.

V.L.A. Regional Offices are located in Edmonton, Calgary, Red Deer and Grand Prairie

Any veteran who needs a home today should lose no time in finding out the facts by a face-to-face discussion with a V.L.A. official or pay a visit to anyone of the many hundreds of veterans who are now experiencing contentment and security in their new V.L.A. homes.

Minister States That Farmers Should Raise Cattle Instead of Wheat

Those farmers who may have their misgivings that western farmers should give more heed and more serious markets. No wonder wheat cattle industry is prospering.

Certainly when the end of the war struck there was a threat of more wheat than the world could selling. And if we can't sell it, we more than it is still common sense to turn to something for which there is a demand.

Had there been a free market for wheat as there has been for cattle since the end of the war, that is approximately what farmers would have done instead of the flow of a steadily falling market, wheat prices to the farmers, and to wheat and other crops.

Each farm business consists thousands of Canadian consumers go out into the open to see and enjoy their own country. Yet many a young bride looks helplessly at the game bag her proud husband has brought home and wonders just what to do with it. Here are some suggestions on the preparation of wild meats.

Roast Wild Duck Bohemo

Pluck, dress and wash duck. Soak duck one or two hours covered with cold water to which has been added 2 tablespoons vinegar, 1 tablespoon sugar. Dry duck and season inside with the following dressing:

1 cup onion chopped fine
1 cup celery chopped fine
1 cup apple
½ cup chopped meat (pork)
1 small onion chopped
½ tsp sage or poultry dressing
Mix ingredients. Add enough warm water or milk to lightly bind together. Stuff duck. Put on roaster, sprinkle with a little salt and pepper and place two strips of bacon on breast. Add ½ cup of water and roast at low degrees - one ounced 1 1/2 hours or until done, depending on toughness of the duck. Baste occasionally with liquid in pan. For added flavor, sprinkle duck with cherry or crab apple jelly.

Roast Wild Goose

Large goose will require about one pepper and 1 tablespoon salt. Rinse pan several times. Let brown over. Let cool. Add enough water to cover. Simmer until tender, about 2 hours. Remove from pan and place in roasting pan in a slow oven (325 degrees). Roast uncovered until brown and browned. Add enough water to cover. Goose must be basted with its own juices. Add a little water if necessary. Serve with cranberry sauce.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

With the completion of the smallest wheat harvest since the drought of 1936-37, Australia is now examining the present financial position of the industry in light of future possible developments. One of the matters that will undoubtedly receive attention is the current Wheat Price Stabilization Scheme.

This scheme, the second in the country's history, covers 1953-54 and four subsequent harvests. Then the crop which has now commenced growing in the last months under the provisions of its present guarantee, a four-year wheat acreage payment scheme, is harvested. Payments under the current Price Stabilization Scheme are made by the Australian Government and the various State governments and the current quota is 100 million bushels. The I.W.A. recommended these six-bushel increased quota of previous from A second feature of the current guarantee payments, which expires next year, is the guarantee of a minimum price for wheat. Under this scheme harvest Payments are made for harvests of up to 100 million bushels at a guaranteed price of 160 cents per bushel.

Australian Sales... continued from the normal markets of the United Kingdom and other European countries, but in addition to these countries, Australia has developed new markets in Asia, Africa and the Middle East. Australia's wheat industry is an important factor in the economy of the country. And the value of wheat exports is increasing.

Looking ahead, although as yet only the 1957-58 Pool has been completed, there is every reason that the issue of subsequent harvests will be on the increasing side. The guarantee payments are made from the Commonwealth Government.

Looking ahead, although as yet only the 1957-58 Pool has been completed, there is every reason that the issue of subsequent harvests will be on the increasing crops will be such that there will likely be insufficient to take care of withdrawals for the 1957-58 Pool. Even on the doubtful assumption that costs and export prices remain static, an exportable surplus of only 85 million bushels which might be expected from a total harvest as small as 155 million bushels would be sufficient to exhaust the Pool before 1958 if the present rate of production have been from 50 to 181-84 million bushels. Australia's wheat industry is now in a position of considerable importance in the world wheat trade and it is expected that it will continue to grow in importance.

Canada Should Be Independent

There is nothing anti-American in the ardent desire of Canadians that our country should be able to survive as an independent nation, comments The Financial Post which adds:

"The United States itself is the great progenitor of the idea of economic independence. It has led nations toward other lands—in Latin America, Asia, Africa and the Middle East—sure that true independence is an honorable aspiration.

But through the normal workings of international economics we needs now finds itself with about 60 per cent of its industrial machine and a high percentage of its raw materials owned by foreigners. Canadians feel that a great many of the big decisions affecting the welfare of its people are made outside the country. And the pace of foreign ownership is increasing.

Eastern Alberta Hockey League Future Is Shaky

Vegreville, one of the oldest members in the league, completely withdrew its franchise and deposit, citing financial difficulties as the reason Viking applied for and was granted a leave of absence for one year, also on financial grounds and prevailing to search for closer arenas in the Battle River League.

Wainwright, who had representatives at the meeting could not officially state the position of its hockey club, but will make a decision soon. Vermilion, on leave of absence last year, failed to send representatives. Unofficial spokesmen from that town did not know which way the wind is blowing, and it is thought perhaps Vermilion might enter the league.

Jury Returns Verdict Of Accidental Death In Hasenluk Truck-Train Collision At Crossing East Of Town

An inquest held under the direction of Dr F R Decosse, District Coroner before a jury of six local [illegible] eight witnesses heard all the circumstances leading to the death of Paul Hasenluk, Vermilion truck driver, killed by a train at a CNR crossing, 5 miles east of St Paul, on the morning of September 29th with an accidental verdict after 25 minutes of deliberation.

Henry David Lobe, a truck driver from Bertrand employed by Mannix Construction on the paving project west of St Paul on Highway 28, the last man to speak to Hasenluk before he was killed by the train said that it was his understanding the victim had an appointment with the pay man. He went on to say that in his own mind he had nothing to do on the pay run. 11 miles east of St. Paul to St. Brides, he had never seen a train, nor had any other truck driver on the road [illegible] he was looking straight east along the track it was passing.

That fact he said, had lulled drivers into a false sense of security when might have been expected locations and had been aware of its presence during the [illegible] paving operations.

He emphasized that never, at any time had a train scheduled been posted by the [illegible] and none of the drivers, most of them strangers in the area, were aware of crossing times.

Fire Prevention Week

"Don't Give Fire A Place To Start," is this year's slogan for Fire Prevention Week proclaimed from October 6 to 13.

The aim of Fire Prevention Week is to befall everyone with the idea that fire prevention is a big and costly matter; that each individual owes it to himself, to his family and his community to think and act fire-safe every minute of the day the year around.

The Town of St. Paul has a good record. There have been very few fires the past year, and the year before was without fires. A good measure for this fire-free existence is attributed to preventive measures. The volunteer fire brigade makes it a point to periodically check the most likely sources of fires and keeps posted with the latest in the larger industrial places, institutions and stands ready for action, with training and men in each individual job.

The few fires which have broken out were brought under quick control and there has not been a serious fire loss in recent years.

The St Paul Fire Department and its Chief wish to focus special attention to fire preventive measures, during this special week and for the 51 others throughout the year.

Every Canadian has a stake in fire prevention. By taking simple measures necessary to prevent fires from getting started, lives can be saved, tragedies averted, and property damage prevented.

"Don't Give Fire A Place To Start," is an appropriate slogan. Fire is a killer and a destroyer. Let us stop it at its source — before it begins. The purpose of fire prevention week is to mobilize every member of the community to the end that the menace of fire can be prevented and, thereby, reduce the tragic loss which it creates.

We are pleased to publish elsewhere in this newspaper and drawing on the resources of fire prevention, do's and don't's flood and observe them carefully.

The Fire Chief, Mr Phil Germain is pleased to make the statement that he is always ready with advice on any phase of fire prevention and invites your suggestions and co-operation to make St. Paul a fire free town, fifty-two weeks of the year.

Civil Defence Day

National Civil Defence Day is being held on Friday, October 4th (Tomorrow). This announcement is not due to stir up anything sensational in St Paul and does not promote big displays or concern about national safety.

St Paul is just another one among the communities of Canada who have not given much thought to civil defence and could care less.

We don't expect the citizens of Canada will be brought out of their lethargy on this day, as the civil defence officials say in an official statement "National Civil Defence Day is being held to better acquaint the citizens of Canada with our program, its purpose, planning, organization and policy at such level of government as they are. We want people to show an interest, but we want them to take part and support it in their own community."

Civil defense can be considered much in the same light as an ordinary insurance policy whether it be life or for property damage. The odds are that it may never be profitable or pay off, but the security of protection in case of an emergency is comforting indeed. Although civil defense at this time may appear to be a waste of time and energy as well as money, the time may come when it will be insurance against death and be of great assistance.

The lack of interest in civil defense is to great measure attributed to a lack of education on its various phases of operation.

Perhaps, just for the sake of argument, it might be wise for all our citizens to give it a serious thought and find out it's all about.

MAD SCRAMBLE AT FIRE

The fact that nobody was killed in the mad stampede to a fire Tuesday afternoon is a wonder and a miracle Perhaps in consideration of Fire Prevention Week designed to save lives we might think of the possibility of fatal injury in the rush following a fire alarm.

Kids on bicycles, curious citizens dashing madly to the fire, bonnet boiling a homespring nuisance to the firemen are risking their own lives and that of others scrambling about.

It might be a wise idea to stay put, unless you are a fireman or an authorized person and wait until the fire truck and the fire-hose have time to get to the fire before circulating.

Traffic stops on city streets when a siren blows and the fire truck approaches. Why not make that law in St Paul too, if the people have not the common sense to stay out of the way voluntarily.

WHEAT SUBSIDY CUT

Decision to reduce wheat subsidies, described by Winnipeg Free Press as rather mild move for the French Government," is designed as an incentive to French farmers to switch from wheat production to the raising of livestock Fact that French Government, with support of a substantial number of deputies representing rural constituencies, was willing to take political risk involved in this commendable move to cut back uneconomic wheat production, is indicative of growing awareness in France that subsidies, far from solving agricultural marketing problems, serve only to aggravate them.

French Governments' decision to cut back uneconomical wheat production by reducing subsidies is one which will be of immediate interest to Canada. If pressure set by France were followed by the United States' problem of what surpluses would quickly vanish and price of wheat in world markets would strengthen.

IMMUNIZATION

National immunization week has just concluded in Canada This annual event is planned to call attention of the people of Canada on the importance of immunization against certain diseases In the past this has included diphtheria, whooping cough and other communicable diseases.

The proof that people will be careless inspite of the widespread propaganda and assistance from federal, provincial and local governments has been shown by the epidemics which have caused serious concern in the St Paul area since last February. We have not yet forgotten the recent St. Lina one where some homes are still in quarantine.

The cases brought a great number of people out of their complacency for record numbers of shots given by the St. Paul clinic We are wondering, now, if there are still some who continue to be lax and negligent in this important immunization program to prevent the heartbreak of death and suffering.

All residents of this area are again urged to consider the matter and make certain that all children are immunized against any form of communicable disease liable to strike. Preventive medicine is still the best cure.

ROYAL COMMISSIONS?

We are always setting up Royal Commissions in Canada to find facts, when governments usually know them already but are afraid of them, says Bruce Hutchison in The Financial Post. But the facts, when produced are seldom faced.

Our pigeon holes bulge with the findings of Royal Commissions.

One must not be too critical on that score, however. In a diverse governing society like ours it is usually impossible to line any fact frontally and act on it promptly by a clear line of policy because so many conflicting interests are in play.

Compromise is the best we can do and we do it pretty well. If we didn't there would be no nation at all.

Swindle Groups Out?

Many farmers in Alberta received a few in particular—from the so-called various swindle groups this year, one time or another, promoted gut-rich-quick plans in the province. The few are the authors who, after contributing money to the plans, were left "holding the bag" when the swindlers, like the Arabs of verse silently stole away.

Typical among such organizations have been those which promised to provide farmers with goods at a "below-cost" price—of late. The farmer was usually asked to pay a "membership fee" which entitled him to buy almost any kind of goods at a substantial discount.

It is doubtful whether any of these organizations lasted as long as a year. Most of them never got into business at all. All of them, however, collected a lot of cash from farmers in the form of membership fees.

One of the most recent cases was that of an organization calling itself the Agricultural Society of Alberta, which operated from a post office box in the southern part of the province. The promoter of the company's modest meetings at 313 each to farmers, promising to supply them with a wide range of farm goods at substantial discounts. An office was opened in Calgary, and a small volume of goods was actually supplied to members.

A few alert and interested farmers took a look on the board of the company, where they soon found that things were rather badly loaded. Thousands of dollars had been collected in fees, and most of it could not be accounted for. The promoter eventually went to jail and the company was wound up, with practically none of the members having received any benefit, while all of them lost their membership fee.

We have not heard much of such organizations for several years, but it will be surprising if some of them do not show up within a non day.

It is obvious th... such schemes are not sound. If they were they would have been in operation for years ago, and would have stayed on as business. Reliable manufacturers will not continue to supply such organizations at the expense of their regular retail outlets.

These people have nothing to offer which is not already being offered by the regular co-operative farm supply organizations Co-ops are doing the job at cost Others obviously can not do this. They must make a profit, or their promoters would not waste time on it.

Farmers should always be on the watch for fly-by-night schemers, and should promptly advise their farm organizations if they encounter one.

Gravel Truck Rolls Into Ditch

About 150 yards north of the railway crossing where Paul Hesmiuk lost his life in a train collision accident William Somerset, a St Paul truck driver, relived his narrow escape in a runaway.

The truck was pulled back on the road by some helpful truckers, but Semenhuk ran into more trouble when the engine broke down out three miles further east due to lack of lubrication and water when he upset.

Picked up by Al Richwood, Highway Inspector from the Attorney General's Department, Semenhuk was arraigned before Magistrate Cameron and found guilty of driving at unreasonable speed, fined $50 with costs and present of driver's license for 10 days.

Fire Prevention Week Across Canada October 6-12 Prompts Chief To Remark On Safety Factors

Once again it's the time (Oct 6-12) of Fire Prevention Week in Canada. Every year thousands of fires break out across the nation spreading death and destruction. Fires in the home head the list. So it's a time to learn and remember about fire safety. Fire organization, lessons which can save our lives and those of our families. To bring these lessons to you the St. Paul Journal is giving the use of space and other services in this issue to Fire Chief Phil Germain for his yearly message at this time.

Chief, This is a wonderful opportunity for me and I want to do my best to make something of it. And if you wonder why I, a fireman with the main job of putting out fires, am here talking about fire prevention, the answer is easy and it is given with the united voice of 27,000 firefighters across Canada. It is not chauvinism that this country should have one of the worst fire years records in the world. Even with our great abundance of the good things of life and of people, can we afford to see them recklessly consumed? Surely it is to the public advantage that our firefighters should devote to promote a campaign of prevention."

Q. Which is?

A. DON'T GIVE FIRE A PLACE TO START.

Q. You say most fires are in the home. Why and how?

A. Because there are more homes than anything else. Last year alone 139,000 new houses and apartments were built. Two thirds of all fires are residential. And as to why and how most of these fires start, they can almost be stated in two words Human carelessness. Now we have felt that if we could get across to the public some practical reminders of the spots where human carelessness means fire, we will have taken a good step in the right direction. In housing projects, for instance, we live in a country where, by and large, furnaces and stoves kept on for 6 or even 8 months of the year. Improper installation without attention and repair, failure to recognize this as carelessness. And carelessness, too, is the person who doesn't see that there are enough ash trays around the house, or who leaves matches around where the kiddies can play with them. Or who uses kerosene to freshen a stove fire. Or who fails to remember that extra electrical appliance add to the burden of the load on the wiring and that the requirements of a 15 by 20 ampere fuse on an ordinary circuit can be just as dangerous as plugging a blown fuse with a penny.

Q. Chief, you mention children. Let us pursue that. Tell us a bit more about children in fire hazards.

A. Well, of the five to six persons who each year in Canada die terribly by fire, seventy one half are children. Most of these youngsters perish because nowadays was negligent, somebody left them alone. These children, had they lived, would have gone to school and there in their formative years learned lessons of safety. Do we ask too much of parents that in the home the children should be given some measure of protection like that? Don't get in the school." Do we ask too much that when we see that children should never be left alone and unattended?

Q. Chief, is there any law or legislation on the matter of ensuring supervision of children.'

A. Yes, and I have it here in the criminal code of Canada, section 180, it says, and I quote: "Everyone who unlawfully abandons or exposes a child who is under the age of 10 years, so that its life is or is likely to be endangered or its health is or is likely to be permanently injured is guilty of an indictible offence and is liable to imprisonment for two years." In the event not of death the federal law of Canada.

Q. Chief, we thank you for meeting us the law . . . Now tell us have you any observations on the effects of the national educational and safety campaign on which, I understand, the fire chiefs and the fire marshals of Canada joined hands three years ago. Is your story giving results?

A. Each community has its problems and its results. Speaking for our own community the men of my department yield to no one in the prowess of the year-round effort put behind fire prevention.

So we feel that we are making some headway. And the seems that the national picture, too. Figures for the year 1956 show that the nation's estimated total fire loss, averaged for every man woman and child, was cut back by one dollar per year This is the first per capita decrease Canada has had in modern history We only hope we can keep it up Perhaps, Chief, a friend was on the ball the other day when he told us "May every fireman live to be a hundred years to keep on telling citizens the story of prevention."

Q. It's quite a story, Chief, and quite a crusade Now tell us before we say goodbye What's the best fire you've ever fought"

A. The best fire I or any fireman ever fights is THE ONE THAT NEVER HAPPENS

Jailed For Fraud

Robert Elmer Bellrey, who pleaded guilty and received two charges of fraud and false pretences in district court here, was sentenced to six months in jail when he appeared for sentence Wednesday morning. Magistrate Elsey in RCMP court, and pleaded guilty to ten charges of false pretences and ten charges of false affidavit.

Bellrey was told further he received the money and had gone to B.C. to pay his gal friend. He immediately told him that the court knew he was lying, and then when he grew belligerent told him he went to the penitentiary for the rest of the month.

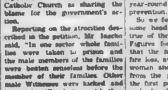
Although always subject to the possibility of attack from heavily developing races of rust, as well as from various fungous and other diseases to which they may be susceptible, our cereal grains, with the probable exception of barley, now appear to be better protected against the major plant diseases than they have ever been. Because of this, very considerable progress is being made at the present time in the newest agreement of the various diseases with which it has to contend. ... the ... the ... between the latest variety of oats, Garry, now carries resistance against all known or prevalent races of stem rust which total 14, as well as resistance to 71 per cent of races identified in Canada as responsible for crown rust. The variety Rodney as equally disease resistant except that it lacks resistance to race 7A, stem rust. The flax situation is a little different since the rust itself needs only the one host to complete its life cycle and since the disease overwinters on the straw. The latest variety of flax, Rex, however, is resistant to all forms of rust now prevalent in Western Canada of which known races number some 33. With wheat, there are some 300 known races of season rust alone. A great many of these are relatively unimportant but some of them could develop strains that might build up to epidemic proportions. The newest variety of wheat, Selkirk, for instance, although resistant to race 15B, is susceptible to the isotype 15BG, the greatest wide disseminated spread of which is being watched very closely at the present time.

Authorities point out that year to year fluctuation in the distribution of the more common races of stem rust and crown rust are difficult to determine, records which do show the frequency of the more important races having most year since 1919. Much more difficult to foresee, however, is the presence of variants known races, or biotypes, which occur only in trace quantities though the part to be determined is whether the factors influencing the rise and fall in the percentage of any race.



Witnesses Favor Strong Petition

Jehovah's Witnesses of the Ashmont congregation met to approve a petition asking the Dominion Republic to lift its ban on the activities of the sect in the religious activity of the movement here.

According to Mr Inacho, president of the congregation, the lengthy petition was signed by members of public brutality that were perpetrated unfortunately by eight of the ten American missionaries deported August 2 from the Dominican Republic The missionaries related their experiences at a meeting in Ashmont Wednesday where the petition was originally composed.

The petition was addressed to Generalissimo Trujillo, dictator of fledged dictator of the Caribbean republic, and named the Roman Catholic Archbishop as sharing the blame for the government's actions.

Reporting on the atrocities described in the petition, Mr Inacho said, "in one sector whole families were taken to prison and the male members of the families were beaten senseless before the eyes of their families. Other male Witnesses were kicked and beat with rifle butts until they were bleeding and fell exhausted. Women were beaten and left unconscious on the ground in the patio of the prison with blood streaming out of the ears, nose and mouth.

"Christian people all over the world abhor such brutality as this We believe freedom-loving people should be informed of it and have published this petition to acquaint you with the position in the October 1 issue of our official magazine.

CANADIAN RADAR ASSUMES NEW IMPORTANCE

This global chart outlines the U.S.-Canadian early detection system which would give the best chance for survival in the event that Russia should launch an attack in some future international ballistic missile "guessing war." The Russians have already announced they have tested successfully an I.C.B.M. missile of carrying a nuclear warhead. The U.S. air defence chief has announced that its first interceptor missile squadron will be organized in Canada's missile squadron will be organized late this year. All of which means that the world has taken its first step into the age of push-button warfare. In a counter-attack the extra long range radar from recently completed Distant Early Warning (DEW) and older mid-Canada radar lines would have to work with the Bomarc (CIM-10) against the threat of firing (1) and seconds later (2) to get the necessary "fix" for electronic computers to calculate speed and course. Automatic and instantaneous transmission of information would permit launching of counter missiles (3) to intercept and destroy (4) the ICBM's while still far from populated areas.

Grain Cleaning At Local Plant Proves Profitable To Farmers

During the past two weeks the Seed Plant has proven it's value to the district farmers. Farmers having their grain cleaned at the plant prior to delivery to the elevator have found that it pays to do so.

One farmer cleaned a 1050 bushel lot of grain which graded number five when uncleaned and was raised to a number four upon being cleaned. The increase in grade brought him an extra 17 cents per bushel. His profit from cleaning could roughly be calculated thusly:

Increase in price @ 17c $178.50
Screenings - 105 bushels @ 30c $31.50

Total $210.00
Less, Cost of Cleaning $30.00
Total Profit $180.00

Another farmer who delivered his grain to a local elevator had a dockage test of 27 per cent and failed to have his grain cleaned. His lot on a 1056 bushel lot based only on loss of screenings could be calculated thusly:

Screenings - 270 bushels @ 50c $135.00

Cost of cleaning at 3 cents $28.05

Total Loss $163.05

Not only did this farmer lose this amount through loss of his screenings but the seed returned was of poor quality.

Many farmers may believe that the screenings in the grain they sell have no value, however, all screenings removed from the grain in terminal elevators is readily sold to feeders and all seed plants in the province indicate that there is a ready market for screenings at 1 cent per bushel. In this district with the high livestock population screenings can definitely be used to advantage.

There are other advantages to cleaning other than the removal of dockage as shown by a moisture test taken on a cleaned and uncleaned sample of the same grain. The cleaned sample tested 3 points lower merely through the removal of the green kernels and weed seeds. This reduction of moisture could make the difference between tough and dry grain where the grain tests near the 15 per cent mark.

A second advantage of cleaning would be the obvious increase in elevator storage space and thus allow farmers to haul and sell a larger percentage of their quota.

If for no other reason than it being a profitable operation farmers are well advised to consider having all their grain cleaned prior to delivery to their elevator.

Minister Urges Diversification

Hon. Gordon Churchill, minister of trade and commerce, in an address in Winnipeg, has proposed a solution for the wheat problem which is no solution.

For at least fifty years the prairie farmer has been advised to diversify. This time the diversification, according to Mr. Churchill, is to raise cattle. No doubt more cattle could be raised on marginal land now devoted to wheat and other grain. But generally the indirect subsidies on grain promote excessive production. It also is a fact that cattle that must be declined in winter must have cattlemen living on the premises. There are more than a few western farmers who have no livestock on their farms, not even a cat, because that would require their presence 365 days a year. The grain crop requires attention in the spring and in the fall leaving long periods for political whittling at other seasons.

Mr. Churchill plan is guilty of furthering that old misconception that good wheat, if held long enough, will be sure to find a buyer. The fact is that wheat, like any other commodity, will fall in price or fail to sell at all if it is in excess supply. The theorists on the prairies and in the political arena can speedily from now until doomsday without altering the elemental facts of economic life.

Fashions

A tapered line is noted in some of the very newest coats. Here is a fine example of what's what in the quality coat world. A small ranch mink collar, placed below the regular neckline, tops this softly tapered beaver cloth or blend coat with its deep armhole sleeves. Notice the buttoning of the curved slit pockets and pocket flaps which will point downward.

Criminal Code Enforces Rule Of Leaving Children Alone In Homes

Do you know that under the Criminal Code of Canada you may go to jail for two years for leaving a child exposed to fire?

There can be no sadder news than the death by fire of children in the home, especially when the headline reads: "He just left them alone for a minute . . ." And such a tragedy is one that must shadow a family for a lifetime.

No matter the age, no child should ever be left alone. This is a vital message from the Association of Canadian Fire Marshals and the Canadian Association of Fire Chiefs, and which it is stressed during Fire Prevention Week, it holds, like every other rule for good housekeeping, for every week and every day of the year. Parents who go out have a duty to their children, to the community and to themselves to see that the youngsters are properly looked after.

The heartening acceptance of this obligation in homes across the land is reflected by the fact that baby sitting has become a more than casual occupation for many people. It has even developed into a regular profession. Here, for parent and for the sitter, are standard rules for the work:

1. The sitter selected should have a sense of responsibility and should like children and preferably live in the neighborhood.

2. Instructions should be given in writing as well as orally, when you are not near telephone number, or the name and number of someone to call in an emergency.

Your telephone number and location of telephone.

Emergency telephone numbers for FIRE, POLICE, DOCTOR.

How to call the fire department.

Location of exits.

How to control the furnace or stove.

Leave a flashlight in case of power failure.

3. Guide to the sitter in emergencies.

Get the children safely out.

Even if it's cold, don't wait to dress them. Wrap them in a blanket.

Even the smell of smoke or gas is enough warning to call the fire department, or someone help. Be sure to say exactly where you are. If you can, turn on the front lights to attract attention.

Don't ever re-enter the house. Smoke or gas from a very small fire may be fatal.

If you are trapped inside, remember that the air near the floor is usually better in a smoke-filled room.

Inside, don't turn on or off any electrical switches. This may create a spark, ignite gas vapors and cause explosion.

Your local Fire Chief may have a printed guide on the subject of child protection. If you do a fair amount of baby sitting, get a copy. He'll be delighted to hear that your business must be like his, are deeply concerned with the welfare of your charges.

Glendon Women's Institute Meet

The regular monthly meetings of the Women's Institute were resumed with the September meeting. The ladies met together at the home of Mrs. William Lander on Thursday, September 12th. Roll call was answered by each member giving the highlights of their holiday trip. The guest speaker of the initial meeting was Mrs. E. Corbett of Houslow who delivered an address on "Alberta Poetry." She mentioned a number of the province's best known poets and read samples of their work. Her theme was very comprehensive and was greatly enjoyed by all.

Farm Youths Urged To Attend Agricultural Schools During Winter

The month of October to April usually presents a slackening-off work period on the farm. How are you going to spend the valuable hours this winter? A profitable and enjoyable way would be to attend one of the schools of Agriculture at Olds, Vermilion or Fairview. The schools open and close at both a convenient time (end of October to beginning of April) that students are able to help their families on the farm when their services are most needed, says J. E. Hawker, Superintendent of the Schools.

Girls can finish the Home Economics course in one y... tering at 16 or later they have a smokehouse of practical up-to-date knowledge of home management a year later. Most men already know how to cook properly; several successfully run a home, consider possessing admirable social traits. Though the course for the girl is primarily one to give training in homemaking it includes agriculture and record keeping as well to prepare them for the business world.

For boys the minimum age limit for entrance is 17 at December 31st, for the two year course. Students with Grade 11 and "B" standing may take the accelerated 2 in 1 course which is over a winter's duration. Upon graduating in Agriculture you're equipped readily to qualify for further education at University. Whether it graduate from the Agricultural Schools or from University, you're equally satisfying and well paid positions directly or indirectly connected with agriculture await the person who is qualified.

The time to think of the future is now. Send for information material about the Schools and the courses they offer to your District Agriculturist, District Representative or write direct to The Principal, School of Agriculture at Olds, Vermilion or Fairview.

Jury Returns Verdict Of Accidental Death In Macoinish Truck-Train Collision At Crossing East Of Town

the train might have been out of view to Hammond when he looked in the direction of the truck. He said that although he thought he did not consider the crossing to be dangerous, a driver had to be keen to spot a approaching train.

Mechanical evidence given by Engineer Fred Hodgson who examined the truck after the accident, was that the power brake system was operating satisfactorily. He said the truck had been in order and that the steering gear was in good shape. The speedometer was over at 50, 60 and 70 miles per hour. The 1954 three-ton truck was in good condition and only recently had its tires replaced. The 1954 three-ton truck was in good condition and only recently had its tires replaced. It was not known to be a fast truck.

ENGINEER'S EVIDENCE

Fred Heinroth, engineer of the diesel for the CNR on the run between Heinsburg and Edmonton, sitting in the right hand seat of the cab looking towards the curve and the approaching traffic from that direction, said he was able to see all trucks in motion on the road, had headlights on, turned on the bell and whistle 1,000 feet before the crossing, started blasting away a warning signal 1,000 feet from the crossing, and, seeing cattle warning blasts before the approach. He saw the truck approaching and testified it never made any attempt to slow down appreciably obvious to the presence of the train. He estimated the truck was going 60-65 miles per hour and came in contact with the engine at mid-point. It was halfway across the level crossing. He testified he looked out of the window of the instrument panel, windows in front of the cab, and saw nothing and gravel and rocks pointed in. About a minute elapsed before the engineer recovered from the shock and braked the engine to a stop a quarter of a mile from the accident.

Engineer Heinroth testified that the visibility was good and he would be able to see a truck when the train was still 200 yards from the crossing and the two vehicles approaching from the north curve. He said Lutz' truck could be seen within a reasonable safety distance and the other truck was 300 to 400 yards behind.

Robert Muir, fireman in the cab with Heinroth, said he was watching the approaches for oncoming traffic and was not aware of danger until the preliminary warning blasts on the engineer's whistle and the first indication something was wrong came with the impact of the collision which knocked him down. He recovered and helped the engineer bring the train to a stop.

Conductor of the train, Thomas Bagnell did not hear the impact of the crash, but when he felt the brakes applied and the train coming to a stop he looked out, saw the damaged truck and ran out to give assistance. When he was about to hail a passing truck to summon help from Mt. Paul, Mrs. Paul Fontaine offered the services of her phone in the farm home a few hundred yards away and from there the conductor called the points for the ambulance.

The combined weight of the engine and the 13 cars it was pulling amounted 720 tons, said Conductor. The train runs were daily at 8.30 except Sunday from Edmonton to Heinsburg and east daily at 9.30 p.m. except Saturday.

While the conductor was calling help, Steve Mercier, of Mt. Paul, a baggageman on the train, with the help of Fireman Heinroth and a trucker relieved Hasenick who was pinned inside the cab of his truck. Mr. Mercier said the victim never regained consciousness. He was covered with a blanket to await arrival of ambulance for St. Paul.

Another truck driver, Mr. Peter Kerdyman of Edmonton, stopped at the scene to help his fellow truck driver. He said that the visibility at the time was good and he had been able to spot the train without difficulty.

Constable Ross Hardy, in charge of the investigation pronounced the findings of the coroner's jury that Lutz was dying by a fractured skull, fractured left leg and internal injuries. He was taken to the hospital within minutes of the accident, but he died shortly on arrival, without regaining consciousness.

Except for two skid marks cle... as to the crossing there was no indication on the approaches that the truck applied its brakes to slow down for the crossing. The skid marks in front of the 27-foot cattle vans were in the centre of the highway at a 45 degree angle from the north.

Dr. L. Trottier gave medical evidence in the cause of the death. Hasenick died of internal hemorrage caused by a ruptured spleen, had a fractured left arm, broken ribs and facial injuries.

MEN OF THE JURY

The six-man jury headed by Foreman Wm. Tunnoe retired in the afternoon and after 25 minutes came out with an accidental death verdict and a recommendation that in the future, the Contractors, post train schedules for the benefit of truckers.

Other members of the JURY were Paul Dedek, Wm. Skaburn, Phil Lafrance, Felix Cassidy and Jack Stinson.

P.M. Delivers Policy Speech

Prime Minister Diefenbaker's speech at Dartmouth University deserves full reading by all Canadians and it is gratifying to note that it is receiving much attention in the United States. The Prime Minister is well aware of the great difficulties due to Canada's excessive purchases in the U.S. His firm and positive and definite statements to an important audience should give power to the parachutists and self-reliance in the United States which thereafter will certainly do not enhance friendship.

Canada must in the near future do something drastic about the imports from the United States and the Canadian dollar at par with the U.S. is not only unrealistic but important.

It is no justification that a U.S. dollar at 99 cents Canadian tends to keep Canadian dollar goods at a fine-grained sharp chestnut brown. Add 1 tsp. salt, ½ tsp. pepper and 2 drops onion juice, to taste. Add 1½ tsp. sugar and 1 tsp. vinegar. Mix thoroughly. Shape into 2 high mounds.

Arrange on thin slices of tomato. Garnish with wedges of cress. Pass not-sweet French dressing.

Sardine-stuffed Cucumber Boats: Cut cucumber size green peppers as follows: Cut off the top, remove seeds and cores to form cups. Fill with sardines. Place in a saucepan. Add ½ tsp. salt, ¼ tsp. pepper and 1 tbsp. butter. Cook until tender. Serve hot.

In most sections of the country, fall planting of trees, shrubs and vines is the best spring planting. The soil is usually in better condition for planting and you can get more done in the fall. Also you can start growing roots in the fall and get a head start on spring growth. Proper planting is important if you want your trees to grow and thrive. Dig the hole large enough to allow the roots to spread out naturally. Don't cram roots into a hole that is too small. Set the tree at the same depth it was growing before. Fill the hole with soil, packing it firmly around the roots. Water thoroughly after planting. Prune off broken or damaged roots and branches. Prune fall-planted bushes moderately.

Wins Another First at Picton Fair

A record number of exhibits marked the 108th annual fall exhibition of the Picton Agricultural Society, which was held on the society grounds Wednesday, Sept. 18. Among the first prize winners was Mrs. Harold Hawley, of Picton, who won the Governor General's Trophy for the best grain exhibit in the show. Mrs. Hawley is shown with her husband, Harold, and their son, Gordon, at last year's exhibition. Mrs. Hawley is the world's top-growing champion.

Accident Prone Drivers In School

When a Winnipeg driver has six points against him, he's invited to go back to "school." When the total mounts to eight points, he is ordered to do so, writes Marjorie Earl in an interesting article in this week's issue of the Star Weekly, describing how Manitoba is fighting the highway accident rate. The "schools" are operated when a driver is involved in a minor accident. One or two points are scored against him, depending on whether or not he is at fault. For a minor conviction without accident, he is penalized one point. For a major accident with conviction he can get as many as 10 points.

When a Winnipeg driver has six points, he receives an invitation from the authorities to attend a driver improvement clinic. When eight points are scored, the invitation becomes an order, with suspension the penalty for delay or disobedience.

Since the program began, more than 10,000 accident repeaters have been invited or ordered to the Winnipeg clinic where they must take the test given to all beginners and to drivers from other jurisdictions applying for a Manitoba license. So tough that two-thirds fail on the first attempt, one-quarter on the second and 12 per cent on the third, this test includes a written examination of 37 four-part questions and one 12-part question; visual tests and a 14-block road test.

Mr. R. B. Baillie, Manitoba's commissioner of motor vehicles and the head of the unique highway safety program, has results which prove the wisdom of the new system and the idea is detailed in the interesting Star Weekly feature.

Flowers Add Color in Winter

Plump flower bulbs are now arriving in the local stores. Marjorie Bolige points your fancy or the forest smelling hyacinth, daffodil, crocus or tulip. Whatever your choice, they're all easy to grow, says P. D. McCalla, Superintendent of Horticulture at Olds. Tuck a few bulbs away in the basement and watch for a miniature transformation.

Punch holes in the bottom of tin cans or cover the drainage hole in clay pots with a stone. Fill containers quarter full, from the top with good quality garden soil. Plant the bulbs so that the tops are still showing, water and store in a cool dark place. A thermometer hung close to stored bulbs will reveal if your temperature is a favorable 40 to 45 degrees Fahrenheit. Most moisture is now in progress, so don't disturb except for a rare waterings, warns Mr. McCalla. Excessive watering may rot bulbs.

After 8-10 weeks or when 2-3 inch shoots appear, bring them about appearance gradually into the light. Transfer into the light by first putting them into a warmer place for a day or two. Then they are ready for whatever sunlight appears. If bulbs are brought up a few at a time a continuous blooming period can be achieved.

Narcissus can be grown at room temperature in water instead of soil. Ask for suitable bowls. A bowl will hold the bulbs in place and no soil solitary confinement is necessary.

Have rich or delicately shaded flowers in your winter months with cheery brightness.

Nitrogen applied in the Fall means better forage growth. It means pasture is ready for grazing earlier, feeds more livestock and re-grows faster. When you cut twice as many head on every acre, get them on the land from 2 to 4 weeks earlier in the Spring and keep them there longer, you make more money.

What's more, forage grown with Elephant Brand High Nitrogen Fertilizers* has a richness and is richer in essential proteins and minerals — you'll see the difference in fatter steers and heifers or increased milk production!

Were you one of those fortunate housewives who had a beautiful pick of tomatoes this year? And now do you find that your tomatoes are ripening faster than you can use them? Here are some suggestions that you can do with them. You may can them as whole tomatoes. To use one only perfect ripe tomatoes. Loosen the skins by dipping into boiling water for about half a minute and then dipping quickly into cold water. Cut out stem ends and peel tomatoes. Leave tomatoes whole or cut in halves or quarters. Pack them to half an inch of the top, pressing gently to fill spaces. Add on water. Add half teaspoon salt to pint, teaspoon to quart. Adjust lids. Process in boiling water bath. Pint jars for 35 minutes and the quart jars for 45 minutes.
Or maybe you would like to make your own tomato juice to use during those long winter months. If such is the case use ripe juicy tomatoes. Wash, remove stem ends, cut into pieces. Simmer until softened, stirring often. Put through strainer. Add teaspoon salt to each quart of juice. Reheat to simmering and boiling point. Pack boiling hot juice to quarter inch of top. Adjust put lids. Process in boiling water bath for 15 minutes.

How Hospital For Gold Lake Town

A new 23-bed hospital will be built at Cold Lake, Alberta, to replace the present John Hart Hospital there. The tender of Becker Construction, Ltd., Edmonton, has been accepted by the Executive Board of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church of Canada for the building at a cost of $311,698. The architects are McKernan and Bossy of Edmonton.

The present hospital has served the community for 35 years and the new hospital, equipped with suture increased service for the families of the farmers, trappers, fishermen and Indians of the surrounding area.

The building is to be started at once, and is to be financed by gifts from the community and government grants.

Last year, the John Noll Hospital had 743 admissions. Dr. A. Wood, Dr. E. Margaret Savage and Miss Leah Bugert, R. N. head the staff of five nurses, two certified assistants aides and three local married nurses who have assisted many times as replacements. The present hospital is ideally located on a rising knoll overlooking Cold Lake and only a short distance from Grand Centre Airport.

The other hospital in Alberta owned and maintained by the Women's Missionary Society is the Katherine Prince Hospital at Bonnyville, where Dr. H. Macnaughton Bruce is the doctor and Miss Dorothy E. Reid, the superintendent.

Precautionary Fire Measures

Eternal vigilance, as every smart and prudent farmer in Canada knows, is the price of fire prevention. Otherwise, the results of months of toil and the profits of years may vanish.

For every Canadian and particularly for the thousands now enjoying suburban country living, without the "ground-hog" protection of full-time fire department, what the fire-wise farmer does to avoid giving fire a place to start is a matter of hard look.

1. Lighting. See that the rods are well and truly grounded. If there has been an insurance benefit, it is imperative that the installation of new lines immediately comply with provincial regulation.

2. Gasoline. The smart operator never re-fuels a hot motor; spilled gas can go "boom" in your face. The same goes for a power lawnmower; if the "little" wants" or the kids like to trim the grass while you dote it a hunk-rock, don't you see it to them that they get a safety lesson on gasoline hazards!

3. Matches and smoking. Not to be tolerated in any circumstance around a hay or dry fields. Warning signs on the subject are available free for the asking from a variety of sources. The owner who puts them up and sees that they are heeded, raises a bare 1 here this volunteer fire brigade. If you must start every a small grass fire, put as much though into its organization and its control as though you were Montgomery at El Alamein. There's nothing more frightening (and harder on the neighbors' nerves) than a grass fire out of control.

4. Electricity. The "do-it-yourself" amateur is asking for trouble when he works in his department. Be an expert or get one for the job. And don't the game as kids. Her present commission to insulating, too, on a final inspection.

The best protection against fire in areas off the beaten track lies in prevention against fire starting. The suburbanite who faces up to the four danger zones above will be less likely to have to face fire from any quarter in his quiet enjoyment of life in the country.

Insulation Of Buildings Proves To Be Money Saving Proposition

Up until a decade or so ago it was a rare home-builder or buyer who thought it mattered very much whether his home was insulated or not. At that time, insulation was considered almost a "luxury" and probably not worth the money it cost.

Within the past few years, however, the situation is completely reversed in that now most home owners feel they cannot afford to be without insulation. Far from being a luxury, insulation is now definitely looked on as an economy measure that will pay off in real dollars and cents saving in fuel bills. The research department of one large manufacturer made tests over a period of several years on their homes which were built identically but one was insulated and one was not. It was found that the amount of fuel necessary to heat the insulated home was almost one-third less than that needed for the uninsulated home. The insulated house was also found to be considerably cooler during the hot summer months.

Let us say that insulation costs $150 to install and effects a saving of $35 a year in fuel bills. In three years, you have completely recovered the cost of the original installation and the fuel saved during the next years are the same as an increase in your salary. In many cases, too, it is possible to install a smaller and less expensive furnace in the home.

Insulation means other benefits of importance to the home-owner. It can save money in redecorating costs because dust and dirt are less attracted to warm surfaces than to cold ones. Of course, re-sale value of the home is also increased if it is well-insulated.

An important feature to keep in mind when choosing an insulation is its fire-resistance. It is essential that it be fireproof and a non-conductor of electricity.

Most insulation manufacturers recommend a thickness of four inches of insulation in the attic and three inches in sidewalls. This depth is considered to be the desirable amount of fuel savings to pay off.

Another feature to watch when buying insulation is its settling qualities. Some insulations do sag or shrink and their value decreases as they do. Granular insulations such as vermiculite will not settle or sag and will remain at the installed level for the lifetime of your home.

If you are planning to do your own insulation—and this is an applicator cuts—make sure that the insulation you choose is light and easy to handle and that it will not irritate the skin.

Oxygen plus fuel plus heat is equal to fire. Mere people die of smoke and fumes (and lack of oxygen removed by the fire) than by the actual flames. A classic example of this was the Cocoanut Grove fire in Boston in 1942, when many of the night club's 602 victims were found suffocated, unburned at their tables.

Prince Charles and his father at the Duke of Edinburgh, show family vacations at Balmoral Queen Elizabeth that they have Castle, Scotland. Princess Anne was not sure enough of those "beasts" to get too close.

You'll be smart if you keep our telephone number handy. When things go wrong and you want them done right, just call on us for the best electrical service in town.

Therien Man Robbed In City

Mr. D. A. Flamon of Therien, reports that while in Edmonton recently, a valuable violin was stolen from his car, parked in a lane behind the Bay, a hotel.

The car was left overnight and when Mr. Flamon returned to drive it away in the morning, he noticed the front door adjacent to the lane was open and the violin, instrument and all, was gone.

Found missing was a $150.00 violin he had left on the back seat.

A report to the city police led to a clerk of pawn shops where it was found. The thief had deposited it in exchange for $18.00.

Police have not yet been able to trace the robber and the violin is being kept in the city. It is believed easy to identify as through one of the front windows, forced open and the door lock again released.

Indication that St. Paul is on good duck fly-ways and provides good nesting grounds was brought in again today when Bill Higgins handed us a band taken from a Mallard he shot this week in Paul Berlinguette's field, north west of town. This is the fourth banded bird reported recently.

Mr. P. B. Bloor of Parksville B.C. is visiting with his children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren at St. Vincent, Lamoureux, Bonnyville and St. Paul. While here, Mr. Bloomer celebrated his 80th birthday. We wish him many happy returns.

Charley Mann reports he shot a banded Mallard in the Flat Lake district on September 21. Band was returned for identification to the Wild Life Service in Washington.

Geese in this district are very late in arriving this year at the local variety and if the boys are lucky, manage to get a few. Last week Roland Cyr got one, as well as Floris Lacy of St. Brides, Rudolph Ladouceur and Herb. Peterson.

Former St. Paul Boy Elected Vice-President

California Standard Oil Co., one of the major oil exploration companies in Canada, recently elected Mr. Jean-Louis Lebel, 34 year-old lawyer and former St. Paul resident, Vice-President of its Canadian Branch and Head Office in Calgary.

Mr. Lebel, the eldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. U. Lebel, was born in St. Paul and received his primary education in the local school until registration at the Jesuit College, Edmonton, in 1932. In 1940 he graduated with a BA degree from the University of Laval and entered the law faculty of the University of Alberta where he received his LLB.

The war claimed three years of his time from 1943 when he enlisted as a private, working his way up in the Canadian Army to the rank of Lieutenant.

Jean-Louis was discharged in 1946, articled with Cairns, Bowen, Wilson & Wallbridge in Edmonton, being admitted to the bar in July 1947. He continued post-graduate studies by enrolling for the 1947-48 scholastic year at the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.

Returning to Edmonton in 1948, instead of going into private practice, Mr. Lebel chose to join California Standard Oil as a district landman.

This led to his transfer to the Company's head office at Calgary in 1950 as assistant manager of the land division, followed in 1952 by appointment as manager, a position he held until his promotion a few weeks ago to Vice-President and director.

In this new capacity, in addition to management duties, Mr. Lebel will head a newly created land and legal department.

Socially Mr. Lebel is an active participant in community life, being a fourth degree Knight of Columbus, a director of "Chez Francais de Calgary", is on the board of the Calgary Providence Creche, a member of the Law Society of Alberta and the Canadian Bar Association.

Mr. Lebel was married in November 1950 to the former Therese Barry of Edmonton and is the father of three boys and a "brand new daughter".

On Monday, September 16th, 55 delivery points in Western Canada were placed on a one-hour quota, the first of the season. Two Alberta points, Burwark and Lashburn were included.
